ITEM GENERAL INFORMATION
Item Title	Combating Weapons of Mass Destruction Modeling (CWMD)
Item Description	Combating Weapons of Mass Destruction Modeling (CWMD) Modeling is a DTRA modeling and simulation product to enable training for WMD events, emergency responses and assessments. Participants many include Combatant Commands, the Joint Staff, other government agencies, first responders, planners, managers and operational and technical personnel who may be required to respond to Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear and High Explosive (CBRNE) incidents. CWMD Modeling is supported across a variety of networks ranging from server based distributed operations on UNET, SIPRNET, and the JWICS networks to standalone implementation on a single machine using virtual technologies. Active records may include development information and products produced during operational use of the CWMD Modeling tools including pdfs, printouts, screenshots, etc., generated during an individual user’s scenario runs.
