70 YEAS 23 NAYS

TO THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES:

I am today returning without my approval S. 518, a bill which would require Senate confirmation of those who serve as Director and Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget.

This legislation would require the forced removal by an unconstitutional procedure of two officers now serving in the executive branch. This step would be a grave violation of the fundamental doctrine of separation of powers. In view of my responsibilities, it is my firm duty to veto this bill.

Under present law, the Director and Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget are appointed by the President and serve at his pleasure. S. 518 would abolish these two positions effective thirty days after enactment and then provide for their immediate reestablishment. If the officers now lawfully occupying these Office of Management and Budget positions were to continue to serve, they would have to be reappointed by the President, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate.

The constitutional principle involved in this removal is not equivocal; it is deeply rooted in our system of government. The President has the power and authority to remove, or retain, executive officers appointed by the President. The Supreme Court of the United States in a leading decision, Myers v. United States, 272 U.S. 52, 122 (1926), has held that this authority is incident to the power of appointment and is an exclusive power that cannot be infringed upon by the Congress.

I do not dispute Congressional authority to abolish an office or to specify appropriate standards by which the officers may serve. When an office is abolished, the tenure of the incumbent in that office ends. But the power of the Congress to terminate an office cannot be used as a back-door method of circumventing the President's power to remove. With its abolition and immediate re-creation of two offices, S. 518 is a device -- in effect and perhaps in intent -- to accomplish Congressional removal of the incumbents who lawfully hold those offices.

Disapproval of this legislation is also required because of the nature of the positions it would subject to Senate confirmation. For over 50 years the Office of Management and Budget and its predecessor agency, the Bureau of the Budget, has been headed by a Director appointed by the President without Senate confirmation.

The positions of Director and Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget were established in the Executive Office of the President to provide the President with advice and staff support in the performance of his budgetary and management responsibilities. These positions cannot reasonably be equated with cabinet and sub-cabinet posts for which confirmation is appropriate.

The responsible exercise of the separate legislative and executive powers is a demonstration of the workability of the American system. But, if it is to remain workable, I must continue to insist on a strong delineation of power and authority, the basis of which is too fundamental to allow to be undermined by S. 518.

The point was made most succinctly by James Madison in 1789:

> "If there is a principle in our Constitution, indeed in any free constitution more sacred than another, it is that which separates the legislative, executive and judicial powers. If there is any point in which the separation of the legislative and executive powers ought to be maintained with great caution, it is that which relates to officers and offices."

Dear Sirs-

I have been asked by my Broker to write you expressing my disappoval of the NATIONAL SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT of 1934, known as the Fletcher-Rayburn Bill.

On the contrary, I am very much in favor of just such a bill, and I am sincerely hoping that the bill will go through.

It has the approval of my family, and you are to be congratulated when said bill has been passed and becomes a Law. I have some stock, and got badly "stung" in 1929, worse in 1930.

I am wishing you every success in having this passed, with the least possible bother.

Respectfully yours,

We, the undersigned petitioners, citizens of New Jersey, beg most respectfully to represent to your honorable bodies, the Senate and House of Representatives, the alarming state of the country in respect to the appalling prevalence in the Southern States, of that species of lawlessness known as lynching whereby inhabitants of that section are deprived of life without due process of law by gangs of irresponsible and wickedly disposed persons; that the victims of these barbarous outbreaks and outrages are usually members of the Negro race, and that the crimes imputed to them by their self-constituted executioners, but never proved, and for which they suffer death, have ranged all the way from petty larceny to murder; that Negroes have been hanged and shot in the South by lynching mobs on mere suspicion, or because they have incurred the odium of being politically troublesome to the community in which they resided; that human life is frightfully cheap in the South, and that a Negro's life has absolutely no value whatever there when a Southern mob seeks his blood; that the local police power offers him under such circumstances no adequate protection and often times are in actual or virtual connivance with his murderers;

WHEREFORE, your petitioners pray your honorable bodies to make the act of lynching a crime against the United States, to provide for its commission the sternest pains and penalties, and to empower the President of the United States and to make it his duty to intervene whenever and wherever necessary with the armed force of the nation to prevent the commission of this atrocious crime, and to rescue any person or persons from the hands of any mob in any state of the Union, and for the better prevention of lynching your petitioners further pray your honorable bodies, for the creation of a Central Detective Bureau at Washington with branch offices in various parts of the section or sections subject to this kind of lawlessness, for the purpose of collecting and transmitting information promptly to the President relative to the intentions and movements of lynching bodies, and that such information may be used in subsequent prosecuting proceedings against such individuals in the Courts of the United States for violation of the law made and provided in that behalf.

CHANGING ARMISTICE DAY TO VETERANS DAY

MARCH 9, 1954.—Referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed

Mr. MCCULLOCH, from the Committee on the Judiciary, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany H. R. 7786]

The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 7786) to honor veterans on the 11th day of November of each year, a day dedicated to world peace, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

STATEMENT

It is the general purpose of H. R. 7786 to expand the significance of Armistice Day and to change its name to Veterans Day.

Armistice Day was declared a legal public holiday by an act of Congress approved May 13, 1938, to be observed on the 11th day of November of each year, in commemoration of the close of World War I. The holiday was dedicated to the cause of world peace, and has been regarded and observed throughout the land as a day to honor the veterans of the First World War who fought, and especially those who died, for that cause.

Since 1938, however, the United States has been involved in two other military conflicts, World War II and the Korean conflict, in each of which our country sought to advance permanent peace in the world and each of which added millions of veterans to those of World War I who had fought for the same noble objective.

This legislation does not establish a new legal holiday. Rather, it expands the significance of an existing holiday in order that a grateful nation, on a day dedicated to the cause of world peace, may pay proper homage to all its veterans who have contributed so much to that cause and the preservation of our way of life. It is altogether fitting that the United States should honor all of its veterans on a day when those of World War I, in commemoration of the cause of world peace, pause to pay tribute to their comrades who gave their lives fighting for that cause.

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 89th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

Vol. 111 WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1965 No. 84

Senate

(Legislative day of Monday, May 10, 1965)

The Senate met at 12 o'clock meridian, on the expiration of the recess, and was called to order by the President pro tempore.

The Chaplain, Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, D.D., offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, our Father, whose still, small voice invites us to turn aside from the feverish ways of the world: Forgive us that, pursuing our way amid the false standards set up by men who have not Thee in awe, we so often make Thy love too narrow, by false measures of our own.

As we bow at this altar of Thy grace, make us vividly aware that if we live a life of prayer, Thou art present everywhere. Endow and enrich Thy servants in this national body with wisdom and purity of motives in the ministry of public affairs. In these days so fraught with destiny, make them worthy of the Nation's trust, turning to Thee with the fervent vow—

We pledge our hopes, our faith, our lives,
That freedom shall not die.
We pray Thy guidance, strength, and grace,
Almighty God on high.

Amen.

VOTING RIGHTS ACT OF 1965

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair lays before the Senate the unfinished business, which will be stated.

The LEGISLATIVE CLERK. A bill (S. 1564) to enforce the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Under the order previously entered, the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill (S. 1564) to enforce the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The question is on agreeing to the amendment offered by the Senator from Massachusetts [Mr. KENNEDY], on behalf of himself and other Senators, numbered 162, to the amendment in the nature of a substitute, as amended, numbered 124, offered by the Senator from Montana [Mr. MANSFIELD] and the Senator from Illinois [Mr. DIRKSEN].

COMMITTEE MEETINGS DURING SENATE SESSION

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I yield myself one-half minute.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Montana is recognized for one-half minute.

Mr. MANSFIELD. I ask unanimous consent that the Subcommittee on Permanent Investigations of the Committee on Government Operations, the Subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly of the Committee on the Judiciary, and the Committee on Foreign Relations be authorized to meet during the session of the Senate today.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

VOTING RIGHTS ACT OF 1965

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill (S. 1564) to enforce the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. KENNEDY of New York in the chair). The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. KENNEDY of Massachusetts. Mr. President, I yield 7 minutes to the senior Senator from New York.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The senior Senator from New York is recognized for 7 minutes.

Mr. JAVITS. Mr. President, we come now to the closing moments of the debate. I believe it is important to sum up.

First, on the affirmative, I believe we have demonstrated that upon the facts banning the poll tax is justified because it represents in a broad enough area and in enough circumstances an abridgement upon the right to vote which we hold sacred, and which is so fully protected by the Constitution.

Second, I believe that we have shown that the poll tax is not a qualification for voting. It has nothing to do with a person's capacity to understand his responsibilities as a citizen. It is a tax, and it is a tax which represents a burden upon the right to vote and therefore it ought to be banned as an abridgement of the right to vote under the 15th amendment.

Third, we have demonstrated that court decisions upon the subject have not been based upon such a record as we have made in the Senate. Decisions have been made, for example, in a case, such as Breedlove against Suttles, a case with no 15th amendment impact, in which the questions of racial discrimination or the economic impact of a poll tax were not even raised, but in which other questions were raised long before the time when it was possible to make and present, as we have now made and presented, a record of fact upon which a ban by Congress could be based.

Fourth, we point to the recommendation of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, based upon its own hearings, on the ground, as it were, in a poll tax State. Their finding, as they made it public on May 8, reads as follows:

> The requirement that any poll tax be made a prerequisite to voting in any election should be abolished, in view of the fact that poll taxes have been intended and utilized as a means of discrimination in violation of the 15th amendment. In the opinion of the Commission, there can be no reasonable doubt of the power expressly granted to Congress to enforce the 15th amendment.

Finally, we come to the proposal made by the majority leader and the minority leader in their amendment in the nature of a substitute. The following ingredients are missing from it:

First, there is in that proposal no finding of fact—and I make this statement advisedly—and that is a very critically missing ingredient, because that is the basis for a different approach from that which was taken by the Court in Breedlove against Suttles. The evidence of these facts was observed, but the finding is missing. Indeed, the Attorney General's letter asserts that a finding is there, but it is not. So the only way in which to effect the result is by enacting the amendment which we have proposed.
