Dear Friends,

For the past two years anti-war activities have become more widespread in the Southwest. Local WRL's have grown rapidly. Nonviolence has been at the root of these developments. Most of our understanding of nonviolence came not so much from training sessions or speakers but has developed out of our own needs and concerns. Now nonviolence has become the prime mover of change in the Southwest and there is a strong desire for better communications, a better sharing of experiences. The Southwest is unique because it has no "leaders" or "movement heavies" but a lot of good people with experience in lots of different areas.

Thanksgiving weekend we will come together to share our selves and our community. People from Institute/Mt. West, GI's for Peace (El Paso), Direct Action/WRL Austin, AFSC San Antonio and Pasadena, Peacemakers, WRL-West & Southwest, farmworker support committees, gay liberation, and many more will come to share ideas about continuing to build the nonviolent movement in the Southwest. Please come and join with us in a weekend for creative change. Write or call for information.

AQ T-3 advised that the three principal topics of discussion during this conference were:

1. The increased use of non-violence by individual groups to bring about social change.

2. The building of alternative life styles.

3. Local and community organizing.

Source also advised that the following additional topics were also discussed at various times during the conference:

Non-cooperation with the courts, draft and tax resistance and organizing the military.

AQ T-3 advised that for the most part, those participating in the conference broke down into small groups to discuss the above topics and the problems caused by U. S. military involvement in Southeastern Asia repeatedly came up during these discussions.

During the conference, James Newton, a member of the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC) presented a slide showing dealing with the increased use of automation in warfare. These slides included photographs of advanced tracking and surveillance systems and other uses of electronic equipment by the military.

Following the showing of the slides, Newton stressed that individuals involved in the peace movement should attempt to infiltrate companies which design and produce this type of equipment and should also advise the business community to pressure the Government to reduce defense spending in order to reduce the producing of weapons of war. Newton indicated that the slides had been prepared by the National Action Research on the Military-Industrial Complex.

> According to the September, 1970, issue of "Peace News," a publication of the AFSC, the AFSC is a "non-profit organization organized and directed by members of the Society of Friends (Quakers) and founded by both Quakers and non-Quakers. It seeks solutions to domestic and international problems through non-violent means."

AQ T-3 also made available two leaflets entitled "Researching your Local Military-Industrial Complex" and "Demonstration at the Nixon Dinner" which were distributed at the conference. Copies of these publications are attached:

RESEARCHING YOUR LOCAL MILITARY-INDUSTRIAL COMPLEX

an outline for Southern Californians

an outline for Southern Californians

Introduction

This step-by-step outline is a tool southern Californians can use to discover the extent of military influence in a local community and acquire the information necessary to design an action project to reduce that influence.

In 1970, military and defense-related expenditures accounted for 64% of the $167 billion voted by Congress.[1] The Pentagon owns 29 million acres of land (an area almost as big as New York state), and the Army Civil Works division controls another 9.7 million acres.[2] In addition to work done in Government laboratories, defense agencies pay for more than half of the research undertaken in industrial laboratories and about three-fifths of the work performed by universities and other nonprofit institutions.[3] The Pentagon has contracts and installations in 363 of the 435 congressional districts, and in all 50 states.[4] There are 22,000 prime contractors (subcontractors are too numerous to mention), and 90% of all weapons procurement is done by negotiations rather than competitive bidding.[5] Decisions made by Pentagon planners and war contractors affect all of us directly, and virtually every U.S. community of an size is in some way dependent on military spending.

Here in southern California, hundreds of thousands of our citizens are so dependent on military spending that they would face economic disaster if peace should break out. Already, aerospace cutbacks have left tens of thousands bitter and jobless. At the same time, our factories produce vast quantities of the weapons that now kill people in Aisa, Africa and Latin America. The fact is that southern California is one of the nation's leading areas in per capita war contract dollars, and that fact gives southern California peace activists a special responsibility.

Increasingly, peace activists grow interested in projects aimed at ending weapons production by a given company or encouraging the business community to press the government to reduce war spending and initiate constructive programs. Such projects require careful preparation.

The military-industrial complex is just that--highly complex. Research guides often seem complex, too. But don't be put off. Non-experts can spend a few hours looking in the right places and turn up a great deal of accurate, useful information. The research materials and books referred to in this outline are available from the American Friends Service Committee's bookroom in Pasadena. People from the resource groups listed at the end of the outline can help you understand the materials, plan your research, and launch your local action project.

a) Check your telephone directory under "U.S. Government." In the Los Angeles area, the General Services Administration publishes a U.S. Government telephone directory that lists names and addresses of many Defense Department (DoD) officials (call GSA's Communications Division, area code 213, 688-3217 and ask how to get the directory).

b) NACLA's Research Methodology Guide, pp. 26-28, tells you where to look for information on military locations, military think-tanks, books on understanding the military, military associations and military publications.

c) Vets and active-duty GI's can tell you a lot.

d) Military organizations usually have public affairs officers. Call for an appointment. You'll receive information that gives the picture as the organization wants the public to see it.

II. Finding war contractors

a) An industrial directory is usually available for a few dollars from the Chamber of Commerce. The directory lists names, addresses and nature of business for most of the city's firms, and some directories give the number of employees. Possible war contractors are listed under such titles as aircraft supplies, engineering contractors, electronics, research and development, optics.

b) A list of prime contractors with more than $100,000 in DoD contracts, providing name and address of firm and nature of items produced for DoD, is available free on request from:

Defense Contract Administration Services Region,
Los Angeles
Small Business Office
11099 S. La Cienega Blvd.
Los Angeles, Ca. 90045

c) See NACLA's RMG, p. 30, for other sources of information on your local defense contractors.

d) To supplement information from the above sources, interview college and junior college faculty in the departments of economics, urban planning, sociology and government, and visit the Chamber of Commerce staff and officers.

III. Securing contract information

a) The Government Contracts Directory, and the Research and Development Directory, both published by Government Data Publications, Inc., list contracts by company, awarding agency and product. They indicate contract number, dollar value of contract, specific site where work is done, and nature of the item. These directories are in the Caltech library.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 18

b) Commerce Business Daily, a publication of the U.S. Dept. of Commerce, lists contract awards on a day-to-day basis and is a good source of very recent information. Available in most city or college libraries.

c) The Wall Street Journal Index lists most contract awards by company name. Available in most large libraries (including the Pasadena City Library).

d) The Defense Industry Bulletin, published by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, has cumulative monthly lists of DoD contracts over $1 million. Available in Caltech library.

e) Selected information on specific contractors is available from NARMIC, American Friends Service Committee, 160 N. Fifteenth St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19102. NARMIC gets lots of requests for help, so it's good to try local resource groups before calling on NARMIC.

IV. Analyzing selected companies

At this point, you know the locations of many military agencies and other facilities in your town. You have a list of businesses with war contracts, and you have specifics on contracts held by those firms that interest you most. Now you will probably select several firms that exercise substantial power in the area or make a particularly brutal product and consider initiating projects to change one or more of these selected firms. You need to know who runs a company, how the company relates to other firms (interlocking directorates, trade arrangements, subcontracts), what the company makes that could be affected through consumer pressure, how the company is organized, its working conditions and hiring policies, and more.

a) Companies that issue stock publish shareholders' reports prior to the annual shareholders' meeting, and they publish a prospectus before a new issue of stock is made. These documents list the company's directors and their salaries, detail the nature of items produced, list subsidiary companies owned and their products, and provide other very useful information. Caution: these are essentially public relations papers and may be deceptively worded. For example, two years ago a shareholders' report issued by the nation's 64th largest war contractor did not mention that the firm did business with the Pentagon. To get shareholders' reports or a stock prospectus, write to the company or ask your local stock broker.

b) NACLA's RMG provides excellent suggestions, as follows:

pp. 17-18, sources of information on the production and financial structure of corporations, and guides to business sources and suggestions on methodology.

p. 14, how to discover directors, officers and interlocking relations with other firms, and stock ownership and control data.

pp. 6-9, sources of information on the individuals who own and manage corporations--their links with government and political matters, involvement in civic affairs. voluntary organizations and church affiliation.

...it all work

make the best use of the facts you now have at your disposal, you'll need to build a basic understanding of corporate practices, Defense Department policies, military projects, and practices and procedures related to contract bidding and negotiating.

a) NACLA's RMG, pp. 15-17, lists sources that explain business practices and describe governmental regulatory agencies.

b) NACLA's RMG, pp. 27-28, guides you to information on DoD posture and strategy, military treaties, and hearings.

c) Scan the literature items listed at the end of this outline until you find what you need.

d) Look in your library card catalog under "Defense contracting" and "Government contracting" for books the war contractors use to shed light on procedures they must follow.

VI. Initiating the action project

The action project you design should reflect your assessment of the needs of your community and the political atmosphere there, your understanding of the role of the company and/or military facility you decide to focus on, the viewpoints and ethics of your group, and your group's resources. The strategy you develop should express your goals and program very clearly and precisely.

In conclusion, it is well to emphasize that the great power of the military-industrial complex does not make the complex invulnerable. On the contrary, the more complicated and specialized a system of organizations becomes, the more vulnerable it is to carefully applied pressures and encouragements. Projects conducted by a very small number of people can have real influence on major corporations. Committeed people with clear heads and accurate information can transform a power structure!

RESOURCE GROUPS

The following organizations can provide materials, advice, assistance or referrals to other organizations in southern California. All of these groups depend on voluntary contributions for their support, so it's nice to make a contribution when they help you.

American Friends Service Committee, 980 N. Fair Oaks Ave., Pasadena, Ca. 91103. Tel. (213) 791-1978, 681-7651, 282-5812. The AFSC bookroom carries hundreds of books and pamphlets on war, peace, nonviolence, social change organizing, and related topics, as well as films and tapes. AFSC can provide nationally known speakers, consultation on project design and research methodology, and training for nonviolent action.

Center for New Corporate Priorities, 304 So. Ardmore, Suite 101, Los Angeles, Ca. 90020. Tel. (213) 381-2195, 281-2194. The Center maintains files on major war contractors in southern California and is presently studying corporate vulnerability in order to find ways for consumer groups to move corporations out of war business and make them more socially responsible.

COMMIT -- the Center of Metropolitan Mission In-Service Training, 817 W. 34th St., Los Angeles, Ca. 90007. Tel. (213) 747-7255. COMMIT provides training for persons interested in social change with specialized consulting and training in such areas as conflict management, leadership development, community analysis, organizational analysis, organizational problem solving, and race relations.

Friends Committee on Legislation, 984 No. Fair Oaks Ave., Pasadena, Ca. 91103. Tel. (213) 798-7213, 681-5161. FCL publishes a monthly newsletter with details on the state and national legislative activity related to peace and social justice issues. The organization maintains files on attitudes, connections and voting records of southern California congressmen, and through the related group, Friends Committee on National Legislation, FCL has access to detailed information on military appropriations and congressional action related to the Defense Department.

National Action/Research on the Military-Industrial Complex, a project of the American Friends Service Committee, 160 N. Fifteenth St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19102. Tel. (213) 563-9372. NARMIC has immediate access to detailed information on war contractors through subscription sources usually available only to business firms themselves. NARMIC provides this data to active groups on request, and publishes studies on major questions such as chemical-biological warfare. Recommendation: seek NARMIC's help on specific points of information when you are sure you can't get what you need locally.

GUIDES FOR RESEARCHERS AND ORGANIZERS

The books listed below (and many of the books referred to in the bibliographies they contain) are available from the AFSC bookroom.

North American Congress on Latin America (NACLA). NACLA Research Methodology Guide (copyright 1970; available from NACLA, P.O. Box 226, Berkely, Ca. 94701). Probably the most comprehensive and easily understood research guide of them all. A "must" for researchers!

NACLA. The University-Military-Police Complex-- a directory and related documents (copyright 1970; available from NACLA). Explanatory information on the topic, with indexes to key individuals and institutions and suggestions for research and action.

National Action/Research on the Military-Industrial Complex (NARMIC). Weapons for Counterinsurgency (published 1970 by the National Peace Literature Service of the American Friends Service Committee). Easy-to-read historical and technical information on chemical, biological and anti-personnel weapons, with lists of manufacturers and items manufactured and a model project.

These books, like those listed above, contain extensive bibliographies referring you to other works on specific related topics. These and many of the books listed in the bibliographies are available at the AFSC bookroom.

Richard J. Barnet. The Economy of Death (N.Y., Atheneum, 1970). This book gives a close analysis of the military budget, examines the workings of the military-industrial complex, and includes suggestions for citizen action.

Col. James A. Donovan, U.S. Marine Corps (Ret.). Militarism, U.S.A. (N.Y., Charles Scribner's Sons, 1970). This book, written in cooperation with former Marine Corps Commandant David Shoup, gives the insider's view of militarism in America -- how it came to be, what it is, how it works.

Sidney Lens. The Military-Industrial Complex (Pilgrim Press and the National Catholic Reporter, 1970). Lens has brought together a vast amount of carefully documented and very surprising information, going beyond a description of the MIC to explain the relationship of organized labor and the academic world to American militarism.

...ber 9, Nixon will simultaneously address about 20 Republican ... in as many cities. He will speak over either direct phone or ... circuit television. The WRL thinks that wherever he goes - whatever he ... members of his administration need to be confronted with their responsibility ... continuing war in Indochina, poverty and racism at home and the tragedy of ... where American arms slaughter the Bengali people. The November 9 demonstration in your city can be the beginning of a year-long series of actions aimed at preventing Nixon from covering up his role in this bloody work.

The November 9 demonstrations are particularly important for another reason. On November 8 the Daily Death Toll project begins in Washington D.C. This project has been explained in previous mailings. Essentially it involves 300 persons per day committing civil disobedience at the White House to symbolize the 300 persons killed that day in Vietnam. Our demonstrations at the Republican fund-raising dinners will call attention to what's happening in Washington and make the point that no matter where he goes Nixon cannot avoid being reminded of this murderous work.

Strategy

In building an election year strategy the antiwar movement needs to bear in mind that there is good reason for removing Nixon from the White House. First he has an historical position on Indochina that dates back to 1954 when he advocated using nuclear weapons to save the French colonial war effort. Second, he has succeeded in making Indochina his war. The Democrats are now free to attack the war and Nixon on a partisan basis. Nevertheless, if the Democrats are going to make ending the war a plank of their campaign it will be only because we make the issue important and keep it in the forefront. Since both political parties represent essentially the same class in our society many Democrats would like to forget the war as an issue. It's only by making it plain that any President who continues the war will be driven from office are we going to have either political party put forward a plank that calls for a complete end to the war.

Nixon, up 'til now, has been very successful in defusing the war issue. That's partly because the two major slogans of the antiwar movement, "Set the Date for Total Withdrawal" and "Out Now" have equated ending the war with ending the American ground combat role and American casualties. The war does not end until there are no more casualties on any side in Indochina and doesn't happen until the US ends support of the Thieu dictatorship, removes all men and materiel, ends the bombing, exchanges prisoners and allows self determination for all of Indochina.

In our demonstrations we should therefore 1) concentrate on the war as Nixon's war (by this we mean not that his administration is responsible totally for creating the war but he and his administration is responsible for letting the war continue) and aim our antiwar actions at him and members of his administration, and 2) educate people to the fact that ending the war means more than ending U.S. casualties. For the first objective we suggest demonstrations such as the one outlined in this paper. For the second objective we suggest you not talk about the war in simplistic slogans but use the PRG seven point program for ending the war (up 'til December 31, 1971 when it expires) and the Peoples Peace Treaty as ways of explaining how to really end the war.

Tactical Situation

On November 9 in about 20 cities Nixon will address Republican Fund Raising dinners. He will be talking in Chicago and the other cities will hear the speech over telephone or closed circuit television. The dinners will be attended by wealthy Republicans.

Chicago [illegible]ain dinner	St. Lou[illegible]
Atlant[illegible]	Washing[illegible]n D.C.
Bostor[illegible]	Los Ang[illegible]es
Charlotte N.C.	Miami
Cleveland	Minneapolis - St. Paul
Dallas	Nashville
Houston	New York City
Wilmington, Del.	Orlando, Fla.
Pittsburgh	Philadelphia
Rochester	San Diego
San Francisco

Tactics

The situation calls for reminding the Republican contributers at the dinner of their responsibility for the continuing slaughter in Indochina. Further, the message to the general public through direct observation and the news media should emphasize the continuing war in Indochina and continuing deaths of Indochinese (estimated at 300 per day in Vietnam alone).

We suggest a modified guerilla theater demonstration. Participants should be organized to participate as actors in the theatre. A supporting rally type demonstration or picket line should be set up for those not wanting to participate in the theatre.

Spectre of Death

Have people dress up in black cloaks with white pancake makeup on their faces. As many as possible should wander slowly and aimlessly around the entrance to the Dinner. They should have signs hanging from their necks with a single theme. For instance, one theme would be genocide with each spectre having a different word on his/her sign like Attica, Auschwitz, Dachau, My Lai, Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Kent State, Jackson State, Orangeburg, etc. The spectres should not talk to anyone but maintain a haunting silence.

Bloodbath

Have participants dress in old clothes and get gallons of blood from your local slaughter house or many cans of diluted tomato soup (easier than katsup). As Dinner guests start to arrive get as close to the entrance to the Dinner as possible and everyone lie down in the disarray of death and really slosh the blood or tomato soup all around. There should be people in bloody bandages standing around holding signs that say things like, "Victims of a Nixon Bombing" or "300 Vietnamese people butchered today" or "While you feast people die" etc. Have the sign holders say, "Why did we kill these people?" and have the "wounded and dead" moan and cry.

Civil Disobedience Option

Try to get inside the place of the Dinner and do your theatre inside. You could get hit with a vandalism charge if you spread the blood around so either keep the blood on tile floors or use the spectre of death. Also sit-ins at the entrance could be used.

Note

Don't be discouraged if police barricades prevent you from getting close to the Dinner. That's good theatre in itself. The police protecting Nixon's friends from the people. Do your action as close as you can get and hope the news media will spread the visual effect.

Re New York letter to Bureau dated 11/18/71; and Newark letter and LHM to Bureau dated 11/17/71.

Referenced New York letter advised that as of 11/71 there were 635 WRL members in the State of New Jersey. To date Newark has not been able to substantiate any successful organizational efforts on the part of captioned organization in the State of New Jersey, in spite of extensive investigation. Further, only three persons in the Newark Division have been identified as being members or officers of the WRL, and all are subjects of pending or closed cases. The following information contained in Newark files concerning each of these persons is set forth as follows for information:

HENRY KOCH

In 9/71, Capt. CLAUDE CISPANI, Bureau of Criminal Identification, Hackensack, N.J., advised that KOCH, DOB 1/30/03, has for several years conducted one-man demonstrations against U.S. involvement in Vietnam but that he was considered to be a "harmless old man" who has never engaged in any overt or subversive activity against the U.S.

On 8/6/71, Patrolman HOLBROOK CAVET, Old Tappan, NJPD, advised that KOCH was known to most of the community of Old Tappan, N.J., as a "crank". He was further described as "anti-establishment", but "ineffectual".

In 11/71, background re ANDRESEN was developed and it was determined that he was born 1/14/08. No derogatory information was developed during this investigation, and ANDRESEN was not known to be involved in any subversive activities.

JOHN C. HESS, JR.

HESS was the subject of an investigation by the Newark Division during the period 5/4-11/2/71. It was learned that HESS was born in 2/52, and is a student at Newark State College, Union, N.J. During this investigation it was learned that a P.O. Box in Kearny, N.J., was rented by HESS in the name of the New Jersey Peace Action Center. The only mail received in this box was a WRL pamphlet which arrived approximately once a month. No subversive activities on the part of HESS were noted during this investigation.

In view of the foregoing, and since all investigative efforts concerning captioned organization and its membership in New Jersey, have been essentially negative, Newark feels that the possibility exists that the great majority of the 635 members attributed to WRL in New Jersey may be WRL sympathizers who appear on WRL mailing lists as opposed to actual members of a viable WRL chapter in New Jersey.

Newark will keep this case in a pending status pending receipt of more concrete information from New York as to organizational status and membership in New Jersey WRL. In absence of such concrete information, Newark will close instant case file, UACB.

WAR RESISTORS LEAGUE
MORGANTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA

On October 26, 1971, and again on December 16, 1971, PG T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the War Resistors League in Morgantown, W. Va., is an organization primarily consisting of one person, Lawrence Edward Zbach. PG T-1 advised that this is not a campus organization at West Virginia University, but, in fact, it is operated off the campus at the Bennett House, which is an ecumenical type center sponsored by various Morgantown churches. PG T-1 advised that he knows of no students who are actually members of the organization, although some have availed themselves of its services.

PG T-1 advised that the organization is anti-war, but not militant. The primary purpose and aim of the organization is to engage in draft counseling. PG T-1 advised that the organization does not advise potential draftees not to submit to induction, but merely explains the draft laws and regulations to them and makes sure they are fully aware of their rights under the Selective Service Act and Selective Service regulations. PG T-1 advised that he knows of no instance where the War Resistors League has advised someone to violate the law by not submitting to induction. However, PG T-1 did state that on numerous occasions they have explained rights to potential draftees and have aided and encouraged them to seek legitimate deferments on religious grounds, conscientious objector grounds or possibly mental and/or physical reasons.

PG T-1 advised that the organization has never engaged in any demonstrations, peaceful or otherwise, in Morgantown, but has strictly limited its activities to draft counseling.

Details:

War Resisters League (WRL),
University of Oklahoma,
Norman, Oklahoma

The War Resisters League (WRL) has been publicly described as founded in 1923 and is the American section of the War Resisters International, a worldwide pacifist movement.

ORIGIN

A WRL was recently organized at the University of Oklahoma (OU), Norman, Oklahoma, by one JOEL COHEN, an OU student who claims to be a pacifist. COHEN indicated the WRL at OU had been recognized as a student organization by the OU Student Congress on February 2, 1971. COHEN also indicated he hoped that the OU WRL could work closely with the OU Committee to End the War in Vietnam (CEWV).

(OC T-1, 2/10/71)

The OU CEWV is a peaceful student group whose aims are to protest the Vietnam war, draft, military, and university policy, but in the past has stressed that any activity would be non-violent.

(OC T-1, 2/10/71)

AIMS, PURPOSES, AFFILIATION

According to JOEL COHEN, an OU student, Norman, Oklahoma, who organized the OU WRL, WRL is a national organization which utilizes pacifistic techniques and non-violent civil disobedience to achieve their goals in relation to the war, the draft, ROTC, etc.

(OC T-1, 2/10/71)

The OU WRL is affiliated with the National WRL and is a peaceful, non-violent antiwar-antidraft student group at OU. The OU WRL is a recognized student group at OU and since it was organized in early 1971, the group has sponsored or co-sponsored several antiwar-antidraft marches in Norman and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. When planning these activities, members of the OU WRL have stressed that all activity will be legal and non-violent. No one associated with the OU WRL is prone to or has demonstrated a propensity for violence or lawlessness.

(Officer EDWARD EATON, Security Department, OU, Norman, Oklahoma, 5/20, 24/71)

The OU WRL is affiliated with the National WRL and is active in the Norman - Oklahoma City area.

(OC T-2, 9/24/71)

HEADQUARTERS

The OU WRL maintains its office at 1335 South Jenkins Street, Norman, Oklahoma, which is the residence of JOEL COHEN, President of the OU WRL.

(OC T-2, 9/24/71)

LEADERS AND MEMBERSHIP

A WRL group was recently organized at OU, Norman, Oklahoma, by one JOEL COHEN, an OU student who claims to be a pacifist. COHEN stated that as of February, 1971, the OU WRL had ten to fifteen members.

(OC T-1, 2/10/71)

During February and March, 1971, when the OU WRL was organizing, the group had possibly ten members. As of May, 1971, the group had 25 to 30 members.

(Officer EDWARD EATON, Security Department, OU, Norman, Oklahoma, 5/20, 24/71)

JOEL COHEN is Chairman of the OU WRL. DEBORAH GAYLE CHAFFIN and STEVE MILTON TLAPA, members of the OU WRL, are COHEN's chief assistants in planning meetings and activities of the group.

(Officer EDWARD EATON, Security Department, OU, Norman, Oklahoma, 5/20, 24/71

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 41

JOEL COHEN is Chairman of the OU WRL. At the close of the Spring Semester at OU, May, 1971, the group had approximately 25 members.

(OC T-1, 6/17/71)

JOEL COHEN is president and leader of the OU WRL, which has no other officers or leaders at present. This group has no official membership, but there are ten "regulars" who are current members, and possibly 20 to 30 others who are sympathizers.

(OC T-2, 9/24/71)

ACTIVITIES

The OU WRL and CEWV sponsored a peaceful teach-in march on the OU campus, February 11, 1971, protesting U. S. involvement in Laos as well as ROTC and defense contracts at OU.

(OC T-1, 2/11/71)
(BILL JONES, Chief of Security, OU, Norman, Oklahoma, 2/11/71)

The February 26, 1971, issue of the "Oklahoma Daily," OU student newspaper, reflected an item stating the OU WRL would hold a meeting on March 2, 1971, to discuss a "march on the capitol."

The OU WRL was planning a march from an unidentified park near Northwest 23rd Street and Broadway, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, to the State Capitol on March 9, 1971, on repression of the draft, GI freedom of speech, and repressive nature of the Vietnam war. In connection with the planning of the march, the OU WRL indicated they would seek the support of the OU CEWV.

(OC T-1, 2/26/71)

JOEL COHEN, President of the OU WRL, was present at an OU CEWV meeting on March 2, 1971, and COHEN told the group that WRL's "March Against Repression" on the Oklahoma State Capitol in Oklahoma City, March 9, 1971, would be legal and non-violent. The OU CEWV officially endorsed the march, but would not participate as an organization.

(OC T-1, 3/9/71)

The OU WRL sponsored a peaceful "March Against Repression" on the Oklahoma State Capitol on March 9, 1971. Approximately 125 people, including WRL members from OU and students from other Oklahoma universities, participated in the march.

(Agent DON WALLACH, Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation (OSBI), Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, 3/9/71)

The OU WRL was one of the groups which participated in the Oklahoma Statewide Antiwar Conference held at OU on April 3, 1971. The conference was held for the purpose of participating in workshops and to plan a trip to Washington, D. C., or San Francisco, California, to participate in antiwar demonstrations in those cities on April 24, 1971. The conference failed to determine the number of people interested in making the trip to Washington or San Francisco for the demonstration.

(OC T-3, 4/6/71)

A leaflet prepared by the OU WRL and distributed on the OU campus in April, 1971, announced an antiwar march would be staged on the State Capitol in Oklahoma City in May 5, 1971, in commemoration of the Jackson-Kent State tragedy, sponsored by the OU WRL. The leaflet stated that tentative speakers would be IGAL ROODENKO, identified in the leaflet as National Chairman of WRL, and BILL ARTHRELL, identified in the leaflet as "Kent State student indicted for second degree riot in connection with the May 4, 1970, activities, head of Kent State Resistance." The leaflet also stated that march participants would meet at the Oklahoma City University (OCU) campus.

(Agent DON WALLACH, OSBI, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, 4/27/71, who received leaflet from a confidential source considered reliable by WALLACH.)

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 43

On April 27, 1971, Detective R. J. MELTON, Intelligence Division, Oklahoma City Police Department, ascertained from the Oklahoma City Traffic Control Department that JOEL COHEN, OU WRL, had requested and was granted a parade permit for above mentioned march. COHEN indicated the marchers would assemble at OCU at 12:30 p.m., May 5, 1971, and march peacefully to the State Capitol, arriving at approximately 1:30 p.m. COHEN estimated 200 to 300 people would participate in the march.

The scheduled OU WRL-sponsored march on the State Capitol, Oklahoma City, May 5, 1971, was to be prefaced by an 8 p.m. rally on May 4, 1971, on OU's South Oval sponsored by the OU WRL.

(Captain DAVID STENHOUSE, Security Department, OU, Norman, Oklahoma, 5/4/71)

The May 4, 1971, evening edition of the "Norman Transcript" newspaper, Norman, Oklahoma, reflected an article captioned "Antiwar Protests Set for Capitol." The article stated in part as follows:

JOEL COHEN, Chairman of the OU WRL, announced that a rally would be held at 8 p.m., May 4, 1971, at OU to plan for Wednesday's activities, which are as follows:

Interested persons will meet at OCU at 10:30 a.m. for rally, after which the group will break for lunch. After lunch, the group will march to Oklahoma State Capitol. Guerrilla Theater performances will be held en route to and at Capitol Building. IGAL ROODENKO, National Chairman of WRL, and representatives of Oklahoma City Welfare Rights Group, OU Women's Liberation, and YSA (Young Socialist Alliance) will speak. At 3:30 p.m., the group will move into Capitol Building and have a vigil in memory of Jackson - Kent State tragedy. After the vigil, the group plans to do "some lobbying of the Legislators," after which the group will move outside and attempt to spend the night.

As the youth organization of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), the YSA serves as the main source of recruitment into that organization. The YSA is described in the masthead of its official publication, "The Young Socialist Organizer," as "A multinational revolutionary socialist youth organization."

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

From 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., May 5, 1971, approximately 100 persons, mostly students from Oklahoma colleges, assembled at the OCU campus. During this period, no rally was held. At 12:30 p.m., the group marched east on Northwest 23rd Street to the Oklahoma State Capitol, arriving at 1:30 p.m. The group marched around the Capitol Building, rested on the Capitol steps, then entered the Capitol rotunda where they remained until 4:05 p.m. The demonstrators then separated, stating they would attempt to see their respective legislators.

At 5:30 p.m., a small group of demonstrators reassembled on the Capitol lawn for an all night candlelight vigil.

During the march, Capitol demonstration, and all night vigil, the demonstrators chanted "Peace Now" and shouted obscenities.

Oklahoma Highway Patrol (OHP) Troopers refused the demonstrators the use of electrical outlets for an amplification system and there were no speeches except for spontaneous remarks by various demonstrators.

During the demonstration in the Capitol Building, one demonstrator, MIKE LEWITZ, an OU student, attempted to enter an official hallway of the Capitol and was arrested by an OHP Trooper for disturbing the peace. As troopers escorted LEWITZ out of the Capitol, LEWITZ slipped on the stairs and claimed a back injury.

The only other incident was an unidentified demonstrator who was reportedly struck in the face by a Senate Sergeant-at-Arms for carrying a toy machine gun into the Senate Gallery and was ejected.

The May 12, 1971, evening edition of the "Oklahoma City Times" newspaper, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, reflected an article which stated, in part, that the WRL and Oklahoma Chapter of Veterans Against the War (VAW) were planning a peaceful Armed Forces Day march and an all night vigil at Lincoln Park, Oklahoma City, May 15 - 16, 1971, according to DON PARKER, Chairman of the VAW.

Approximately 75 people, representing the Oklahoma Chapters of WRL and VAW, assembled at the Oklahoma State Capitol in Oklahoma City from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon, May 15, 1971. At 12 noon, the group marched from the Capitol to Lincoln Park in Oklahoma City, arriving at 2:10 p.m. Antiwar and antidraft speeches were made by several individuals at the Capitol and Lincoln Park.

In the early evening of May 15, 1971, a small group of the demonstrators gathered at Lincoln Park for an all night candlelight vigil.

The above activities were peaceful and there were no incidents.

The July 28, 1971, issue of the "Daily Oklahoman" newspaper, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, reflected an article entitled, "Foes of War Challenge Law." The article stated in part as follows:

A suit challenging a 1970 State law that prohibits using the names of war dead in demonstrations without first seeking permission from survivors was filed on July 27th in Cleveland County District Court, Norman, Oklahoma. Antiwar protestors, who claim membership in two Norman-based antiwar organizations, Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) and War Resisters League (WRL), who are represented by Enid (Oklahoma) Attorney STEPHEN JONES, asked that the Cleveland County District Attorney and State Attorney General be enjoined from prosecuting them. STEPHEN R. JONES

The protestors intend to use the names of war dead in an upcoming Labor Day demonstration on the OU campus and Cleveland County Courthouse grounds in Norman.

The injunction petition, which also questions the constitutionality of the act was filed in behalf of MIKE

The VVAW-WRL-sponsored demonstration in Norman, Oklahoma, on Labor Day, September 6, 1971, was canceled.

(OC T-3, 9/6/71)
(Sheriff BILL PORTER, Norman, Oklahoma, 9/6/71)

The September 21, 1971, issue of the "Oklahoma Journal" newspaper, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, reflected an article which stated OU students JOEL COHEN and JERRY PETIPRIN, OU WRL members, marched quietly with placards in front of the old Federal Building in Oklahoma City on September 29, 1971, and distributed antidraft pamphlets.

There was no activity on the part of the OU WRL during the summer months of 1971, but this group is active again and held their first meeting of the Fall Semester on September 22, 1971, with about thirty people present. It was announced at the meeting that three rallies and/or demonstrations had been planned: October 13, 1971, OU WRL would sponsor demonstrations at State and Federal facilities in Norman and Oklahoma City; October 25 - 29, 1971, mass conscientious objector rally in Washington, D. C., and OU WRL might send members to partpcipate; November 6, 1971, regional rallies against war and conscription. It was also announced at the meeting that DAVE DELLINGER would speak to OU students on September 27, 1971.

(OC T-2, 9/24/71)

The September 24, 1971, issue of the "Oklahoma Daily," OU student newspaper, Norman, Oklahoma, reflected an announcement that "DAVE DELLINGER, indicted along with the Chicago Seven, will speak at 3:30 p.m., Monday, at 200 Dale Hall."

JOEL COHEN, President of the OU WRL, requested the OU Speaker's Bureau to finance the OU speech of DAVID DELLINGER on September 27, 1971, requiring $1,400. The Speaker's Bureau denied this amount but agreed to partially finance DELLINGER's OU speech.

(OC T-4, 9/24/71)

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 47

JOEL COHEN mentioned on September 24, 1971, that DAVE DELLINGER's OU speech on September 27, 1971, had been postponed and tentatively rescheduled for September 29, 1971.

(OC T-2, 9/24/71)

The OU Speakers Bureau and OU WRL are co-sponsoring a speech by DAVID DELLINGER at 7:30 p.m., September 29, 1971, at OU's Meacham Auditorium.

(OC T-5, 9/28/71)

The September 30, 1971, issue of the "Oklahoma Journal" newspaper, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, reflected an article entitled "DELLINGER Tells OU Audience Strikes Next Anti-War Phase." The article in part is as follows:

DAVE DELLINGER, one of the Chicago Seven convicted in connection with disorders at the Chicago Democratic Convention in 1968, and who is presently out on bond pending appeal, told a packed audience of students at Meacham Auditorium Wednesday night that coordinated strikes and work stoppages are the next action phase of the anti-war movement. He said, "marches and rallies are not enough - we must use force: force without violence." DELLINGER said the strikes and work-stoppages aimed "in the direction toward" general strikes, will start with an October 13 moratorium sponsored by the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ). He stated that the PCPJ, a successor to the National Mobilization Committee to End the War, which partly under his leadership engineered the Pentagon demonstration in 1967, is now planning to launch major protests outside seven large prisons around the country. The national emphasis on "law and order" is, he said, the voice of great wealth and power saying "to you poor, disinherited and oppressed, if you violate our property fetishes, we will put you in prison and you will have no rights."

After DELLINGER's speech, many of the audience stayed to participate in workshops on the "fall offensive" against the war, prison crisis and revolutionary non-violence.

A PCPJ press release dated March 1, 1971, described the PCPJ as being headquartered in Washington, D.C., and consisting of over 100 organizations which are using massive, non-violent civil disobedience to combat racism, poverty, repression and the war.

In preparation for activities scheduled on October 13, 1971, by the OU WRL, WRL will sponsor a rally on the OU ROTC Drill Field at 3:30 p.m., October 12, 1971, to harass ROTC. The OU WRL will seek support of the OU VVAW.

(OC T-2, 10/12/71)

Activities scheduled by the OU WRL on October 13, 1971, are as follows:

Boycott classes at OU;

Hold a "bike-in" to tie up parking spaces in business areas near the OU campus in an effort to stop business (beginning at 7 a.m.);

Discussions on the OU campus;

Memorial service on OU Campus Corner, Boyd and Asp Streets, in Norman;

Release balloons in the OU Administration Building in an effort to temporarily halt business operations of the university;

Serve an eviction notice on the OU ROTC;

Hold a candlelight procession through the OU Campus (beginning at 7:30 p.m.).

(OC T-2, 10/12/71)
(Captain DENNIS STENHOUSE, OU Security Department, 10/12/71)

In preparation for activities scheduled on October 13, 1971, by the OU WRL, approximately seventy persons demonstrated on the OU ROTC Drill Field from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., October 12, 1971, protesting ROTC. Most demonstrators were members of the OU WRL and VVAW. There were no incidents.

(OC T-2, 10/13/71)

Approximately 100 persons participated in several "Stop the War - No business as usual" activities in Norman, Oklahoma, October 13, 1971, sponsored by the OU WRL with support of the OU VVAW. These activities were as follows:

Beginning at 7 a.m. and intermittently during the morning hours, "bike-in" tying up parking spaces in the business areas near the OU campus in an effort to stop business. On one occasion, "bike-in" participants blocked the sidewalk, but moved when police instructed them to break it up. No arrests were made.

10:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m., guerilla theater on OU's South Oval. No incidents.

11 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., participants released balloons in the OU Administration Building in an effort to halt business operations of the University. No incidents.

11:20 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., group appeared at the OU Student Union chanting obscenities. No incidents.

11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., group allowed to enter the OU ROTC Armory. Participants served an eviction notice on ROTC. No incidents, but unknown persons deflated tires of one vehicle in the Armory.

12:45 p.m. to 1:15 p.m., group marched through the OU Student Union chanting obscenities and blocking aisles. Group dispersed when approached by OU Police. No incidents.

7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., candlelight procession through the OU Campus. No incidents.

JERRY PETIPRIN, WRL member, led most of above activities and was accompanied on occasions by DANIEL DRYZ, President of the OU VVAW.

(OC T-2, 10/13, 14/71)
(Captain DENNIS STENHOUSE, OU Security Department, 10/13, 14/71)

The OU WRL met on the evening of October 20, 1971, on OU's South Oval. Plans to participate in the Washington, D.C., demonstration on October 25, 1971, were discussed.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 50

JERRY PETIPRIN, spokesman for the group, stated if anyone was interested in attending the Washington, D. C., demonstration, they would have to arrange for their own transportation.

(OC T-2, 10/29/71)

The OU WRL has held no recent meetings and none had been announced as of November 5, 1971. JOEL COHEN, head of the OU WRL, has returned from a trip to California. Reason for the trip is unknown.

(OC T-6, 11/5/71)

The OU WRL held a meeting at OU's Dale Hall on November 15, 1971, and approximately fifteen persons attended the meeting, including JOEL COHEN and MIKE ANDERSON. Those at the meeting discussed plans to picket the Federal Building in Oklahoma City "in the near future," after legal briefs have been prepared by Attorney STEPHEN R. JONES. OU WRL members will enter the Federal Building and attempt to distribute leaflets on the second floor. Their aim is to be arrested in order that WRL members can legally challenge the constitutionality of a law prohibiting the distribution of leaflets in the Federal Building. Possible harassment of Internal Revenue Service in the Federal Building was discussed.

Further plans discussed at the above WRL meeting are as follows:

The OU WRL, with an unnamed group in Oklahoma City, will "investigate" Oklahoma County Attorney CURTIS P. HARRIS and the Oklahoma City Police Department. Their purpose is to attempt to uncover information on Oklahoma City Police Officers who were involved in drug raids in Oklahoma City several weeks ago. This attempt will be made to discredit the Oklahoma City Police Department.

(OC T-7, 11/22/71)

JOEL COHEN, President of the OU WRL, and MIKE ANDERSON, unofficial student legal advisor to the OU WRL, indicated they plan to attend the Southwest Convention of the WRL at Albuquerque, New Mexico, during the Thanksgiving holidays.

(OC T-7, 11/22/71)

JOEL COHEN mentioned recently that the OU WRL has held no meetings during the past two weeks and plan none until some time in January, 1972. He said for the past several weeks, two to four WRL members from OU have picketed "a few times" at the Federal Building in Oklahoma City. COHEN also indicated that the OU WRL does not plan to enter the Federal Building and distribute leaflets as previously mentioned at a WRL meeting on November 15, [illegible] some time after the second semester at OU begins in January, 1972. COHEN mentioned that the OU WRL will hold an informal meeting probably in January, 1972, just before the new semester begins to outline plans for the second semester.

(OC T-7, 12/8/71)

FINANCES

The OU WRL has no income, but as a recognized student group at OU, the group receives some money from the university, as do all recognized student groups, for operational expenses. The OU WRL does accept and receive small contributions from members and sympathizers, but it has not received any gifts, equipment, facilities, or other financial support from individuals, groups, or organizations.

(OC T-1, 6/17/71)

The OU WRL has no regular income, but does receive some funds by selling literature, donations, and school funds. The OU Student Congress recently approved $200 for this group to use for operational expenses. The group does accept and receive small contributions from members and sympathizers, but the group has received no gifts, equipment, facilities, or other financial support from individuals, groups, or organizations.

WAR TAX RESISTANCE (WTR)

PURPOSE:

To advise that national WTR organizing conference to be held Milwaukee, 1/7-9/72, and to recommend discreet informant coverage due to past WTR activities and current WTR connection with War Resisters League (WRL) and Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ), organizations under active investigation due to subversive involvement.

BACKGROUND:

WTR is movement in U.S. to resist paying income taxes which antiwar activists feel contribute to assisting U.S. Government continue war in Vietnam. Although we have conducted no active investigation of WTR, we follow WTR activities through established sources due to past demonstrations throughout U.S. and attempts to disrupt operations of Internal Revenue Service (IRS). At meeting of WTR, 7/71, new tactics were adopted to effectively disrupt IRS and included resisting the withholding system for paying income taxes and attempting to recruit IRS employees to help with internal sabotage of IRS.

Through our investigations of WRL and PCPJ, it is clear that the same activists and leaders of PCPJ and WRL are also moving forces behind WTR. We note that headquarters of WTR is 339 Lafayette Street, New York City, which is also headquarters address of WRL. We further note that among Working Committee of WTR are listed names Bradford Lyttle, David McReynolds, David Dellinger, Douglas Dowd and Ron Young, all of whom are principal activists in WRL and PCPJ.

We have been actively investigating PCPJ since its inception due to considerable information developed that it is thoroughly infiltrated by members of Communist Party, USA. We initiated active investigation of WRL, long-time pacifist group, during 10/71, after carefully analyzing numerous indications that WRL was engaging in actions contrary to internal security interest of U.S. For example, during 5/71, numerous informants advised that WRL was emerging as main funding and guiding organization of PCPJ. This information was corroborated through independent investigation, including fact that on 8/11/71 check in amount of $2,335, payable to PCPJ, was drawn on WRL account in New York City. Other information reported that WRL staff member, David McReynolds, was circulating proposal encouraging disruptions of Government installations, including FBI offices, on 10/13/71. Subsequently, McReynolds traveled to Russia and then to Hanoi to meet with North Vietnamese representatives. Our informants have reported that WRL activists have considerable knowledge concerning locations of fugitive deserters who are attempting to elude military service and are frequently seeking refuge in Canada.

Our New York and Milwaukee Offices have developed information that WTR will sponsor National Tax Resistance Conference, Milwaukee, 1/7-9/72. Alleged purpose is to build national tax resistance movement and form national organization which better reflects needs and ideas of people across U.S. First notification of this conference came from New York informant who is active in WRL and indicated that WRL was behind conference. Milwaukee informant advised that preparations for conference in Milwaukee area being handled by WRL representative in that area who has prepared nationwide mailing regarding conference using WRL letterhead stationery.

OBSERVATIONS:

Milwaukee Office has indicated live informant coverage will be provided of conference. Based on past WTR activities, we can be reasonably certain that further plans will be made at conference for further demonstrations and possible disruptions of Government operations, including IRS, during 1972. Since it is felt conference will be heavily influenced and attended by WRL activists, offices having bulk of WRL activity should be canvassed immediately to determine if large delegations will be attending from those territories. If this be the case, we should consider authorizing attendance of informants from territories having large delegations. Due to nature of conference, we will insist on discreet coverage through long-established informants and only if size of delegation warrants additional informant coverage.

ACTION:

Attached for approval is teletype to key WRL offices requesting immediate canvass of informants regarding conference.

A third source, who has provided reliable information in the past, advised on January 4, 1972, that the meeting scheduled to take place at the First Baptist Church, 911 E. Ogden Street, on January 9, 1972, had been changed to take place at the Jewish Community Center, 1400 North Prospect Avenue, Milwaukee.

First source advised that the National Conference of the War Tax Resistance and the War Resisters League commenced at approximately 7:30 p.m., January 7, 1972, at the First Baptist Church, 911 E. Ogden Street, Milwaukee. Approximately 36 individuals were in attendance, which included representatives from the following areas:

New York City, New York
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Kansas City, Missouri
Chicago, Illinois
Syracuse, New York
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

First source further advised that Bob Calvert from New York City acted as chairman of this session. Source advised that Calvert passed out a leaflet which read as follows:

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 83

Is the war in Indochina winding down?? Pres. Nixon would have us think so. The escalated bombing of North Vietnam has clearly demonstrated to us that the American government (as many of us already knew) has been waging a new type of war - an AIR WAR -- directed by complex electronic systems.

Protest has increasingly grown over the past ten years to such an extent that the government realized it had to make a move to quiet the American people. It began withdrawing American troops so that fewer American men would die. A new phase of the war began -- Vietnamization. Asians are being paid and armed by our government to fight their Asian brothers and sisters. 160,000 Americans still remain in Indochina and if we are to believe our Pres., about 30,000-60,000 will remain in Indochina for some time. In order to show the "enemy" that we weren't winding down the war (while telling us differently) our government has stepped up the AIR WAR. Every day thousands of bombs fall on the people of Indochina. Recently, there was a five-day escalation of the bombings over North Vietnam. Pres. Nixon has made it clear that as soon as it looks as though the "enemy" is getting out of line the bombings will be escalated.

While the nature of the war in Indochina has been changing, there have also been new developments within the anti-war movement. Many people are convinced that more local actions are needed rather than putting a lot of time and money trying to organize a mass rally once every four to six months. Many people believe that the anti-war movement should be more decentralized. Many people believe that the anti-war movement should relate more to what caused the war in Indochina; to what causes the Arms Race; to what causes the American government to support dictatorships (like the Pakistan gov't. dictatorship); and also to what causes the problems that exist in this country.

War Tax Resistance began two years ago with the idea that the anti-war movement must go beyond protest and move into non-cooperation and at the same time start building something new. Gradually our ranks have grown. As the movement has grown, so have we. We realized that we must do more than suggest that people stop paying war taxes. We realized that people must start using their refused taxes for local community needs. So we suggested that war tax refusers join together and start Alternative Funds.

War Tax Resistance now has the organizational framework (over 190 WTR Centers) to grow into a mass movement. The AIR WAR and confusion within the anti-war movement as to what tactics to take now should cause war tax resistance to spread. However, how are we going to build a real mass movement?? How do we get massive publicity and still be decentralized and build a movement??

I think we can build war tax resistance rallies all across the country on April 15th. Focus of these rallies should be on the AIR WAR and resistance - noncooperation with the death machine and most important - the use of the refused war taxes for life serving purposes. To build these rallies will require a lot of hard work in the next few months. This work should begin immediately all across the country with: meetings, literature tables, street theatre, interviews, vigils, information tables at IRS, press conferences, etc. These small actions should be leading towards bigger actions on April 15th. People who are already resisting could come forward at press conferences or other public actions and call on their fellow citizens to join them. Alternative Funds could be started. Every organization which is involved in the movement for social change should be strongly encouraged to join this campaign and to participate actively in it. The Catholic Peace Fellowship has already joined WTR in this campaign.

type of campaign I am envisioning must begin as soon as possible and continue about February and March and into April, culminating on April 15th in actions of resistance all across the country. These actions must be more than protests but actions of resistance that show a road towards a new society. This movement, if it is grass-roots, will have the momentum (at least it should) to keep on going after April 15th. Dr. George Wald said that there are now thousands resisting war taxes but if we are really serious about being effective we must be hundreds and even millions of people openly resisting. That means that all of us must work hard and convince others to work hard.

Besides the actions I suggested above we could also begin tours of the country. We should have two or more people traveling by the first of February in every region of the country. It would be better if these people lived in the region they were traveling in but people from National WTR are willing to go anyplace people feel they are needed. These travelers should visit every peace center they can and get commitments from them to work on the WTR campaign. They should help get WTR Centers started, help existing WTR Centers get more support, and help start Alternative Funds. They should have lots of literature with them.

Advertisements should be taken out in major newspapers and magazines calling for a moratorium of war taxes in 1972. These ads could be sponsored by a long list of organizations and people. We could also encourage our Sponsors of WTR to write articles in publications. We should be promoting the new WTR book, AIN'T GONNA PAY FOR WAR NO MORE". We should have NEW buttons, stickers and posters promoting APRIL 15 - MORATORIUM ON WAR TAXES DAY (or whatever we decide to call it). We should get these out as soon as possible so people will be talking about it for some time.

All of the things I am talking about for promoting the campaign will costs lots of money. National WTR already has a debt of over $6,000. We need to cut this out completely and raise lots of money. Maybe this could be done through concerts around the country and other benefits for WTR. We should raise enough money so that we can help other WTR Centers start campaigns in their town, cities. We need to raise enough money so that we can print thousands of leaflets and other promotions such as the buttons, stickers and posters I mention above. We need brainstorming how we are going to raise this money.

I have written this ????(whatever you want to call it) to give some direction to the conference this weekend. I hope that when we leave this weekend we will all be going back to our communities ready to work. Hopefully, this document you have just finished reading will help.

Bob Calvert

CONFIDENTIAL

Second source advised that this meeting began with a dinner and was followed by short organizational meetings to discuss what would take place during the conference.

Third source advised that the main theme of Friday evenings events was the formulation of plans for the participants to be able to return to local areas to establish actions to withhold taxes to oppose the war in Southeast Asia. Source advised that the Friday evening session ended at approximately 8:45 p.m.

Fourth source, who has provided reliable information in the past, advised on January 8, 1972, that the conference reconvened at 10:15 a.m. at the First Baptist Church, 911 E. Ogden Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Approximately 40 individuals were in attendance which included the following areas being represented:

New York City, New York
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Columbus, Ohio
Chicago, Illinois
Cleveland, Ohio

Among those observed in attendance were George Carnes, Hugh Cook and Mitch Kunkel from Milwaukee. Bob Calvert, a national representative of the WTR from New York City; and Gunar Knutson from Chicago, acted as group discussion leaders, as well as Sally Marks from New York City, during the workshop period.

All sources advised on January 8, 1972, that the conference broke into several workshop groups during the Saturday morning conference and the general discussion was on local organizing throughout the U. S. and possible future plans of the War Tax Resistance were as follows:

1. In Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, plan to disrupt air force bases with the disruption being attempts to prevent individuals from entering and leaving the various air force bases.

   Also, the dropping of leaflets from airplanes and tall buildings urging tax resistance.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 86

2. At McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey, some sort of action on either April 15 or 17, 1972, in connection with tax resistance.

3. Disruption of Internal Revenue Service Offices in Cleveland, Ohio, on April 15 or 17, 1972.

4. During the course of the Republican Convention to be held in San Diego, California, during the latter part of summer of 1972, a setting up of a sort of "reserection city" based on the similar reserection city which was set up in Washington, D. C., during the poor peoples' march on Washington.

5. The Harrisburg Defense Committee is attempting to set up marches at various cities in the immediate vicinity of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on January 17, 1972, and from these cities march to Harrisburg. The participants, while en route to Harrisburg, are to stop in the various towns and talk with people about resisting through taxes.

6. On April 22, 1972, a national action throughout the United States regarding tax resistance. In this connection, on a local level, various demonstrations or actions should be held on April 15 or 17, with respect to tax resistance.

7. Articles should be placed in various newspapers throughout the U. S., urging people to resist through the withholding of taxes.

All sources reported on January 8, 1972, that brief mention was made concerning the WTR participation in the San Diego Republican Convention where anti-war activists and other people will be setting up a revolutionary city. It was pointed out that this would be a good opportunity to educate the masses concerning war tax resistance and let people know the alternatives to taxes that will be used to finance a war.

It was also pointed out that the possibility exists that this same type revolutionary or resurection city would be set up in Miami during the Democratic National Convention and that future consideration should be given to having WTR people in these revolutionary or reserection cities to try and influence the other anti-war groups to get behind the War Tax Resistance.

All sources reported that during the afternoon session held at the Baptist Church, 911 E. Ogden, some of the topics discussed were ways to disrupt the Internal Revenue Service, one of these being that individuals should take money from their savings accounts and put it into safety-deposit boxes so that when taxes are withheld the Internal Revenue Service can not attach your bank accounts and that the banks can not use the interest earned to help fund the United States in their possible war related activities.

CONFIDENTIAL

Another item to disrupt the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) was to fill out W-4 forms and claim more dependants than you actually have and when confronted by IRS fill out further W-4 forms and tie them up in a mound of paper work.

Other proposals set forth were to set up tables in front of the IRS Offices and pass out War Tax Resistance literature and to confront employees of the IRS before, during, and after work and attempt to furnish them with tax resistance literature. Attempt to pursuade individuals to send letters to IRS stating they will not pay taxes unless they can be guaranteed money will not be used for war purposes. Will attempt to elicit support for Harrisburg Defense Committee, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, through organized marches to Harrisburg from nearby cities. During marches stops will be made en route to Harrisburg Police Department and speeches given concerning WTR movement.

Attempt to establish action at main post offices in major cities throughout the United States at the time of deadline for filing income taxes. Advise individuals to refuse to pay their telephone bills which the Government uses to support the war.

Sources also advised on January 8, 1972, that the evening session of Saturday's conference consisted of an informal folk concert which ended at approximately 10:30 p.m.

Fourth source advised on January 9, 1972, that the War Tax Resistance (WTR) and War Resisters League (WRL) National Conference reconvened at approximately 10:30 a.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 1400 North Prospect, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with approximately 28 individuals in attendance.

Source advised that a breakfast was held prior to this meeting at the Jewish Community Center from 9:30 until 10:30.

First source advised that from 10:30 to 12:30, short workshops were held to make recommendations and evaluations concerning what was discussed during Saturday's workshops. Source advised that the main theme of the conference was to organize at your own local level and that participants should return to their local areas in an effort to organize demonstrations at the Internal Revenue Centers and major cities on either April 15 or 17, 1972, and that when the date is finalized the day should be known as "R-Day," for resist, refuse and reform.

CONFIDENTIAL

Second source advised on January 9, 1972, that participants again indicated efforts should be made to establish a "revolutionary city" at the Republican National Convention, San Diego, California, along the same lines as resurection city which was established in Washington, D. C. during the poor peoples' march on Washington.

Third source advised on January 9, 1972, that participants indicated efforts would be made to centralize the tax resisters movement by taking control from the local level in order to establish and organize more national actions on the local level.

Third source further indicated that attempts would be made to establish pickets at the H & R Block Companies throughout the major U.S. cities as H & R Block Company prepares tax returns for millions of Americans.

First source advised that in conclusion, Bob Calvert stated that the War Tax Resistance organization was approximately $6,000 in debt and efforts will be made in the near future to collect pledges from members throughout the country. Source advised that Bob Calvert of New York chaired the meeting on Sunday, and he stated in closing that a detailed mailing list of all in attendance would be furnished in the near future and that this mailing list should be used to keep in better touch and to coordinate WTR activities for April of 1972.

Re New York airtel to Bureau, dated 10/27/71.

The following investigation was conducted by SA RAYMOND D. ANGLE, JR., at Jamestown, N.Y.:

A review of the Jamestown, N.Y. City Directory for 1970, was made on 12/13/71, and disclosed that the occupants of 12 Partridge Street, Jamestown, N.Y. are as follows:

SEBASTIAN CALIMERI and his wife BONNIE J. Mr. CALIMERI is a cabinet maker at the Frank Chase Cabinet Company, Jamestown, N.Y.

Mrs. ERNA TROXALL, widow of SHERMAN, who was formerly employed at the Laco Velvetex Division, Jamestown, N.Y., as a laborer.

Miss CAROL JOHNSON, Credit Bureau of Jamestown, advised that SHERMAN and ERNA TROXELL have been known to her Bureau since 1952, coming to the Jamestown area from Sugar Grove, Pennsylvania. She advised that from approximately 1957 to 1968, they resided in the Buffalo, N.Y. area, returning to Jamestown in 1968. She advised in October, 1964, Mr. TROXELL died and prior to his death, he was employed as a construction worker. No employment is listed for Mrs. TROXELL and her credit is considered satisfactory.

Detective GEORGE THOMPSON, Jamestown PD Detective Bureau, advised that he has been acquainted with the TROXELL Family of 12 Partridge Street for several years. He advised that his acquaintance with this family stems from the fact that Mrs. TROXELL's son, AUSTIN, presently a 10th grade student at Jamestown High School, has been involved in anti-war type activities while a student at the Junior High School, and presently while a sophomore at Jamestown High School. He advised that his investigation has determined that TROXELL was born 1/6/56, and that he has one sister, name unknown, born in 1961. He advised that AUSTIN TROXELL has expressed opposition to the United States intervention in South East Asia, and on a limited basis, has participated in demonstrations sponsored by the Jamestown Community College, or other groups in the Jamestown area. He advised that in view of his age, he does not consider him to be a potential problem, or a leader in any type of activist activity. He advised that he knows of no followers directly associated with him and has determined that he subscribes to a War Resistors Periodical, which is delivered to his residence at 12 Partridge Street. Detective THOMPSON concluded that he does not consider TROXELL to be a problem in the community, however, anticipates following his activities and should he determine that he is involved in activities outside the Jamestown community, he will immediately advise SA ANGLE.

ADMINISTRATIVE

WILLIAM O. HILL, Carrier No. 28, U. S. Post Office, Jamestown, N.Y., advised on 1/10/72, that he delivers to the TROXELL residence at 12 Partridge Street, Jamestown, N.Y., publications bearing the return address of War Resisters League, New York, N.Y. He advised that this mail comes on a semi-monthly basis, and is addressed to AUSTIN TROXELL.

In view of the age of AUSTIN TROXELL and his being a 10th grade student at Jamestown High School, and since it is apparent from investigation conducted by the Jamestown PD, that he is not involved in any type activist activity in the Jamestown area, and appears to have no following, no further investigation is being conducted concerning him.

with the WRL in Milwaukee. This source has further advised that COOK has indicated that at the present time the Milwaukee WRL is not in an organized state and COOK has indicated there is no present actual membership for the Milwaukee WRL but that it is hoped he will be able to establish a bona fide WRL chapter.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, on January 27, 1972 furnished a flyer reportedly received anonymously by the War Tax Resistance (WTR) at their headquarters, 339 Lafayette Street, New York City (NYC).

The flyer is quoted in its entirety following:

"STARVE NIXON'S WAR

"WTR's and WRL's

"Withdraw yourself from the Establishment's war CRIMES. The senseless slaughter of human beings - American and Asian. Use the opportunity to take yourself out of the war and use those resources to build - not destroy. The government is supposed to, but won't. Responsibility of government is in the People. "As you all know, the rotten, illegal Viet Nam war is promoted by the bankers and industrialists and financed by the thieving lackeys and sons of (obscene) called the Internal Revenue Service.

"If you wish to screw up the Establishment's works we have a plan that was presented to us by several I.R.S. agents who are sympathetic to our movement. (We must remain anonymous as the Fed. fuzz; by process of elimination, can easily identify our sources of information.) Our pipeline cannot be jeopardized and the agents must remain secret.

"I.R.S. informants tell us that at each Regional Processing Center all 1040 Form information is fed into computers and placed on tapes. We have unrefuted professional advice that if 10,000 to 12,000 phony 1040 Forms (tax returns) are mailed into each Regional Processing Center the machiner will bog down into one big bureaucratic (obscene) morass and can take months to clean up, if ever. WTR's, WRL's, Viet Nam Vets Against the War - join in, spread the word and beat the enemy.

"Here's how:

"1. The most effective 1040 tax return is one filed as a self-employed where line 24 shows money owed, but of course no payment. Use any and all self-employed letters from Architect to Zebra trainer.

"2. Mail in employee 1040s and phony W-2s asking for refunds. Any occupation will do.

"3. Send in blank returns known as the Daly-Porth type return showing name, address, Social Security number and filed under protest.

"Accountants, accounting majors and economic prof can help with figures for each occupation. The trick is to use plausible figures so as to arouse no suspicious at the onset. They must be fed into the computers.

"Use name from the telephone books, newspapers, tombstones and any address that suits your fancy. Make it look good. Cities, small towns and rural addresses all work. Any Social Security number. We repeat - keep your figures legit looking.

"They should be typed on a wide variety of typewriters and a wide variety of neat longhand.

"Remember, 10,000 to 12,000 1040s can be turned out in about one month and should be mailed in February 1st to April 15th.

"WE WILL NOT FINANCE VIET NAM

"AIN'T GONNA PAY FOR WAR NO MORE

"THIS WILL WORK. DO IT.

AIMS AND PURPOSES

The following are pertinent portions of a guest editorial signed "War Resisters League" which appeared in the March 13, 1970, issue of the "New Mexico Lobo," student newspaper published at the University of New Mexico (UNM), Albuquerque, New Mexico:

> "The objectives of the War Resisters League of Albuquerque are to provide information about tax resistance, to help people find uses for their peace funds, and, if ever needed, to help provide legal services for individuals prosecuted by IRS."

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

We are a group of people, a collection of individuals working together.

We live in a world where today the majority of mankind still lives under conditions unworthy of the dignity of human life,

where millions more are enslaved

by affluence, mechanization, and dehumanization.

Our world may not survive.

if we do not reverse the values that lead to nuclear war, overpopulation , environmental pollution.

In the context of this world

we are beginning to build a total nonviolent revolution, based on the understanding that all men are brothers.

Our revolution is a process in which masses will dtermine our ends .

Our most immediate concerns at present are the assumptions, behavior, and institutions which constitute and give rise to militarism.

We are simultaneously striving to resist and noncooperate with these things and to create postive , human alternatives to them.

We try to stress three things:

education- helping each other to grow and be aware;

direct action- taking risks with our lives;

community- creating a loving, sharing world

beginning with us.

we welcome you to join us

OFFICERS

On October 8, 1970, AQ T-5 advised that CRAIG SIMPSON was serving as the Southwest Coordinator for the WRL.

On February 3, 1971, AQ T-3 advised that SIEGFRIED MARTINEZ was serving as the "chief roving organizer" for the WRL in the Southwest.

On January 15, 1971, AQ T-2 advised that CRAIG SIMPSON was the only WRL Officer in the Albuquerque area, and that he resided at 1003 Forrester, N. W. AQ T-2 advised that he had not observed SIEGFRIED MARTINEZ at WRL Headquarters since the summer of 1972. This source also advised that GEOFFREY BECKETT, although not officially a WRL officer, resides with SIMPSON at 1003 Forrester, N. W.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

The following are pertinent portions of a letter to the editor signed SIEGFRIED MARTINEZ which appeared in the August 29, 1970, issue of "El Grito del Norte," English/Spanish language newspaper published irregularly at Espanola, New Mexico:

> "I was a member of the New Mexico National Guard for four years and three months, until I quit in March of 1970. During that period, I was treated at times more like a machine than a human being. In the first place, I didn't want to join any branch of the service, but I was confused and unaware that I didn't have to. I joined the National Guard out of fear. Our government and society condition us out of fear to do what it wants us to do.
>
> "Today, I am no longer fearful. I will not allow anybody to control my life by the use of scare tactics. I feel that I have no business being a part of the military and I am not going to be frightened into staying in for the two more years of 'duty' that I had left.
>
> "Because I quit the National Guard, I was involuntarily ordered to 17 months of active duty in the Army. Is this 'American'? Is this freedom of choice, freedom from 'involuntary servitude' as the constitution says? I do not want to be a part of the military but yet I'm being forced to do so...

"I will never again wear a military uniform. I will not allow myself to have any connection with a military that is used to kill people and keep people down all over the world in the name of freedom when we don't even have freedom in the United States...

"I am a military resister. I will not cooperate at all with the military or the draft board. I recommend to others who feel that they don't want to 'kill for freedom' to resist or apply for conscientious objector status..."

On October 16, 1970, Major JOSEPH HURRY, Commanding Officer, Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station (AFEES), Albuquerque, New Mexico, advised that SIGFREDO MARTINEZ was at AFEES awaiting a physical examination. Major HURRY advised that this individual claimed to have resigned from the U. S. Army Reserves and to be seeking classification as a conscientious objector.

Major HURRY advised that in an effort to clarify the subject's status, he contacted the State Selective Service Headquarters, Santa Fe, New Mexico, and advised that the subject had been ordered to report for induction at Fort Polk, Louisiana, on July 6, 1970, after he had failed to fulfill his obligation to the U. S. Army Reserves and in view of the lapsed time, the subject had been dropped from the military rolls as a deserter.

By communication dated October 16, 1970, the New Orleans Office of the FBI advised that the subject had been dropped from the rolls at Ft. Polk, Louisiana, as a deserter on August 9, 1970, when he failed to report to the U. S. Army Reception Station at Ft. Polk, Louisiana.

The above information was furnished to the Military Police Detachment, Sandia Base, which arranged for MARTINEZ' apprehension and for his transportation to Ft. Bliss, Texas, as a deserter on October 24, 1970.

On December 2, 1970, AQ T-6 advised that he had observed MARTINEZ in the Albuquerque area on November 29, 1970. A check of MARTINEZ through NCIC on December 2, 1970, was made with negative results.

On January 15, 1972, AQ T-2 advised that neither CRAIG SIMPSON nor GEOFFREY BECKETT was employed other than their activities with the AWRL.

MEMBERSHIP

On January 20, 1971, AQ T-3 advised that the AWRL at that time had seven members.

On January 15, 1972, AQ T-2 advised that he estimated the membership of the AWRL at between five and ten persons.

FINANCES

On January 20, 1971, AQ T-3 advised that the AWRL would be furnished $250 a month for a three-month period for assistance in organizing WRL groups throughout the Southwest.

On January 15, 1972, AQ T-2 advised that the AWRL receives a subsidy of $40 a month from the WRL National Headquarters in New York City, and that source was not aware of any other source of income for the group except possibly contributions from persons who support their views. AQ T-2 advised that although he had no specific information in this regard, he felt that it was probable that the WRL National Headquarters also paid the rent on the building at 1003 Forrester, N. W.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 120

VIEWS ON FORCE AND VIOLENCE

An article which appeared in the December 8, 1970, issue of the "New Mexico Lobo" quoted CRAIG SIMPSON as stating that the AWRL is "trying to build a radical non-violent community."

When interviewed in connection with another matter on December 16, 1970, GEOFFREY BECKETT stated that the AWRL followed the Ghandi Theory of Non-Violence. He stated that the AWRL is a pacifist group which operates entirely openly and that all of its meetings are open to the general public.

TIES WITH BASIC REVOLUTIONARY OR OTHER SUBVERSIVE GROUPS

On January 15, 1972, AQ T-2 advised that the AWRL has no ties with any basic revolutionary or other subversive groups. AQ T-2 advised that the AWRL members are all basically pacifists who are opposed to all wars.

ACTIVITIES

The following demonstrations were conducted by the AWRL. All of these demonstrations were of a peaceful nature.

Date	Activity
March 4, 11, 18, and 25, 1970 April 1, 8, 15, and 22, 1970	Silent vigil outside U. S. Post Office and Federal Courthouse, Albuquerque, New Mexico, noon to 1:00 P.M.
August 5-6, 1970	All-night vigil and march to Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico
November 26, 27, and 28, 1970	Picketing Sandia Base, Kirtland Air Force Base, and distributing leaflets Winrock Shopping Center, Albuquerque, New Mexico;

May 2-5, 1971	Peace Festival, Roosevelt Park, and picketing Sandia Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico
August 6-9, 1971	Fast and vigil, Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico
October 13, 1971	March from Yale Park to Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico
November 2, 1971	Guerrilla Theater at concert of U. S. Army Field Band and Chorus, Civic Auditorium, Albuquerque, New Mexico
November 26-28, 1971	Southwest Conference on Non-Violence, Corrales, New Mexico

With reference to the above demonstrations on May 2-5, 1971, and October 13, 1971, these were nominally sponsored by the Albuquerque Coalition For Peace and Justice, also known as Peoples Coalition For Peace and Justice and Coalition For Peace and Justice.

An advertisement urging support for the May 2-5, 1971, demonstrations which appeared in the May 2, 1971, issue of the "Albuquerque Journal," daily newspaper published in Albuquerque, New Mexico, lists CRAIG SIMPSON as Treasurer of the ACPJ and the ACPJ's phone number as the phone number of the Albuquerque WRL.

AQ T-2 has advised that the ACPJ is a loose grouping largely consisting of professors and students from both the University of New Mexico and the University of Albuquerque as well as pacifists and other individuals in the Albuquerque area who are opposed to U. S. involvement in Southeastern Asia.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 122

This source also advised that the AWRL is the moving force behind the ACPJ.

An article which appeared in the May 13, 1971, issue of the "New Mexico Lobo" quoted ROBERT BADY, described as a spokesman for the ACPJ, as stating that the ACPJ "is totally dedicated to non-violence and is not trying to tear down the Government."

AQ T-1 advised that although CRAIG SIMPSON has claimed that the ACPJ is affiliated with the Peoples Coalition For Peace and Justice (PCPJ), the source was not aware of any contacts between the ACPJ and the PCPJ.

A PCPJ press release dated March 1, 1971, described the PCPJ as being headquartered in Washington, D. C., and consisting of over 100 organizations which are using massive non-violence civil disobedience to combat racism, poverty, repression, and the war.

On February 25, 1971, AQ T-7 made available a leaflet issued by the AWRL which sets forth that the AWRL would conduct a series of classes on the general topic "Revolutionary Non-Violence"in conjunction with the Free University at University of New Mexico.

"February 18- Cesar Chavez and the farm workers struggle

"February 25- Ghandi's experiments in truth

"February 26-28 weekend session on 'christianity and nonviolence' held at Dominican Retreat House

"March 4- People's Liberation: Women's, Gay, Men's

"March 11- Nonviolence and revolution with Igal Roodenkoo National Chairman of War Resisters League and World War II resister

"March 25 - Draft Resistance

"April 1 - Tax Resistance

"April 15 - Communes: Urban and rural

29 - Civilian Defense - alternative to armed defense

"May 6 - Anarchy: Discussion of Libertarian Politics"

The following are pertinent portions of a catalog dated May 18-24, 1970, issued by Amistad:

"What is AMISTAD?

"AMISTAD (friendship) the Free University, was established after a week of national and local turmoil to meet the needs of those individuals who wanted to discuss, study and act upon those problems and concerns of our society that normally are not covered in the university curriculum...

"The curriculum of AMISTAD is open to any and all interested individuals. As you will find in this catalogue, there is an immense range of courses representing many political, social and academic interests. Most groups meet at AMISTAD and are open discussion seminars. It is not necessary to register for these groups--just come in and attend them. There are no requirements--except interest. In addition to the groups, there are films, visiting speakers, community leaders and spontaneous group discussions."

On March 9, 1971, AQ T-8 advised that the AWRL had been attempting to organize a group known as the Liberation Cooperative which was designed to appeal to high school students dissatisfied with the quality of the education offered by the Albuquerque public high schools but that AWRL was unsuccessful in this effort due to lack of interest on the part of high school students in the area.

AQ T-8 made available a leaflet issued by the Liberation Cooperative which describes it as "an alternative to public high school 'education'... a humanistic education that stresses creativity, individuality and a real awareness of where we are in the world instead of conformity and apathy."

AT SOCORRO, NEW MEXICO

On October 26, 1971, AQ T-3 advised that there was also a WRL group at Socorro, New Mexico, which utilized the mailing address Box 2452, Campus Station, Socorro, New Mexico.

On January 25, 1972, AQ T-9 advised that Box 2452, Campus Station, has been rented by THOMAS R. SCHELLHASE for the approximately three years SCHELLHASE has been a student at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, Socorro, New Mexico.

AQ T-9 advised that he was not aware of any WRL activity in the Socorro, New Mexico, area.

On February 10, 1971, AQ T-3 advised that THOMAS CHARLES CORNELL, a well-known New York City pacifist who has been convicted of burning his draft card, and who is co-chairman of the Catholic Peace Fellowship, a Catholic pacifist organization founded by the Reverend PHILIP BERRIGAN, S.J. in 1968, would visit a number of colleges and universities throughout the country beginning in March, 1971, and that his contact in Albuquerque, New Mexico, would be CRAIG SIMPSON.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 125

According to an article which appeared in the May 13, 1971, issue of the "Defensor-Chieftain," semi-weekly newspaper published at Socorro, New Mexico, approximately 100 persons attended a rally held in the Socorro Plaza on May 8, 1971, in support of the People's Peace Treaty to End the War in Indo-China. According to this article, the first speech was delivered by New Mexico Lieutenant Governor ROBERT MONDRAGON, who urged in both English and Spanish that the war in Indo-China should be ended immediately. According to this article, TOM CORNELL also spoke and urged the absolute necessity of eliminating war and stressed that each individual should resist war in his own way and in accordance with his own conscience.

This article also set forth that the last speaker was CRAIG SIMPSON of the AWRL who discussed the AWRL demonstration at Sandia Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico, on May 4-5, 1971.

The following are pertinent portions of a letter to the editor signed "BOB BADY for War Resisters League" which appeared in the April 27, 1971, issue of the "New Mexico Lobo":

"The People's Peace Treaty is the attempt of the peace movement to state specifically what is a just end to the war. This document is being presented to the American people and the American Government.

"The People's Peace Treaty was developed by the National Student Association (NSA) last fall...Having obtained the views of the Vietnamese people, North and South, NSA produced the People's Peace Treaty.

The treaty has become the banner, the focal point, of the peace movement this spring."

AT SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO

On July 27, 1970, AQ T-10 advised that although CRAIG SIMPSON claimed that there was also a WRL group in Santa Fe, he was not aware of any activity conducted by this group.

"A belated but interesting story of FBI snooping has been sent us by Steve Hodes. It occurred last spring in Denver when he was working with a group planning for Maydays in D.C.

"'Sometime in April, I took a 5-day trip out of town and on my return was informed by my landlady that the FBI had visited her,' Hodes writes. 'They asked for me and showed her a letter addressed to me, unpostmarked, from WRL. They told her that WRL stands for War Resisters League which they described as a Communist front group which wants to overthrow the government and which was planning to violently disrupt the nation's capital. SUBJECT WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE
SELECTIVE SERVICE MATTERS

Information has been developed by the New York office that the War Resisters League (WRL) has undertaken a project aimed at crippling the Selective Service System in 1971. This plan calls for the obtaining of signatures of 100,000 men of draft age in a petition of noncooperation with the Selective Service System. The plan also calls for a national strike against the draft starting in January, 1971.

The WRL is a known pacifist organization with headquarters at 339 Lafayette Street, New York City. It is recommended an airtel be sent to all Special Agents in Charge to insure all offices are alert to the activities of this organization, and to insure proper investigation is conducted relating to possible violations of the Selective Service Act. White House and Selective Service Headquarters were previously advised of WRL plans.

ACTION:

If approved, the attached airtel will be sent to all Special Agents in Charge to alert them to possible violations of the Selective Service Act emanating from this group.

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

A confidential source, who is in a position to furnish reliable information, advised on December 2, 1970, that the War Resisters League (WRL), a pacifist organization located at 339 Lafayette Street, New York, New York (NY), has undertaken a project armed at crippling the Selective Service System in 1971. This project can be broken down into three phases:

1. NON-COOPERATION WITH THE DRAFT. The WRL along with other groups is pushing total non-contact with draft boards (non-registration, non-compliance with any regulations, no cooperation at all). The Charlottesville Pledge, a national project of the Union for National Draft Opposition (UNDO) states that once 100,000 men sign, all will non-cooperate with Selective Service. This pledge is being circulated all over the country by WRL groups as well as other anti-draft organizers. It is estimated that close to 25,000 men have already signed it or mailed back their draft cards.

2. COMPLICITY STATEMENT. The UNDO Chapter at Union College in Schenectady is circulating a statement for those who are not draftable. It states that all those who sign aid, abet and support draft resistance.

3. SHOWDOWN (381 Hayes Street, San Francisco, California). This calls for a national strike against the draft starting on January 1, 1971, and with people acting immediately without waiting for 100,000 others to join. This action is being backed by the following organizations (so far):

WRL
Campus Resistance
Peace Brigade
Radical Student Union
San Francisco Liberation Front
National Student Association

The WRL is providing national liaison between the growing list of groups backing this assault on Selective Service. It is felt that all those joining in along with the "fallout" of many others being pulled in by the "air of rebellion" will produce a substantial amount of resistance and possibly do so much damage to the draft that it will cease to be a viable government agency.

SELECTIVE SERVICE MATTERS

A confidential source who is in a position to furnish reliable information advised that the War Resisters League (WRL), a pacifist organization located at 339 Lafayette Street, New York, New York, has undertaken a project aimed at crippling the Selective Service System. The plan calls for the obtaining of signatures of 100,000 men of draft age on a petition of noncooperation with the Selective Service System. The plan also calls for a national strike against the draft starting in January, 1971.

Enclosed for the Bureau are eleven (11) copies of an LHM entitled, "Appearance of IGAL ROODENKO at Old Dominion University, Norfolk, Virginia, 2/8/71," a copy of which has been disseminated locally to MIG, OSI and NISO because of the Anti-War theme of the speech. Information copies are being furnished to Atlanta and Savannah because NF T-2 reported that ROODENKO allegedly was going to Georgia to make speeches at colleges and universities in that state. An information copy is furnished WFO due to the fact that ROODENKO had called for support of the May, 1971 demonstration allegedly being staged by the National Coalition Against War, Racism and Repression.

The LHM is classified Confidential because it contains information furnished by NF T-1 and NF T-3, Security Informants of continuing value. The unauthorized disclosure of information furnished by these sources might jeopardize their future effectiveness.

CONFIDENTIAL

APPEARANCE OF IGAL ROODENKO
AT OLD DOMINION UNIVERSITY,
NORFOLK, VIRGINIA
FEBRUARY 8, 1971

On February 5, 1971, NF T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that an out of town speaker was scheduled to appear at Old Dominion University (ODU), Norfolk, Virginia, on February 8, 1971. NF T-1 advised that this individual was due to speak on two occasions in the Kaufman Hall at ODU at 3:30 PM and at 8:00 PM on February 8, 1971. NF T-1 indicated that this individual was due to speak on draft evasion.

The February 8, 1971 issue of The Mace and Crown, the student publication at ODU, reported that the National Chairman of the War Resisters League (WRL), Igal Roodenko, would hold two programs on February 8, 1971, at Old Dominion University. According to the article, Roodenko's appearance would mark the beginning of a new drive by local activists including CADA (Campus Americans For Democratic Action) to put more pressure on the "Nixon Administration to end the war in Indo-China."

The article indicates that Roodenko, who had been on the Executive Committee of the WRL since 1948, was "billed as discussion leader" for the programs to be held at 3:30 PM and 8:00 PM in the Kaufman Auditorium. This program, according to the news article, was free; however, contributions would be accepted.

The news article continued in pointing out that although the prime aim of the programs was to make plans to develop a Norfolk chapter of the WRL, Roodenko was prepared to discuss related topics including, "Revolutionary Non-Violence, Grass Roots, Wars Resisters and Civil Disobedience."

RE: APPEARANCE OF IGAL ROODENKO, ETC.

According to the news article, Roodenko, during World War II, served twenty months of a three year sentence for refusing to cooperate with the draft and has since served shorter jail terms imposed for anti-war and civil rights actions.

Roodenko, according to the article, has been abroad twice in the interest of peace: In 1950 he attended the World Pacifists Meeting in India and in 1966 he spent six months establishing closer ties with Pacifists and peace workers in Eastern Europe, the Balkans and Scandinavia.

At approximately 4:00 PM, on February 8, 1971, there was observed an announcement in the Kaufman Hall Auditorium to the effect that the 3:30 PM meeting had been postponed due to the bad weather encountered by Roodenko in Washington, D. C. The announcement continued in stating that the 8:00 PM meeting would be held as scheduled.

NF T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the appearance of Igal Roodenko was held as scheduled in the auditorium of the Kaufman Hall, the Engineering Building, at ODU. NF T-2 indicated that twenty-two individuals attended this meeting, one of whom was an adult and another appeared to be an ODU campus policeman. NF T-2 pointed out further that one of the adults was a Negro male, approximately 20-23 years of age, and the other individuals appeared to be of college age. NF T-2 indicated further that there were about five extreme "hippie" types among those in the audience. NF T-2 reported also on 2/9 following concerning this appearance of Roodenko:

B. APPROX. 1971

An individual identifying himself as "Ron Bunch" introduced Igal Roodenko, a man about fifty years old who spoke in a Pacifist type vein. NF T-2 said the meeting lasted from 8:00 - 9:55 PM, when the group dispersed because the auditorium had to be relinquished at 10:00 PM. Roodenko reportedly called for resistance to the war in Vietnam and through veiled innuendos prompted those in attendance to resist the draft and the war in any method they felt was right. Both Bunch and Roodenko called for a concerted effort by individuals in the Norfolk area to support the May, 1971 demonstration at Washington, D.C. It came to light during the meeting that Roodenko, who was accompanied by two "hippie" type individuals, came from New York and possibly stopped at both Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Virginia, before coming to Norfolk. It was also learned according to NF T-2 from discussions in the meeting that Roodenko supposedly was going from Virginia to Georgia, where he would appear at some undisclosed colleges in that state.

NF T-2 advised that Roodenko reportedly was appearing at different colleges and universities throughout the country in an effort to build anti-Vietnam War support and also build support for the May, 1971, demonstration in Washington, D. C.

NF T-2 also indicated that Ron Bunch had pointed out that during the month of March, efforts would be made to begin publishing some type of WRL newspaper and make every effort to organize a Norfolk Chapter of the WRL. Bunch also stated that he would arrange to have anti-war films shown at ODU in the coming weeks. During the discussions which followed the speeches by Bunch and Roodenko, those present were asked to indicate by signing their names to a list, their interest in participating or joining a chapter of the WRL should such a chapter be formed in the future. NF T-2 indicated that possibly five to seven individuals placed their names on the list. Also, literature was passed out during the meeting which consisted of the following:

February 8, 1971, issue of The Mace and Crown, Student Publication.

A booklet "American Servicemen Have Rights--Do You Know Yours?" This booklet indicates that it is distributed free to GIs by the GI Counseling Service, 339 Lafayette Street, New York, New York. The booklet contains the following explanation: "The GI Counseling Service is a project of the War Resisters League, founded in 1923....."

A leaflet "What is the War Resisters League?"

"Peace in Vietnam? Make It Yourself," a sheet prepared by WRL.

PEACE IN VIETNAM?
MAKE IT YOURSELF . . .

CONFIDENTIAL

You probably have a son, brother, husband or friend in the military. Maybe in Vietnam. And like most Americans, you want it over. And you hate it for what it is doing to our own country and to Vietnam.

After all the publicity about "troop withdrawals" we still have 400,000 men there. About 100 are still coming home each week in cold aluminum boxes. No one ever voted for this war. Congress never declared it. Yet it seems impossible to end it. The generals get promotions, the corporations get profits, and the young men get killed.

But . . . maybe we can end the war. After all, we pay for the war, we make the weapons, we serve in the army. Agnew talks a good war, but he isn't doing the fighting. Suppose we—one by one, as individuals—started getting out of the war. You could stop paying your 10% federal telephone tax. Businessmen and professors could stop cooperating with the government. Trade unions could demand peace contracts instead of war contracts. Soldiers, sailors, marines could walk off their bases and find welcome in our homes.

In March there were, all across America, hundreds of citizens arrested for blocking doors at draft boards and induction centers. In Texas, California, Pennsylvania, New York, and elsewhere, draft boards were forced to close down temporarily. Without violence, without weapons, we learned that we had the power to stop the war machine. Without violence, without weapons, we were able to keep the issues clear: we were acting against the war and against the draft—and not against the police and the draft board clerks. The enemy is not men and women, but the military-industrial machine that kills our sons and brothers, and wastes our tax dollars on death.

Friend—could any war be fought if privates put their guns down and let generals do the fighting? Could any war be fought if civilians stopped making the guns and the bullets? Let us declare peace. They have jailed some of us for refusing to go into the army. They can jail more of us. But they cannot jail all of us. If we refuse to fight, the war will be over, suddenly, everywhere, and at once.

VE EARTH A CHANCE

CONFIDENTIAL

We are against the war in Vietnam. We are against all war—against the war of man against man everywhere, and of man against nature.

We are against systems that hurt people, as the American system hurts people in our ghettos and in Latin America and Asia, and as the Russian system hurts its own people by jailing poets and by invading Czechoslovakia. It is good for us to try to love one another, but it is not good enough. We must also change the systems that tax us, put us in uniform and send us off to kill one another.

We are out on the streets today to ask that all of us look at each other without labels. We are against putting labels on people—like "capitalist," "commie," "hippie," "pig." Before anything else, men and women are alive, separate, individual. All of us can be hurt, can die, get angry, want to be loved, and all of us on this planet, this life raft we call Earth, will make it together or we won't make it at all.

Time is running out for all of us on Earth and we have nowhere else to go. No nation has the right to build atom bombs, or use napalm, or pollute the air we all breathe, or the water we all drink.

We will keep on saying, all across America, that the war in Vietnam is our number one problem, and it must be ended now by total, immediate American withdrawal from Vietnam. But once that war is over our real job will begin: the job of disarming all nations, and of nursing our cities, our forests, our rivers, our air, our peoples and our children back to health.

Give earth a chance. There will be no second chance.

Napalm, terrorism, riots, war. From Saigon to Biafra to Tel Aviv to Cairo to the streets of our own cities both the 'Right' and the 'Left' talk of violence as if it were a necessary and even healthy tool for man's progress. Above this display of threat and counter-threat is the nuclear bomb. Washington and Moscow flourish their bombs and rockets while millions starve. We live in a world where society runs on the basis of implied or open terror.

If there are times when you have found yourself in a minority of one because you question whether violence can ever lead us to a human community, you should know you are not alone. The War Resisters League, with about ten thousand members, is an association of people who disagree on many subjects, but who all agree about one thing: we all refuse to support or participate in any kind of war, international or civil, and we strive to remove the causes of war.

> The War Resisters League is important because, by union, it relieves our courageous and resolute individuals of the paralyzing feeling of isolation and loneliness, and in this way gives them moral support in the fulfillment of what they consider their duty. The existence of such a moral elite is indispensable for the preparation of a fundamental change in public opinion, a change that, under present day circumstances, is absolutely necessary if humanity is to survive.

Founded in 1923 the League is the American section of the War Resisters International, a world-wide pacifist movement with headquarters in London, sections in 23 nations on all five continents, and contacts in 41 other countries including left and right totalitarian countries. The early efforts of the League emphasized the importance of individual resistance to war. It sought to discourage men from enlisting in the military and when, in 1940, a peacetime draft was instituted it worked for liberal provisions for conscientious objectors and it supported imprisoned pacifists. Over the years hundreds of League members have done alternative service. Hundreds of others have been jailed, in some cases because their claim to C.O. status was not recognized and in other cases because they refused any cooperation with conscription.

The major thrust of the League in recent years has been in the direction of social and political activities. It became clear, with the development of nuclear weapons, that world war could be waged without mass armies. Everyone is concerned with finding ways of structuring society so that it will not need arms, and with resolving conflicts between nations which lead to war. League members believe that war is more than the sudden explosion of hostilities. The covert violence of economic exploitation, political repression, cultural decay, colonialism and racism produce tensions leading to armed struggle. Even where there seems to be peace the 'quiet deaths' from starvation and sickness that strike down peasants in Brazil, sharecroppers in Mississippi and babies in Harlem are as real and terrible as the deaths from bullets and bombs.

The League therefore relates the struggle against war to the struggle for a free and just society, for a world where poverty and disease are eliminated and freedom becomes a living reality for all men and women everywhere. Because war is also rooted in human apathy, in that alienation of men from society which leaves the individual feeling helpless, the League stresses the importance of the individual decision and personal responsibility in acting for peace and social justice. If it opposes the totalitarian mind at home and abroad, the League does so because it believes human beings are never means to an end. They are ends in themselves.

THE W R L MEMBER

Members vary greatly in their approach to the problems of war and peace. Some express their committment by registering as conscientious objectors. Others engage in programs of nonviolent direct action and organizing. Some believe the pacifist position stands 'outside history' and that little can be done aside from trying, in personal ways, to break down patterns of violence in their own lives and their immediate community. Others believe pacifists must engage themselves in political action and offer radical alternatives on a political level. Some refuse to pay all or part of their taxes. Some burn their draft cards or openly refuse to register for the draft, risking their comfort and freedom.

Most League members do not refuse to pay their taxes and do register for the draft, going through the legal process of getting CO status and doing alternative service. There are League members who have never been in a demonstration in their lives. There are clean shaven members with jackets and ties—and others with beards, long hair and sandals. But all, consistent with their convictions, try to express these convictions as dramatically and convincingly as possible within their own lives and in the communities around them.

WHAT IS A PACIFIST?

This is a tricky question and one you have to answer for yourself. If you are now in the military of any nation and aren't trying to get out of the uniform, then clearly you aren't a pacifist. But the League has many members who were, at one time, in the military. The League has members who did not consider themselves pacifists until after the nuclear bomb which, they felt, made violence a far greater risk than nonviolence. The obvious barbarism of the U.S. war on Vietnam has brought others to the pacifist position. The humanist comes by his pacifism because he believes that rarely, if ever, can there be an ethical justification for killing another human being. The religious pacifist, who may belong to an established religion or who may be acting out of his own personal faith, regards the destruction of human life for whatever reason as a violation of absolute principles. The political pacifist, intent on constructing a rational social order, conceives war to be the ultimate manifestation of the irrational. All three of these views, variations and combinations of them, are represented in the membership of the League. But even in the area of pacifism there are legitimate differences. The absolute pacifist says no to violence at all levels of his life, personal and public. But others who would face prison rather than serve the military may feel violence is permissible to defend themselves or their families against attack by another individual. Some pacifists oppose, and others accept, the use of minimal violence by a police force within the context of law.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 146

MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the League means what you want it to mean. There are no instructions going out from a "central committee." The League is made up of individuals who are prepared for personal responsibility in their own communities. What makes the League a unique organization, and one that is sometimes difficult to understand, is that it exists to provide help to its members as they carry their own beliefs into action and to provide a possible framework for that action. There is no "League Discipline."

At times League members find themselves in a lonely position, particularly during wars when so many of our younger members are imprisoned. But in the lonely hour when a League member realizes he cannot submit to conscription or that he cannot in conscience sign a loyalty oath, there is the knowledge that others throughout the country and the world stand with him. Not great masses—the League's membership is small—but the individual knows that through him, at the point of his decision, the League is in action. The member knows that he belongs to an intangible but very real "community of concern" and is bound to others in a fellowship of action.

SUPPORT FOR THE LEAGUE

The League is supported entirely by contributions from its members and friends. There are very few large contributions and a great many contributions of one, and ten, and twenty dollars a year. There are no dues. Members give what they feel able to give. If they feel themselves to be members, they remain members even if they cannot give anything.

WHAT THE LEAGUE DOES

Pacifist action—not passivity—characterizes the work of the League. Employing tactics which Gandhi pioneered in the struggle for Indian independence or devising new nonviolent tactics to meet new situations, the pacifist seeks to resolve conflict without violence. He acts to end the covert as well as the overt violence. The League is more concerned with getting the job done than with getting credit. It may surprise you to find that groups and projects in which you have been involved were initiated by or had a close relationship with the League. It's not without cause that our national offices are known as "the peace factory."

These projects and activities include civil rights work, where a League staff member was assigned as early as 1955 to work closely with Martin Luther King, Jr. and where staff time was put into the March on Washington in 1963 and the Poor Peoples Campaign of 1968. The government's nonsense about Civil Defense was brought to a grinding halt starting with mass demonstrations in New York City in 1960 and 1961 organized by the League. Many were jailed, but compulsory Civil Defense drills are no longer held. The first anti-Vietnam war demonstrations in the United States were organized by the League and subsequent demonstrations have been led in part by WRL people. Liberation magazine was originally financed by the League and WIN Magazine is co-published by the League.

League work has reached overseas, as staff members helped directly to rally world support for the nonviolent revolutionary movement in Africa. In 1953 the League raised funds to send Bill Sutherland to Africa to help explore nonviolent methods there, and some years later other members went to the Sahara Desert to demonstrate against French A-bomb tests. The WRL role was publicly noted by Kenneth Kaunda, Prime Minister of Zambia, who wrote, "Please express to your membership my deep respect for the aims and objectives of the League." In 1968 the WRL sent two members to participate in protests organized by our International in Warsaw Pact Capitals against the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

In the area of public education it was League members who played the major role in setting up radio station KPFA-FM in Berkeley, California (a "listener-sponsored noncommercial" station) which has since grown into the "Pacifica Foundation" with three stations.

In recent years League members have begun setting up a number of local Centers, linked to the WRL but as independent as our membership. Such groups operate across the country and provide a means for grass roots work and action by members. For instance, our Atlanta group does important work in bringing the idea and practice for pacifism to the South and particularly to the many Southern military areas. Our San Francisco office is in the forefront of West Coast action working in Draft nonregistration and with persecuted anti-war G.I.'s.

JOIN US!

The rallying cry of the nonviolent movement was first heard in the dark at the October 21 Pentagon demonstration in 1967, "Join us!" It grew out of the community the demonstrators felt as they sat, surrounded by police and soldiers, and confronted the symbol of imperial America. They shouted "join us" to the soldiers and police because there are no barriers to men in our movement. G.I.'s and police are not called "pigs" in our movement because G.I.'s and police are people and not pigs; they are our brothers and sisters. As you are. We hope you will join the Movement at some level. If you are not certain that you are a pacifist there are other Movement groups (write WRL for information). There are League projects which you might want to help with your time or money. Perhaps you are not certain how you feel about the question of pacifism but would like to keep in touch with the League—we welcome you to our mailing list.

But quite possibly you belong in the League as a member. Like many Americans you may never have thought of yourself as a pacifist, but you may have been re-examining your position in the light of nuclear weapons and the war on Vietnam. The League welcomes all those who want to explore nonviolent alternatives and who realize that such exploration means creating a movement independent of any power bloc and opposed to the militarism of any nation, East or West, right or left. The League's work will not end with peace in Vietnam; it will continue until all war and its causes, everywhere, is abolished.

The War Resisters League wants your membership. If you want to support and work with the League, we invite you to join.

APPENDIX

CAMPUS AMERICANS FOR DEMOCRATIC ACTION
NORFOLK, VIRGINIA

The September 25, 1968, issue of "The Mace and Crown," the campus publication of Old Dominion University (ODU), Norfolk, Virginia, reported that the ODU Chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), voted on September 20, 1968, to disband its organization under the name, and reform and affiliate with the Campus Americans for Democratic Action (CADA). According to the article, this information came from ODU student "Bill" Deane (William Boyd Deane, Jr.), the former chairman of the SDS Chapter at ODU.

The article pointed out that Deane said the primary reason for disbanding was because the SDS Chapter at ODU did not agree with the national policy of violent overthrow of the Government held by SDS. Deane also reportedly said that most of the members of the new organization still were against the war in Vietnam and the present draft system, which are identical to some of the other SDS aims.

According to the article, Deane gave the national and international CADA attitudes and goals as:

1. Expanded war on poverty
2. Lowering the voting age to eighteen
3. Guaranteed annual income
4. Liberalized abortion policies
5. Non-proliferation of nuclear arms
6. More economic and less military aid to foreign countries
7. Strengthening of the United Nations.

The ODU Chapter has publicly announced it is affiliated with the national organization of CADA.

On May 22, 1970, a source advised that CADA continues to be active on the ODU campus. It has spearheaded campus anti-war activity involving protest demonstrations. He also advised that CADA objectives continue to be substantially the same as those above.

The SDS is characterized separately in the appendix.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as presently regarded, came into being at a founding convention held June, 1962, at Port Huron, Michigan. From an initial posture of "participatory democracy" the line of the national leadership has revealed a growing Marxist-Leninist adherence which currently calls for the building of a revolutionary youth movement. Currently, the program of SDS has evolved from civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war stance to an advocacy of a militant anti-imperialist position. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as the leaders of the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism whereas the Soviet Union is held to be revisionist and also imperialist.

At the June, 1969, SDS National Convention, Progressive Labor Party (PLP) forces in the organization were expelled. As a result, the National Office (NO) group maintained its National Headquarters at 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, and the PLP faction set up headquarters in Cambridge, Massachusetts. This headquarters subsequently moved to Boston. Each group elected its own national officers, which include three national secretaries and a National Interim Committee of eight. Both the NO forces and the PLP forces claim to be the true SDS. Both groups also print their versions of "New Left Notes" which sets forth the line and the program of the particular faction. The NO version of "New Left Notes" was recently printed under the title "The Fire Next Time" to achieve a broader mass appeal.

Two major factions have developed internally within the NO group, namely, the Weatherman or Revolutionary Youth Movement (RYM) I faction, and the RYM II faction. Weatherman is action-oriented upholding Castro's position that the duty of revolutionaries is to make revolution. Weatherman is regarded by RYM II as an adventuristic, elitist faction which denies the historical role of the working class as the base for revolution. RYM II maintains that revolution, although desired, is not possible under present conditions, hence emphasizes organizing and raising the political consciousness of the working class upon whom they feel successful revolution depends. Although disclaiming control and domination by the Communist Party, USA, leaders in these two factions have in the past proclaimed themselves to be communists and to follow the precepts of a Marxist-Leninist philosophy, along pro-Chinese communist lines.

A second source has advised that the PLP faction which is more commonly known as the Worker Student Alliance is dominated and controlled by members of the PLP, who are required to identify themselves with the pro-Chinese Marxist-Leninist philosophy of the PLP. They advocate that an alliance between workers and students is vital to the bringing about of a revolution in the United States.

SDS and university and college chapters, although operating under the outlines of the SDS National Constitution, are autonomous in nature and free to carry out independent policy reflective of local conditions. Because of this autonomy internal struggles reflecting the major factional interests of the SDS have occurred at the chapter level since the beginning of the 1969-70 school year.

A characterization of the PLP is attached.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)

"The New York Times" city edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP, which had been known as the Progressive Labor Movement.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 by Milton Rosen and Mortimer Scheer after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

A source advised on June 3, 1968, that the PLP held its Second National Convention in New York City May 31 to June 2, 1968, at which time the PLP reasserted its objective of the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism. This is to be accomplished through the Party's over-all revolutionary strategy of raising the consciousness of the people and helping to provide ideological leadership in the working class struggle for state power.

The source also advised that at the Second National Convention Milton Rosen was unanimously re-elected National Chairman of the PLP, and Levi Laub, Fred Jerome, Jared Israel, William Epton, Jacob Rosen, Jeffrey Gordon, and Walter Linder were elected as the National Committee to lead the PLP until the next convention.

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "World Revolution", a quarterly periodical; and "Challenge-Desafio", a monthly newspaper.

The April, 1969, issue of "Challenge-Desafio" sets forth that "Challenge is dedicated to the people's fight for a new way of life--where the working men and women control their own homes and factories; where they themselves make up the entire government on every level and control the schools, courts, police and all institutions which are now used to control them."

Source advised on May 8, 1969, that the PLP utilizes an address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, and also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square West, New York, New York.

PEOPLES LIFE FUNDS
(NATIONWIDE TAX RESISTANCE)
SPONSORED BY WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

On March 26, 1971, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, provided a copy of a flyer called "An Appeal for Nationwide Tax Resistance" which is being printed and distributed nationally by the War Resisters League (WRL), 339 Lafayette Street, New York, New York.

The WRL is a branch of the War Resisters International, a pacifist organization.

This flyer calls for taxpayers to withhold various amounts from their federal tax returns and pool it in "Peoples Life Funds" which will be spent for "local community projects".

A copy of this flyer is attached.

VIETNAM, YOUR TAX DOLLAR, AND THE NEEDS OF OUR NATION

"Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired signifies, in the final sense, a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed. . . . This is not a way of life at all. Under the cloud of threatening war, it is humanity hanging from a cross of iron. Is there no other way the world may live?" . . . Dwight Eisenhower, 1952

Eisenhower's statement of 1952 was made at the height of the Korean War. It remains fully valid today when our tax dollars are used to destroy the peoples of Indochina in a war which lacks any sanction, legal or moral, domestic or international. Every bullet fired at My Lai was an example of American tax dollars at work, just as the breakdown of our cities and rural areas—the lack of housing, hospitals, transporation—are all examples of places our tatx dollars are needed and are not being used.

OUR PROPOSAL

Those of us signing this statement urge you to join us in a simple but effective way of showing our concern with the horror and illegitimacy of the war in Indochina and with the need to shift national priorities to domestic needs. We ask you to join us in a program of principled nonviolent and nationwide resistance to the income tax.

All those who have additional taxes to pay on April 15 are able to join in supporting this proposal. (Writers, professors, artists, musicians, ministers, lawyers, doctors, etc.—all those who do not automatically have their taxes deducted and who will need, on April 15th, to file a return and mail off a check for taxes due). We ask all those who will owe tax money on April 15th to withhold anything from $10 to $50 from their tax check and, instead, to pool these "withheld funds" within their own cities and contribute the pooled funds to one or more projects in the community. Such projects could range from a day care center to an addiction service, from a community health clinic to a breakfast program.

These "withheld funds" should be turned over publicly to the community during the April 2-4 "Days of Concern" with racism and social injustice being organized by the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice. These days in early April coincide with the anniversary of Martin Luther King's assassination, April 4th, 1968. It is appropriate that we express this concern during the time marking the assassination of Dr. King because it was just one year earlier, almost to the day, when, in April 1967, he stood up in Riverside Chapel in New York City and publicly linked the civil rights movement with the peace movement, saying it was impossible to be concerned only with blacks in America and ignore the massacre in Vietnam. He was sharply criticized at that time by moderate civil rights leaders for "confusing" the two issues of peace and social justice. But we believe King to have been correct. We believe he spoke from a moral center within himself that also made political sense—and that spoke to a moral center within us who join in signing this appeal. We know the peace movement, with which we are identified, to be largely middle class and white, and we want to say to our fellow Americans who are oppressed by racism and social injustice that our concern with the war in Indochina is linked in our minds with a concern for building a new America, one that is free of poverty, unemployment, racism.

The proposal for a direct shift of tax funds from the federal government into areas of urban need means very simply that whatever you withhold from your April tax cannot be used by the government to kill people in Indochina for at least six months (it takes IRS that long to collect back taxes). If the peace movement in Chicago, for example, has collected checks totaling $1500 from resisters and has pooled this money into a single check, it can then call a press conference and can say something very simple and very powerful: It can say, "Here, these checks totaling $1500 have literally been taken out of the government's pocket, where it would have been used for napalm and bullets. We are today transferring this money into the community, into a project where it is needed. This money will not be used in Vietnam—it will be used here, where we live. It will not kill, it will heal. It will not destroy, it will create. What a few of us have done today, many of us can do tomorrow, until the government has no choice but to abandon the war."

[illegible] OF THIS ACTION

[illegible]osed tax withholdings [illegible]resent an actual transfer from the federal gov[illegible]ment to the local community. The power of this action [illegible] great precisely because [illegible] and not symbolic, precisely because it is a direct [illegible]ation of federal law, a direct and nonviolent act of [illegible]il disobedience against a government that is using our tax funds to kill people in Indochina. This project represents the boldest step yet taken in mobilizing a mass base for tax resistance against a government engaged in illegitimate exercise of power.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

Compared to being a peasant in Indochina, a member of the U.S. armed forces, or a young man resisting the draft, the risks are very slight indeed. But there are risks. Technically the government can prosecute tax resisters, but in practice they levy against one's bank account or salary for the amount due, with a small interest charge for late payment. The real risks of prosecution exist primarily for those of us who have joined in issuing this public appeal, for we form an "open conspiracy" to transfer funds from death to life. There is only a slight possibility of legal action against the thousands of individuals who respond to our appeal—but that possibility does exist.

You must assume the tax you withhold will ultimately be collected. This makes it important to give to local work no more than you can afford to contribute. (If, for example, you give $25 of tax money to the "pooling fund" in your community, you can expect the government to collect the $25, eventually, from your bank account or salary. If you owe the government $500 on April 15th, and if, on April 2, 3, or 4 you turn that full amount over to the local pooling fund, it will eventually be collected from you and is probably a greater contribution than you can afford to give at one time and to one cause).

But it is important to understand that though the money will eventually be collected, it will cost the government more to collect it than it is worth. In staff time, forms, etc., it costs the government far more to collect $10-$50 than the $10-$50 it collects. One reason for choosing the amount of $10 to $50 is to minimize financial risk to individuals and increase the financial burden to the government—to make possible a massive resistance which it will be hard for the government to [illegible]l with. Second, it will take IRS many months to col[illegible]any money at all. So, your tax resistance is real and effe[illegible]e, not just symbolic.

WHAT DO I TELL IRS ON APRIL 15th?

Tell them the truth. When you file your tax forms and mail in your check, tell IRS they will find your check short by $10 (or $25, or $50) because, as a sign of your opposition to the war and your conviction our tax dollars should go into the community, you have already given your personal check in that amount to urgent community work in your city. We are not asking you to cheat on your return—but to resist and do so openly.

HOW CAN I JOIN THIS ACTION?

Through the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice (in cooperation with War Tax Resistance) we are organizing local centers—"People's Life Funds"—that will receive your checks and arrange for one or more groups in the community to receive the funds collected. If there is no functioning group in your area, you can make your check out to Peoples Life Fund and mail it c/o Brad Lyttle, Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice, 1029 Vermont Ave., N.W., Suite 900, Washington D.C. 20005. Funds sent to that office will be transferred directly to the Washington community. Please note that not one cent will be taken at any point for expenses of any kind—postage, staff, etc.—so that any check you send will be used solely for this purpose to transfer to local community projects.

SUMMARY

The idea is as simple as it sounds—take $10 to $50 out of the money you would send IRS on April 15th, give it to the local peace group cooperating in this program, and transfer the money directly into community projects relating to the needs of the poor and the non-white population. The idea is powerful because it is simple. It affirms our ability to act without violence against a government determined to make war against the will of its own population.

SUBJECT: EDWARD P. GOTTLIEB
NEW YORK CITY

Captioned individual telephoned the Bureau late yesterday and spoke to SA Carl J. Hall of the Crime Research Section. Gottlieb said he was calling locally since, although he lived in New York, he had been in Washington for the past few days in connection with the anti-war demonstrations. Gottlieb said he was connected with the War Resisters League (WRL), which is the American affiliate of the War Resisters International (WRI), and that this organization had recently been in the news as a result of the publication of some of the papers stolen from the FBI at Media, Pennsylvania. Since he felt he might be mentioned in FBI files and that he might be injured thereby at some future time, he said he had written a letter to the Director recently requesting permission to come to the Bureau and examine our files on the WRL. He said he had not had a reply to his letter and he was wondering if, in fact, it had been received by the Director.

Gottlieb was advised of the confidential nature of FBI files and the fact that even if we had information concerning him or his organization, it would not be possible to make this data available to him. Gottlieb said he appreciated being apprised of our policy in these matters but still wondered if it might be possible to ascertain what happened to his letter. He was told we would look into this and he said he would call back concerning it.

A check of our files reflected that memorandum dated 4-30-71, from Mr. Gray to Mr. Brennan, captioned "Edward P. Gottlieb, War Resisters International(WRI), Information Concerning" reflects that such an inquiry was received from Gottlieb and that a reply over Miss Gandy's signature was sent to him on 5-3-71, advising him of the confidential nature of FBI files.

NOT RECORDED
JUN 17 1971

Bufiles indicate that although we have not investigated Gottlieb, he is mentioned in several instances in connection with the activities of the WRL. This group is a pacifist organization which reportedly has been a leading financial supporter of the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice, led by Rennie Davis.

NORMAN, OKLAHOMA

OC T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 10, 1971, as follows:

A War Resisters League (WRL) was recently organized at the University of Oklahoma (OU), Norman, Oklahoma, by one JOEL COHEN, an OU student who claims to be a pacifist. COHEN indicated the WRL at OU had been recognized as a student organization by the OU Student Congress on February 2, 1971. COHEN also stated that the WRL at OU had ten to fifteen members. According to COHEN, WRL is a national organization which utilizes pacifistic techniques and non-violent civil disobedience to achieve their goals in relation to the war, the draft, ROTC, etc. COHEN also indicated he hoped that the OU WRL could work closely with the OU Committee to End the War in Vietnam (CEWV).

OC T-1 identified the OU CEWV as a peaceful student group whose aims are to protest the Vietnam war, draft, military, and university policy but in the past has stressed that any activity would be non-violent.

Individual owed obligations of confidentiality

OC T-1 and [redacted] Security, OU, advised as follows on February 11, 1971:

Approximately 250 people participated in a teach-in-march at OU sponsored by the OU WRL and CEWV from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., February 11, 1971, protesting U. S. involvement in Laos as well as ROTC and defense contracts at OU. The participants marched to the office of OU's Acting President, PETE KYLE MC CARTER, and presented MC CARTER with petitions reflecting about 2,400 signatures demanding U. S. withdrawal from involvement in Laos and requested MC CARTER to sign, but he refused to do so. There were no incidents.

The February 26, 1971, issue of the "Oklahoma Daily," OU student newspaper, reflected an item stating the OU WRL would hold a meeting on March 2, 1971, to discuss a "march on the capitol."

OC T-1 advised on February 26, 1971, as follows:

The OU WRL was planning a march from an unidentified park near Northwest 23rd Street and Broadway, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, to the State Capitol on March 9, 1971, on repression of the draft, GI freedom of speech, and repressive nature of the Vietnam war. In connection with the planning of the march, the OU WRL indicated they would seek the support of the OU CEWV.

OC T-1 advised on March 9, 1971, as follows:

JOEL COHEN, President of the OU WRL, was present at an OU CEWV meeting on March 2, 1971, and COHEN told the group that WRL's "March Against Repression" on March 9, 1971, would be legal and non-violent. The OU CEWV officially endorsed the march, but would not participate as an organization.

Individual owed obligations of confidentiality

On March 9, 1971, [redacted] Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation, Oklahoma City, advised as follows:

Approximately 125 people, including WRL members from OU and students from other Oklahoma universities, assembled at Winans Park, Northwest 22nd Street and Broadway, Oklahoma City, from 1:30 p.m. to 2:15 p.m., March 9, 1971. The group marched to the Oklahoma State Capitol building, arriving at 2:30 p.m. Many of the marchers carried antiwar and antidraft placards.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 188

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

Several individuals in the group spoke at the Capitol building from 2:45 p.m. to 4 p.m. on ending the Vietnam war and draft. The group then entered the Capitol and marched around the rotunda.

At 4:45 p.m., five members of the group were admitted to the office of Oklahoma Governor DAVID HALL and the Governor was presented with several "demands," including the Governor's veto of an anti-riot bill now before the Oklahoma Legislature, signing of the "People's Peace Treaty," requests for more money for campus activities, etc.

The above individuals departed the Governor's Office at 5:30 p.m. and all dispersed. There were no incidents.

OC T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on April 6, 1971, as follows:

The OU WRL was one of the principal groups which participated in the Oklahoma Statewide Antiwar Conference at OU on April 3, 1971. The conference was held for the purpose of planning a trip to Washington, D. C., or San Francisco, California, to participate in demonstrations in those cities on April 24, 1971, and holding discussions at the following workshops: Publicity; High School Rights; GIs/Veterans; Women and the War; Third World; Defense/Campus; and People's Peace Treaty. Discussions at the various workshops were held, but the conference failed to determine the number of people interested in making the trip to Washington or San Francisco for the demonstrations.

L. J. SCOTT, JR., Norman, Oklahoma, advised on April 21, 1971, as follows:

Approximately 100 people, including members of the OU WRL, CEWV, and Norman Local of Young Socialist Alliance (YSA), were planning a trip to Washington, D. C., in a school bus, private cars, vans and/or panel trucks to participate in demonstrations there on April 24, 1971. Approximately thirty of these individuals left Oklahoma on April 20, 1971, and others were planning to leave for Washington on April 22, 1971.

On April 27, 1971, [redacted], Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation, Oklahoma City, advised a confidential source, whom WALLACH considers reliable, made available a leaflet announcing an antiwar march on the State Capitol, Oklahoma City, May 5, 1971, in commemoration of the Jackson-Kent State tragedy, sponsored by the OU WRL. According to WALLACH's source, the leaflet was prepared by the OU WRL and was at that time being distributed on the OU campus at Norman, Oklahoma. The leaflet stated that tentative speakers would be IGAL ROODENKO, identified in the leaflet as National Chairman of WRL, and BILL ARTHRELL, identified in the leaflet as "Kent State student indicted for second degree riot in connection with the May 4, 1970, activities, head of Kent State Resistance." The leaflet also stated that march participants would meet at the Oklahoma City University (OCU) campus.

Individual owed obligation of confidentiality

On April 27, 1971, [redacted], Oklahoma City Police Department, ascertained from the Oklahoma City Traffic Control Department that JOEL COHEN, Chairman, OU WRL, had requested and was granted a parade permit for above-mentioned march. COHEN indicated the marchers would assemble at OCU at 12:30 p.m., May 5, 1971, and march peacefully to the State Capitol, arriving at approximately 1:30 p.m. COHEN estimated 200 to 300 people would participate in the march.

On April 27, 1971, LESTER METHENY, Dean of Men, OCU, advised that to his knowledge, OCU has no WRL or other antiwar group, and no information had come to his attention that participants in above-mentioned march would assemble at OCU.

Individual owed obligation of confidentiality

On May 4, 1971, [redacted] Security Department, OU, advised that the OU WRL-sponsored march on the State Capitol, Oklahoma City, would be prefaced by an 8 p.m. rally on May 4, 1971, on OU's South Oval and that this rally was also sponsored by the OU WRL.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 185

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

The May 4, 1971, evening edition of the "Norman Transcript" newspaper, Norman, Oklahoma, reflected an article captioned "Antiwar Protests Set for Capitol." The article stated, in part, as follows:

JOEL COHEN, Chairman of the OU WRL, announced that a rally would be held at 8 p.m., May 4, 1971, at OU to plan for Wednesday's activities, which are as follows:

Interested persons will meet at OCU at 10:30 a.m. for rally, after which the group will break for lunch. After lunch, the group will march to Oklahoma State Capitol. Guerilla Theater performances will be held en route to and at Capitol building. IGAL ROODENKO, National Chairman of WRL, and representatives of Oklahoma City Welfare Rights Group, OU Women's Liberation, and YSA will speak. At 3:30 p.m., the group will move into Capitol building and have a vigil in memory of Jackson - Kent State tragedy. After the vigil, the group plans to do "some lobbying of the Legislators," after which the group will move outside and attempt to spend the night.

On May 5 and 6, 1971, Lieutenant BILL VETTER, Intelligence Division, Oklahoma City Police Department, and Agent DON WALLACH, Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation, Oklahoma City, advised as follows:

From 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., May 5, 1971, approximately 100 persons, mostly students from Oklahoma colleges, assembled at the OCU campus. During this period, no rally was held. At 12:30 p.m., the group marched east on Northwest 23rd Street to the Oklahoma State Capitol, arriving at 1:30 p.m. The group marched around the Capitol building, rested on the Capitol steps, then entered the Capitol rotunda where they remained until 4:05 p.m. The demonstrators then separated, stating they would attempt to see their respective Legislators.

At 5:30 p.m., a small group of the demonstrators reassembled on the Capitol lawn for an all night candlelight vigil.

During the march, Capitol demonstration, and all night vigil, the demonstrators chanted "Peace Now" and shouted obscenities.

CONFIDENTIAL

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

Oklahoma Highway Patrol (OHP) Troopers refused the demonstrators the use of electrical outlets for an amplification system and there were no speeches except for spontaneous remarks by various demonstrators.

During the demonstration in the Capitol Building, one demonstrator, MIKE LEWITZ, an OU student, attempted to enter an official hallway of the Capitol and was arrested by an OHP Trooper for disturbing the peace. As troopers escorted LEWITZ out of the Capitol, LEWITZ slipped on the stairs and claimed a back injury.

The only other incident was an unidentified demonstrator who was reportedly struck in the face by a Senate Sergeant-at-Arms for carrying a toy machine gun into the Senate Gallery and was ejected.

The May 12, 1971, evening edition of the "Oklahoma City Times" newspaper, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, reflected an article which stated, in part, that the WRL and Oklahoma Chapter of Veterans Against the War (VAW) were planning a peaceful Armed Forces Day march and an all night vigil at Lincoln Park, Oklahoma City, May 15 - 16, 1971, according to DON PARKER, Chairman of VAW.

Individual owed obligation of confidentiality

On May 16, 1971, [redacted] Oklahoma City Police Department, advised as follows:

Approximately 75 people, representing the Oklahoma Chapters of WRL and VAW, assembled at the Oklahoma State Capitol in Oklahoma City from 10:30 a.m. to 12 Noon, May 15, 1971. At 12 Noon, the group marched from the Capitol to Lincoln Park in Oklahoma City, arriving at 2:10 p.m. Antiwar and antidraft speeches were made by several individuals at the Capitol and Lincoln Park.

In the early evening of May 15, 1971, a small group of the demonstrators gathered at Lincoln Park for an all night candlelight vigil.

The above activities were peaceful and there were no incidents.

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE

Individual owed obligation of confidentiality

On May 20 and 24, 1971, [redacted], Security Department, OU, Norman, Oklahoma, advised as follows:

The OU WRL is affiliated with the National WRL and is a peaceful, non-violent antiwar-antidraft student group at OU, headed by JOEL COHEN, Chairman. DEBORAH GAYLE CHAFFIN and STEVE MILTON TLAPA, members of the OU WRL, are COHEN's chief assistants in planning meetings and activities of the group.

During February and March, 1971, when the OU WRL was organizing, the group had possibly ten members. At present, the group has 25 to 30 members.

The OU WRL is a recognized student group at OU. The group has held several meetings at OU since it was organized in early 1971 and the group has sponsored or co-sponsored several antiwar-antidraft marches in Norman, and Oklahoma City. When planning their activities, members of the OU WRL have stressed that all activity will be legal and non-violent.

Individual owed obligation of confidentiality

[redacted] advised he knows of no one associated with the OU WRL who is prone to or has demonstrated a propensity for violence or lawlessness.

"Win," self-identified as an official publication of the WRL, in cooperation with the New York Workshop in Non-Violence, published twice monthly in its March 1, 1971, edition states:

"The War Resisters League (WRL) was founded in 1923 and is the American section of the War Resisters International, a worldwide pacifist movement."

RePHtel dated 6/17/71.

Retel stated that on 6/19 and 20/71, WRL planned to contact Philadelphia offices of US Senators to obtain support in voting on any proposals to end the war in Vietnam, and on 6/21/71 to have individuals travel to WDC to contact Washington offices of each individual Pennsylvania Senator. Retel also stated that on 6/21/71, WRL and the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) planned to have parents visit the local Selective Service System (SSS) offices to review files of their sons. VVAW was to remain outside SSS boards in an attempt to discourage registrants from registering.

For the information of the Bureau, NYC headquarters of SSS on 6/18/71 was advised of possible action set forth above by WRL and VVAW at SSS boards.

Informant

On 6/21/71, [redacted], who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that as part of the anti-draft phase of the Spring Offensive of the WRL, the WRL was calling for actions to either force an end to the SSS or show that "the system will not work in response to the people's demands." Proposed actions by WRL were the same as those set out in rePHtel.

To date, SSS headquarters at NYC has not advised of any harassment by the WRL or the VVAW at Local Draft Boards in NYC area.

No information has been received to indicate that WRL at NY was sending individuals to contact US Senators offices concerning proposals to end the Vietnam war.

War Resisters International

On July 20, 1971, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the War Resisters International (WRI), which is based in London, England, is working with British and American pacifists on what is called "Operation Omega."

This is a plan to send "Omega teams" from India to East Bengal with relief supplies without receiving permission from the Government of West Pakistan to cross the border. Each team will have a Land Rover, medical supplies, doctors and relief specialists.

The WRI also intends to send an international team of people to try and meet with the President of West Pakistan, to ask him to stop military acts against the people of East Bengal.

Ann Davidon of the national office of the War Resisters League (WRL) is the WRL delegate to the WRI Council meeting.

The WRL has directed Davidon to convey to the WRI Council that the WRL wishes to work with the WRI on a direct action program on the East Bengal question.

Bureau notes that referenced LHM contained information of obvious interest to outside agencies, including the White House, Department of State, and Central Intelligence Agency. As you should be aware, such politically-sensitive information is always of priority interest to officials at highest levels of U.S. Government. The fact that information was submitted in LHM with airtel cover and not by teletype suitable for dissemination raises some question as to whether personnel who prepared and approved referenced communications sufficiently grasped the importance of such information.

INTRODUCTION

Women want to be taken seriously; they want their ideas to be implemented, their judgment to be respected, their equality with men to be accepted. Though the establishment has been slow to react to women's legitimate grievances, the peace movement should be ready with a variety of programs geared to women's specific resources to help them in their struggle for independence and at the same time to create outlets for a potential constituency of over fifty per cent of the population. By encouraging women to participate fully in the peace movement WRL will be expressing its solidarity with their liberation movement and will be adding new dimensions to the pacifist movement by introducing new organizers and organizing techniques to it.

The current women's movement has created feelings of solidarity among women that will ease the process of organizing them for peace action. It is only fitting that women organize themselves, and the natural bonds that have been fostered among women provide a base of initial trust that will allow the first step in the organizing process - that of establishing a sense of community - to be bypassed.

Once women acquire confidence in their ability (a state of mind not all that easy to reach inlight of the demoralizing education women receive) they will be excellent organizers. And at first they will probably approach organizing in a low-key way, a way that will encourage other women to express themselves rather than to just capitulate to a leader. By tapping a new source for skills, the movement will be getting raw talent that has all the capabilities of cultivated aptitudes without alot of the hang-ups that develop.

There are of course several all-women peace groups operating now. Generally they are doing worthwhile things, and elevating the consciousnesses of many women who would otherwise not be involved in antiwar activities at all. But as pacifists we can offer more concrete programs of action to women; our clearcut positions on nonviolence, direct action, and civil disobedience provide a concrete base from which to organize and to seek commitment. Because we are striving for an end to all war, an end to racism, and economic justice, we have permanent roots that an end to the Vietnam War will not destroy. And because our program is so widely based, we ask for a greater commitment and more diverse outlets than do existing women's peace groups. For many women the programs that WRL fosters will provide just the impetus they need to swing into action; our job is to reach these women, to work with them on the level they're at, and to encourage increasing commitment as their experience and attitudes warrant it.

GOALS

To a great extent the success of the peace movement depends on our ability to create a unified body of people who work together and who trust each other. By encouraging women to organize, War Resisters League is affirming its belief in equality and taking steps toward greater unity within itself by abandoning "class" barriers that create discontent.

It is necessary for all people within the peace movement to operate at maximum ability and to utilize all their resources. By working independently for awhile movement will explore their full potential and relinquish the old patterns of the past that kept women in subservient positions and required that they accept the decisions made by men. We now want to emphasize women's abilities so they will feel free to exercise their power as a unified constituency without relying on men for guidance.

Further, we want to demonstrate that women are not "second-class" citizens, that we believe the establishment is wrong to keep them down, that we know the movement will benefit from their skills and involvement.

And finally, the League believes that it is time for women to have their needs and desires considered seriously by the government. As the "quiet victims" of war, women must forcefully demonstrate their dissatisfaction with the way the country is run and dramatically show that they will not mutely accept the policies the men in Washington create while knowing they will not have to bear the consequences for them.

PROGRAMS

Some possible direct action programs for women are described below. The list is only a sampling within the framework of several large areas and the suggestions can be expanded upon or altered as the situation warrants. The important things to keep in mind is that each action is a training ground for the one to follow it, and those with the greatest chance of success (be it capitulation to a small demand or even just local publicity) should be tried first to give the participats a positive sense to spur them on to do more actions and to involve themselves further in the pacifist movement.

Communicating With The Federal Employees of War-Related Agencies - Just as women are often taken advantage of by private industry, the government uses them to maintain their immoral institutions. Capitalizing on the fact that discrimination does exist in the private segment, the government tries to make its jobs look attractive and offers benefits to women that capitalist businesses are not yet ready to give. Women in the pacifist movement can invoke the comradeship that is developing among all women and approach these federal employees sympathetically (realizing of course that the women need their jobs to support themselves and their families), yet presenting the issues clearly without soft-pedaling them.

Experiences of those who participated in the People's Lobby Week in Washington last Spring indicated that federal employees are open to the ideas of those who approach them. And by dealing with them on a woman-to-woman basis the peace people will have an extra bond with the employees. Because the federal government is short-staffed, many employees have alot to do and don't have time to analyze the implications of what they're doing; processing draft records ceases to be contact with a young man - it is only an impersonal act that requires typing and filing. And so also, the employees aren't going to be anxious to stop their work in the middle of the day and debate with some women who are free enough to choose when they want to talk.

But still it's very important for peace movement women to present the relation between the work the federal employees are doing and the devastation of this war. Women employees can be approached at draft boards - a particularly effective cadre of peace people might include a woman whose life has been touched directly by the draft (one with a son or husband in Vietnam or in a POW camp, or one who lost a son in the WAR). The employees can be told that those confronting them do not want to see them unemployed and on welfare, but rather want them to do some meaningful, life-giving work that would earn them the same money (or more if the War wasn't eating up so much of the federal budget) and would also give them an extra sense of accomplishment at doing some socially valuable work. Draft offices, for example, could be converted to community health centers or day care centers that would serve the people rather than split up families and cause grief.

Similarly, women who work at the Internal Revenue offices can be presented with the tax "pie" showing how much money goes for defense and how little for making life better. If the employees are sympathetic they can be encouraged to organize themselves to protest their work, perhaps even to engage in sabotage activity in the office. Again, it's necessary to assure the employees that the women talking to them don't hold them personally responsible for the acts of the government, but instead view them as another casualty of a system whose policies promote destruction rather than creation. IRS women can be presented with a revised budget, one that would emphasize helping those who need it, and probably a large number of those employees would benefit from free medical care and free day care facilities, not to mention higher wages.

Military bases hire civilian women as office staff to free soldiers for combat duty. People who live near bases can station themselves outside the gates (at most bases unauthorized people can be thrown out) and wait for the employees to leave at the end of the day or for lunch. Here is where sabotage operations can be particularly effective; if orders for Vietnam duty are lost the manpower there would be considerably cut down (the employees at bases know as well as we do that even though we're pulling men out of Vietnam we're still sending relief troups there). Military bases are perfect facilities for a state hospital - wouldn't the employees get a greater sense of satisfaction from working to cure people than from working at a training-ground for violence?

Talking to federal employees is a good way for women to gain confidence in their ability to communicate their beliefs while doing some worthwhile movement activity. Also, it's a meaningful facet of the women's movement to express solidarity with those women who are sisters even though they may not be doing what peace movement women would like them to do. If federal employees see they have a support base they may be willing to act more directly to protest the work they do. It's hard to ask people to act alone, and the women who visit federal agencies should make it clear to the employees that there are many women ready to support them in whatever way necessary if they are willing to take a stand against the government.

Protesting the Draft - A woman pacifist said a long time ago that if the government ever came to take away the family dog the whole household would take to the streets, but when the government conscripts the young men in the family no one even whimpers. Her observation was quite correct for her time, and unfortunately is still far too accurate.

While the draft does cause men the most "inconvenience" women are effected by it also for reasons too well known to belabor here. It's true that women can't directly confront the draft by refusing to serve as men can, they still can protest it in various ways.

As described above, women can visit draft boards and try to convince the employees to refuse to process records. That's a fine tactic with which to establish a comaradie with the clerks, but it doesn't adequately demonstrate the level of militance to which women are ready to rise in order to end conscription. Openly picketing the neighborhood draft board regularly, culminating with a sit-in to block the door

(Perhaps on a holiday, like Amred Forces Day) indicates the degree of commitment women feel to the abolition of the draft.

Civil disobedience is an act women will have to consider very carefully before they court arrest. For many older women who have lived somewhat sheltered establishment lives accepting lawbreaking, no matter how good the reasons for it, is a radical departure from their usual views. They should not be pushed into action that takes them further than they're ready to go emotionally. Yet, series of activities, like leafleting and then picketing, that escalate in intensity and militance will help women move into a more radical position naturally. If publicity is gotten from local news media for picketing, a strong argument can be made for carrying the actions farther.

While the government has never been known to treat women particularly well, policemen are still reluctant to arrest middle-class women who violate the law. And the government is reluctant to prosecute them once the police do break down and make the arrests, because it's hard for the government to wind up looking good in the press when there are pictures on newspaper pages and flashed on television screens of dignified women being led to jail. The value then of such arrests is obvious, and women should be made to understnad the importance of their act as a means of helping to dispel their fears.

It's good for women to involve themselves in the antidraft movement for two reasons: first, because it will be to the advantage of everyone for the draft to be ended; and second, because by helping men with their struggle women will be indicating a willingness to be involved in even those social struggles that don't directly concern them, and can be more forceful in their demands for help from men in the women's liberation drive.

Protesting War Taxes - Resisting immoral taxation is open to all people. And as our social systems are presently set up, women are first to feel the pinch caused by inflation and higher taxes. Therefore, women should be the first to protest war taxes. Sixty-seven cents of every income tax dollar is used for military purposes, and there are federal excise taxes on airplane tickets, automobiles, and of course telephone charges. As with resisting the draft, talking to federal employees is a good consciousness-raising technique, but more direct action is needed to force the government to redistribute our tax money.

Educating people - particularly women - is an important step in any tax resistance campaign. Shopping centers need to be innundated with leaflets and the leafleters should be prepared to answer questions. The local supermarket should be investigated for price hikes and women can leaflet outside it with a two-sided leaflet that compared present prices with those of a year ago on one side and discusses the War's responsibility for inflation on the other side. And because it is women who do most of the shopping, they will be quick to relate the tax situation to their own problems of trying to balance the family budget.

Civil disobedience can be used effectively in fighting war taxes. There is of course the traditional direct action method of picketing and sitting=in at Internal Revenue offices, but there are also newer, more direct ways of attacking the problem nonviolently. An alternative fund can be set up with war tax money women have withheld from the government. Though there are many such funds currently in operation around the country, none deal specifically with women's problems. The money in the fund can be used to set up day care facilities, a coop food store, a community health service - any structure that would directly aid women. By drawing attention to the need for such programs two important issues would be raised: first, the fact that the federal government is not meeting the needs of the people within the United States, and second, that women are suffering particularly as a result of increased spending for the War.

Controlling the Schools - The local PTA chapter is a de facto women's organiztion that's probably ripe for organizing. The women involved in education issues are interested in their children's welfare, and it's a good thing for peace movement women to suggest areas that need change and actions that can be done to accomplish that change.

What most adults don't understand - and what students are just now beginning to understand - is that the schools belong to the people, and that they should not be controlled by administrators who disregard the wishes of those who attend them or their parents. There are many aspects of the education system in this country that need overhauling, and depending on the human resources available, a range of protest programs should be set up.

A simple issue to begin organizing around is that of the quality and content of textbooks. Is war glorified? Is the United States always presented as a nation-saint? Is proper treatment - or any treatment at all - given to conscientious objection and war protests throughout history? Are minority people presented in a fair way? How is the history of American Indians presented? If you don't like the answers you have to give to these questions, the textbooks should be altered. You might start by meeting in cimmittee with the school principal or department chairman, and if you get no satisfaction escalate your activities by giving alternative texts to the students. This last action constitutes civil disobedience in some areas because it's illegal to pass out literature on school property, but it's a dramatic way of publicizing the fact that children are being taught slanted facts.

Who owns school property and what can be done on it is an issue in itself. Are school facilities available to the community when the students are not using them? Is the swimming pool open to the public at night? How about the library? Can a group of people use a classroom for a meeting? If petitioning for the right to use school facilities doesn't bring results, picket lines can be set up after school hours to dramatize how wasteful an empty building is, and a group of people willing to commit c.d. can enter illegally and begin a meeting or go swimming or in some way demonstrate that no one can prevent the people from using what's theirs.

While the above actions are ones that can be organized by and participated in by women and men, it's particularly important for women to establish their rights in the community and their right to have a voice in the education of their children (remember that most school boards are made up almost entirely of men). Using school facilities for their own activities is important for women also, because it's easier for men to find places to meet - how many women would be welcome in the neighborhood bar if they wanted to have a meeting in the corner booth - and because it would be easy to convert a kindergarten room into a child care center an evening or two a week so women would be free to go to a movie or have a meeting or read a book without being disturbed.

Exposing War Profiteers and Boycotting Their Products - Many women's peace organizations have been involved in boycotts, but none of the campaigns have been notably successful so far. Advocating boycotts can be a very discouraging project because most war profiteering industries are so large they can withstand the minimal cuts in their profits that most boycotts produce. And people just aren't quick to participate in them.

When manufacturers are involved in especially despicable products, like making fragmentation bombs or napalm, civil disobedience against them is not too dramatic an action to take. These companies are very aware of their public image and they know that only bad press can result from having women arrested on their doorstep. They may even be more afraid of bad publicity than of losing a few dollars from a boycott campaign. And if women read in the newspaper that some of their sisters were arrested while protesting at a war profiteer's office they would be more apt to pick up the boycott.

Just telling people which products not to buy is not enough. People in the community have to be aware of exactly what the makers of their favorite soap is doing in order to seriously consider switching brands. One technique to use might be to set up a table in a shopping center with all the products of a specific manufacturer on display: floor wax, detergent, chemical warfare agents. And maybe a picture or two of the results from using the most objectionable of the products.

Advertisers usually play to women - that is, they gear their commercials to meet what they think women's needs are. Usually they are wrong. The way to beat advertisers is to play their own game and be better at it. Depending on the area you're in, that might mean spot announcements on radio stations (if you can get them) telling all the products a certain company produces, newspaper ads giving the same information, readable leaflets that appeal to women's intelligence and sense of decency (rather than to the ridiculous qualities advertisers seem to think women possess). In more comprehensive literature, alternative products to use can be suggested also.

It's important that the people promoting the boycotts are visible. That means taking to the streets and picketing the factories (you might have a special leaflet for the female employees) where the products are made and the stores where they are sold. You might want to go to shopkeepers armed with statistics (if accurate, of course) to support the fact that he would make more money by stocking Brand Y instead of Brand X which is made by a war profiteer. And you can start a campaign against the advertiser who handles the accounts of war profiteers also - let people know that the firm who thinks up blurbs for ABC Vegetables also makes the products of war profiteers look good to the consumer.

For a boycotting operation to be effective there must be a massive publicity drive accompanied by dramatic action. If the campaign focuses on one manufacturer and succeeds in wearing him down, there's more of a chance that other manufacturers will think twice before renewing their government contracts. One thing to remember is that as large as those contracts are, most companies still get a heavy per centage of their profits from consumer product sales.

CONCLUSION

The above actions are but a small sample of projects peace movement women can involve themselves in. While the project itself is important, equally important is the experience and self-confidence women will gain from organizing their own campaigns and acting them out. It's vital that women familiarize themselves with all aspects of movement work - otherwise they will continue to be relegated to clerical operations. By carrying out a project independently they will acquire practically every skill required for movement work. And then there will be no reasons why

Women should play secondary roles; the talents they cultivated while organizing independently will be the leverage they need to be taken seriously and respected in the peace movement in general.

It's important too for women to utilize their belief in nonviolence; that philosophy the WRL women share is what differentiates them from many women now working in all-female organizations. For WRL women to be effective they have to make their programs reflect their own position. It is when women's actions and nonviolence merge that the power of women as a constituency will first be felt in this country.

SUBJECT: MEDBURG

Mr. FRANK BROOKHOUSER is a by-line columnist for "The Evening Bulletin." This is a Philadelphia newspaper of general circulation.

In his column on 9/14/71, Mr. BROOKHOUSER wrote that "the FBI papers" may be published by a major publisher. He states that the "underground" is talking about it and that the editors of the anti-war magazine "Win" say that a major publisher is definitely interested in bringing out the files stolen from the FBI Office in Media. He goes on to say that the editors (of "Win") seem to be in the know and "have offered to act as go-between for the publisher and the thieves." Mr. BROOKHOUSER's article is headlined, "Publisher, Thieves Negotiate 'FBI Papers' as a Book."

Philadelphia indices contain no information indicating that Mr. BROOKHOUSER is other than friendly to the FBI and his use of the word "thieves", accurately describing the MEDBURG perpetrators, would appear to be a good omen.

I telephoned Mr. SAMUEL BOYLE, City Editor of "The Evening Bulletin," on 9/17/71. Mr. BOYLE is an SAC contact. I told him that we would like to talk to Mr. BROOKHOUSER for any additional details he could give us which might lead to identifying the publisher. Mr. BOYLE said that Mr. BROOKHOUSER is on vacation until 9/27/71, and that he would mention the matter to BROOKHOUSER when the latter returned.

With respect to "Win," Philadelphia files contain a letter dated 12/16/69, from the Director to New York captioned, "UNSUB; EMPLOYED BY WIN, 339 LAFAYETTE STREET, NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, 10012; DESECRATION OF THE FLAG." The last paragraph of this letter states that Bureau file shows correspondence has been received from the New York Division indicating that "Win" is a publication of the War Resisters League, New York City, a pacifist group. Bureau files indicate that magazine "Win" was published jointly twice a month by the Committee for Non-Violent Action and the New York Workshop in Non-Violence, both from New York City. N.Y.

New York's comments are requested. Specifically inquire of your informants and sources for any information which may lead to identification of the proposed publisher of the "Media Papers."

As you are aware, WRL is long-time pacifist group, activities of which have been followed by FBI with no active investigation having been conducted. WRL activities during past several months present increasing indications that WRL engaged in actions contrary to internal security interests of the U.S. For example, information was reported during 5-71 that WRL was emerging as one of the prime organizations funding and guiding activities of Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ), heavily infiltrated by Communist Party, USA. This information has been corroborated through the fact that on 8-11-71 check in amount of $2,335 drawn on WRL account at Bankers Trust Company, New York City, was deposited into PCPJ account in Washington, D. C. In addition, on 7-20-71, information was reported that David McReynolds, staff member of WRL, was circulating proposal regarding disruptions of Government installations, including FBI offices, on 10-13-71. Subsequently, McReynolds traveled to Russia and then to Hanoi to meet with North Vietnamese representatives.

During 9-71, information was reported that editors of the magazine "Win," publication of WRL, might possibly act as go-between in arranging publication of FBI documents stolen in burglary of Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency. It has also been reported that WRL activists have considerable knowledge concerning locations of fugitive deserters who are attempting to elude military service, and in many instances are seeking refuge in Canada.

New York initiate active investigation of WRL to fully identify current leaders and activists and determine aims, objectives, activities, and sources of funding. Direct investigation specifically to determine if WRL is dominated, infiltrated, or controlled by members of basic revolutionary groups and/or

New York advise specific extent of coverage available through this informant and, if necessary, steps which can be taken to develop coverage not available through [redacted] Informant

Through coverage of WRL activities in New York City, headquarters of WRL, any information indicating organized WRL activities in other cities should be promptly furnished pertinent auxiliary offices. Submit report containing all positive information developed.

NOTE:

WRL is branch of War Resisters International and was founded in U.S. in 1923. Due to its protest activities, we have followed WRL but conducted no active investigation. Information has been developed during past several months that WRL actively involved with communist-infiltrated PCPJ and emerging as major policymaking and funding organ of PCPJ. Other developments indicate WRL activities pose threat to U.S. internal security, and investigation should be initiated concerning WRL.

Bulet 10/6/71, advised that the WRL is a long-time pacifist group whose activities have been followed with no active investigation having been conducted.

WRL activities during the past several months present increasing indications that WRL engaged in actions contrary to the internal security interests of the US. For example, WRL during May, 1971, was emerging as one of the prime organizations funding and guiding activities of the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ), heavily infiltrated by the CPUSA.

In addition DAVID MC REYNOLDS, WRL staff member was circulating proposal regarding disruptions of Government installations, including FBI offices on 10/13/71. Subsequently MC REYNOLDS traveled to Russia and then to Hanoi to meet with North Vietnamese representatives.

During September, 1971, information was reported that editors of the magazine "WIN", a WRL publication, might possibly act as a go-between in arranging publication of FBI documents stolen in burglary of Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency. It has also been reported that WRL activists have considerable knowledge concerning locations of fugitive deserters who are attempting to elude military service, and in many instances are seeking refuge in Canada.

The Bureau instructed New York to initiate active investigation of WRL to fully identify current leaders and activists and determine aims, objectives, activities, and sources of funding. Direct investigation specifically to determine if WRL is dominated, infiltrated or controlled by members of basic revolutionary groups and/or other subversive individuals.

The Bureau further instructed that any information indicating organized WRL activities in other cities should be promptly furnished pertinent auxiliary offices. Submit report containing all positive information developed.

DEMONSTRATIONS BY WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE (WRL) AT CONCERT OF UNITED STATES ARMY FIELD BAND AND CHORUS, ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO
NOVEMBER 2, 1971

On November 1, 1971, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that the United States Army Field Band and Chorus, which is currently on a nation-wide tour, would give a concert at the Albuquerque Civic Auditorium, Albuquerque, New Mexico, on the evening of November 2, 1971. This source also advised that the Albuquerque Chapter of the WRL would attempt to disrupt the concert.

On November 2, 1971, a second confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that the Albuquerque Chapter of the WRL would conduct a guerrilla theater outside the Civic Auditorium on the evening of that date during which the participants would be dressed as clowns and would play musical instruments. This source advised that the individuals who intended to participate in the demonstration intended it to be peaceful and they had no plans to enter the Civic Auditorium in an effort to disrupt the concert by the United States Army Field Band and Chorus.

A Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed six males and three females arriving outside the Albuquerque Civic Auditorium at approximately 7:05 p.m. on the evening of November 2, 1971, all of these individuals having their faces painted to resemble clowns. The six males played harmonicas and kazoos while the females passed out the attached leaflet. These individuals also carried signs reading "Another Clown For Peace" and "May Peace Be With You."

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

There were no incidents in connection with this demonstration and no arrests were made.

As you go in to hear the Army band we would like you to consider a couple of ideas. The purpose of this concert is to "sell" the Army as a friendly, charitable organization attempting to serve the American people. This image that the Army is trying to portray does not change the fact that the United States Army is carrying out senseless loss of thousands of American lives and inflicting incalculable suffering on the people of Vietnam. We ask that you remember this suffering while watching the band tonight. May Peace be with you.

Dear Friends,

For the past two years anti-war activities have become more widespread in the Southwest. Local WRL's have grown rapidly. Nonviolence has been at the root of these developments. Most of our understanding of nonviolence came not so much from training sessions or speakers but has developed out of our own needs and concerns. Now nonviolence has become the prime mover of change in the Southwest and there is a strong desire for better communications, a better sharing of experiences. The Southwest is unique because it has no "leaders" or "movement heavies" but a lot of good people with experience in lots of different areas.

Thanksgiving weekend we will come together to share our selves and our community. People from Institute/Mt. West, GI's for Peace (El Paso), Direct Action/WRL Austin, AFSC San Antonio and Pasadena, Peacemakers, WRL-West & Southwest, farmworker support committees, gay liberation, and many more will come to share ideas about continuing to build the nonviolent movement in the Southwest. Please come and join with us in a weekend for creative change. Write or call for information.

DAILY DEATH TOLL PROJECT SPONSORED BY THE WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE, FELLOWSHIP OF RECONCILIATION, AND THE CLERGY AND LAYMEN CONCERNED, WASHINGTON, D.C., NOVEMBER 8-25, 1971

On November 15, 1971, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised as follows:

Between 9:30 p.m., and 11:00 p.m., on November 11, 1971, approximately 125 persons gathered at the First Methodist Church, East 30th Street and Euclid Street, Cleveland, Ohio, for a "memorial service" in conjunction with the Daily Death Toll Project (DDTP) sponsored by the War Resisters League, Fellowship of Reconciliation and the Clergy and Laymen Concerned.

WAR RESISTERS LEAGUE (WRL)

The WRL is a national organization headquartered in New York City which espouses anti-Vietnam war and anti-draft resistance.

FELLOWSHIP OF RECONCILIATION (FOR)

The FOR is a nationally known Quaker organization.

CLERGY AND LAYMEN CONCERNED (CALC)

The CALC is described by the above source as a group of clergy and laymen who have in the past concerned themselves with the Vietnam War, and recently have been active in matters other than the Vietnam War, including racism, prison reform, social and religious reform.

The "memorial service" consisted of short speeches by individuals who were going to Washington, D.C., immediately after the service to engage in planned civil disobedience in front of the White House on November 12th as part of the DDTP. These speeches related each individual's reasons for participating in this type of civil disobedience.

At 11:00 p.m., the service terminated and, due to the fact there were not enough people to go by bus, Reverend JAMES LEEHAN, Roman Catholic priest in charge of the Catholic Newman Club at Case Western Reserve University (CWRU), Cleveland, Ohio, directed the approximately 35 persons going to Washington, D. C., into seven automobiles for the trip.

Persons arriving in Washington, D. C., for the DDTP before 5:30 a.m., were to go to Saint Steven's Church, 16th and Newton Streets, and those arriving after 5:30 a.m., were to go directly to the Church of the Reformation, 212 East Capitol Street, Washington, D. C.

At 9:00 a.m., on November 12, 1971, there was a general orientation meeting held at the Church of the Reformation regarding how to engage in non-violent civil disobedience. Approximately 85 persons from Cleveland, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Kent, Ohio, and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, attended this meeting and participated in the DDTP demonstration.

During the meeting, the basic idea conveyed was the need to reach the "media," so that more and more people would be mobilized for civil disobedience. The propaganda part of the DDTP was highly stressed. Also, the "gentle," non-violent kind of protest can be most effective if there are "martyrs," so they can affect people's consciousness through their "gentle" actions of protest, and eventually, effect a social change in the United States.

The orientation meeting terminated at 11:00 a.m., and a small number of participants went to the U.S. Capitol Building to lobby with their congressmen for total withdrawal of all United States troops from Indochina.

At the United States Capitol Building, Congressman CHARLES VANIK of Ohio came out to speak to the group, stating

D.C.

NW 55296 DocId:32989688 Page 340

he always voted against war, and everything is coming to an end in Vietnam now. Reverend CHARLES RAWLINGS of Cleveland, Ohio, told Congressman VANIK that this was not enough and what VANIK said was a lie. Reverend RAWLINGS stated that civil disobedience was necessary but Congressman VANIK disagreed with him.

At 1:15 p.m., the approximately 85 participants gathered on the east steps of the Capitol Building and put on their paper "Vietnamese" hats. Some of those present painted their faces.

At about 2:00 p.m., the demonstrators commenced a march to the White House via Constitution and Pennsylvania Avenues arriving at the White House shortly before 3:00 p.m.

After fifteen minutes of demonstrating in front of the White House, those planning to be arrested laid down by the entrance gate and were thereafter placed under arrest. About twenty participants chose not to be arrested and did not participate with the "Lay-in."

The Cleveland, Ohio, area participants departed Washington, D.C., in their automobiles after bailing out of jail those who chose to be arrested.

Re communication from NYO to SF dated 10/6/71, advising that on 9/27/71, the Peace Bus of the War Resisters League (WRL) would leave California on a cross country trip to Tampa, Florida.

On 11/26/71, WILLIAM J. REICHLE, 5016 43rd Street South, St. Petersburg, Florida, telephone 867-6426, advised that the "Free School Bus", operated and funded by the WRL, was believed to be in Tampa, Florida over the Thanksgiving Holiday, 11/25/71. REICHLE said the Bus was on a short stop while touring the Country passing out "pacifict" WRL information. He did not know the itinerary for the Bus. It is noted that this telephone call was made to REICHLE by SA JOHN V. DENEALE without pretext as such or identification of the caller as FBI.

A check of logical sources in the Tampa and St. Petersburg, Florida area failed to disclose that the WRL is presently active in this area or that the Bus was in the Tampa area recently.

A check with Tampa and St. Petersburg Police Intelligence Units revealed that these Departments, are not aware of the Peace Bus being in Tampa or St. Petersburg, Florida.

Tampa is taking no further action in this matter, but will remain alert for possible pertinent information during investigation of like cases.

The War Resisters League has been publicly described as founded in 1923 and is the American section of the War Resisters International, a world-wide pacifist movement.

On December 6, 1971, AQ T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that shortly before 8:00 p.m. on the evening of December 3, 1971, nine persons, both male and female, the majority of them hippie type, arrived in front of the Four Seasons Motel to participate in a WRL sponsored demonstration to protest U. S. involvement in Southeast Asia. It is noted that a Republican Party fund raising dinner was being held at the motel on the evening of that date.

The source advised that these individuals were all dressed to resemble Southeast Asian peasants and that several had their clothing stained with some type of red liquid designed to resemble blood. These individuals remained in front of the entrance to the motel until approximately 9:00 p.m. when they left in a group. They returned to the motel at approximately 9:30 and remained in front of the entrance until shortly before midnight. A few of these individuals carried placards bearing anti-Vietnam War comments.

Source advised that these individuals made no effort to block the entrance to the motel or to harass individuals entering or leaving the motel, by whom they were largely ignored. There were no incidents, and there were no arrests.

DAVID MCREYNOLDS writing in the "WRL (War Resisters League) News", September-October, 1971 issue in article entitled, "Reflections From Hanoi," indicated his trip to Japan (17th World Conference Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs, Tokyo and Hiroshima, Japan, 8/2-9/71,) was paid for by the Japanese Communist Party. Because of this, his air tickets were on Aeroflot.

MC REYNOLDS departed JFK International Airport on 7/28/71 via Aeroflot, Flight 581, scheduled to arrive Moscow 3:35 a.m., 7/29/71. His itinerary only included air flight to Tokyo, Bangkok, Vientiane and Hanoi. He was scheduled to arrive in Hanoi, 8/13/71 and depart via Aeroflot, 8/21/71 en route Moscow and NY. He was scheduled to arrive in NY, 8/22/71 at 6:30 p.m.

Informant

[redacted] on 12/6/71 advised that MC REYNOLDS has been constantly in NYC since that time with the exception of the Labor Day weekend when he attended the WRL conference in Athens, Ga.

During the WRL Executive Board Meeting, 11/3/71, there was no discussion about MC REYNOLDS traveling overseas. It should be noted the WRL Executive Board would have to approve finances for any trip abroad by MC REYNOLDS.

No other evidence has come to the attention of the NYO that MC REYNOLDS recently traveled to Paris and was in contact with the North Vietnamese representatives.

The NYO is of the opinion that the source is probably referring to DAVID DELLINGER, Bu 100-384411, NY 100-121672.
