

Studying 4 Major Issues of the Post-World War I and 1920s Era with Primary Sources

Center for Legislative Archives

Reflection Questions

1. How did U.S. efforts to avoid future wars constitute a break with the foreign policy of the World War I years?
2. How did the tariff policies of 1920s influence America's economic foreign policy?
3. What were major obstacles to African American civil rights in the 1920s?
4. To what extent did the 19th Amendment contribute to gender equality in the U.S.?
5. Which of the 4 issues would be the most relevant to people who draw upon the "lessons of history" to gain insight into issues of today?

www.archives.gov/legislative/resources

