Dear agents of the United States, With respect to Case 1:15-cv-00021 before the United States District Court for the District of Utah, shall I consider all the empty shelves in the Federal Regional Depository Library In Logan, Utah (FRDL) and all the un-codified Executive branch websites publishing hidden, fugitive and un-indexed Federal Register documents in an electronic and disorderly manner and form without filing them with the Office of the Federal Register for printing and distribution to such the FRDL to be "vexatious" because I'm denied free access to tangible Government publications in such a deficient Library and am compelled to find such fugitive un-indexed electronic documents by the luck of "clicking" on a website page? Dear agents of the United States, Under a secret directive that has never been codified as a regulation under any edition of Chapters I or III of Title 1 of the CFR, the ACFR, the ACUS and the OFR appear to have colluded to engage in illegally "removing" (see 61 FR 3539 of Thursday-February 1, 1996) the formal recommendations and statements which had been codified as rules and regulations of the ACUS in the 1975-1995 editions of 1 CFR Parts 305 and 510. Such malfeasance obviously "eliminated" (see 75 FR 68941 of Wednesday-November 10, 2010) such Federal Register documents so they would not, from 1996-2015, be printed by the GPO and distributed to the Federal Regional Depository Library in Logan, UT and have, consequently, caused me the following injuries from 1996-2015: (1) not being informed of how the ACUS has studied the efficiency, adequacy and fairness of the administrative procedure used by administrative agencies in carrying out administrative programs; (2) not knowing how proper Executive authorities should act to the end that my private rights may be fully protected; and (3) not being guided with respect to how regulatory activities and other Federal responsibilities may be carried out expeditiously in my interest. (see 5 USC 594(1) and 1 CFR 301.2) Please explain!!! Sincerely, Brady Eames P.S. The 1996-2015 daily versions of the Federal Register and the 1996-2015 editions of Chapter III of Title 1 of the CFR have never ever published that the formal CODIFIED recommendations and statements/rules and regulations of the ACUS would only be "reading room" records or be digitized and made available on an internet website!!!
