Unhappy Boston! see thy Sons deplore,
 Thy harbor'd Wilks beset with guileless Gore,
 While faithless F— and his savage Bands,
 With murderous Rancour stretch their bloody Hands,
 Or fierce Barbarians gnawing o'er their Prey,
 Grovelling the Carnage mid enjoy the Day.

If healing drops from Illage from August Winds,
 If speechless Sorrowe's Job's ring for a Tongue,
 Or if a weeping World can ought appease,
 The plaintive Chorus of Victims such as these,
 The patriot's tears to Tears for codure shed,
 A glorious Tribute which embalms the Dead.

But know not'st banners to that great Goal,
 When Justice strips the Murtherer of his Soul,
 Shalt'nt verall—to the funeral of the Land,
 Snatch the relentle's Willian from her Hand,
 Keen Execution on this Plate unbid,
 Shall reach a Junon who never can be bid.
