The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) requires Senior Agency Officials for Records Management (SAORM) to provide an annual report demonstrating how agencies are handling important records management initiatives as identified by NARA.

NARA uses the reports to determine the overall progress of the Federal Government in managing its records and the transition away from paper to digital formats, and to identify best practices and model solutions within Federal agencies.

On June 28, 2019, the Office of Management and Budget and the National Archives issued a memorandum: Transition to Electronic Records (M-19-21) to ensure that all Federal records are created, retained, and managed in electronic formats by December 31, 2022. This year’s SAORM report provides an opportunity for agencies to report on plans and progress towards the milestones and target goals in this memorandum, as well as other important records management initiatives.

The reporting period begins on January 19, 2021, and reports are due back to NARA no later than March 19, 2021.

NARA plans to post your 2020 SAORM report on the NARA website upon receipt. Please ensure that your agency’s report is a publicly releasable version. This action is in the interest of transparency in Government and to promote collaboration and communication among agencies. NARA intends to list any non-responding agencies in a summary report and on the website.

☒ Yes
☐ No
☐ Do not know

Please explain your response (include specific goals and example metrics):

TVA currently manages most temporary and permanent records in electronic format in OpenText ECM (an ERKS compliant platform) and in other integrated data-specific platforms driven by business requirements.

Specific efforts are underway to meet with business units across TVA to identify any holdings outside these platforms to ensure they are being managed appropriately throughout the lifecycle. This work includes an inventory of all permanent records to ensure there is a high level of visibility and accountability in place for retention and ultimate transfer to NARA.

There are a limited number of areas where paper records are still being created and stored in physical form, particularly in the plant and field work areas. Targeted work is underway to find business solutions to allow for records to be created electronically, particularly using dynamic forms, or to ensure that physical records are being converted to electronic records for storage.

Additional work is needed to effectively manage electronic records through the final stage of the lifecycle – disposition. For temporary records, this includes an improved process to connect trigger dates of closure with disposition rules for subsequent destruction after retention is met. For permanent records, this includes more testing to ensure compatibility of systems for transfers to NARA.

With this defined engagement effort, TVA is on track to meet the 2022 deadlines.
