Code Girls: What’s in a name?
Cara Moore Lebonick, National Archives at St. Louis
Archives Reference Specialist
Contact info: cara.lebonick@nara.gov

https://connectingvets.radio.com/articles/womens-history-month-female-wwii-veterans-have-their-first-reunion-over-70-years

“Code Girls “could hold the titles:
- cryptographer
- cryptanalyst
- messenger, ensign (with specialized training)
- Officer (with specialized training or overseeing those with training)
- information specialist
- translator
- division leader
- IBM mechanic
- et cetera

Personnel Records:
Official Personnel Folders (OPFs) are the personnel records generated for federal government employees by federal agencies of the Executive Branch

Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs) are the personnel records generated for military service members by the military branches

The National Archives at St. Louis operates as the Personnel Records Center branch of the National Archives and holds all OPFs and OMPFs.

Seals of:
- Department of Commerce
- Department of the Air Force
- Department of the Army
- Department of the Navy (which all 3 make up the Department of Defense presently)
- Department of State
- Department of Justice
- U.S. Army
- U.S. Marine Corps
- U.S. Navy
- U.S. Coast Guard

The representative logos shown on the slide 9 are just some of the known parent agencies and branches involved in cryptographic work.
SF50:
A SF50 is the form federal agencies use to announce a change in status for a federal employee. This change can be pay grade, title, salary, resignation, or start to service.

Information to include in a request:
To alleviate problems or questions in a request be sure to include full names, including middle name or state specifically No Middle Name, and any known name variation. It is also helpful to include articles or sources that lead you to believe the individual may have a military or federal employee personnel record.

U.S. Feminism:
• 1st wave feminism- roughly beginning of suffrage movement – World War II (WWII)
• 2nd wave feminism-roughly 1960s–80s

Requesting these records:

OMPF - SF180 submitted via postal mail or through eVetRecs:
• https://www.archives.gov/veterans/military-service-records

OPF - Please provide name, maiden name as applicable, date of birth, employing agency, or best guess, as well as location of employment to:

stl.archives@nara.gov or National Archives
Archival Department
1 Archives Dr.
St. Louis, MO 63138

If you believe federal service may have gone beyond 1952, please submit your request in writing with a signature to:

National Personnel Record Center
Civilian Personnel Records Annex
1411 Boulder Blvd
Valmeyer, IL 62295