

How can I do online research in the Federal Register ?

- Search the FR for documents in all issues from 1995 to present, at:
 - ✧ http://www.access.gpo.gov/su_docs/aces/aces140.html
 - » 1994 FR documents are available in a separate database.
- Browse the FR table of contents using the hyperlinks to retrieve documents in today's issue, or in any issue from 1998 to present, at:
 - ✧ www.archives.gov/federal_register/the_federal_register/indexes.html
 - » You can also view the FR TOC in either HTML or PDF.
- Check Documents in the News for high profile and frequently requested FR documents, at:
 - ✧ <http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/index.html>

How can I do online research in the CFR ?

- Visit <http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/index.html> and follow the links to:
 - ✧ Search or Browse your choice of CFR titles and/or volumes using the tables of contents in any volume from 1997 to present:
 - ✧ Retrieve CFR sections or subparts by citation in any volume from 1997 to present:
 - ✧ Search the entire CFR by keyword in any current volume

How can I be Sure my CFR Research is up to date?

- Visit <http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/lisa/aboutlisa.html>, to:
 - ✧ Check the “LSA” (List of CFR Sections Affected):
 - » Final changes to CFR sections in the last 12 month’s FR issues.
 - » Also lists proposed changes to CFR parts.
 - ✧ Check “Last Month’s List of CFR Parts Affected”
 - » Final and proposed changes to CFR parts in last month’s FR issues.
 - ✧ Check the “Current List of CFR Parts Affected”
 - » Final and proposed changes to CFR parts in this month’s FR issues.
 - ✧ Check the “List of CFR Parts Affected Today”
 - » Final and proposed changes to CFR parts in today’s FR.
 - » Use this service for daily monitoring.

What other information on Federal Register publications and services is on the Web ?

- To learn more about Office of the Federal Register publications and services, go to the National Archives and Records Administration's Federal Register home page:

http://www.archives.gov/federal_register

How can the public participate in rulemaking ?

- Citizens have a right to express their views before an agency adopts final rules
- Each Federal Register document tells you:
 - ✧ Whether comments are requested
 - ✧ How, when and where to comment
- Writing effective comments?
 - ✧ Type neatly and cite rulemaking by docket number and other identifying information (subject heading; FR cite)
 - ✧ Include your name and address
 - ✧ Follow directions -- agency may ask you to respond to specific questions or label comments with CFR parts or section numbers
 - ✧ Explain why you agree or disagree; suggest alternatives and substitute language for your requested changes

Customer Service Information

- Phone numbers:

- ✧ FR/CFR, Presidential Documents, US Government Manual: 202/741-6000
- ✧ Electronic and on-line services (voice): 202/741-6020
- ✧ Privacy Act Compilation: 202/741-6064
- ✧ Public Laws Update Services: 202/741-6043
- ✧ TTY: 202/741-6086

- Internet addresses:

- ✧ Full text of FR/CFR: <http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara>
- ✧ FR information and research tools: www.archives.gov/federal_register

- E-mail addresses:

- ✧ Reference questions: fedreg.info@nara.gov
- ✧ PENS: send e-mail to listproc@lucky.fed.gov with the following text message: SUBSCRIBE PUBLAWS-L
<firstname><lastname>

How to Enroll in a Federal Register Workshop

- Call the Office of the Federal Register at 202 741-6010 to register for workshops.
- We offer workshops in Washington DC and in selected cities across the country.
- Look for announcements of dates and locations of future workshops:
 - ✧ In the front pages of the Federal Register.
 - ✧ Online at: www.archives.gov/federal_register