SUMMARY: [REDACTED]

Attached received from Legat, Buenos Aires advises as follows:
 Jorge Antonio, a former official in the Argentine Government of Juan Peron, reportedly has frequent contact with members of the Argentine army regarding ouster of incumbent President Estela Peron. Antonio claims to have an agreement with Argentine army leaders to refinance Argentina's foreign debt in exchange for documentary evidence showing corruption on the part of President Estela Peron. Antonio is an international financier who has been living abroad since the military coup which overthrew Juan Peron in 1955.
 Antonio arranged a meeting of Legat source with the Secretary General of the Argentine Army High Command in Buenos Aires on March 14, 1976. The Secretary General stated that the Argentine army would oust President Estela Peron during March 17-18, 1976. Following this ouster the Argentine military desires close cooperation with the United States, would install civilians into government posts, and would establish a contact with International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation to take over the telephone company which is in a disastrous state.
 Jorge Antonio intends to return to Argentina from abroad on March 20, 1976.
