	These records were accumulated by a reactor facilities which was used for research and development testing. Operating logs are maintained as verification of safe operating of the reactor facility. The operating log and health physics records should be retained for 65 years (General Accounting Office Decision B-180225 (R0043), (R0044), and (R0084)). The rationale for this addition and change is in order to protect the US Government from legal suits and EPA inquiries.
