sion regulated rates and services of water carriers, a function requiring the deliberation and independence of judgment which a board or commission is designed to provide.

At the same time, however, the Commission was required to carry on many programs of a business nature, like shipbuilding and subsidy payments, which required the prompt decisions and actions that a single executive with undivided authority can best give.

Since the Commission did not prove sufficiently flexible for this dual job, it was abolished by the President's Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950. It was replaced by two new agencies, the Federal Maritime Board and MarAd, both under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce.

The Board was assigned the regulatory and subsidy determination functions of the former Commission, and MarAd was charged to administer the various merchant marine programs. The Chairman of the Board was the ex officio Administrator of MarAd.

This mingling of the regulatory and promotional provisions of the merchant shipping laws was found to be unsatisfactory. The President's Reorganization Plan No. 7 of 1961 abolished the Federal Maritime Board and established a separate and independent Federal Maritime Commission to handle regulatory matters. The Commission hears complaints against shipping lines or conferences, and approves or disapproves agreements, rates and regulations of shipping companies, terminals and those subject to its jurisdiction.

MarAd remained within the Department of Commerce, but in addition to its administrative duties was given the task of managing promotional programs, primarily the subsidy supports. The Secretary of Commerce established the Maritime Subsidy Board primarily to make, amend, and terminate subsidy contracts.

The broadest and most far-reaching piece of maritime legislation in more than thirty years was the Merchant Marine Act of 1970. Its intent was to transform the U. S. Merchant Marine into one of the most modern and efficient in the world. By providing incentives to encourage the application of advanced technology, innovative management, and aggressive marketing, programs are aimed at increasing the productivity and competitiveness of American shipping and shipbuilding.

Program Highlights. Laws administered by MarAd provide for payment by the government of operating- and construction-differential subsidies to make up the difference between U. S. costs of building and operating ships and the estimated costs of foreign competitors. In return for such aid, U. S. operators must provide regular, adequate service in U. S. foreign trade. MarAd determines which companies shall receive subsidy contracts.

The subsidized operator must agree to replace obsolete ships with new ships suitable for essential trade routes to be served and for emergency use as naval and military auxiliaries. MarAd pays a percentage of the domestic cost of building a similar ship in a representative foreign shipyard. MarAd may pay for national defense features in excess of commercial requirements.

Also, MarAd may guarantee ship construction loans or mortgages obtained from private sources.

A National Defense Reserve Fleet of ships available for emergency use is maintained by MarAd. Vessels no longer of use to the Government are sold, primarily for scrap.

Transfer of U. S. flag ships to a foreign flag, or any interest in such ships to non-citizens, must also be approved by MarAd.

The Administration operates the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, Long Island, New York. There young men and women are trained to become merchant marine officers. The curriculum covers a four-year course leading to a Bachelor of Science degree, a third mate or third engineer license, and a commission in the Naval Reserve.

In addition, MarAd provides for the six State Merchant Marine Schools in Maine, New York, Massachusetts, California, Texas, and Michigan, as well as support to designated students in those schools.

A research and development program is aimed at increasing productivity of American shipping and shipbuilding industries and improving the competitive position of the U. S. Merchant Marine. Effectiveness of MarAd research has been substantially increased through industry cost-sharing contracts.

Major shipbuilding projects include development of standardized ship designs, identification and elimination of unnecessary construction requirements, improvements in techniques and materials, and development of automated shipyards.

The emphasis in research for ship operations is on new cargo-handling techniques and materials, improved propulsion systems, and computer applications aboard ship. The National Maritime Research Center at Kings Point provides facilities to test products of Rland D programs in a marine environment before actual shipboard installation.

As part of its Commercial Development Program, MarAd promotes improvement of port facilities and advanced intermodal transportation systems. Advice and assistance are given to port communities in developing efficient port and terminal operations to speed the flow of goods.

Market Development programs inform American business of the importance of maintaining an American flag merchant fleet. American shippers are encouraged to employ U. S. flag vessels, whenever possible, and U. S. flag shipping lines are helped to expand their marketing capabilities.

The Merchant Marine Act of 1970 officially established MarAd as the central authority for administration of cargo preference programs. Since then, MarAd has published a series of regulations designed to standardize the administration of cargo preference activities by shipper agencies of the Government. Those regulations, along with a computerized data system, help insure that U. S. flag vessels participate equitably in Government shipments.

MarAd cooperates in international programs and meetings on such matters as preventing pollution of the seas by oil, simplification of shipping documents, standardization of container sizes, improved safety and navigation regulations, shipping agreements, and maritime law.

MarAd also is active in protecting and preserving the marine environment from ship-generated pollution. In addition to participating in major international conferences, MarAd activities include developing environmental impact statements on construction and operation of vessels, training in marine pollution abatement and control, and research and development to produce safer, more efficient vessels and operating methods.

During World War II a new entity called the War Shipping Administration (WSA) was created, largely out of U. S. Maritime Commission, to handle shipbuilding and ship operations during the war.

Upon termination of the U. S. Maritime Commissions and creation of MarAd in 1950, a new entity was established within MarAd called the National Shipping Authority. Its functions are identical to the WSA of World War II, and it would become fully operational during a period of war or other emergency.

MarAd remained an agency in the Department of Commerce until the Maritime Act of 1981, HR 4074, enacted as Public Law 97-31 approved August 6, 1981 and the Determination and Transfer Order, executed on August 7, 1981 by the Director, Office of Management and Budget transferred MarAd to the Department of Transportation.

Binder. This schedule is presented in a format reflecting the present organization of MarAd at the time of this writing. However, a change of title or organizational location of any unit or any reorganization shall have no effect as long as the files described herein continue to accumulate and serve the same purpose.

~~The provisions of the General Records Schedule issued by the General Services Administration are hereby superseded, since this MarAd Schedule includes all general and housekeeping records that are currently accumulating in MarAd.~~

~~This Records Control Schedule is thus the sole authority for the legal disposition of any and all MarAd records.~~

470. Title XI, CDS, ODS Application File. This file contains applications submitted by non-linear operators and forwarded to this Division for analysis of the traffic and revenue aspects of ship financing guarantees, Construction-Differential Subsidy and Operating-Differential Subsidy to determine the economic soundness of the applications based on these analyses, under Title V and Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. The file also includes correspondence, memoranda, recommendations, supporting documents, and other papers related to the appropriate subsidy program.

Separate supporting papers from application file.

- a. Applications. Dispose of when 2 years old.
- b. Supporting Papers. Transfer to WNRC when 5 years old.
Dispose of when 25 years old.

471. Bilateral Maritime Agreement File. This file contains agreements (contracts), amendments, changes, correspondence between members of the agreement, and other documents stipulating the terms of transportation by sea of commodities written into the agreement.

~~This file is created from the date of the agreement is terminated.~~

~~This file is created from June 30, 1971.~~ Dispose of 6 years,
3 months after the agreement is terminated.

472. Vessel Movement by Port File. This file contains transmittal memoranda and statistics on coastal port vessels (inbound and outbound), according to vessel type and draft. It is used to indicate the quantity of traffic available for ship support services and as a definition of port growth.

Dispose of when superseded.

473. Weekly Charter Letter Report File. This file contains data on worldwide chartering activity, with emphasis on U. S. trade routes. It is used to determine current charter rates, chartering frequency, and size of vessel chartered.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

474. Regulatory Analysis File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, work papers, studies, draft regulations, instructions, EO 12044, regulatory calendar entries, summary of analyses and background to modify maritime regulations or to initiate such regulations. The analysis enables the lawmakers to change or initiate a regulation.

Transfer to WNRC when 5 years old. Dispose of when 15 years old.

475. Reading File. This file contains copies of each letter, memorandum, recommendation, and telex prepared for the signature of the Director of the Division, the Director of Trade Studies and Statistics, the Assistant Administrator of Maritime Aids, the Assistant Secretary for Maritime Affairs, and the Secretary of Commerce, arranged in chronological order.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

Division of Statistics

476. Failure to File Penalty File. This file consists of correspondence notifying the District Director of Customs that certain shipowners had failed to file the vessel utilization report upon entering the first U. S. port and leaving the last U. S. port, penalty disposition, appeals correspondence, and similar documents related to failure to file reports required by the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Destroy when 5 years old.

477. Docket File. This file consists of orders, notices to all parties, petitions, initial and final decisions, final options, pre-hearing rulings, notice of hearing and similar documents related to hearings arising out of objection by shipowners to deviation of a shipowner from the following prescribed maritime practices.

Dispose of 5 years after case is closed.

478. Vessel Characteristics Contract File. This file contains contracts with Lloyd's of London, renewable annually, to submit data on vessel characteristics of all active ships in the world, correspondence, memoranda, and services regarding these contracts.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

479. Weekly Activity Report. This file contains reports on the progress made by this office during the week and future projects and plans.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

480. Administrative Subject File. This file contains office copies of papers on such matters as time and attendance,* personnel actions, budget, space, requisitions for service or supplies, legal matters, including legislative bills and laws, and similar housekeeping activities.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

481. Missing Container Reports File. This file contains correspondence to the District Director of U. S. Customs notifying him that ship owners in his district have not submitted the Container-Trailer Report, Form MA 578A or equivalent, and that the shipowner be requested to submit another copy of the report.

Dispose of when 1 year old.

482. Commodity Movement Annual Report (CMA) and Commodity Movement Monthly Report (CMM). This file contains information received from the Census Bureau separated by all container tonnage and dollar value for each U. S. Flag portion carried on U. S. flag vessels, on how the data are aggregated and printed. The data contain movement of commodities (entry and export) in U. S. Oceanborne trade, broken down into U. S. flag and foreign flag categories and showing U. S. flag percentages. The monthly report is preliminary and contains individual flags. The reports cover such items as: commodity by U. S. port; commodity by trade routes; commodity by type of service; trade route by type of service; trade route by direction; U. S. port by type of service; and similar reports related to oceanborne foreign trade. Ad hoc reports are prepared from available information.

a. Division of Statistics copy. Dispose of when 3 years old

b. Microfiche. Dispose of when 10 years old.

483. Container Cargo System. This file contains computer printouts on oceanborne foreign trade with respect to tonnage, the number of containers, and TEU's (20 foot equivalent unit) loaded and empty. Used to reply to inquiries, and to produce containerized cargo statistics. It is the sole source of container cargo system data.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business. (Related machine records ARE NOT DISPOSABLE UNDER THIS ITEM)

484. Vessel Status Card File. This file contains a record of all U. S. commercial ocean-going vessels, including the form of subsidy agreement, port of delivery date and time delivered, flag, type of cargo, former name and status vessel; e. g. sunk or other disposition. Used as supporting documents for seamen seeking Government retirement.

Permanent. Retain in office. Offer to National Archives when no longer needed for current business OR WHEN 30 YEARS OLD, WHICHEVER COMES FIRST.

485. Status of Employment - U. S. Flag File. This file contains computer printouts of the area of employment, name of owner or operator, dimensions, type and design of vessel, and the vessel name.

Dispose of when 2 years old. (Related machine readable records ARE NOT DISPOSABLE UNDER THIS ITEM.)

486. Vessel Inventory Report. This file contains an inventory report of U. S. flag dry cargo and tanker fleets 1,000 gross tons and over by: name of vessel, vessel type, owner/operator, design type, and dead weight tons. This report is used to reply to inquiries, and serves as a basis for preparation of "Vessel Inventory Report."

Dispose of when 25 years old.

487. Status and Area of Employment File. This file contains a summary of all vessel types - name of record such as total tonnage, combination passenger and cargo, freighters, and tankers, and the dead weight of each, excluding vessels operating exclusively on the Great Lakes, inland waterways, and those owned by the U. S. Army and Navy and certain special types.

Permanent. Transfer closed files to UNRC when 5 years old.

Offer to NARS when 30 years old, or longer needed for report.

in 5 year blocks when the latest records are 20 years old.

488. Summary - All Vessel Types File. This file contains statistics regarding the employment of U. S. flag ocean-going merchant fleet, vessels of 1,000 gross tons and over by ownership, status and area of employment, including the total gross and DWT tons, combination passenger and cargo, freighter, and tanker gross and DWT, active and inactive vessels, indexed historical utilization of U. S. commercial vessels since 1946.

490. Maritime Administration Trade System File. This file contains computer printouts on vessel sailings showing vessel ID, operator (for liner service), type of service (liner, non-liner, tanker), commodity, weight and value under Section 212A of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. Data base statistics are used to provide the basis for developing foreign flag competition.

Dispose of when 2 years old. (Related machine readable records ARE NOT DISPOSABLE UNDER THIS ITEM)

491. Foreign Flag Competition File. This file contains recommendations to the Maritime Subsidy Board on determination of substantiality of foreign flag competition and approval of the percentage weights to be accorded each principal competitive foreign flag for use in calculating Operating-Differential Subsidy rates, correspondence, summaries, computer printouts, and work sheets created to support the recommendations. Used by the General Accounting Office to determine how much is paid out in subsidies and to reply to inquiries.

Dispose of when contract is terminated.

492. Container Trailer Report File Form 578A or Equivalent. This file contains data regarding tonnage in and out of the U. S. and to and from foreign ports, on Form 578A or equivalent.

Transfer to WNRC when 1 year old. Dispose of when 5 years old.

493. Lloyd's Voyage Record File. This file contains a record of all active vessels in the world; it includes the name of the vessel and its movements. The record is used to verify vessel movements in controlling Container/Trailer Reports, Foreign Trade information, Form MA 578A or equivalent.

Transfer to the MarAd library when 2 years old as non-record material.

ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATOR
FOR
SHIPBUILDING AND SHIP OPERATIONS

The Assistant Administrator for Shipbuilding and Ship Operations is the principal assistant and adviser to the Assistant Secretary on ship construction, shipbuilding costs, and ship operations activities, and directs the activities of the following organizational units: The Office of Ship Construction, Office of Shipbuilding Costs, and the Office of Ship Operations.

Immediate Office of the Assistant Administrator

(Assistant Administrator)

494. Program Subject File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, vessel, or other specific entity. Examples are: foam, fisheries, manning, LNG tankers, repositioning ships, and slow speed diesel.

Permanent. Transfer closed files to UNRC when 5 years old.

Offer to NARS in 5 year blocks when latest records are 20 years old.

495. Shipping Companies - Shipyards File. This file contains information copies of in-house correspondence and outside letters regarding ship construction, ship fueling costs, and domestic shipping.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

496. Reading File. This file contains extra copies of documents prepared for the signature of the Assistant Administrator and his superiors, arranged chronologically.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

OFFICE OF SHIP CONSTRUCTION

Immediate Office of the Director

497. Shipowners' File. This file contains correspondence, reports, memoranda, information copies of contracts, amendments, and related documents regarding the building of ships under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when contract has been completed.

498. Program Subject File. This file contains documents on such subjects as tug-barge, including mobilization, heavy lift ships, LNG transportation, Glomar Explorer, tankers, minority business enterprise, women's business enterprise, national defense reserve fleet, ocean thermal energy conversion, nuclear ship program, Buy American and cargo preference.

Dispose of when superseded.

499. Committee File. This file contains agendas, reports, studies, correspondence, memoranda, rough notes, and supporting documents on inter-agency committees, used to promote shipbuilding and ship repair in American shipyards.

Dispose of when 10 years old, or when no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

500. Administrative Subject File. This file contains office copies of materials pertaining to such internal housekeeping matters as travel, personnel, requisitions, job descriptions, and similar housekeeping documents.

Dispose of when 5 years old or when no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

501. Weekly Activity Reports File. This file contains reports of progress during the week and plans for the future from subordinate organizational units and their consolidation at the office level.

Dispose of when 4 years old.

502. Reading File. This file contains extra copies of papers prepared or signed by the Director and superior officials, arranged chronologically.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

503. Title XI Application for Guarantee of Obligation File. This file contains applications, plans, specifications, financial documents, estimated costs, contracts, recommendations, correspondence and memoranda pertaining to application for guarantees of obligations under Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Transfer to inactive file when 2 years old. Transfer to WNRC when 7 years old. Dispose of when 15 years old.

504. Title V Changes Under Contract File. This file contains copies of contracts submitted by shipowners requesting construction-differential subsidies under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. The file is used when the shipowner requests financial assistance on building a second identical ship and in claims and disputes cases. Dispute file is transferred to the Division of Domestic Costs, Office of Shipbuilding Costs when the dispute has been resolved.

~~Records created prior to July 1, 1975. Dispose of 10 years, 3 months after the contract is terminated.~~

~~Records created from June 30, 1975. Dispose of 6 years, 3 months after the contract is terminated.~~

505. Contract File. This file contains contracts, amendments, transmittal correspondence, memoranda, comments, and final decisions on shipowners' request for Construction-Differential Subsidies under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

~~Records created prior to July 1, 1975. Dispose of 10 years, 3 months after the contract is terminated.~~

~~Records created from June 30, 1975. Dispose of 6 years, 3 months after the contract is terminated.~~

506. Committee File. This file (located in the office of the Assistant to the Director) contains correspondence, reports, publications, regarding professional technical activities, interagency professional societies, which promote the Merchant Marine and advance the state of the art.

Dispose of when Assistant to the Director is no longer a member or chairman.

507. Program Subject File. This file, maintained by the Assistant to the Director, contains correspondence, memoranda and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of the office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, specific vessel or any other specific entity. Examples are: Title V ships, Buy American, fixed fire fighting equipment, disputes, and shipyard practices.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

508. Policy File. This file contains a collection of filings, decisions, and policy announcements, dealing with MarAd's administration of Title V and Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. The file is used as a guide for the Office of Ship Construction and represents internal decisions and public announcements.

Dispose of when superseded.

509. Administrative Subject File. This file contains office copies of papers on matters such as time and attendance,* personnel actions,* budget, space, requisitions for services and other objects, and similar housekeeping requirements.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

510. Computer Program Portfolio File. This file contains the audit trail of program development and revisions. Information obtained from the user refers to records theory and program logic. It consists of a listing of the program, test and validation, and sample runs, charts, reports, and supporting papers and memoranda.

Dispose of when superseded.

511. Engineering Computer Program Subject File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, vessel or other specific entity. Examples are: total transportation system, projects, mobilization tug-barge, naval architecture, contracts including leased services contracts, agreements, services, competitive bid procedure, Buy American, disputes, maritime policy, subsidy, power plants, fuels, and energy.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

512. Source Punched Card Computer Program Backup File. This file contains punched cards for each program in the program library. When programs are modified or updated, only the punched cards that need to be changed are changed, and the program is recompiled.

Dispose of when superseded.

513. Run Book File. This file contains updated listings of modified programs, current sample runs and printouts, consisting of the library number, title of program, and whether or not program is in card image or binary form.

Dispose of when superseded.

514. Program Run Accounting File. This file contains the account number, user charge number, program number, and transactions during the run. Its purpose is to verify charges from the vendor and the utility of the system (percentage of time used).

Dispose of when updated.

Division of Engineering

515. Administrative Subject File. This file contains documents pertaining to directives, bulletins, paperwork management, management improvement, budget, freedom of information, supplies, equipment, personnel management, training, security clearances, travel and similar housekeeping activities.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

516. Reading File. This file contains extra copies of letters and memoranda prepared for the signature of the Chief of the Division, his superiors and his subordinates, arranged chronologically.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

517. CDS Contract Ship Correspondence File. This file contains correspondence regarding contracts on ships being constructed under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, letters from shipyards, minutes of meetings by the local contract representative, and letters from the Coast Guard. The file is used as an historical reference, background for disputes, contract changes, and comparison of contracts.

a. Technical documents. Dispose of when superseded.

b. All other papers. Dispose of when contract has been completed.

518. Piping Blueprint File. This file contains blueprints submitted by shipbuilders to MarAd for information and approval. Upon approval, the ship will be built under the Construction-Differential Subsidy Program, Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. This file is used as a reference to design a ship in-house.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

519. Title V Precontract File. This file contains technical comments on plans and specifications on Title V application for Construction-Differential Subsidy, review and approval, and correspondence. The file is used as an historical reference and in case a contract needs to be changed, to determine whether to subsidize the change.

Dispose of when ship has been delivered.

520. Post-Contract File. This file contains correspondence to shipyards, shipowner, and MarAd offices (after the contract has been awarded) in clearing up difficulties that have arisen.

Dispose of 1 year after agreement has been reached.

521. Pollution File. This file contains equipment description, technical reference, correspondence, memoranda, publications, reports, manufacturers' catalogues, and similar documents used to determine what equipment each new ship should have.

Dispose of when superseded.

522. Dispute File. This file contains correspondence, drawings, memoranda, dispute documents, including dispute decisions and papers related to a dispute between the shipowner and the shipbuilder, to which MarAd is the third party to the contract.

Dispose of 3 years after the case has been settled.

523. Heating and Ventilation Plan File. This file contains plans submitted to MarAd by the shipbuilder on how the ship will be built as far as heating and ventilation are concerned. The file is used as an historical reference in MarAd and on the technical committee to promote the marine industry.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

524. Preliminary Design Drawing File. This file contains drawings submitted by shipbuilders on machinery piping, electric equipment and machinery arrangements for review by MarAd. Recommendations are made to the shipbuilder, some of which he is required to follow, and others are not so required.

Dispose of when subsidy contract has been signed.

525. Heat Balance Computer Program File. This file contains a computer printout of test runs of hand-calculated heat balances. The file is used to obtain an estimate of the specifications of a proposed power plant of a ship built under the Construction-Differential Subsidy, Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when superseded.

526. Design Study File. This file contains reports, proposals, recommendations, comments, correspondence, memoranda, statistics, technical articles, plans and proposals, design studies on nuclear-powered vessels, nuclear accidents, including the rest of nuclear-propelled power plants, study of marine power plants, feasibility studies and other studies related to the improvement of engineering in the marine industry.

Dispose of when 30 years old.

527. Title XI Design Comment File. This file contains comments on designs submitted by shipowners to MarAd whose engineers perform technical review; in essence it amounts to an approval subject to the comments. The file is used to form the basis for building a vessel identical with a previous one under the Ship Construction-Differential Subsidy program, Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

528. Domestic Preference - Buy American File. This file consists of correspondence between MarAd and shipowners and shipbuilders on the administration of Section 505 of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, to insure that all ship components are American.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

529. Technical Publication File. This file consists of background material on publications developed and issued by professional engineers on all phases of marine engineering in their areas of competence, under the auspices of the Society of Naval Architects and Naval Marine Engineers (SNAME).

Dispose of when 4 years old.

530. Project File. This file consists of correspondence, plans, memoranda, working files, proposed standards, purchase orders, specifications, information copies of contracts, including contract changes, thermal energy conversion, LNG and similar areas of engineering. This file is used to reply, upon request, to a deficiency by referring to the plans, historical reference, and as a sample in preparing contracts.

Dispose of 1 year after ship has been delivered.

537. Reading File. This file contains copies of outgoing letters prepared for the signature of the Chief, Assistant Chief, anyone designated to act as Chief, and superiors up to the level of Assistant Secretary, arranged chronologically.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

538. Commercial Ship Design Files. This file contains information copies of plans and materials schedules, photographs, including progress photographs, plans and correspondence procedures used in the design of ships in the Construction-Differential Program, under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, regarding privately-owned ships built in private shipyards.

Transfer to WNRC 6 months after the last ship under contract is delivered.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

539. Ship Delivery Documents. This file contains American Bureau of Shipping and U. S. Coast Guard Certificates certifying to the sea-worthiness of subsidized ships built by private owners in private shipyards under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Transfer to the WNRC 6 months after the last ship under contract has been completed.

Dispose of when ¹⁰ years old.

540. Visual Aids. This file contains slides, Vu-graphs, photo prints, and presentations shown to industry, schools and other interested groups on the work of the Office of Ship Construction.

Dispose of when superseded.

541. Shipbuilding Facilities File. This file contains data on the number and types of shipways, shops, dry docks, and shipyard plans required by Section 211 of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, directing maintenance of current records of the number, location, and efficiency of U. S. shipyards.

Dispose of when superseded.

542. Program Subject File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office

531. Delay Claims File. This file contains delay claims on Title V applications because of delays in completion dates, excusable under the contracts.

Dispose of when 1 year old.

532. Print Correspondence File. This file contains correspondence submitted by shipbuilders transmitting prints for (1) original approval and/or comments; (2) revision approval and or comments; and (3) information and file. Most of the file refers to Title V projects in dispute.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

533. Court Action File. This file consists of petitions for court action on claims which are brought into the U. S. Court of Claims and correspondence on changes of contract which result in disputes in which the Maritime Subsidy Board is a party. The file also contains reports of the status of cases.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

534. Design Listing of Changes Under Title V File. This file contains design listing of change letters for approval for Construction-Differential Subsidies, requested by shipowners and contractors under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when 15 years old.

Division of Production

535. U. N. Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development File. This file contains a copy of an international organization report requested of MarAd by the Department of State "Working Party no. 6 of the Council of Shipbuilding, " on which MarAd indicates statistical data on merchant ships constructed in the U. S. and a report in which all countries of the world furnish the same information for their countries.

Dispose of when 2 years old.

536. Program Subject File (Division Chief). This file contains documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, vessel, or other specific entity. Examples are: subcommittee on shipbuilding, National Fire Protection Association, CDS Two-Party contracts, shipbuilding analysis, construction representatives, and similar documents.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

records that are filed under subjects, because they do not concern a specific shipowner, vessel or any other specific entity. Examples of such subjects are: CDS, contracts, ship design, production, shipyard design, ship construction, ship operation, classification sheets, design classification, index of applications, and major events.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

543. Metric Implementation Conversion Act File. This file contains minutes, guidelines, administrative orders, technical conversion data, reports, studies and similar papers of various groups assigned to convert to the metric system for the Marine Section.

Dispose of when superseded or upon non-participation in various committees, whichever is first.

544. Value Engineering File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, vendor manuals, ship designs, projects, studies, work papers, and similar papers calculated to improve ship design and construction by establishing new ways of performing the same operation at reduced costs, new designs, and informing ship designers of the advanced state of the art.

- a. Design File - Dispose of 1 year after completion of applicable ship contract.
- b. Project File. Dispose of when 10 years old.
- c. Value Engineering Informational Letters. Dispose of when superseded.

545. Minority Business Enterprise Program File. This file consists of reports, correspondence, memoranda, and similar papers regarding the minority business enterprise agency promotional program directed toward stimulating the participation of minority business in the maritime industry.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

546. Woman's Business Enterprise Program File. This file contains reports, correspondence, memoranda, and similar papers regarding the women's business enterprise agency promotional program directed toward stimulating the participation of women in business in the maritime industry.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

547. Design File. This file contains operating procedures, design classification sheets, identification of specifications, memoranda specification data, addenda regarding ships constructed under the Construction-Differential Subsidy program of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

548. Microfilm File. This file contains 35 mm rolls and 105 mm microfilm of shipyard drawings, including indexes, provided for ships built under Title V, VII, and XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Permanent. Offer to the National Archives when 30 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

549. Blueprint Index Logs. This file contains indexes to blueprints which are stored at the Washington National Records Center.

Dispose of when 30 years old.

550. Request Correspondence File. This file contains incoming correspondence and copies of outgoing correspondence regarding requests for drawings, tracings, and machinery procedure.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

551. Design Correspondence File. This file contains incoming letters, plans, requisitions, purchase orders, testing data and similar documents.

Transfer to WNRC 5 years after completion of contracts. Dispose of when 10 years old.

552. Ship Parts Correspondence File. This file contains correspondence from shipyards and shipowners regarding components, material, equipment, and other parts of a ship being built under Titles V, VII, and XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

553. Owners and Contractors Correspondence File. This file contains correspondence, (a transmittal letter used to transmit blueprints to Mar-Ad), and a correspondence control sheet, MA 61 or equivalent, used as a control sheet. Blueprints are submitted by the shipowner or design agent.

Transfer to WNRC when contract is closed. Dispose of 10 years ~~after~~ closure.

554. Plans Correspondence. This file contains correspondence concerning ship's plans for construction of vessels under the Construction-Differential Subsidy program under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when contracts have been closed.

555. Ship Specifications File. This file contains ship specifications regarding the construction of ships under Titles V, VII, and XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

Dispose of when no longer required for

556. Blueprint File. This file contains blueprints from shipyards, vendors, and design agents. They are the working plans of a ship to be constructed. The file also contains a planned schedule which is essentially an index and a copy of the incoming letter. The file is used for historical reference.

Transfer to WNRC when contract is closed. Dispose of when 10 years old.

557. Engineers' Operating Manual File. This file contains engineers' operating manuals describing the operation of piping systems description, mechanical ventilation, electrical systems and similar operating instructions for MarAd engineers.

Transfer to WNRC 2 years after close of contract. Dispose of 10 years after closure.

558. Instruction Books File. This file contains preliminary and final instructions submitted by shipyards on the maintenance and operation of ship parts.

Transfer to the WNRC 6 months after contract has been closed. Dispose of 10 years after closure.

559. Shipbuilding Base File. This file contains data on shipyards which are actively building or seeking construction contracts for Merchant Marine or Navy ships. It includes MA 832, Shipbuilding Order Book and Shipyard Employment or equivalent, a monthly survey and workload projection. It serves as a comparison for Navy, MarAd, and private yards, for mobilization, and for national emergency.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

560. Title V Tracings File. This file contains tracings of ship plans of ships to be constructed under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, the Construction-Differential Subsidy program.

Dispose of when 25 years old.

561. Status of Major Shipbuilding in U. S. Commercial Shipyards File.

This file contains a report on the status of major shipbuilding in U. S. commercial shipyards prepared in the Division of Production from the Navy Report and shipyard and from Shipyard Form MA 832 or equivalent showing the shipbuilding industry workload projection and building position utilization of all merchant and Navy ships.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

562. Shipbuilding Progress Report File. This file contains the Shipbuilding Progress Report on Differential Subsidy construction, private construction, and a summary sheet regarding progress of merchant ships. The report shows the name of the contractor, design hull number, builder hull number, vessel name, vessel owner, percentage of completion, contract award date, and construction dates (keel, launch and delivery).

Dispose of when 25 years old.

563. Naval Sea Systems Command Monthly Progress Reports. This file contains a report of Naval Sea Systems Command Monthly Progress for shipbuilding and conversion of ships and service craft in the U. S. for the U. S. navy and the Security Assistance Program.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

564. Reading File. This file consists of a copy of outgoing letters, prepared in the Division Records Management group and maintained in chronological order.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

Division of Naval Architecture

565. Design Classification Sheets File. This file contains issue design numbers based on the principal characteristics of the design of ships built under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended.

566. CDS Application File. This file contains pending, active, completed, and inactive applications, correspondence, and plans submitted by the shipowner for Construction-Differential Subsidy under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. It is used as a basis for application review.

Dispose of 10 years after the application is withdrawn or cancelled, or 10 years after the last ship to be constructed under contract has been delivered, whichever is earlier.

567. National Defense Features File. This file contains documents on national defense features on specific ships, correspondence, and supplements to specifications. It is used to determine how modifications of the ship would affect national defense capability, and as a source document to reply to inquiries by the Navy Department.

Dispose of when 30 years old.

568. National Defense Features Plans File. This file contains plans of ships built and to be built under the Construction-Differential Subsidy Program, Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. It is used as a source for determining what features are on ships built under this program.

Dispose of when 30 years old, or when no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

569. Ship Specifications File. This file contains ship specifications which are detailed descriptions of the way ships are built with Construction-Differential Subsidies under Title V of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended. The file is used to review necessary appropriateness in preparing the contract; to design new ships; and as an historical reference.

Dispose of when 30 years old.

570. Design Correspondence File. This file contains correspondence on design changes, addendums, granting of subsidy for change, approvals of change and other documents relating to design. The file is used to determine how current design was arrived at, and as an historical reference.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

571. Company-Agency Correspondence File. This file contains correspondence from companies and agencies on subjects not identifiable with any part of the Construction-Differential Subsidy program and cannot be filed under a specific design number.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

572. Program Budget File. This file contains the budget call, budget submittal, and the total operating budget request for the Construction-Differential Subsidy program.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

573. Policy. This file contains maritime policy, CDS policy, and ship construction policy.

Dispose of when superseded.

574. Program Subject File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, vessel or any other specific entity under which papers could be filed. Examples of such subjects are: bulk carriers, cargo preference, crew's quarters, LNG tankers, national defense features, model testing, tonnage measurements, and similar documents.

Start a new file every 3 years. Move active papers forward.
Dispose of when 10 years old.

575. Committees - Panels File. This file contains reports, minutes, notices of meetings, and correspondence pertaining to committees, and panels of which MarAd professional engineers are members who promote MarAd interests and improve the Merchant Marine.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

576. Administrative Subject File. This file contains papers on matters such as time and attendance,* personnel, space, requisitions for services, and similar housekeeping requirements.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

577. Plans - Technical Documents File. This file contains plans and technical documents used to administer changes under contract; approval of conversion of principal characteristics; and as an historical reference.

Dispose of when 30 years old.

578. Maritime Prepositioning Program File. This file contains plans prepared by shipbuilder designers for ships to be built by MarAd for use by the U. S. under the Maritime Prepositioning Program. Also contains correspondence and reports.

- a. Plans. Dispose of when 30 years old.
- b. Correspondence and Reports. Dispose of 5 years after ship is delivered.

579. Program Administration File. This file contains papers, such as ship lists, naval architecture, project managers' manual, navigation channels, and similar papers which serve as the basis for managing the Naval Architecture Program.

Dispose of when superseded.

580. Visual Aids This file contains slides, Vu-graphs, and photographs presented to the MarAd staff and to members of Congress, the Department of Defense, professional groups and others who have a legitimate interest in the Mobilization Ship Project.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

581. Mobilization Project File. This file contains design data, reports, solicitations, proposal evaluations, contracts, invoices, financial data, correspondence and technical documents on the Mobilization Project, under which ships will be built in large numbers should a national emergency arise.

Dispose of when project is completed.

582. Plans File. This file contains plans of ships under construction and completed under the Construction-Differential Subsidy Program.

Dispose of when 30 years old.

583. Title XI Recommendation File. This file contains memoranda, supporting papers, correspondence with shipyards, shipowners, other Federal agencies, contracts, and technical information on ships to be built under the Construction-Differential Subsidy Program (Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended).

584. Shipbuilding Progress Report File. This file contains: (1) The status of progress being made on ships under Construction-Differential Program and under private Construction-Shipbuilding Progress Report, issued monthly; (2) permanent report of completed ship construction contracts; and (3) summary of ships built during World War II.

- a. Monthly Reports. Dispose of when 5 years old.
- b. Completed Ship Construction. Dispose of when superseded.
- c. Summaries. Permanent. Offer to National Archives when 30 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

585. Technical Design Comments File. This file contains MarAd comments on designs submitted by shipowners to MarAd for Construction-Differential Subsidy funds. The comments are sent to the shipowner with a covering letter, so that he will modify specifications -- those he must make for approval of his design and those which will improve the design. The file is used in ship conversion; MarAd determines if optional suggestions were followed.

Transfer closed files to WNRC every 5 years. Dispose of when 20 years old.

586. Specifications File. This file contains Federal, military, and other organizational documents by referenced standard specifications on components, hardware, materials, and similar types of specifications, not including ship specifications.

Dispose of when superseded.

587. Outside Design File. This file contains designs whose source is outside, hydrofoils, naval ships, in-house designs and related designs. The file is used in designing new ships.

Dispose of when 15 years old.

588. Preliminary Design Studies File. This file contains working documents leading to a study to determine the feasibility of a projected design in its broadest aspects. The design is modified as it progresses to its final form. It also contains reports and design summaries.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

589. Offsets Punched Cards. This file contains measurements of ships that define a hull shape of a ship, prepared from drawings and transcribed to punched cards.

DISPOSAL NOT AUTHORIZED.

590. Computer Program Punched Card File. This file contains computer programs on punched cards relative to the design of ships built under Title V and XI of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, in-house or by outside designers.

~~Dispose of when no longer needed.~~

DISPOSAL NOT AUTHORIZED.

591. Title XI Plans, Applications, and Specifications File. This file contains plans, applications, and specifications pertaining to ships built under Title XI, Construction Differential Subsidy. The file is used by MarAd officials on inspection trips.

Transfer to WNRC 1 year after inspection of vessel. Dispose of when 5 years old.

592. Owner-Contractor Green Sheets File. This file contains correspondence from shipowners or shipyards regarding the transmittal of plans and a route slip for routing correspondence for comment.

Dispose of when contract is closed.

OFFICE OF SHIPBUILDING COSTS

The Office of Shipbuilding Costs collects, analyzes, and maintains data on the relative costs of shipbuilding in the United States and in foreign countries; calculates and recommends the amount of Construction-Differential Subsidy; prepares cost estimates, invitations to bid, and recommendations for the award of ship construction type contracts; authorizes progress payments; prepares cost estimates of changes in contract plans and specifications, adjudicates change orders, and recommends approval of cost settlements and contract addenda; secures, analyzes and maintains data on domestic and world market values of ships; directs and coordinates a pollution abatement program to protect and enhance the quality of the marine environment by control and abatement of ship-generated pollution; and coordinates implementation of the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1963 within the Administration.

Office of the Director

593. Administrative Subject File. Consists of office copies of items of an administrative nature, including personnel, position description, Senior Executive Service (SES), training, EEO, and other housekeeping matters.

Dispose of when 5 years old or when no longer needed for current business, whichever is earlier.

594. Project File. Includes copies of project proposal, correspondence and recommendations to Maritime Subsidy Board on foreign centers and proposed subsidy rates.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business or when 10 years old, whichever is earlier.

595. Program Subject File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, vessel or other specific entity. Examples are: Bulk carriers, LNG, computer-aided activities, Construction-Differential Subsidy, energy conservation, foreign construction of vessels, hospital ships, oil spills, U. S. shipyard modernization, Title XI (vessel cost approval).

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

596. Shipowner-Shipbuilder Company File. This file consists of shipowner-shipbuilder documents such as Title V, Construction-Differential Subsidy, Title XI, ship financing guarantees, cost data, technical reference regarding subsidies and other maritime benefits to the shipowner.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

597. Ship Appraisals Correspondence and Administrative File. Contains Ship Appraisals provided under contract by 4 independent appraisers. This information, as well as independently developed appraisals, are programmed into computer systems resulting in semi-annual Ship Appraisal Report provided to the Ship Valuation Center. Used to determine trade-in values and insurance valuations.

Dispose of when 10 years old or when no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

598. Ship Valuation Committee Correspondence and Minutes. Contains correspondence with minutes of, and miscellaneous special cases of, the Ship Valuation Committee.

Minutes of Ship Valuation Committee:

599. Reading File. This file consists of an extra copy of documents signed by the director, his superiors, and subordinates, arranged chronologically.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

Division of Foreign Costs

600. Program Subject File. Research Data Base: Includes copies and excerpts from U. S. and foreign trade publications, collected and used on a continuing basis to provide information on costs in foreign shipyards. Material used to develop foreign costs estimates and recommendations for submission to the Maritime Subsidy Board and in briefing agency officials visiting overseas areas. Included in this file is a history of the methods and procedures for determining cost differential subsidies covering the period 1954 to present.

Dispose of when 10 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever is earlier.

601. Country File. Contains information on shipbuilding facilities, capabilities and experience in a given country. Information is gathered from industry publications and journals, MarAd overseas representative and directly from companies concerned. Includes correspondence. Information is used to help establish foreign ship building centers for a particular class and type of ship.

Dispose of when 10 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

602. Quarterly Report on World Shipbuilding (Vessels 5000 DWT and over). This file contains narrative reports based on subject and country files. The report is used as a basis of recommendation on Cost Differential Subsidy submitted to the Maritime Subsidy Board.

- a. Reports. Dispose of when 25 years old.
- b. Backup material and work papers: Dispose of 2 years after the report is issued.

603. Administrative Subject File. Consists of office copies of routine office operations and procedures. Includes personnel, training, comments on proposed policy matters, budget, Time and Attendance, requisitions for supply and services, travel, trip reports and other housekeeping matters.

Dispose of when 5 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever occurs first.

604. LNG Project File. This file contains contracts, news clips, telexes, transcripts, correspondence, and memoranda. This file serves as a source to advise industry and other Government agencies on LNG projects and LNG construction.

Official papers (correspondence and LNG): Dispose of when 15 years old.

Work and reference papers: Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

605. Economic File. This file contains publications, cablegrams, news clips, statistics on labor costs, material costs, foreign exchange routes, international trade, and financial data used as a source to advise the staff on economic conditions and costs on foreign shipbuilding countries.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

606. Foreign Estimates Project File. Contain correspondence and work papers including contract guidance plans and specifications submitted with applications for construction subsidy. The information is used to develop independent cost factors and to provide recommendations on cost differential subsidies to the Maritime Subsidy Board.

- a. Official papers (correspondence and estimates of foreign costs):
Dispose of when 15 years old.
- b. Work and reference papers: Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

Division of Domestic Costs

607. Contract Subsidy File. Bid and correspondence files documenting the methodology of contract subsidy, procedures and methods. Used as backup to certain types of contract files. Primarily consist of completed contracts for purposes of developing current procedures and methods and contracts.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

608. Program Administration File. Work papers and Program Administrative files.

Official papers: Dispose of when 10 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever is earlier.

Work papers: Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

609. Administrative Subject File. Papers concerned with routine office procedures and operations, requisitions, equipment inventory and other house-keeping files, etc., including office copy of Time and Attendance Report* submitted biweekly.

Dispose of when 3 years old or no longer needed for current business, whichever is earlier.

610. New Construction Applications and Estimates of Cost File. Contains cost estimating details, correspondence and data submitted by owners and shipyards. Material reviewed to determine eligibility for subsidy, develops independent cost estimates, negotiates price adjustments as appropriate, determines "reasonable" costs and provides recommendations for final determination and action by the Maritime Subsidy Board.

- a. Transfer to WNRC 5 years after acceptance by owner.
- b. Dispose of when 25 years old.

611. Pre-Contract Application File. Contains detailed cost estimates developed by shipyards prior to letting contract. Reviewed to determine validity of costs. Independent estimates are generated; previous work by same contractor is examined and used for comparison purposes. Correspondence is filed in folder separate from the application file.

Transfer to WNRC when 6 years old. Dispose of when 10 years old.

612. Annual Report to Congress - "Relative Cost of Shipbuilding in the Various Districts of the U. S." Backup data and analysis; work papers and 1 copy of each report.

613. Contract File. This file contains copies of contract document, amendments, etc. Correspondence placed in auxiliary file.

Transfer to WNRC when 5 years old. Dispose of when 25 years old.

614. Contract Correspondence File. Filed by contract number as ancillary file, contains all correspondence concerned with a given contract.

Transfer to WNRC with contract when 5 years old. Dispose of when 25 years old.

615. Progress Payment Documents. Progress payment requests and approvals.

Dispose of progress payment document when all outstanding matters are settled for the contract.

Final payment documentation held with contract.

616. Obligations. Filed by contract number. These files document the obligation of funds to cover costs of national defense features built into vessels. Plan proves running plus prorated contract amount, escalation, change order.

Transfer to WNRC when 5 years old. Dispose of when 25 years old.

617. Change Orders to Contracts. Monitored to determine and authorize additional costs or payments (payment approval mechanism)

Transfer to WNRC when 5 years old. Dispose of when 25 years old.

618. Closure File. Primarily financial documents, containing details of construction costs. Totals reconciled between payments and obligations.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

619. Memos of Agreement. Informal document used to permit contractor to build. This is used in lieu of formal contract amendment. Provides Title V tabulations and breakdown of costs. Used to establish basis of recommendation to Subsidy Board.

Transfer to WNRC when ² years old. Dispose of when 5 years old.

620a Withdrawal Files for Title XI Construction Loan and Mortgage Guarantees. Document the withdrawal of funds under construction/loan and mortgage guarantees.

Dispose of 5 years after ship is delivered.

621. Contract Change Estimate File. Copies of application for subsidy or changes to ship construction plans includes drawings, specifications and estimated costs submitted by owners or shipyards to support application. Used to determine (a) eligibility under subsidy criteria; (b) to prepare independent cost estimates; (c) to negotiate appropriate financing, as necessary, and (d) to prepare recommendations for the Maritime Subsidy Board.

Send to WNRC 5 years after delivery of ship.

Dispose of when 25 years old.

622. Title XI File, Applications for Loan Guarantees. Applications for guarantee of obligations (submitted by owners) to aid in securing financing of construction costs, files used to determine compliance with the Maritime Act, reasonableness of cost estimates so that a commitment memo may be issued. Construction progress is monitored to certify and authorize payments as work on vessels is completed.

Destroy when 3 years old.

623. Reading File. This file consists of all extra copies of documents prepared or signed in the office, maintained in date order.

Dispose of when 3 years old or when no longer needed for current business, whichever comes earlier.

Division of Environmental Activities

624. Program Subject File. Contains correspondence, comments, reports, proposed regulations, affecting the environment from outside organizations at the Federal, state and international level. Includes International Conferences and Agreements, Bilateral and Regional agreements concerning various aspects of environmental activities (EA) affecting pollution by marine systems. Also includes documentation of MarAd participation.

- a. Official documents such as MarAd prepared EIS's and comments on EIS's by other agencies and organizations and related documentation. Transfer to WNRC when 10 years old. Dispose of when 25 years old.
- b. Working Papers: Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

625. Quarterly Pollution Abatement Report. This document provides a continuing chronology of environmental concerns of the MarAd and highlights those of current concern, particularly vessel source pollution. Source: Program Subject documentation, Federal Register items, technical journals, news clippings, EA weekly activity reports including advice on shipbuilding and reconstruction to provide appropriate control measures and means of utilizing dock-side facilities to treat ballast, tank and other effluents. Provides the Assistant Secretary for Maritime Affairs with highlights of current environmental concerns of MarAd. Report receives limited distribution to MarAd offices and other Federal agencies.

- a. Quarterly Pollution Abatement Report: Transfer to WNRC when 10 years old. Dispose of when 25 years old.
- b. Backup Materials: Dispose of 1 year after submission of report.

OFFICE OF SHIP OPERATIONS

The Office of Ship Operations formulates national policies and programs for the operation, maintenance and repair of Administration-owned or acquired merchant ships, conduct of ship condition surveys, maintenance of the national defense reserve fleet, including the ship preservation programs, and related ship operations activities; recommends terms of and administers general agency, charter, and related agreements for operation of ships; awards or recommends approval of the award of ship repair contracts; administers the ship sales program; provides safety engineering services; approves or recommends approval of transfers of ships to foreign ownership, registry or flag; develops plans for the acquisition, allocation, and operation of merchant ships in time of national emergency and administer these activities, as required.

626. Employee Accident Report. This report is submitted by the supervisor when his subordinates (MarAd employees) are injured on the job or when they are leaving the premises.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

Division of Ship Management

627. Division Chief's Program Subject File. This file contains correspondence, memoranda, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they do not concern a specific shipowner, a specific vessel, or any other specific entity. Examples are: MarAd advisories, use agreements, disputes, salvage, ship components, and vessel operating expense.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

628. Foreign Transfer Vessel File. This file contains applications and supporting papers filed with MarAd by U. S. citizens pursuant to the provisions of the Shipping Act of 1916 for permission to transfer ships to alien flags.

This file contains copies of contracts, reports, proposals, evaluation, correspondence, memoranda, technical performance on the job, technical materials, supporting papers, and other documents related to projects conducted in the following areas; fleet management technology, ship performance, and safety.

Transfer to WNRC when 3 years old. Dispose of when 10 years old.

752. Final Report File. This file consists of reports submitted by research contractors concerning all aspects of completed research projects.

Dispose of when 10 years old.

753. Office Subject File. This file contains correspondence, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records which are filed under a subject because they do not concern a specific individual or thing. Examples of such subjects are: cooperative agreements, research and development reports, cargo handling, pollution abatement, and similar subjects which cannot be filed under a specific program file.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

754. Reading File. This file consists of a copy of documents prepared and signed in the office, arranged in chronological order.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

OFFICE OF MARITIME TECHNOLOGY

The Office of Maritime Technology conducts basic research to raise the level of marine scientific knowledge and advance the technological base on which ships are designed to provide construction and operating systems for a more productive and competitive merchant marine. Conducts research in hydrodynamics, structures, oceanography, and other subjects which have a bearing on improvements in the merchant marine, including institutional and university research in marine science and technology appropriate to maritime affairs. Identifies areas of research to enhance present systems and design new systems responsive to types of cargo and conditions of trade routes and offshore structures. Conducts exploratory research into advanced ship concepts such as tug-barge systems, express cargo systems, neobulk and bulk cargo shipping systems, and industrial plant vessels. Investigates use of advanced electronic systems to enhance ship efficiency and productivity.

755. R and D Contracts - Project File. This file consists of copies of contracts, amendments, accepted proposals, evaluations, documentation, background and supporting papers, technical reference, and similar documents created in the areas of advanced ship systems, marine sciences, industrial plant vessels, and navigation and communications.

Dispose of 7 years after contract has been terminated.

756. Rejected Proposals File. This file contains proposals to perform research submitted by contractors to MarAd, and rejected by the Assistant Administrator for Commercial Development or by program managers because of technical inadequacies or funding limitations.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

757. Program Development Files. This file contains instructions for program development, drafts, correspondence, and background data, including budget preparation and plans for the development of advanced ship systems, communication and navigation, market analysis, maritime sciences, industrial plant vessels, university programs and technology transfer.

Dispose of 2 years after completion of all projects in the pertinent program.

758. Program Subject File. This file consists of correspondence, memoranda, and other documents pertaining to the substantive portion of office records that are filed under subjects because they lack a specific individual or thing, to file them under. Examples of subjects in this file are: auxiliary power defense unit, heeling rudder concept, spread spectrum test, U.S. Coast Guard, Arctic Trafficability Study, SNAMM marine system, aeronautics and space activities.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

759. Contracting Source Information File. This file contains brochures and pamphlets submitted by potential contractors as a perspective of their capabilities. It is used to prepare a list of eligible contractors.

Dispose of when potential contractor is no longer in business.

760a Visual Aids. This file contains original, Vugraphs and camera copy slides presented to the staff industry, shipyards, and other Government agencies, to tell the Maritime Technology story.

see Appendix I for details

761. Ship Structures Committee. This file consists of reports, minutes, programs, joint meetings, university grants research, correspondence, and supporting documents related to the funding of committee activities, active projects funded by the Committee, whose primary function is to sponsor research.

Dispose of 1 year after project has been completed.

762. Committees Reports. This file consists of reports, submitted by committees established to solve specific maritime communication and navigational problems, and working papers. The working papers are used to write a report, develop a project, and define an area for contractual work; the reports are used as a source document for development, planning, specification and design of system architecture, and in the preparation of contracts.

a. Working Papers. Dispose of when issue has been resolved.

b. Reports. Dispose of when superseded or when no longer needed for current business, whichever comes first.

THE NATIONAL MARITIME RESEARCH CENTER

The National Maritime Research Center identifies specific problems of the maritime industry, recommends work to alleviate these problems, and serves as the focal point to bring together institutions, industries and municipalities for purpose of identification of requirements and dissemination of research and development results for users. The Center provides support to the Maritime Administration for specific projects and recommends introduction of applicable results into the maritime industry by the most beneficial means. The Center also provides a test capability to support Maritime Administration programs for which experimental evaluation is required. It establishes testing techniques and provides testing services for use by the maritime industry.

763. Research and Development Program Subject File. The file consists of documentation generated or collected by the Director and his Laboratory Managers pertaining to specific programs in operation and those under development. These records are used to facilitate decision making and maintaining executive oversight of all the Research and Development activities.

Dispose of when 5 years old or when purpose has been served, whichever is sooner.

764. NMRC Documentation Management Files. Contains an official file copy of each technical report or unpublished manuscript of a report prepared in connection with a project, article reprints, terminal narratives, statistical and graphic compilations, summarizations and analyses.

Dispose of when no longer needed for current business.

765. Research and Development Technical Reference. Consists of technical reports, background papers, specifications, and other technical and scientific data generated by the office or received from Government agencies, commercial concerns, or other sources. The data are used as a reference source in the performance of the research and development function, but supplementary to the official file copies of these documents.

Dispose of the individual documents or contents of the file when superseded or no longer needed for current business, whichever is sooner.

766. Research Contract Case File. These are record copies of contracts awarded to private qualified institutions and organizations for research projects. The file case contains a copy of the contract and any pertinent amendments or modifications with related papers pertaining to the content of the project, status and payments as prescribed in the contract. The case also contains a copy of the approved final report. Although a fiscal contract case file on a research contract is maintained in the procurement activity, it does not duplicate these case files which contain primarily all of the authoritative program papers. Cases are closed upon receipt and approval of the final report.

Dispose of 10 years and 3 months after closure of contract.

767. Research Program Subject File (CAORF). Consists of program documents and correspondence maintained by the office responsible for the execution, review, and analysis of the Computer Aided Operations Research Facility program, and also the general planning and supervision of the system.

Dispose of the individual documents or contents of the file when superseded or no longer needed for current business, whichever is sooner.

768. Computer Aided Operations Research Facility (CAORF) Systems File. Records maintained at the CAORF Facility in Samuels Hall reflect a complete history of the project from initiation through research, development design, and testing to completion. Included are procurement documents, consisting of a copy of each contract or agreement for research services with related modifications, changes or addenda; project authorization documents; project cards, technical characteristics; test and trial results; drawings and specifications considered to be essential to document design, modifications and engineering development; technical and progress reports; notice of completion or cancellation; reference to the location of prototype models, films; and correspondence influencing the course of action taken on a project.

~~Permanent. Offer to transfer to the National Archives 10 years after the contract is terminated.~~

DISPOSAL NOT AUTHORIZED.

769. Research Report File (CAORF). Contains an official file copy of each technical report or unpublished manuscript of a report prepared in connection with a project, article reprints, terminal narratives, statistical and graphic compilations, summarizations and analyses.

~~Permanent. Offer to transfer to the National Archives 10 years after the CAORF system is terminated.~~

Dispose of when no longer required for current business.

770. SS Manhattan Arctic Marine Project. The file consists of technical reports, various support documentation and raw data. Included are full scale icebreaking tests, model tests and analytic design studies, feasibility design of new ice-breaking tankers, feasibility design of an Arctic marine terminal, and environmental studies. The records in custody of NMRC are made available to select members of U. S. industry and foreign governments for the technical exchange of data from the Manhattan experiments.

- a. Official Documents.

~~Permanent. Offer for transfer to National Archives when no longer needed for current business.~~

Disposal Not Authorized.

- b. Working papers. ~~Dispose of when purpose has been served.~~

Disposal Not Authorized.

771. NS Savannah Project Files. This file consists of reports and records pertaining to the construction and operation of the Nuclear Ship Savannah. Included in the files are training records, vendor drawings, ships design, ship repair, nuclear instrumentation safety system, dry docking, progress reports; ship operations, specifications, instruction manuals, contracts, progress reports, and similar type documents.

- a. Official Documents.

~~Permanent. Offer for transfer to National Archives when no longer needed for current business.~~

Disposal Not Authorized.

- b. Working papers. ~~Dispose of when purpose has been served.~~

Disposal Not Authorized.

772. Management Control Reports. These are copies of reports and correspondence that are collected or generated to maintain management control of the program activities. They include such items as obligation and cost reports, activities reports, expense statements for administrative costs, project narratives, budgets, production reports and other similar reports that pertain to the program.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

773. Procurement File. These are office copies of requisitions and purchase orders for services and other objects. Procurement and fiscal accountability are maintained in the Procurement and Budget and Accounts Activities.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

774. Finance and Budget Control Reports. This file consists of financial and budget reports of the Research Center. Included is the status of research and development operations.

Dispose of when 3 years old.

775. Office Chronological Files (Reading Files). The file consists of chronologically filed copies of incoming and outgoing correspondence, and memorandums prepared or signed by the Director or his Division Chiefs.

Dispose of when 5 years old.

776. Invoice Files. These are office copies of invoices with related schedule of withdrawals and credits, subscriptions, bills, and similar documents.

Dispose of when 2 years old.

U. S. MERCHANT MARINE ACADEMY (USMMA)

The U. S. Merchant Marine Academy is under the direction and supervision of a Superintendent who reports to the Assistant Secretary for Maritime Affairs.

Immediate Office of the Superintendent

The Immediate Office of the Superintendent is responsible for planning and directing the activities of the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy.

Deputy Superintendent

The Deputy Superintendent is responsible for:

- Advanced planning for the Academy, including planning for future needs of the Academy's physical plant and equipment to meet future marine occupations.
- Planning, directing, and coordinating Academy functions and activities involving Congressmen, dignitaries, and other high-level officials.

Chaplains' Office

The Chaplains' Office, staffed by U. S. Navy Chaplains assigned by the Department of the Navy, provides for and gives support and general direction to a program of religious and spiritual activities for Midshipmen.

(NOTE: The files of the Chaplains' Office are kept as part of the files of the Immediate Office of the Superintendent.)

External Affairs Office

The External Affairs Office:

Provides for the admittance of Midshipmen to the Academy in accordance with criteria approved by the Assistant Secretary for Maritime Affairs.

Conducts studies of the validity of existing criteria for admission and recommends revisions to such criteria, when appropriate. Maintains liaison with alumni groups for the benefit of the Academy, conducts activities toward obtaining suitable maritime employment for graduates of the Academy, maintains up-to-date records of graduates, and prepares studies and reports of their employment status.

Provides for the dissemination of information about the Academy through news media, personal appearances, public events, speeches by Academy officials, and audio-visual aids, subject to policy direction and clearance, as appropriate, by the Headquarters Public Affairs Officer.

Provides non-academic counseling to Midshipmen.

Immediate Office of the Superintendent

777. Academy Program File. Programmatic and transaction documents used to formulate and execute the Academy's program. Includes: agenda and minutes; agreements; comments, requests, recommendations, or proposals; evaluations, reports, or studies; schedules, statistics, or summaries; instructions; background or work papers; correspondence or memoranda; and comparable or related documents concerning policy, plans, issues, goals, and objectives relating to: mission and functions; operations and workloads; budgets; committees; meetings and conferences; inspections and official visits; future needs; and other topics pertinent to developing, directing, and reviewing the Academy's program.
