OH, THE STORIES THEY TELL: Chinese Exclusion Acts Case Files at the National Archives & Records Administration

Although the search for a Chinese Exclusion Act Case File may be difficult and challenging, the rewards can be great as these files may contain a treasure trove of information for the family and social historian. While limited to a specific ethnic group the richness of the records will have everyone scrambling to find a reason to use them.

Interrogations

Applicant sworn, testified:

Q What is your name?

A Mrs. Yee Shing; my maiden name was Mary Kasky. (Speaks English)

Q Of what race or blood are you?

A I am a Finlander.

Q Where were you born?

A I was born in the state of Michigan.

Q Who is this gentleman that accompanies you? (Indicating Yee Shing)

A That is my husband, Yee Shing.

Q You have made an application for a return certificate in order to accompany your husband to China. Have you any property in this country or any debts due you?

A Yes, my husband and I own jointly a five room house in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, which stands in our names jointly. We paid $2500 when we bought it and we put $2000 for improvements.

Q The title to that property stands in your names at this time?

A Yes.

Q On your return do you intend to occupy the house again?

A Yes, we have it rented now.

Q Did your husband exhibit the deed to this property to the officers in Minneapolis?

A Yes, Mr. Seaman saw it, also the tax papers.

(Rights and duties as to return explained to applicant.)

Forms also give personal glimpses into family life

Yee Shing, alias Harry Yee, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, is making application for return certificate as a laborer under Rule 12 of the Chinese Regulations. His application is based upon duplicate certificate of residence No. 144812 and a five room house situated at 518 North Minnesota Ave., Sioux Falls, S. D. He has submitted a warranty deed and his last tax receipt covering this property, and I am of the opinion that he is entitled to the return certificate.

He has also made application for return certificates under Rule 16 of the Chinese Regulations for his five American born children, Lillian Yee, Vincent Yee, Eugene Yee, Edwin Yee, and June Yee. Birth certificates for each of these children have been furnished, and I have no doubt that they are citizens of the United States as alleged. Separate applications have been taken for each of the children for the reason that it may be that they will return to the United States at different times. The wife of Yee Shing, and mother of these children, is a white woman of the Finnish race, born in the state of Michigan. She is also going with Yee Shing and his children, and, of course, does not require any certificate under the Chinese Exclusion Law.

. . . and show that INS didn't even always understand the laws

This needs paper.
Inspector Holtov is wrong.

How do you prove you are who you say you are?

---

- Interrogations often focused on identification of family members in photos and descriptions of places the person was supposed to know.
  - Hand drawn maps by parent and child used for comparison
  - Fill-in-the-blank maps for persons who were returning to a city in which they claimed to have formerly lived

Interrogations

- Information varied depending on a person's situation but usually included
  - name(s), age, place of birth, marital status, place of marriage, occupation
- May include
  - names of parents and siblings and where they live
  - number and names of children
  - travel history
  - descriptions of cities, towns and villages

Merchant? Laborer?

- Files contain documentation to help support and reject a person's status
  - Photos provides an interesting glimpse of 20th century business life in the U.S.
  - Can be used to show the development of business districts
