Brief History of Personnel Records & Tie to St. Louis

- The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) holds military service records from the Revolutionary War to the present
- Generally, early military personnel records were unit-based & contained limited information on the respective veteran
- Early records include:
  - Personnel that served from the Revolution (Continental troops & state troops that served as Continental troops-but no state militia records)
  - Personnel serving during the War of 1812 through the Civil War, at our facility in Washington, D.C.
- For Union army soldiers, there are three major records in NARA that provide information on military service:
  - Compiled military service record (CMSR)
  - Pension application file &
  - Records reproduced in microfilm publication M594, Compiled Records Showing Service of Military Units in Volunteer Union Organizations (225 rolls)

Brief History of Personnel Records & Tie to St. Louis (cont.)

- For Confederate army soldiers, there are two major records that provide information on military service:
  - Compiled military service record (CMSR)
  - Records reproduced in microfilm publication M861, Compiled Records Showing Service of Military Units in Confederate Organizations. (Records relating to Confederate soldiers are typically less complete than those relating to Union soldiers because many Confederate records did not survive the war).
- In the 1890s, the Department of War used numerous sources, including muster, descriptive, & pay rolls, to create CMSRs
  - CMSRs generally show when a soldier joined a unit and if he was present when the unit was mustered.
  - Note: The Department of War abstracted the compiled military service records for men who fought in the Revolutionary War from extant records among its files in an attempt to create substitutes for records destroyed by fires in 1800 and 1814. Because the Department was not able to reconstruct every record, a soldier may have fought in a Continental Army unit during the war, but there may not be a compiled military service record for him.

Brief History of Personnel Records & Tie to St. Louis (cont.)

- Modern military personnel record can be traced to late 19th Century
- U.S. Navy was first to create a more detailed personnel record in late 1800's
- After World War I we see widespread establishment of benefits for veterans
- Post World War II expansion of entitlements created demand for military personnel records
- By late 1940's Defense Department (DoD) recognized a need to more efficiently access & store the plethora of military personnel records for use by vets, Next-of-Kin (NOK) & governmental entities
- Led to a desire to centralize the records...where do we put them?
- First effort led to centralizing records in North Carolina (temporary solution)—then in Kansas City—again a temporary solution

- By early 1950s DoD had secured funding from Congress for a Demobilized Military Personnel Records Facility to be constructed in St. Louis (centrally located)
- $12.5 million dollar project ($119 million in 2019 dollars) saw construction of facility at 9700 Page Avenue in Overland, MO
- Similar effort was begun for civil service personnel records leading to construction of Civilian Personnel Records (CPR) facility in South St. Louis
- National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) established in 1960 when military and civilian personnel records were combined in St. Louis

Military Personnel Records Center circa 1958

Brief History of Personnel Records & Tie to St. Louis (cont.)

- In 2004, the AOTUS with the DoD determined the OMPF to be permanent, archival record of the United States
- Decision required significant investment to revisions/upgrades old facilities to properly preserve/store records in perpetuity
- Ultimately more cost-effective to replace than try to renovate
- New facility at 1 Archives Drive was finished in May 2011
  - Achieved $2.1 million in direct construction savings
- Moved 2.2 million cubic feet of records to Archives Drive from 5/1/11 to 11/6/12
  - Averaged 5-6 semi trucks & over 6,000 boxes daily
  - Saved taxpayers over $9 million dollars through innovative methods and active project management

In Summary...

- Military Personnel Records:

- Revolutionary War to Late 19th Century are in Washington, D.C.

- Late 19th Century to Early 21st Century are in St. Louis

- Military Unit & Organizational Records are in College Park, MD

Records of Interest to Genealogists

- National Archives at St. Louis is a personal data record series archive
- Official Military Personnel File (OMPF)
- Official Personnel Folder (OPF)
- Selective Service System Registration Cards & Classification Ledgers
- Individual Deceased Personnel Files (IDPFs)
- Courts-Martial Records
- Many other personnel-related records rich in genealogical material

Are Archival Records Free?

- Archival records are free to access in our public research rooms & on-line Catalog
- Archival records can be photographed or scanned for free in our research rooms
- If a patron wants photocopies of an archival record, or if the request is from an off-site patron, we impose copy fees for this work
- Copies of archival records are subject to fees under 44 USC 2116 & 36 CFR 1258
  - NARA does not receive appropriations for making copies of records
  - Fees for archived records are processed through the NARA Trust Fund (44 USC 2307)
  - Archival military personnel records are subject to fees except for requests for benefits & entitlements from the vet or Next-of-Kin (NOK)
  - Current fee schedule for OMPFs: .80 per page; $25: 5 pp or less; $70: 6 pp or more

Archival OMPFs

- All OMPFs become a public, archival record 62 years to-the-day from when the veteran retired, separated or was killed in service
  - This is a rolling date:  $(62 - \text{Today's date}) = \text{Archival date}$
  - Example:  $62 - 5/10/2019 = 5/10/1957$
- Any record with this date of retirement, separation or KIA or EARLIER is a public, archival record
  - Anyone can request & review or purchase a copy, subject to FOIA Privacy Exemption review
- If a record is newer than the current archival date it has limited access:
  - Veteran, NOK, military service department, law enforcement

1973 Fire

- Shortly after midnight, on July 12, 1973, a fire was reported at NPRC's military personnel records building at 9700 Page Avenue in Overland, MO
- It burned uncontrolled for 4 days
- 42 Fire Departments responded
- Facility was not constructed with fire sprinklers or fire breaks
- Approximately 22 million OMPFs were stored on the 6th (top) floor

1973 Fire (continued)

Irreplaceable loss...

Research Services
St. Louis, MO (RL)

A Burned Record: “B-File”

Some 6.5 million OMPFs were recovered from the fire.
Some are severely damaged

Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs)

- Records damaged or lost include an estimated 16 million military records. Records damage occurred from both fire and water

Records Affected	Discharge Dates	Estimated Loss
Army WWI	11/1/1912 - 9/7/1939	80%
Army WWII	9/8/1939 - 12/31/1946
Army Post-WWII	1/1/1947 - 12/31/1959
Air Force	9/25/1947 - 12/31/1963 surnames Hubbard - Z	75%

What's in an OMPF?

- The OMPF documents an individual's military service:
  - Date & type of enlistment/commissioning/appointment.
  - Duty stations & assignments.
  - Training & qualifications.
  - Performance reports.
  - Awards & decorations received.
  - Insurance/emergency contact information.
  - Non-judicial disciplinary actions (e.g., Article of 15; Letters of Counseling/Reprimand).
  - Date & type of separation/discharge/retirement, including DD Form 214 (Report of Separation).
  - May also contain birth & marriage certificates, divorce decrees, letters, & official photographs.
- Detailed information about a veteran's participation in battles & military engagements is not found in the OMPF

Official Personnel Folders (OPFs)

- OPFs are the personnel records of former civil servant employees of the federal government
- A large collection of these records are permanent & some are archival & available to anyone
  - OPFs from the beginning of Civil Service through 1951 (separation/retirement) are archival, public records
  - OPFs from 1952 - 1973 are projected to be permanent but not yet archival
  - OPFs from 1974 to present are not permanent records
- Archived OPFs also include the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) & Works Progress Administration (WPA)

OPFs

- OPFs may contain the following documents:
  - Applications
  - Oaths of Office
  - Correspondence
  - Appraisals
  - Leave and Pay Information
  - Letters of Recommendation/Protest
  - Changes in Work Status
  - Photographs
  - Rarely: Vital Records

Individual Deceased Personnel File (IDPF)

- Record created to document the death of a military member & the actions associated with the disposition of remains
- For personnel killed in line of duty, peacetime, during training & off-duty
- Sometimes called “Mortuary File/Record” or “Casualty File”
- Current holdings include:
  - Air Force 1940-1985 (RGs 341 & 342)
  - Army 1941-1976 (RG 92) All except M-Z for WW2 & Korea (being digitized by DoD)
  - WW1 Burial Case Files 1915-1939 (RG 92)
  - Navy & Marine Corps 1898-1989 (RG 24)
  - Tan Son Nhut (Vietnam) 1966-1972 (RG 218)
  - Deceased/War Casualty Seamen’s Records – Merchant Mariners 1937-1950 (RG 26)

Individual Deceased Personnel Files (IDPFs)

- Documents specifics of the death & the required actions to complete the case
- Included both mortuary officer & summary courts martial officer actions:
  - Mortuary officer: duties associated with search & recovery, positive identification, preparation of remains for final disposition, arrangements for mortuary/final services, military honors & burial
  - Summary courts martial officer: duties associated with closing out personal affairs, collection & disposition of personal property, closing accounts, financial obligations, legal matters
- Surrogate material for Army & Air Force military personnel records lost in 1973 fire
- Excellent source for genealogical material: Date/place of birth, date of death, addresses, NOK, etc.
