I am pleased to announce that the Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library at Austin, TX, has entered into Phase Two of our Phased Reopening Plan. The Johnson Library has satisfied all of our Phase Two progression criteria: local public health conditions support reopening; sufficient staff are available; the facility has sufficient supplies of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE); and procedures are in place for safely performing Phase Two work functions, as well as cleaning, social distancing, health assessments, and contact tracing.

The Library will progress to Phase Two according to the procedures announced in NARA Notice 2020-191. The facility will not operate at the full Phase Two staffing levels before October 19. Staff should not return to the worksite until you are contacted by your supervisor and have scheduled your return.

I encourage any NARA employee who needs support or assistance coping with the pandemic to take advantage of the Employee Assistance Program (EAP). EAP services are free, confidential, and available to all NARA employees, supervisors, and family members. EAP counselors are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, by telephone 24/7 at 1-800-222-0364 (TTY 1-888-262-7848) or online at www.FOH4YOU.com. EAP information can also be found at the NARA@work EAP page.

Today's announcement brings us to 18 facilities authorized to enter into Phase Two reopening, 17 facilities in Phase One, and five facilities closed. We will continue to monitor local public health metrics at all NARA facilities and will reopen or close additional facilities when local conditions require a change in NARA's operating status.

Thank you for your patience and flexibility as we carefully reopen our facilities and restore our mission functions and operations.
