Unhappy Boston! see thy Sons deplore
 Thy harbor'd Wilks beset with guileless Gore
 While faithless F— and his savage Bands
 With murderous Rancour stretch their bloody Hands
 O'er fire-brand Barbarians grinning o'er their Prey
 Who grove the Carnage mid enjoy the Day.

If healing drops from Illage from August Winds
 If speechless Sorrowe's Job's ring for a Tongue
 Or if a weeping World can ought appease
 The plaintive Chorus of Victims such as these
 The patriot's Tears for codure shed,
 A glorious Tribute which embalms the Dead.

But know not'st banners to that great Goal
 When Justice strips the Mind her of her Soul
 Shalt ventur'd— to the funeral of the Land
 Snatch the reluctant's Willian from her Hand
 Keen Execution on this Plate unbid
 Shall reach a Junon who never can be bid
