

IMMIGRATION JOURNEY

Where in the world is your family originally from?

Draw your family journey on the world map.

Draw a line from one of your ancestor's places of origin to where they first settled in the United States. (The location doesn't need to be exact.)

On the line, write the approximate date your ancestors came to the United States.

List other interesting facts you might know about your family's immigration story (why they left their home to come to the United States).
