- A. WDMET case files on wounded soldiers consisting of summary sheets, series of body diagrams, description of weapons, medical data and treatment information, and other related records.
- B. WDMET reel-to-reel audio recordings (original and preservation copies) consisting of recorded interviews with witnesses to the wounding as well as with troops generally in the area.
- C. WDMET slides of wounds.
- D. WDMET x-rays of wounded soldiers.

Items A.-D.: PERMANENT. Transfer immediately to the National Archives when no longer needed for current business.

- E. Electronic database of information extracted from WDMET case files

Electronic Files: PERMANENT

1. 1987-1994: Transfer a copy of the database files to the National Archives no later than 31 December 1994.

2. 1994-thereafter: Every three years, check the database to see if there have been any updates to the records. If the database files are updated, transfer updated copy of the database files to the National Archives. (i.e. if updates are made in the next three years the next transfer would be made prior to 31 December 1997).

NOTE: 1) If updated copy of the database includes all records in the previous transfer of the database - with no changes - plus new additional records, once the latest transfer of the database has been preservation copied by the National Archives, the National Archives will destroy the previous transfer of the database as duplicate material. 2) All transfers of data will be done in accordance with 36 CFR § 1228.

- F. System documentation for electronic database of information extracted from WDMET case files.

Documentation: PERMANENT.

1. 1987-1994: Transfer a copy of the documentation for the electronic files cited in E. 1. (above) along with the first transfer of the electronic files.

2. 1994-thereafter: Transfer an updated copy of the documentation with each subsequent transfer of the electronic files in E. 2. (above).

NOTE: All transfers of documentation will be done in accordance with 36 CFR § 1228.

- G. Electronic index to WDMET slides

Electronic Files: PERMANENT

1. 1987-1994: Transfer a copy of the index files to the National Archives no later than 31 December 1994.

2. 1994-thereafter: Every three years, check the index to see if there have been any updates to the records. If the index is updated, transfer updated copy of the index to the National Archives. (i.e. if updates are made in the next three years the next transfer would be made prior to 31 December 1997).

NOTE: 1) If updated copy of the index includes all records in the previous transfer of the index - with no changes - plus additional new records, once the latest transfer of the index has been preservation copied by the National Archives, the National Archives will destroy the previous transfer of the index as duplicate material. 2) All transfers of data will be done in accordance with 36 CFR § 1228.
