The General Records Schedules

Transmittal 26

National Archives and Records Administration
September, 2016

TO: Heads of Federal agencies

1. What does this document do?

GRS Transmittal 26 announces changes to the General Records Schedules (GRS) made since NARA published GRS Transmittals 24 and 25 in August and September 2015. The GRS provide mandatory disposition instructions for records common to several or all Federal agencies.

We are completely rewriting the GRS over the course of a five-year project. Because we are phasing in the entire change from old to new gradually over five years, the GRS during this interim period will necessarily include both old and new formats. New schedules (in table format) come first in the new transmittal, followed by the old schedules (in outline format) annotated to show which items are still current and which have been superseded by new schedules. With GRS Transmittal 26, we have superseded 39 percent of the old GRS by new schedules.

Each transmittal also includes Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about the GRS, the GRS Update Project, and each new schedule, as well as new-to-old crosswalks for each new schedule and an overall old-to-new crosswalk.

2. What changes does this transmittal make to the GRS?

GRS Transmittal 26 publishes one new schedule:

GRS 4.4 Library Records (DAA-GRS-2015-0003)

It also publishes new or updated items in four schedules:

GRS 1.1 Financial Management and Reporting Records (see question 3)

GRS 2.8 Employee Ethics Records (see question 4)

GRS 4.2 Information Access and Protection Records (see question 5)

GRS 6.1 Email Managed under a Capstone Approach (see question 6)

We have altered GRS 1.2, items 020-022. The note and exclusion previously (and incorrectly) shown in the overview covering all three items now modifies only item 020.

3. How has GRS 1.1 changed? How might these changes affect my agency?

We have added five new items (012, 013, 060, 070, and 071), per DAA-GRS-2016-0001.

If you store records that fall under GRS 1.1, item 010, you should carefully review your stored holdings to determine if new item 012 correctly describes any of them. These potentially voluminous records are immediately disposable, so you may be able to save on storage fees or space.

The old-to-new crosswalk and GRS 1.1 crosswalk now show old GRS 3, item 3d (Data submitted to the Federal Procurement Data System), superseded by GRS 1.1, item 013 (Data submitted to the Federal Procurement Data System), rather than by GRS 1.1, item 010 (Financial transaction records related to procuring goods and services, paying bills, collecting debts, and accounting). Originally, GRS 3, item 3d, was among the many old schedule items folded into GRS 1.1, item 010. General Services Administration requested that we restore the stand-alone item because these records do not concern individual financial transactions, but monitor Government procurement process transparency and equity. New item 013 therefore covers the same records as old GRS 3, item 3d, but as a stand-alone item.

4. How has GRS 2.8 changed? How might these changes affect my agency?

We have changed item 010, General ethics program records, to clarify the disposition instruction. The previous wording may have confused agencies about how long to keep some ethics records; agencies may need to keep them for longer than the old schedule seemed to indicate.

Agency ethics officials provide employees with ethics advice that may pertain to a single situation or event, or that may apply to a recurring event or long-term situation. In the case of a single situation or event, the ethics determination (the ethics advice and counseling to individual employees, and supporting records) for that event is usually in effect only for the duration of that event. However, in the case of a recurring or long-term situation, the ethics determination is usually in effect throughout the period during which the recurring or long-term events occur, which could be years. The revised instruction clarifies that agencies should retain records for six years after an ethics determination is no longer in effect, rather than six years from when the agency issues the determination. For example, if the ethics official provides advice for a single, isolated event, the agency should retain the determination records for six years after that event occurs. But if the ethics official provides advice for a long-term situation that lasts for 15 years, the agency should retain the determination records for 15+6 years. Similarly, if the determination involves ethics advice about a recurring action or event an employee engages in off and on during 12 years, the agency should retain the determination records for 12+6 years.

Since agencies may need to provide these records in a criminal prosecution, you should carefully note the determination date, including how long it is in effect, to ensure that the agency keeps the information available for six years after the ethics determination no longer applies.

5. How has GRS 4.2 changed? How might these changes affect my agency?

An exclusion formerly in item 020, Access and disclosure request files ("Record copies of requested records are not covered by this item. They remain covered by their original disposal authority"), has become a note ("Record copies of requested records remain covered by their original disposal authority, but if disposable sooner than their associated access/disclosure case file, may be retained under this item for disposition with that case file”). Records may acquire a new business purpose once they become the subject of a FOIA, Privacy Act, or Mandatory Declassification Review request. The previous exclusion text did not account for this new business purpose and thus could have led to offices destroying original records when their original retention period ended instead of when the new business purpose period ended.

We have clarified the coverage for items 030, 032, and 040 to eliminate confusion reported by agencies.

Items 150, 160, 161, and 170 are new.

6. How has GRS 6.1 changed? How might these changes affect my agency?

We have altered permanent item 010’s transfer date from 15 years to a 15-to-25-year band. FAQ 8 provides information about this change. In addition, we changed the cut-off for item 010 from the end of the calendar year to “In accordance with agency’s business needs,” a change announced by AC 18.2016. FAQ 7 gives further information about this change. Finally, new FAQs 19 and 21-26 address how agencies may handle legacy email.

7. What old GRS items does GRS Transmittal 26 rescind?

Most old GRS items are or will be superseded by new GRS items. A few old items, however, have outlived their usefulness and cannot be crosswalked to new items. GRS Transmittal 26 rescinds two such items.

GRS 21, items 12 (Routine Scientific, Medical, or Engineering Footage) and 19 (Routine Scientific, Medical, or Engineering Video Recordings), have fallen out of use. These media-specific items cover very technical subject matter almost always created by research and development (R&D) functions. Federal Records Centers (FRCs) held records under these codes from only two agencies. The FRCs and the agencies agreed that we should reschedule these records under agency-specific authorities. The few agencies with such functions must therefore schedule the records their R&D programs create. These two items will not crosswalk to any anticipated future GRS item, so we are rescinding them.

8. How do I cite new GRS items?

When you send records to an FRC for storage, you should cite the records’ legal authority—the “DAA” number—in the “Disposition Authority” column of the table. For informational purposes, please include schedule and item number. For example, “DAA-GRS-2013-0001-0004 (GRS 4.3, item 020).”

9. Do I have to take any action to implement these GRS changes?

NARA regulations (36 CFR 1226.12(a)) require agencies to disseminate GRS changes within six months of receipt.

Per 36 CFR 1227.12(a)(1), you must follow GRS dispositions that state they must be followed without exception.

Per 36 CFR 1227.12(a)(3), if you have an existing schedule that differs from a new GRS item that does not require being followed without exception, and you wish to continue using your agency-specific authority rather than the GRS authority, you must notify NARA within 120 days of the date of this transmittal.

If you do not have an already existing agency-specific authority but wish to apply a retention period that differs from that specified in the GRS, you must submit a records schedule to NARA for approval via the Electronic Records Archives.

10. How do I get copies of the new GRS?

You can download the complete current GRS, in PDF format, from NARA's web site at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/grs.html>.

11. Whom do I contact for further information?

Writing and maintaining the GRS is the responsibility of the GRS Team. You may contact the team with general questions about the GRS at GRS\_Team@nara.gov. This team is part of Records Management Services in the National Records Management Program of the Office of the Chief Records Officer at NARA.

Your agency's records officer may contact the NARA appraiser or records analyst with whom your agency normally works for support in carrying out this transmittal. A list of the appraisal and scheduling work group and regional contacts is on the NARA web site at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/appraisal/index.html>.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 1.1: Financial Management and Reporting Records

This schedule covers records created by Federal agencies in carrying out the work of financial management: procuring goods and services, paying bills, collecting debts, accounting for all financial transactions, and monitoring agencies' net worth. It does not apply to copies of records forwarded to the Department of Treasury or the Office of Management and Budget in fulfillment of reporting requirements. These forwarded copies serve unique business purposes at those agencies and are therefore scheduled separately as records of OMB and Treasury.

This schedule covers financial management records of grants and cooperative agreements but does not cover administrative records of such grants and agreements. These administrative records are covered in GRS 1.2.

This schedule covers financial transactions and reporting but not overall planning for finance. These records are covered under current GRS 5, which will likely reappear as new GRS 10.3.

This schedule covers contract records maintained by Federal agencies but not records maintained by contractors, which are governed by 48 CFR 4, subpart 4.7.

This schedule covers financial transactions as an administrative function common to all agencies, but not administrative records documenting unique agency missions, such as student loan collection or seeking reimbursement for Superfund cleanups.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 1.1, Financial Management and Reporting Records

Revised June 2016

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 1.1?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records created and received in the course of carrying out an agency's financial management and reporting responsibilities.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 1.1 differ from the old GRS?

The biggest difference is the amalgamation of 34 items in old GRS 3, 4, 6, 7, and 9 into one item (010) covering financial transaction records (see details in the GRS 1.1 Crosswalk). This change occurred as a result of the new GRS aligning where feasible with the Federal Enterprise Architecture Lines-of-Business model. Under this model, the GRS groups records by the business processes that create them. The related business processes of paying bills and collecting debts—and accounting for both—are further consolidated by the fact that all share a single audit. Uniting these records under a single schedule item is also useful because most financial transactions are now conducted electronically and their documentation is born digital. Many large e-systems contain records covered by most or even all of the 34 old items superseded by new item 010.

Two new items cover records not before scheduled by the GRS: Records supporting compilation of agency financial statements and related audit, and all records of all other reports (item 020) and property, plant, equipment and other asset accounting (item 030).

4. Why are you removing items that were in the old GRS?

The following old GRS items that most logically would have mapped to this schedule are rescinded:

GRS item	Series title	Explanation
GRS 3/3b	Routine Procurement— Obligation copy	This copy of a multi-copy form was to keep an obligation on the radar screen until funds were in fact obligated. Hard copies no longer exist in the e-system work-process pipeline.
GRS 3/15a	Contract Appeals Case Files created prior to October 1979	No longer needed because all such records should have been destroyed as of 1986.
GRS 3/16	Contractor's Statement of	SF 119 is no longer in the GSA forms library. The Contingent or Other Fees	Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) was amended (see FAR case 93-009, published in the Federal Register November 13, 1995) to state that these statements are no longer required.

GRS 6/2	GAO Exceptions Files	SF 1100 no longer exists.
GRS 6/6a1 GRS 6/6a2 GRS 6/6b	Federal Personnel Surety Bond Files	According to 31 USC 9302, surety bonds posted by the government concerning Federal personnel were discontinued by Public Law 97-258 in 1982.
GRS 6/9	Telegrams filed to support telegraph bills	These no longer exist.
GRS 8/7b1  GRS 8/7b2  GRS 8/7b3	Cost Report Data Files: Detail cards Cost Report Data Files: Summary cards Cost Report Data Files: Tabulations	These three items are unchanged since GRS 8 was first published in 1952. They refer to an ancient system of electronic tabulation via key-punch cards. The records are no longer created nor have they been for possibly three decades. No records are in FRCs.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 010*5. Why is the retention of accountable officers' records reduced from 6 years and 3 months to 6 years?

From the advent of the GRS in 1952 until 1977, general financial management records were retained for 6 years. The change in retention for some records to 6 years and 3 months was codified in 1977 by schedule job number NC1-064-77-5, apparently in response to 28 USC 2415. This law set the Government's right to litigate on behalf of a recognized American Indian band or tribe to "six years and ninety days" while for all other purposes the Government's right to litigate ceases after 6 years (28 USC 2401). Item 010 returns all financial transactions to 6-year retention except for those transactions concerning recognized American Indian bands or tribes, which are excluded from the GRS. Serious issues surround accounts concerning American Indian band/tribal finances. Litigation has put these records into frozen status unlikely to be altered any time soon. They will likely be ultimately scheduled for long-term temporary or even permanent retention. Their appraisal must be made on a case-by-case basis, which is outside the scope of the GRS.

6. My agency, seeking to get away from the awkward 6-year-3-month retention period, already scheduled accountable officers' and similar financial records for 7-year retention. Which takes precedence: my agency's 7-year retention or the GRS 6-year retention?

Your agency can choose whether to follow the GRS new 6-year retention or continue to retain records for 7 years in keeping with its agency-specific schedule. Retaining the records for 7 years might be necessary if your agency folded financial management records along with other administrative records into a single bucket item with 7-year retention. In such a case, it may not be possible to extract the financial management records from the bucket item without destroying the bucket.

7. If my agency chooses to continue using its own 7-year schedule item instead of the GRS, must it notify NARA?

It depends. The GRS permits business-purpose retention beyond 6 years. If your agency updates its manual to cite new GRS 1.1, item 010, as the authority for its 7-year retention, you do not need to notify NARA. If your agency has a previously approved deviation-from-the-GRS authority (such as a big bucket schedule item that merges financial management records with other series) and wishes to continue using that authority to mandate agency-wide 7-year retention, it must notify NARA of this fact. In part, this is because the agency will be retiring records to storage under its own authority citation rather than the GRS authority citation. Federal Records Centers receiving these records need to know what agency items are authoritative.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 011*8. Why is item 010 followed by an item (011) for “all other copies” but none of the other items have a similar all-other-copies counterpart?

Records in item 010 are in many cases likely to have extra copies retained in other business units for a separate business purpose. For instance, a purchase order may exist in multiple copies not only where it is held for financial audit but also in accounts payable, shipping and receiving, and other offices. These are not non-record copies held for convenience, but records retained for specific and unique business purposes. Because the record copy is retained for audit, the other copies can be disposed of when their business use ceases. Copies of records covered by other items in this schedule are more likely to be held simply for convenience. They serve no unique business purpose, are therefore non-record by definition, and do not need to be scheduled.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 012*9. Does this item cover all unsolicited and all unaccepted bids?

No. This item covers only bids that are both unsolicited and unaccepted. These bids have a much shorter retention period than bids that are unsolicited but accepted or solicited but unaccepted. (Item 010 of this schedule addresses both these latter types of bids.) Any accepted bids have obvious business and legal value documenting a contract, and any solicited bids have further value if there are legal challenges to the contract award. Bids that agencies neither solicit nor accept do not fulfill continuing business purposes and agencies thus do not need to retain them for long.

10. Does this item’s disposition mesh with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR)?

The FAR Implementation Team, which drafted the update to the FAR published in the Federal Register on December 4, 2015, requested that we add this item. The FAR update contains directions to dispose of these materials “in accordance with agency procedures” (80 FR 75913). That instruction is consistent with this item’s disposition to destroy “when no longer required for business use.” So, yes, this item’s disposition meshes with the FAR.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 013

11. Why did you move data submitted to the Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS)—originally part of big-bucket item 010—to granular item 013?

These records were a standalone item in the old GRS but we merged them with many other old GRS items into the original publication of GRS 1.1, item 010. However, item 010 covers records relating to individual financial transactions; the records now being moved to item 013 do not concern such transactions. Instead, these records monitor equity and transparency in the Government procurement process. Agencies retain both items 010 and 013 for 6 years, but calculate the retention period for item 013 from record creation (submission to FPDS), and calculate the retention period for item 010 from record close (final action on a particular procurement or collection activity), potentially years after creation. For these reasons, we are returning data submitted to FPDS to a standalone schedule item.

12. Why does this item cover only an agency's copy of the data it submitted to FPDS, but not the master data held in FPDS itself?

The GRS covers records common to multiple agencies. FPDS is a system owned by the General Services Administration (GSA). Although multiple agencies own and submit the system's source data, once collected in FPDS the data is unique to GSA and GSA must schedule it. As a result, the GRS does not cover the data within the FPDS. GSA's FPDS master data is permanent under N1-137-96-1, item 1. For this reason, agency-retained copies of their own submitted data are temporary.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 020*13. Item 020 is for background materials used to prepare an annual agency financial statement. Why isn't there an item for the agency financial statements themselves?

Agency financial statements have been required from all agencies since 1997 per the Government Management Reform Act (1994) section 405, now codified in 31 CFR 3515. Only a few agencies have scheduled these records, with wide disparity in retention periods. They are also sometimes scheduled as part of a larger series of reporting records that include more than financial reporting. We were unable to determine a universally applicable value to these records by the time of publication of this schedule and did not wish to hold up the schedule while waiting to resolve the one issue. We may, however, be able to revisit this at a future time.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030*14. Besides being included in item 030, purchase orders, contracts, and invoices also appear in item 010. How can I tell which item is the correct one for my records?

Purchase orders, contracts, and invoices appear in item 010 when they document financial transactions subject to audit to ensure that government spends its resources appropriately and within the confines of the law. Some of those purchase orders, contracts and invoices serve as a baseline to document agency investment in "property, plant and equipment" (PP&E) assets, and these are the subject of item 030.

Determining the value of PP&E assets involves knowing the original purchase price and the rate of amortization over the course of years. Many assets eventually wear out and are removed from inventory, while others (such as real estate and structures) may have a usable life of many decades or remain in government ownership to the end of the republic.

The same records may exist in both the financial management and the PP&E asset accounting offices. They are scheduled differently based on the business purpose the records serve in each office. Their retention is 6 years in item 010 to ensure their availability for financial audit. But their retention in item 030 may be for many decades. For this reason, it is advisable that duplicates of purchase orders, contracts, and invoices concerning PP&E assets be supplied to that office for inclusion in the files documenting those assets that are covered by item 030.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 1.2: Grant and Cooperative Agreement Records

This schedule covers records created by Federal agency program offices responsible for managing grants and cooperative agreements such as program announcements, application files, case files and similar or related records, state plans, and final products or deliverables. It does not cover records related to financial transactions. Such financial transaction records are covered by GRS 1.1, Financial Management and Reporting Records. Nor does this schedule cover policy records documenting the legal establishment, goals, objectives, development, implementation, modification, and termination of agency grant and cooperative agreement programs. The type and significance of these programs vary widely among agencies, so no single disposition can be applied to the records on a Government-wide basis. An agency must submit a records schedule to NARA to cover these records or apply an existing schedule. This schedule also does not cover government-wide systems like GRANTS.GOV and USASPENDING.GOV.

A grant is an award of financial assistance in the form of money, or property in lieu of money, by the Federal Government to an eligible grantee. The principal purpose of such award is to transfer a thing of value from a Federal agency to a State or local government or other recipient to carry out a public purpose of support or stimulation authorized by Federal statute (31 U.S.C. 6304). A cooperative agreement is an award of financial assistance that is used to enter into the same kind of relationship as a grant. It is distinguished from a grant in that it provides for substantial involvement between the grant-making Federal agency and the award recipient in carrying out the activity contemplated by the award (31 U.S.C. 6305). A grant or cooperative agreement shall be used only when the principal purpose of a transaction is to accomplish a public purpose of support or stimulation authorized by Federal statute. Grants are distinguished from contracts, which are used to acquire property or services for the Federal government's direct benefit or use.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 1.2, Grant and Cooperative Agreement Records

Revised June 2016

GENERAL

1. What is the purpose of GRS 1.2?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records related to the process of announcing, selecting, and monitoring grants and cooperative agreements. Records related to this function include:

- Program announcements
- Application files
- Case files
- State plans
- Final products or deliverables

This schedule does not, however, provide disposition for financial transaction records related to administering grants unless they are copies maintained in the program case files. Nor does it cover policy records related to grant and cooperative agreement programs, or government-wide systems like GRANTS.GOV, GRANTSOLUTIONS.GOV and USASPENDING.GOV that are involved in the grant process.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 1.2 differ from the old GRS?

GRS 1.2 is different from the old GRS in that it expands the types of records related to grants and cooperative agreements. Previously, the GRS only covered grant administrative files and unsuccessful grant applications. The new GRS better defines and expands the scope of administrative files related to grant and cooperative agreement programs, and it now covers successful as well as unsuccessful grant application case files and final products and deliverables.

TERMS USED IN THIS SCHEDULE

4. What is the difference between a grant, a cooperative agreement, and a contract in the context of this schedule?

A grant is an award of financial assistance in the form of money, or property in lieu of money, by the Federal government to an eligible grantee. The principle purpose of a grant is to transfer a thing of value from a Federal agency to a state or local government or other recipient to carry out a public purpose of support or stimulation authorized by Federal statute (31 U.S.C. 6304). A cooperative agreement is an award of financial assistance that is used to enter into the same kind of relationship as a grant, but differs from a grant in that it provides for substantial involvement between the grant-making

Federal agency and the award recipient to carry out the activity contemplated by the award (31 U.S.C. 6305). Contracts are used to acquire property or services for the direct benefit or use of the Federal government.

QUESTIONS ABOUT RECORDS NOT COVERED

5. Why does this schedule not cover financial records related to grants and cooperative agreements?

Records related to financial transactions stemming from activities of agency grant and cooperative agreement programs are covered by GRS 1.1. To include them in this schedule would be duplicative and confusing, and would render the records susceptible to inconsistent retention and disposition.

6. Why does this schedule not cover grant and cooperative agreement program policy records?

Grant and cooperative agreement program policy records can include information that documents how agencies make decisions about grants and cooperative agreements. In some cases there may be legal or business use reasons these records need to be kept for a longer period of time than less significant records. Some of these records could also be of permanent value. Due to the variable business use and value of policy records, it was impossible to determine a government-wide disposition for these records. An agency must either apply an existing approved agency schedule or submit an agency-specific schedule to NARA for these records.

7. Why does this schedule not cover Government-wide systems such as GRANTS.GOV, GRANTSOLUTIONS.GOV, and USASPENDING.GOV?

GRANTS.GOV is owned by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). HHS has scheduled the web version of material posted there by other agencies as temporary, assuming agencies manage that content as records in their own records-management environments. The web version has the unique and sole business purpose of making grant information available to the public for a relatively short period of time.

GRANTSOLUTIONS.GOV is also owned by HHS and managed by the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) within HHS, in partnership with the Denali Commission. Its business purpose is to provide grants management products and support to Federal grant-making agencies. ACF has scheduled the GRANTSOLUTIONS.GOV database and web portal as temporary. Agencies are responsible for managing the content they post and output they receive as records in their own records management environments.

USASPENDING.GOV is owned by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Although it contains copies of records posted by other agencies, the records OMB collects in this system combine to create a new business purpose, different from the business purpose for which the individual records exist at the creating agency. OMB is responsible for scheduling that unique totality of records in USASPENDING.GOV.

8. Why does this schedule not cover Service Level Agreements?

A Service Level Agreement (SLA) is an agreement between a customer (the agency, in this context) and a service provider that describes the service, documents service level performance targets, establishes incentives for meeting performance targets, clarifies the responsibilities of both the service provider and the customer, delineates how they will discover and handle disputes, and specifies how they will remedy performance failures. The process of executing an SLA is a commercial transaction between a customer and a service provider. The services described in an SLA are paid for by the agency. However, unlike a grant or cooperative agreement, an SLA is not a funding or obligation document. For this reason, we do not include SLAs under this schedule.

9. Why does this schedule not cover Interagency Agreements?

An Interagency Agreement (IAA) is a written agreement between two Federal agencies, or major organizational units within an agency, that establishes a reimbursable order for goods or services. An IAA is a communication tool between the buyer and seller that enables them to agree on the data elements and terms of the reimbursable transaction before business begins. The term Intra-agency Agreement may be used when the agreement is between components of one agency. Unlike grants and cooperative agreements as defined in this schedule, IAAs are between co-equal partners. For this reason, we do not include IAAs under this schedule.

10. Why does this schedule not cover Memoranda of Understanding (MOU) or Memoranda of Agreement (MOA)?

The GRS covers only records that we can declare either universally temporary or universally permanent. We appraise grant and cooperative agreement administrative records in GRS 1.2 as temporary, even while the work they fund may create permanent records (see Q/A 16, below), so this schedule covers them. An agency initiates a grant or cooperative agreement to accomplish a single administrative function: transfer a thing of value (usually funds) in exchange for work. An agency may initiate an MOU or MOA with another entity for a wide variety of purposes, most of which may be of passing historical interest. But others could be of such importance that the MOU or MOA itself has permanent value. Since we cannot appraise MOUs and MOAs as universally permanent or temporary, we do not include them under this schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 010

11. Why is the retention for Grant and Cooperative Agreement Program Management records increased from 2 years to 3 years?

This item broadens the scope of program management records covered by old GRS 3, item 14: routine correspondence and subject files relating to grant administration. Item 010 includes records related to the coordination, implementation, execution, monitoring, and completion of programs, such as background files, application packages (e.g., blank forms, instructions, guidelines, templates, checklists, and evaluation criteria), and application evaluation files (e.g., panel composition, correspondence, and instructions). Because item 010 covers a wider range of records, it was necessary to increase the retention by one year compared to the old GRS. Many of the records in item 010 previously would have been scheduled by agency-specific schedules. Item 010 therefore has the advantage of giving one retention period for all administrative and operational program records, which is simpler to apply and sufficient to meet the needs of most agencies.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 020

12. Why does the GRS now include successful applications?

NARA has determined, based on research and experience with reference usage of accessioned grant case files, that these records do not generally warrant permanent retention. They are often quite voluminous, contain little information of significance, and get little research use. Many agencies already schedule grant case files as temporary. For these reasons we have determined that grant and cooperative agreement case files can be scheduled across the Federal government as temporary records. If an agency believes they have grant case files that are of historical value they can submit a schedule to NARA for those records.

13. Why should I keep successful grant and cooperative agreement applications case files for 10 years?

The 10-year retention aligns with the 10-year statute of limitations in the False Claims Act (31 U.S.C. 3731(b)), which governs claims related to these records.

14. What if my agency wants a shorter retention for successful grant and cooperative agreement applications?

If your agency does not have an existing agency-specific schedule for these records, it may submit a schedule requesting to deviate from the GRS to your agency's assigned NARA appraiser. Please keep in mind, however, that the 10 year retention is based on a statute of limitations, so the GRS Team will request confirmation that your agency's legal counsel agrees to a shorter retention prior to our concurrence on your deviation request.

If your agency has an existing agency-specific schedule for these records, it may choose to continue to use the existing schedule by informing NARA of its intent to do so (per 36 CFR 1227.12(a)(3). Notifications can be sent to GRS\_Team@nara.gov. However, due to the legal risk in keeping these records for a shorter period of time, we recommend you review the existing schedule for these records with your General Counsel prior to implementation.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 022

15. Why is there an "All other copies" item for Grant and Cooperative Agreement Case Files, but none of the other items have a similar catch-all item?

Extra copies of these case files may be retained in other business units for a separate business purpose. These extra copies are not non-record copies held for convenience, but record copies in their own right retained for a specific and unique business purpose outside the purview of an agency's grant and cooperative agreement program. As such, their retention and disposition can be based on business use. Copies of records covered by other items in this schedule are more likely to be held simply for convenience, making them non-record by definition.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030

16. Why are final products or deliverables scheduled as temporary?

Records of research funded by a specific grant or cooperative agreement may be of permanent value as part of project files scheduled by the research program office. Such project files are, however, separate from the final products or deliverables of grants and cooperative agreements maintained as administrative documentation of a grant/agreement program and covered by item 030 in this schedule.

While instinct might incline us to think that these final products or deliverables have universal permanent value, we found that this was not the case. In fact, few agencies have scheduled these records at all. Among agencies that have, only about half scheduled them as permanent; and half of those stipulated specific and fairly stringent criteria be met for a product or deliverable to warrant permanent retention. Where agencies have scheduled these records as permanent, research use of records accessioned into NARA's holdings has proved surprisingly low. Based on this actual rather than perceived value, we determined that a blanket designation of these records as permanent is simply not supported. However, if an agency believes it has grant or cooperative agreement products or deliverables that do warrant permanent retention by the National Archives, it can write an agency-specific schedule requesting an exception to the GRS.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2.5: Employee Separation Records

This schedule covers records created in the process of employees leaving Federal service whether that service status is career, temporary, or political appointment. These records divide into two categories: records of managing an employee separation program in general, and case files specific to individual separations. Bullet lists describe records that may be contained in these files. They do not mean to convey that all of these records must be contained in every file. In particular, records pertinent to individual separating employees will vary depending on the type of service (career, temporary, or political appointment) and an employee's responsibilities.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 2.5, Employee Separation Records

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 2.5?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records agencies create and receive in the course of processing employee departures from the Federal workforce and in the course of managing a separation program (including administrative tasks to carry out agency initiatives designed to decrease the workforce).

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

GENERAL QUESTION

3. Why does this schedule not include an item for Official Personnel Folders (OPFs)? What happens with them when employees move to a different agency or leave Federal employment?

Although OPFs are disposed of as part of the employee separation process, OPFs are created when employees enter Federal service, and agencies place most records in them while employees are in the active workforce. For that reason, an item in GRS 2.2, Employee Management Records, covers OPFs from an employee's entry into the Federal workforce through separation. In general, OPFs follow Federal employees when they move from one agency to another; when they leave Federal service, their personnel office sends their OPF to the National Personnel Records Center within 30 days of separation.

4. Why are you removing an item that was in the old GRS?

We are changing the item rather than completely removing it, but to do so we must formally remove the old item and replace it with a new one. GRS 2, item 9a, "Record of employee leave, such as SF 1150, prepared upon transfer or separation," was a filing instruction that included a now-invalid disposal authority. By removing item 9a, we are rescinding the disposal authority portion. The filing instruction, which is still valid, is now in Item 040 of this schedule. See question 10 for more information on the difference between filing instructions and disposal authority.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 010

5. Why are Items 010 and 011 not merged into a single item?

Records in item 010 are entirely administrative — created as the agency responds to a separation request initiated by a staff member at any point in time. Agencies create records in item 011 as the result of an agency initiative -- a program specifically intended to reduce the agency's work force. These records document agency decisions, how the agency made them, and how it carried them out. Agency initiatives have clear start and end dates and therefore we can base disposition of the records on those dates.

6. Why has the disposition of SF-2807 changed from “destroy upon receipt of official OPM acceptance of annual summary” to the generic “destroy when no longer required for business use”?

Technological developments have changed the business purpose of SF-2807 since we last updated the schedule for employee separation records in 1992. OPM historically built Federal workforce statistics from annual summaries of separations, cobbled together by each agency from various SFs-2807 they prepared over the course of a year. Electronic systems that accomplish the same goals more universally and more efficiently have replaced this paper process. Therefore, an agency that created the form can destroy it when that agency no longer needs the form.

Also, please note that old GRS 2, item 28, listed only SF-2807 (register for reporting Civil Service Retirement System [CSRS] separations). It covered SF-3103 (register for reporting Federal Employment Retirement System [FERS] separations) only by inference. New items 010 and 011 explicitly cover both.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 011

7. What programs are included in “specific agency separation initiatives”?

Pages nested at OPM’s website, <http://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/workforce-restructuring/>, discuss various types of separation initiatives.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030

8. Why is item 030 a separate item and not just a bullet in item 020?

We created these separate items because the records in item 020 and item 030 cover different kinds of records, are created by different offices for different purposes, and have different retention periods. They thus do not lend themselves to being grouped and handled together. Each agency’s Human Resources (HR) office creates and maintains records in item 020 for personnel and benefits purposes. The retention period reflects the length of time an agency would normally need these records for business use. Records in item 030 concern information departing staff members provide to their offices about their programs, functions, and work, for continuity purposes. Those offices maintain these records themselves. The item’s open-ended retention period reflects the varying value these records may have from agency to agency, office to office, and even staff member to staff member.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 040

9. How can I file documents on the “left side of the folder” if the Official Personnel File (OPF) is electronic?

A paper OPF is a single folder with two sides: “left side” for temporary records and “right side” for permanent documents. E-folders in the eOPF — “temporary” and “permanent” — replicate the paper folder sides and are actually called “folder sides.” An item in GRS 2.2 provides disposal authority for “left side” records.

10. Why does item 040 not have a disposition authority?

Item 040 is not a disposition instruction but, rather, a filing instruction. A disposition instruction declares records either permanent or temporary and includes a disposition authority. A filing instruction does not declare records permanent or temporary and does not include authority to dispose of records; it simply instructs on where to file them.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2.8: Employee Ethics Records

This schedule covers records documenting the activities of executive branch agency ethics program offices.

Records not covered by this schedule: Records pertaining to legislative branch and judicial branch ethics programs, the Hatch Act, the Whistleblower Protection Act, procurement integrity, and other areas often associated with, but not expressly under, the authority of executive branch ethics programs.

Lists not included in this schedule: Master Lists of financial disclosure report filers, individuals requesting outside employment and activities approval, and other types of ethics-related master lists. Ethics-related master lists that are used solely for the purpose of tracking and controlling ethics records should be disposed of in accordance with GRS 4.1, Tracking and Control Records. Master Lists that are used for purposes other than tracking and controlling ethics records should be disposed of in accordance with the disposition for the underlying records as listed in this schedule or as otherwise scheduled. For ethics training records, see GRS 2.6, Employee Training Records.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 2.8, Employee Ethics Records

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 2.8?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records executive branch agencies create and receive in the course of carrying out their ethics program responsibilities.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

GENERAL QUESTION

3. Does this schedule cover records maintained by the Office of Government Ethics relating to its oversight of the government-wide ethics program?

No, this schedule applies only to the records of agencies relating to their own ethics program.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

4. How does GRS 2.8 differ from the old GRS?

The new schedule combines ethics program procedures files (GRS 25, item 9) and ethics program implementation, interpretation, counseling, and development files (GRS 25, items 1a and 1b) into general ethics program records (item 010).

The GRS no longer covers public financial disclosure reports -- OGE Form 278 and 278e -- for Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates because only two agencies need that disposition authority; it is more appropriately covered by agency-specific disposition schedules.

This schedule includes three new items: Periodic transaction reports (item 062), Requests to inspect or receive copies of executive branch personnel public financial disclosure reports or other covered records (item 063), and financial disclosure supporting documentation (item 090).

Ethics program employee training and education files (GRS 25, items 8a and 8b) will be part of the Employee Training Records GRS when we publish it; until then, the existing authorities remain unchanged and valid for use.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 010

5. Does this item cover guidance on ethics issues, such as guidance to our senior employees from agency ethics officials on whether certain categories of gifts are acceptable, or would we need to write an agency-specific disposition schedule?

Yes, this item covers guidance to senior employees on ethical issues.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 060 to 081

6. Items 060 to 081 are the forms and reports related to financial disclosure reports. Why aren't these aggregated into one item?

We cannot aggregate financial disclosure reports covered by items 060, 061, 062, 063, 070, 071, 072, 080, and 081 into one item because each form has different statutory recordkeeping requirements (unique implied cutoffs). NARA and the Office of Government Ethics have no authority to alter the statutory requirements.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 062

7. Why must an agency retain a periodic transaction report for seven years?

Under the Ethics in Government Act, agencies must allow public access to an OGE Form 278/278e for six years from the date the agency received it. Therefore, agencies must retain OGE Form 278-T reports for seven years to ensure that all information supporting the OGE Form 278/278e is available to the public for review during the entire six years prior to destruction/deletion.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 3.1: General Technology Management Records

This schedule covers records created and maintained by Federal agencies related to the general management of technology. It includes records related to developing, operating, and maintaining computer software, systems, and infrastructure improvements; complying with information technology policies and plans; and maintaining data standards.

This schedule does not apply to system data or content. This schedule does not apply to records documenting the Office of Management and Budget and the US Federal Chief Information Officers Council government-wide information management planning and programming. There may be copies of the Exhibit 300 records within these case files. However, agencies should continue to file the recordkeeping copy as part of IT Capital Investment Records. Records needed to support contracts should be in procurement files, which are scheduled under the GRS for General Financial Management Records.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 3.1, General Technology Management Records

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 3.1?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records related to technology management, including records related to developing, operating, and maintaining computer software, systems, and infrastructure improvements; complying with information technology policies and plans; and maintaining data standards.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 3.1 differ from the old General Records Schedules?

GRS 3.1 replaces half of the items from GRS 24, Information Technology Operations and Management Records. Other GRS items have been moved to 3.1 because they are similar in function and content, such as GRS 16, item 9, Feasibility Studies. Three items from GRS 20, Electronic Records now appear in 3.1:

- GRS 20, item 1a, Records Created to Test System Performance
- GRS 20, item 10, Special Purpose Programs
- GRS 20, items 11a1 and 11a2, Documentation

IT Customer Service Files (GRS 24, items 10a and 10b) are planned for development in a future GRS; the existing authorities are unchanged and are valid for use. The remaining items from GRS 24 are rescheduled in the new GRS 3.2, Information Systems Security Records.

DEFINITION OF TERMS USED IN THIS SCHEDULE

4. What are the definitions of subject-specific terms used in GRS 3.1?

Information technology infrastructure (item 010)

Information technology (IT) Infrastructure means the basic systems and services used to supply the agency and its staff with access to computers and data communications. Components include hardware such as printers, desktop and laptop computers, network and web servers, routers, hubs, and network cabling, as well as software such as operating systems and shared applications (e.g., word processing). The services necessary to design, implement, test, validate, and maintain such components are also considered part of an agency's IT infrastructure.

System development (item 011)

System development is the development of information technology (IT) systems and software applications through their initial stages up until hand-off to production and includes planning, requirements analysis, design, verification and testing, procurement, and installation.

Special purpose computer programs and applications (item 012)

Special purpose computer programs and applications are software that is developed by the agency or under its direction solely to use or maintain electronic records. (Item 012 covers such software for electronic records that are authorized for disposal in a GRS item or a NARA-approved records schedule.)

Master files (item 012)

Master files are the actual content of the electronic records series or system, or in other words the recordkeeping copy of an electronic record or system. Master files may consist of data, scanned text, PDFs, digital images, or some other form of electronic information. They may include the information content of an entire system or that of a group of related files. Related records within a single master file are not always the same format.

Configuration and change management (item 030)

Configuration and change management is a process or methodology used to develop, operate, and maintain computer software, systems, and infrastructure improvements.

Data administration (items 050 and 051)

Data administration includes maintenance of data standards, corporate data models, registries, and data definitions and dictionaries.

GENERAL QUESTIONS

5. Why doesn't GRS 3.1 cover system backups and other information security types of records?

GRS 3.1 addresses general records related to technology management. We devised GRS 3.2, Information Systems Security Records, to cover more specialized information security records. System backups are listed in GRS 3.2.

6. Why doesn't GRS 3.1 cover IT help desk records?

Since there are many types of help desks, GRS 24, items 10a and 10b, IT Customer Service Files, will be expanded and moved to GRS 5.8, Internal Help Desk Services Records. Since this schedule has not been developed, the current GRS 24, item 10a and 10b, disposition authorities remain valid and available for use.

7. Why doesn't GRS 3.1 apply to system data or content?

GRS 3.1 excludes system data or content because it would be impossible to apply an across-the-board retention period for these records. Instead, each dataset should be evaluated by an agency and submitted to NARA on a records schedule for approval.

8. Why does GRS 3.1 exclude records documenting the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and the US Federal Chief Information Officers Council (CIO Council) government-wide information management planning and programming records?

These records are not included in the GRS since they are scheduled as agency records. Certain records maintained by Federal Chief Information Officers (CIO) and their program offices are covered currently under GRS 27, Records of the Chief Information Officer. CIO Committee Records and CIO Subject and Office Records will be addressed in another GRS.

9. Why aren't the OMB Exhibit 300 records covered explicitly by this GRS?

OMB Exhibit 300 business cases for major investments, systems, acquisitions, or operational assets identified in the agency's capital investment portfolio and related clearance and review records are covered under GRS 27, item 3, IT Capital Investment Records. There may be copies of the Exhibit 300 records within case files in GRS 3.1, such as Infrastructure Project Records (item 010). However, agencies should continue to file the recordkeeping copy as part of IT Capital Investment Records in GRS 27.

10. Why can't I use this schedule for contracts for IT projects?

Records needed to support contracts should be in procurement files, which are scheduled under GRS 1.1, Financial Management and Reporting Records.

11. I see several major series are being retained for 5 years with various implied cutoff instructions. Why can't I just keep everything in GRS 3.1 for 5 years?

The quick answer is these records are not maintained for a flat 5 years. Different series have different points in time in which the retention period starts based on the business processes related to the records. For instance, for one series the 5 year retention doesn't start until the project has terminated. For another, the retention period starts when the system itself is superseded or terminated. This can lead to considerably different amounts of time records are held by an agency. That being said, this does not preclude agencies from aggregating records into big buckets without NARA approval, provided they are not destroying records too soon. The reason is that this schedule allows agencies to retain all temporary records on the schedule for longer periods of time to meet business needs.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 012

12. Why does Item 012 exclude software or applications necessary to use or maintain any unscheduled master file or database or any master file or database scheduled for transfer to the National Archives? Why does it also exclude commercial, off-the-shelf (COTS) programs or applications, unless modified?

Software and applications used in conjunction with permanent records are not covered by this GRS schedule because they may be needed to maintain and access the permanent records and therefore may be of permanent value. Such software and applications need to be scheduled and appraised on a case-by-case basis. Similarly, software and applications related to unscheduled records are excluded from this schedule because the related records may be of permanent value. Commercial, off-the-shelf (COTS) programs or applications, unless modified for use, are considered non-records.

13. Why does computer software need to be kept?

Computer software needs to be kept as long as needed to ensure access to, and use of, the electronic records in the system throughout the authorized retention period to comply with 36 CFR Sections 1236.10, 1236.12, 1236.14, and 1236.20.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 030

14. Why do system management records need to be kept? Which schedule is appropriate for these types of records?

System management records are kept not only to keep track of systems changes, but also because they have a secondary value in that they are needed to understand electronic records transferred to NARA. Should system management activities have a major impact on a system or lead to a significant change, those records should be maintained as part of Item 014 Configuration and Change Management Records.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 040

15. Why aren't security plans or Privacy Act System of Records Notices (SORNs) covered by Item 040?

While there may be copies of both documents interfiled within this series, oversight and compliance are not the primary functions associated with either document. Rather, security plans are scheduled under the GRS 3.2, Information Systems Security Records, and SORNs will be covered in another GRS.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 050

16. Why do I not cite a separate GRS disposition authority for documentation when it is transferred to NARA with associated permanent electronic records?

Per NARA practice, documentation for permanent electronic records must be transferred with the related records using the disposition authority for the related electronic records rather than the GRS disposition authority. So, you will not be citing the GRS authority when you actually transfer the records but the disposition authority for the electronic records themselves.

This practice is to simplify transfer. NARA practice has been to accession system documentation along with the related records. Prior to the establishment of NARA's Electronic Records Archives (ERA), the GRS authority for system documentation was included along with the agency-specific authority for the master files on the paper SF-258. ERA, however, requires a separate Transfer Request for each disposition authority. To eliminate the need to create a separate transfer request for system documentation, practice has been to simply include the system documentation along with the related records in the same Transfer Request. Additionally, records covered by GRS authorities cannot currently be transferred using ERA and a paper SF-258 must be used.

17. Why should I use item 050 for certain technical documentation (e.g., data dictionaries, file specifications, code books, record layouts, etc.) rather than items 011 System Development and 030 Configuration and Change Management Records?

When electronic records are scheduled as permanent in the GRS or in a NARA-approved agency schedule, the documentation that is needed to read and/or understand the records must be transferred to the National Archives to allow for continued access. Without these records NARA cannot provide access to the information; therefore the specific record types listed in item 030 have additional value beyond their use in system development and configuration management.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 3.2: Information Systems Security Records

This schedule covers records created and maintained by Federal agencies related to protecting the security of information technology systems and data, and responding to computer security incidents. This schedule does not apply to system data or content.

020	Computer security incident handling, reporting and follow-up records. A computer incident within the Federal Government as defined by NIST Special Publication 800-61, Computer Security Incident Handling Guide, Revision 2, (August 2012) is a violation or imminent threat of violation of computer security policies, acceptable use policies, or standard computer security practices. This item covers records relating to attempted or actual system security breaches, including break-ins ("hacks," including virus attacks), improper staff usage, failure of security provisions or procedures, and potentially compromised information assets. It also includes agency reporting of such incidents both internally and externally. Includes records such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• reporting forms</li> <li>• reporting tools</li> <li>• narrative reports</li> </ul>	Temporary. Destroy 3 year(s) after all necessary follow-up actions have been completed, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.	DAA-GRS-2013-0006-0002

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>background documentation</li> </ul> Note: Any significant incidents (e.g., a major system failure or compromise of critical government data) must be documented in program records, such as those in the office of the Inspector General, which must be scheduled separately by submitting an SF 115 to NARA.
030	System access records. These records are created as part of the user identification and authorization process to gain access to systems. Records are used to monitor inappropriate systems access by users. Includes records such as:	Systems not requiring special accountability for access. These are user identification records generated according to preset requirements, typically system generated. A system may, for example, prompt users for new passwords every 90 days for all users.	Temporary. Destroy when business use ceases.	DAA-GRS-2013-0006-0003
031	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>user profiles</li> <li>log-in files</li> <li>password files</li> <li>audit trail files and extracts</li> <li>system usage files</li> <li>cost-back files used to assess charges for system use</li> </ul> Exclusion 1. Excludes records relating to electronic signatures. Exclusion 2. Does not include monitoring for agency mission activities such as law enforcement.	Systems requiring special accountability for access. These are user identification records associated with systems which are highly sensitive and potentially vulnerable.	Temporary. Destroy 6 years after password is altered or user account is terminated, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.	DAA-GRS-2013-0006-0004
040	System backups and tape library records. Backup files maintained for potential system restoration in the event of a system failure or other unintentional loss of data.	Incremental backup files.	Temporary. Destroy when superseded by a full backup, or when no longer needed for system restoration, whichever is later. 050	Backups of master files and databases. Electronic copy, considered by the agency to be a Federal record, of the master copy of an electronic record or file and retained in case the master file or database is damaged or inadvertently erased.	File identical to permanent records scheduled for transfer to the National Archives.	Temporary. Destroy immediately after the identical records have been captured in a subsequent backup file or at any time after the transfer request has been signed by the National Archives, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.	DAA-GRS-2013-0006-0007
051		File identical to temporary records authorized for destruction by a NARA-approved records schedule.	Temporary. Destroy immediately after the identical records have been deleted or replaced by a subsequent backup file, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.	DAA-GRS-2013-0006-0008
060	PKI administrative records. Records are PKI-unique administrative records that establish or support authentication by tying the user to a valid electronic credential and other administrative non-PKI records that are retained to attest to the reliability of the PKI transaction process. Included are policies and procedures planning records; stand-up configuration and validation records; operation records; audit and monitor records; and termination, consolidation, or reorganizing records.	FBCA CAs.	Temporary. Destroy/delete when 7 years 6 months, 10 years 6 months, or 20 years 6 months old, based on the maximum	N1-GRS-07-3, item 13a1

061	Policies and procedures planning records relate to defining and establishing PKI systems. Records relate to such activities as determining that a PKI should be established; creating project implementation plans; creating the certificate policy (CP), certification practice statement (CPS), and other key operating documents; developing procedures in accordance with the CP and CPS; conducting risk analyses; developing records management policies (including migration strategies); and selecting the entity that will serve as registration authority (RA). Stand-up configuration and validation records relate to installing and validating both the Certification Authority (CA) and Registration Authority (RA), obtaining final approval or rejection from the agency's oversight or authorizing body, creating and generating a CA signature key, testing security procedures for the CA and RA, validating certification revocation procedures, and establishing back-up and storage for the PKI system. Operation records relate to the certification application; certificate issuance and key generation (including key pair generation and private key loading and storage of private keys and components of private keys); certificate acceptance, validation, revocation, suspension, replacement, and renewal; creating and maintaining an event log; and installing and validating software updates. Audit and monitor records relate to conducting periodic internal and external reviews of auditable events specified in the Federal Bridge Certification Authority (FBCA) X.509 Certificate Policy and other Entity CA policies, monitoring compliance with security requirements specified in the CPS and other operating procedures, investigating internal fraud or misconduct, and conducting internal and external audits of software and systems security. Termination, consolidation, or reorganization records relate to terminating, consolidating, or reorganizing a PKI; notifying subscribers of decisions, transferring inactive keys and revocation certificate lists to storage repositories, transferring consenting subscribers' and certificates and related materials to a new Certificate Authority, destroying sensitive records involving privacy (in accordance with an authorized records schedule), and shutting down and disposing of RA hardware and CA software. Note: Select PKI administrative records serve as transaction records that must be retained as part of the trust documentation set with transaction-specific records. Agencies must determine which PKI administrative records are embedded with transaction-specific records as transaction records. These administrative records may vary from transaction-to-transaction.		level of operation of the CA, or when no longer needed for business, whichever is later.
		Other (non-FBCA et. al.) CAs.	Temporary. Destroy/delete when 7 years 6 months to 20 years 6 months old, based on the maximum level of operation of the CA, or when no longer needed for business, whichever is later.	N1-GRS-07-3 , item 13a2

Item	Records Title/Description	Disposition Instruction	Disposition Authority
062	PKI transaction-specific records. Records relate to transaction-specific records that are generated for each transaction using PKI digital signature technology. Records are embedded or referenced within the transaction stream and may be appended to the transaction content or information record. Along with PKI administrative and other administrative records, transaction-specific records are part of the PKI trust documentation set that establish or support the trustworthiness of a transaction. They may vary from transaction-to- transaction and agency-to-agency. When retained to support the authentication of an electronic transaction content record (information record), PKI digital signature transaction records are program records. Note: Extreme care must be taken when applying the GRS-PKI to transaction records. Destruction of the transaction-specific and administrative records embedded in the transaction stream prior to the authorized retention of the information record that they access/protect will render the PKI incapable of performing what it is designed to do-protect and provide access to the information record. Due to the relative newness of PKI technology, both from an implementation and a litigation perspective, it is recommended that agencies identify all PKI transaction records (including PKI select administrative records embedded in the transaction stream and transaction-specific records) to be retained as part of the trust documentation for the records the PKI is designed to protect and or access and link the retention of the transaction records with that of the information record it protects/accesses. Transaction records must be retained as trust documentation set records together with the content/information record.	Temporary. Destroy/delete when 7 years 6 months to 20 years 6 months old, based on the maximum level of operation of the appropriate CA and after the information record the PKI is designed to protect and/or access is destroyed according to an authorized schedule, or in the case of permanent records, when the record is transferred to NARA legal custody. Longer retention is authorized if the agency determines that transaction-specific PKI records are needed for a longer period.	N1-GRS-07-3, item 13b

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 3.2, Information Systems Security Records

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 3.2?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records related to system and data security and access, reports on computer security incidents, and backup tapes and files.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 3.2 differ from the old General Records Schedules?

GRS 3.2 is comprised of updated items from GRS 24, Information Technology Operations and Management Records, that are related to information systems security. Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) Records schedules (GRS 24, items 13a1, 13a2, and 13b) are not rescheduled, but they are now part of this schedule (items 060, 061, and 062) under their existing authorities. GRS 3.2 also includes a few items relevant to this schedule that were in GRS 20, Electronic Records.

DEFINITION OF TERMS USED IN THIS SCHEDULE

4. What are the definitions of terms used in GRS 3.2?

Information system

An information system means the organized collection, processing, transmission, and dissemination of information in accordance with defined procedures, whether automated or manual. (36 CFR 1220.18)

Information systems security records

GRS 3.2 defines these as records created and maintained by Federal agencies related to protecting the security of information technology systems and data and responding to computer security incidents.

Information technology infrastructure (item 010)

Information technology (IT) infrastructure means the basic systems and services used to supply the agency and its staff with access to computers and data communications. Components include hardware such as printers, desktop and laptop computers, network and web servers, routers, hubs, and network cabling, as well as software such as operating systems and shared applications (e.g., word processing). The services necessary to design, implement, test, validate, and maintain such components are also considered part of an agency's IT infrastructure.

Computer incident (item 020)

A computer incident within the Federal Government as defined by NIST Special Publication 800-61, Computer Security Incident Handling Guide, Revision 2 (August 2012), is a violation or imminent threat of violation of computer security policies, acceptable use policies, or standard computer security practices.

Significant computer incident (item 020)

A significant computer incident that would require scheduling of records outside of this GRS would be defined as one that caused widespread system outage or denial of service, or gained notice by local news media, law enforcement, or the agency's Inspector General's office.

System access records (items 030 and 031)

GRS 3.2 defines these as records created as part of the user identification and authorization process to gain access to systems. Records are used to monitor inappropriate systems access by users.

System backups (items 040 and 041)

Backup files maintained for potential system restoration in the event of a system failure or other unintentional loss of data.

Master files (items 050 and 051)

Master files are the actual content of the electronic records series or system, or in other words the recordkeeping copy of an electronic record or system. Master files may consist of data, scanned text, PDFs, digital images, or some other form of electronic information. They may include the information content of an entire system or that of a group of related files. Related records within a single master file are not always the same format.

Electronic signature (items 060, 061, and 062)

An electronic signature is a technologically neutral term indicating various methods of signing an electronic message that (a) identify and authenticate a particular person as source of the electronic message and (b) indicate such person's approval of the information contained in the electronic message (definition from Government Paperwork Elimination Act, Public Law 105-277). Examples of electronic signature technologies include PINs, user identifications and passwords, digital signatures, digitized signatures, and hardware and biometric tokens. (See Appendix A, Records Management Guidance for Agencies Implementing Electronic Signature Technologies, NARA, October 18, 2000)

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 030 AND 031

5. Why don't Items 030 and 031 (system access records) include monitoring that is part of an agency's mission activities?

Records associated with mission activities, such as law enforcement, wilderness preservation, and aeronautics engineering, are scheduled separately because the value of the records varies and they must be scheduled on agency-specific schedules. Items 030 and 031 cover internal administration of user access to systems and only records created as part of the user identification and authorization process.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 4.1, Records Management Records

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 4.1?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records Federal agencies create and maintain in the course of managing records and information. It includes records on tracking and controlling agency records and documents, records management programs, forms management, and managing vital or essential records.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 4.1 differ from the old GRS?

Items in this schedule come mostly from existing GRS 16, Administrative Management Records. We also added a new item to this schedule (item 031) to address copies of vital records.

Item 010, tracking and control records, aggregates several existing GRS items, including GRS 20, item 9; GRS 21, item 29; GRS 23, item 8; GRS 23, item 9; and GRS 24, item 4b.

This schedule will eventually include IRM triennial review files (GRS 16, item 11) and information collection budget files (GRS 16, item 12). However, those schedules are not yet ready; they require additional analysis and stakeholder agency concurrence before we can reissue them.

4. Why are you rescinding some old GRS items?

We rescinded records holdings files (GRS 16, items 4a and 4b) because they covered agency reports to NARA using Standard Form-136, Annual Summary of Records Holdings. NARA canceled this form in 1985, and we no longer require agencies to submit these reports.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 010

5. Does this item cover tracking and control records (also known as finding aids) for permanent records or unscheduled records?

This authority does not apply to tracking and control records for records scheduled as permanent or for unscheduled records. The value of these records varies, so agencies must schedule tracking and control records for permanent records separately. Unscheduled records could be determined to be permanent, so tracking and control records for them also cannot be scheduled by a GRS item.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 020

6. May we keep certain records under this category, such as those about destroyed records, longer than six years, but destroy others once the six years is up?

Yes, the disposition instruction authorizes both destroying records once they've met the six-year retention period and retaining certain records beyond six years, if needed for business use. Agencies must keep the Transfer Request (TR); Legal Transfer Instrument (LTI); and SF 258, Agreement to Transfer Records to the National Archives of the United States for a minimum of six years so that agencies can properly redirect Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests to NARA after the agency has transferred the records to the National Archives.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 031

7. Why is there an item for copies of vital records? Aren't such copies non-records?

Copies of vital records agencies use to respond to an emergency are records because agencies rely on them to conduct agency business.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 4.2: Information Access and Protection Records

This schedule covers records created in the course of agencies (1) responding to requests for access to Government information and (2) protecting information that is classified or controlled unclassified, or contains personal data that is required by law to be protected.

Item	Records Description	Disposition Instruction	Disposition Authority
010	General information request files. Requests for information, publications, photographs, and other information involving no administrative action, policy decision, or special compilations or research. Also includes acknowledgements, replies, and referrals of inquiries to other offices for response.	Temporary. Destroy when 90 days old, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.	DAA-GRS-2013-0007-0001
020	Access and disclosure request files. Case files created in response to requests for information under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), Mandatory Declassification Review (MDR) process, Privacy Act (PA), Classification Challenge, and similar access programs, and completed by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• granting the request in full</li> <li>• granting the request in part</li> <li>• denying the request for any reason including:               <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ inability to fulfill request because records do not exist</li> <li>○ inability to fulfill request because request inadequately describes records</li> <li>○ inability to fulfill request because search or reproduction fees are not paid</li> </ul> </li> <li>• final adjudication on appeal to any of the above original settlements</li> <li>• final agency action in response to court remand on appeal</li> </ul> Includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• requests (either first-party or third-party)</li> <li>• replies</li> <li>• copies of requested records</li> <li>• administrative appeals</li> <li>• related supporting documents (such as sanitizing instructions)</li> </ul> Note 1: Record copies of requested records remain covered by their original disposal authority, but if disposable sooner than their associated access/disclosure case file, may be retained under this item for disposition with that case file.	Temporary. Destroy 6 years after final agency action or 3 years after final adjudication by the courts, whichever is later, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.	DAA-GRS-2016-0002-0001

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 4.2, Records of Information Access and Protection

Revised June 2016

GENERAL

1. What is the purpose of GRS 4.2?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records agencies create in the course of (1) responding to requests for access to Government information, and (2) protecting information that is classified, controlled unclassified, or contains personal data whose protection is required by law.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

3. How does GRS 4.2 differ from the old GRS?

This schedule merges all Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), Privacy Act (PA), and Mandatory Declassification Review (MDR) request records—18 separate items from GRS 14—into a single item (020). In the old GRS, these 18 items covered individual types of requests and agencies retained the documents for various periods, depending on the type of response. This system required many items to cover all contingencies. A unified single item better lends itself to electronic recordkeeping, which is how most agencies currently maintain records documenting information requests from the public.

Records covered in this schedule that have never before appeared in the GRS include: automatic and systematic declassification review program records (item 100), classification guidance review records (item 110), personally identifiable information (PII) extracts and logs (items 130 and 140), Privacy Act systems of records notices (SORNs, item 150), records analyzing PII (items 160 and 161), and computer matching program notices and agreements (item 170).

4. Why did you rescind some old GRS items?

We rescinded GRS 14, items 11b, 12b, 21b, 31b, and 32b with the publication of GRS 4.2. These items covered records requested under FOIA, PA, and MDR that agencies remove from their original location and re-file as part of the access request record. In our discussions with agencies, we found none that remove requested records from their original locations. GRS 4.2, item 020, leaves requested records scheduled by their original authority (copies may be filed and scheduled with the access request record). We therefore do not need separate items covering a situation that does not exist.

We also rescinded GRS 18, item 25b. A disposition instruction declares records either permanent or temporary and includes a disposition authority. A filing instruction does not declare records permanent or temporary and does not include authority to dispose of records; it simply instructs on where to file them. GRS 18, item 25b was a filing instruction whose "disposition authority" was meaningless as it neither directed the records' permanent retention nor destruction. By removing item 25b, we rescind the disposal authority. The filing instruction, which is still valid, is now in item 120 of this schedule.

5. Why do the disposition instructions include different "DAA" numbers?

Most new General Records Schedules are processed through the Electronic Records Archives (ERA) as a single series of items. The bulk of GRS 4.2 was processed in ERA under "job number" DAA-GRS-2013-0007, but items 060, 061 and 121 were later added under DAA-GRS-2015-0002. Still later additions and alterations were accomplished under job numbers DAA-GRS-2016-0002 and DAA-GRS-2016-0003. The disposal authorities you see for these three items are not typographical errors.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 020

6. Why does item 020 aggregate so many items from the old GRS?

The old GRS included variable retention periods of 2, 3, 5, or 6 years. The schedule based these periods on whether the agency granted (in full or in part), denied, or was unable to fill the request, or whether the requester appealed/adjudicated the agency's response. In our discussions with agencies, we learned that agencies do not separate these files this way, and prefer to have a standard retention period. The statute of limitations for appealing agency responses is six years, so the new GRS establishes the common retention period to comply with that statute of limitations. This retention period ensures that agencies retain records as long as a requester has the right to challenge or appeal either a denial or the adequacy of a positive response, thereby making sure agencies still have the records if the requester wins the appeal. Making the retention period common to all the aggregated items also simplifies electronic recordkeeping since agencies need not segregate case files into smaller units based on the way the file closed.

Agencies that find their business processes would work more smoothly with the former GRS retention periods can write an agency-specific schedule requesting an exception to the GRS.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030, 031, and 032

7. Items 030, 031, and 032 are related to each other topically and are all retained for very short periods of time. Why aren't they merged into one item with a unified retention period?

The original draft of this schedule did merge these into one item with a 2-year retention period. Some agencies objected, noting that the then-current GRS showed some of the records as disposable when superseded or obsolete; requiring a 2-year retention period for such items (when the records might become obsolete much sooner) was an unwarranted burden. We agreed, and reworked the list of records into three smaller items linked directly to the minimum amount of time for which agencies should have a strictly business use for the records. If an agency, for its convenience, wishes to collapse items 030, 031, and 032 into a unified item with a single retention period, it can do so because we authorize longer retention for all three items if required for business use.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 060

8. Erroneous release records were retained for 6 years in the old GRS. Now they are retained until the released records are destroyed. Why?

Agencies now almost always file documentation of erroneous release of records with the erroneously-released records rather than in a separate series of all erroneous release cases divorced from the records they concern. This gives context both to the documentation about the release and to the original records themselves. It also allows the agencies to “remember” an erroneous release as long as the records survive. Because of this practice and the benefits that arise from it, we have tied the retention period of erroneous release information to the released records so that they will survive as long as the associated records.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 090

9. Privacy Act amendment request records used to be scheduled for various lengths of time linked to the manner in which the case was closed: particularly, whether court adjudication was involved. Why are these items now collapsed into one item?

The retention period for the three old GRS items in question did depend on how the case closed: GRS 14, item 22a (per approved disposition for record being amended, or 4 years after agency's agreement to amend, whichever is later); item 22b (per approved disposition for record being amended, 4 years after final determination by agency, or 3 years after final adjudication by courts, whichever is later); and item 22c (per approved disposition for record being amended, or 3 years after final adjudication by courts, whichever is later). The disposal instruction for the new item (destroy with the records for which amendment was requested or 4 years after close of case—final determination by agency or final adjudication, whichever applies—whichever is later) actually retains every one of these variants. “Destroy with the records for which amendment was requested” is the most frequently used option.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 120

10. Why is there no disposition authority for this item?

The disposition instruction for this item (classified information nondisclosure agreements maintained in the individual's official personnel folder) is really a filing instruction telling agencies to file the records in the OPF; therefore, it does not include disposal authority. See question 4, paragraph 2, for information on the difference between disposition and filing instructions.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 121

11. Why is this item's retention so drastically reduced?

The previous 70-year retention period originated from Director of Central Intelligence Directive (DCID) 6/1 (November 4, 2003), which applied only to agencies in the Intelligence Community. Intelligence Community Directive 703, “Protection of Classified National Intelligence, Including Sensitive Compartmented Information,” rescinded DCID 6/1 on June 21, 2013. Directive 703 does not include specific retention period requirements for nondisclosure agreements. So we are applying the 50-year retention period specified in 32 CFR 2001.80(d)(2)(vii). The Office of the Director of National Intelligence concurred with 50 years.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEMS 150, 160, AND 161*12. Why does this schedule not cover Privacy Act Statements (PASs)?

The Privacy Act requires agencies to tell individuals providing personal information destined for a system of records about how the agency will use that information and to whom the agency will disclose it. The vehicle for this is a PAS. This schedule does not cover PASs because they are not stand-alone documents or a records series in themselves. Rather, agencies tend to incorporate them into the very forms on which agencies ask individuals to enter data. They generally appear as part of a form's "small print," often at the bottom of the page.

13. May I consider the SORNs and PIAs posted on my agency's web pages as the record copy covered by this item?

The GRS is agnostic on where, how, and by whom records are retained. An agency may choose to retain its record copy of active SORNs and PIAs on its external or internal web pages. An agency should determine as part of its policies and procedures where and how it keeps recordkeeping copies.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 150*14. Why must I retain a copy of a System of Records Notice (SORN) when I can always get it from the Federal Register, where it is a permanent record?

This item covers not only a copy of the SORN itself, but also significant background material showing its development. These records have continuing business use as long as a SORN is in effect.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 161*15. Does this item cover internal Privacy Impact Assessments (PIAs)—those about information collection from agency employees—as well as PIAs about information collection from the public?

Yes. The item description covers all PIAs, regardless of whether the agency collects the information from the public or from the subset of the public known as agency employees. OMB guidance memo M-03-22, "Guidance for Implementing the Privacy Provisions of the E-Government Act of 2002," indicates agencies must use the same stringent measures to protect information about both the public and agency employees. Therefore, this item also includes PIAs concerning systems of records in which agencies collect PII from their employees.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 170*16. What is the OMB "Final Guidance" to which this item refers?

OMB guidance on Computer Matching Agreements appears in several documents, some of them post-dating the 1989 document bearing the word "final" in its title. See:

- I Final Guidance interpreting the Provisions of Public Law 100-503, published in the Federal Register (54 FR 25818, June 19, 1989)
- II OMB Circular A-130, Appendix I (which, as of August 2016, is in the process of being revised and moved to Circular A-108)

- The Computer Matching and Privacy Protection Amendments of 1990 and the Privacy act of 1974, published in the Federal Register (56 FR 18599, April 23, 1991)
- Privacy Act of 1974: Revised Supplemental Guidance for Conducting Matching Programs, published in the Federal Register (47 FR 21656, May 19, 1982)

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 4.3: Input Records, Output Records, and Electronic Copies

This schedule provides disposal authorization for the following records related to electronic systems or collections of electronic records: input or source records, system output records, and non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records. In other words it covers records that contain information duplicated in the recordkeeping copies of electronic records (also known as the master records or master files). This schedule does not cover the recordkeeping copies themselves, which must be scheduled based on their content. Electronic records not included in GRS 4.3 may not be destroyed unless authorized by a NARA approved schedule.

Also not covered by this schedule are original hardcopy still pictures, graphic materials/posters, aerial film, maps, plans, charts, sound recordings, motion picture film, or video recordings that are scheduled as permanent or unscheduled that have been converted to an electronic format. Electronic versions of special media records such as these often do not adequately replace the original and therefore the original records may not be destroyed as “input records.”

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 4.3, Input Records, Output Records and Electronic Copies

Revised June 2015

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 4.3?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records related to electronic systems or collections of electronic records, including:

- Records agencies use to create or update the master or recordkeeping copy
- Certain records extracted from electronic systems, including queries on system content
- Electronic and hardcopy reports
- Non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records

In other words, it covers records that contain information duplicated in the recordkeeping copies of electronic records. This schedule does not cover the recordkeeping copies themselves, which agencies must schedule based on their content.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 4.3 differ from the old General Records Schedules?

GRS 4.3 replaces most of GRS 20. We rescheduled a few items from GRS 20 in a new GRS 3.1, General Technology Management Records, or will include them in other future schedules. We also rescinded some items in GRS 20. For information on the final outcome of specific items in GRS 20, see the GRS 20 crosswalk.

The schedule continues to cover input/source records, output records, and copies of word processing files, electronic mail, and spreadsheets. We reorganized and redefined items within the schedule, but made no significant changes to the records retention periods. Changes include:

- Breaking GRS 20, item 2a4, hardcopy or analog input/source records, into three items, depending on whether and how the agency scheduled the original records.
- Aggregating multiple GRS 20 items covering electronic input records into a single item;
- Merging items for hardcopy and electronic ad hoc reports into a single, media-neutral item;
- Aggregating multiple GRS 20 items covering electronic output items into a single item; and
- Aggregating items for copies of word processing files, electronic mail, and spreadsheets and expanding the new item to other copies of electronic files.

4. Why did you rescind GRS 20, items 2a1-3?

We rescinded these three items because they are not actual disposition authorities; GRS items must provide records disposition authorities. Generally, agencies can destroy hardcopy input materials after either verifying the agency has converted them to electronic form (for temporary records) or notifying NARA of XXXX (for permanent records) (see item 2a4). These three items were instructions that allowed exceptions to this general rule. Because items in the GRS provide records disposition authority, we no longer list these exceptions as items in the GRS, but they still exist within the GRS in a different form. They now appear as exclusions to item 011. The intent of GRS 20, item 2a3, is covered by GRS 4.3, items 010-012, which apply to records converted to electronic format in their entirety.

5. Why did you rescind GRS 20, items 3 and 3.1?

We rescinded these items from the GRS because they are not disposition authorities and GRS items provide records disposition authorities. These two items were instructions to either apply an existing schedule or submit a new SF-115. However, removing them from the GRS does not mean that the instructions no longer apply to agencies. NARA's regulations at 36 CFR 1225.24 include instructions on when agencies can apply existing schedules and when they must reschedule records, and agencies must follow these regulations.

6. Can I still apply existing schedules for paper records to electronic versions?

Yes. Title 36 CFR 1225.24 and NARA's Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQs\) About Media-Neutral Schedule Items provide instructions on when agencies may apply existing schedules for hardcopy or analog records to electronic versions.

DEFINITION OF TERMS USED IN THIS SCHEDULE

7. What are master files?

Master files are the actual content of the electronic records series or system or, in other words, the recordkeeping copy of an electronic record or system. Master files may consist of data, scanned text, PDFs, digital images, or some other form of electronic information. They may include the information content of an entire system or that of a group of related files. Related records within a single master file are not always the same format.

8. What are input/source records?

Input records are the source of the information someone enters into an electronic system. You use them to create, update, or modify master files your agency keeps to meet recordkeeping requirements under a NARA-approved records schedule. Input records may be electronic files or hardcopy (non-electronic) documents. They may include records such as upload files staged for ingest into a system or hardcopy forms scanned or otherwise entered into the system.

Not all input processes create separate records. Those that do not include:

- Structured data the user enters from online forms, structured data the user manually inputs directly into the system (no hardcopy form), and unstructured (textual) data that is born digital (i.e., not scanned from paper).

- Data moved automatically from another system with no associated data file. Thus, the data is copied from one system to the other without creating an intermediary data file. (For example, data are pulled from one system to populate another, and fields from System X are used to populate System Y.) This does not cover data migrated from a legacy system to a new system.

9. What does “verification of successful conversion” mean?

Verification of successful conversion means that the agency has taken steps to ensure that hardcopy or analog records have been converted to electronic format in their entirety, that no information or pages are missing, all information is readable, especially in cases where records are scanned, and that the electronic version of the record is accessible (it can be opened). It is up to Federal agencies to define their verification procedures. NARA does not have specific requirements for how conversion of records to an electronic format should be verified.

10. What are output records?

Output records are derived directly from the system master file. An example is a report that agency staff print from the system by clicking on a field or radio button in the system. By contrast, reports created using system information but not created directly from the system itself are not system output records. An example is an annual report that agency staff prepares based on reviewing information in the system.

11. What are “non-recordkeeping copies”?

Non-recordkeeping copies are any copy other than the “official record” kept by the agency for formal recordkeeping purposes. Do not confuse the term with “non-record.” Non-recordkeeping copies may be records. They are records if they are used to make decisions or take actions, but they generally do not need to be kept for documentation purposes as long as the official record copy. For example, email an agency creates and receives in the course of Federal business is a non-recordkeeping copy that is a record. Those emails may be copied into an official recordkeeping system for long-term preservation. The copy on your computer is still a record used to conduct business, but it is not the recordkeeping copy; it is a non-recordkeeping copy.

12. Item 040 states that it includes “copies of the above electronic records maintained in websites or web servers, but excluding web pages themselves.” What are “web pages” in this context?

The term “web pages” as it is used in this item refers to the electronic file(s) that make up the page as it renders on the web, such as an HTML or XML file, style sheets, and any other associated files that may make up the web page.

SCHEDULE IMPLEMENTATION

13. Why doesn’t GRS 4.3 cover electronic records/system master files?

GRS 4.3 does not cover electronic records/system master files because the content of such records is too variable. The GRS schedules records based on their content, not the type of records. Input and output records may seem like they are being scheduled by record type, but really they are scheduled based on their content: their content is duplicative information contained in other records. GRS 4.3

schedules records containing information duplicated in other electronic records or recordkeeping systems. Some electronic records/system master files may be covered by other General Records Schedules depending on their content.

14. How and when is GRS 4.3 applied to input records?

If the input records are in hardcopy format:

QUESTIONS ABOUT ITEMS 010, 011, AND 012 – HARDCOPY OR ANALOG INPUT/SOURCE RECORDS

15. Why does the GRS state that input records must be copied “in their entirety”?

The GRS states that input records must be copied in their entirety because otherwise the input record is not a duplicate of what is maintained in the master file and therefore the input record contains unique information that may change the value of the record. For example, a hardcopy source record could contain an annotation that is not clearly picked up when the record is scanned. Therefore the scan does not copy the input record in its entirety, the source record contains additional information not in the scanned version, and the source record may therefore have unique value.

This requirement does not apply only to scanned documents. Data may be entered from a form. If not all of the form's data is entered into the system, then the source record has not been copied in its entirety. One exception may be where a form is used to check a record already in the system. If information on the form already matches what is in the system, there is no need to update the information in the system. In that case, the source record is still being copied in its entirety because the information on the input form and in the system is the same. As long as there is a one-to-one relationship between the source record and the electronic version and they match, the source record is being copied in its entirety.

The requirement that input records be ingested in their entirety is not new. GRS 20, item 2a3, specified that hardcopy input/source records that contained information that was not or could not be captured in the electronic version of the records (e.g., certain handwritten annotations) must be disposed of according to the schedule for the hardcopy record.

16. When is it not appropriate to destroy input records once they are converted to an electronic format?

Agencies may find that in certain circumstances they have a business need for the source records even after they have converted the records to an electronic format. In such cases, agencies may determine that it is not appropriate to apply the GRS for converted input/source records. Agencies should assess their business need for the source records and may establish a longer retention in their agency-specific disposition manuals without additional NARA approval. In some cases, source records may be or become part of another records series scheduled on an agency-specific schedule. In these cases, the agency-specific schedule should be applied rather than the GRS. For example, if the source record is part of another record, such as a case file, but the electronic version of the record is not a copy of the entire case file or has a separate purpose from the case file, then an agency-specific disposition authority may apply to the source record rather than the GRS.

QUESTION ABOUT ITEM 020 – ELECTRONIC INPUT/SOURCE RECORDS

17. Why are electronic input/source records created under an interagency agreement or in response to specific information needs of the receiving agency excluded from this item?

Records created under an interagency agreement are excluded because such an agreement is a legal document that is specific to that set of records, and may provide for additional retention requirements not in accordance with the GRS. Similarly, responses to specific information needs are excluded because they may have statutory or regulatory requirements. Both types of records may need to be retained longer than the minimum period in Item 020, to protect both the sending and receiving agencies.

QUESTION ABOUT ITEM 031 – OUTPUT RECORDS – DATA FILE OUTPUTS

18. Why are data file outputs from records scheduled as permanent, but that no longer exist or can no longer be accessed, excluded? How can a permanent record no longer exist or no longer be accessed?

Records may have been scheduled as permanent but the record itself may no longer exist or be inaccessible because it was lost, corrupted, or in some other way can no longer be opened or read. In that case, a data file output may be the only accessible version of the record and NARA might want to take the output record in place of the inaccessible/unavailable permanent master record. This note should not be interpreted to mean that outputs must be kept just in case the permanent record becomes inaccessible; it only means that, if you have the output records and the master file is inaccessible, you should contact NARA to see if you should transfer the output records instead.

QUESTION ABOUT ITEM 040 – NON-RECORDKEEPING COPIES OF ELECTRONIC RECORDS

19. Why does GRS 4.3 schedule non-recordkeeping copies?

Not all copies are non-record. Copies may still be records if they are used to make decisions or take actions, so they require an approved schedule for disposition. Non-recordkeeping means only that the record is not maintained for recordkeeping purposes. It is still a record.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 4.4: Library Records

Agency library and information centers collect material related to their agency's mission or focus. Library services include administering the program, collecting data and information, and transferring collected data and information to the end customer. This schedule covers records that document a library's administration and daily operations. This schedule does not cover nonrecord material such as library and museum material agencies make or acquire and preserve solely for reference or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents agencies preserved only for convenient reference, and stocks of publications and of processed documents. This schedule also does not include unique or special collections, which agencies must schedule based on their content.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 4.4, Library Records

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 4.4?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records that agencies create and maintain in the course of administering and operating Federal agency libraries. This schedule does not provide disposition authority for a library's collection or holdings.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

GENERAL QUESTIONS

3. This GRS covers library collections but not special collections. What is the difference between them?

Library collections covered by this GRS consist of information and materials collected by Federal libraries and information centers to support their agency's users (agency employees, military personnel, embassy personnel, etc.) and mission. Library collections may include reference copies of agency publications and related books, journals, and electronic resources. 36 CFR 1222.14 defines most material held in library collections as non-records.

Special collections are library and archival material characterized by its intrinsic, historic, or unique nature, regardless of format (e.g., rare books, manuscripts, photographs, institutional archives). These collections rarely circulate, and are often in a secure area. They may need special handling and require special preservation. Thus, what distinguishes special collections from library collections is that the former tend to include unique materials, often including archival materials (records) that often need special care.<sup>1</sup>

4. Why doesn't the GRS cover administration of special collections?

The GRS schedules records based on content, not type. GRS 4.4 schedules records that agencies create in the course of routinely administering and managing a library. While special collections involve similar functions, their administrative records are less likely to be routine. Since special collections contain unique material, their management creates records specific to special business processes: accessioning, special handling, access restrictions, security, tracking, preservation requirements, and loans to external entities, to name a few. In addition, agencies often prove the authenticity and provenance of special collection items through records showing chain of custody. The historical value of these records must be linked to the value of the special collection itself. For these reasons, it is not possible to include these records in a GRS.

5. My agency creates and publishes special reports, journals, and magazines that are in the library collection. Are these permanent records?

It depends on whether the library maintains the record copy or a reference copy. Agencies typically schedule their own publications as permanent records. Libraries often collect and make available agency publications for reference purposes. Copies the library keeps only for reference are non-record and the agency does not need to schedule them. If the library maintains the recordkeeping copy of its agency's publications, then they are records and the agency must schedule them.

6. My library creates and maintains a website. Can we use this GRS for our library website?

This GRS covers described records (for instance, "promotional material describing library services and resources" in item 010 and "catalog searches and circulation of material" in item 020) whether the agency implements their function via hard-copy records in real space or via a website. Many library online resources are non-record material (reference material, books, newspapers, etc.), which the agency does not need to schedule. As a result of the mix of materials that may be on a given website, this GRS does not automatically cover all records on a Federal library website per se. We also note that an agency may choose to schedule its website(s) individually or collectively as its "web presence."

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 020

7. Item 020 covers records that contain information about library users (circulation records, research requests, sign-in sheets, etc.) that likely include personally identifiable information (PII). Why are there no instructions for how agencies should handle PII?

The GRS provides instructions for how long agencies must retain records, not how agencies internally manage their records. Agencies should include handling PII as part of their policies and procedures; it is outside the scope of the GRS.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 6.1: Email Managed under a Capstone Approach

This schedule applies only to Federal agencies that implement a Capstone approach as described in this GRS. When implementing this GRS, agencies should consult the FAQs about GRS 6.1, Email Managed under a Capstone Approach. Agencies are reminded that this GRS should not be implemented in isolation, and should be supplemented with agency-wide policies and training, as well as incorporated into agency records management implementation tools, such as manuals and file plans. Agencies adopting a Capstone approach should also consult other resources available from NARA related to email management, specifically the Capstone approach. These resources are available on NARA's email management page and are summarized in the introduction to the FAQ.

Agencies must not implement this GRS until approval of NARA form 1005 \(NA-1005\), Verification for Implementing GRS 6.1. Additional information, including a link to the form, may be found in FAQ 3 and in the instructions accompanying the form.

GRS Scope

Email can be managed at an account level, at a mailbox level, in personal folder files, or other ways. This GRS applies to all email, regardless of how the email messages are managed or what email technology is used. Email, in the context of this GRS, also includes any associated attachments. This GRS may apply to records affiliated with other commonly available functions of email programs such as calendars/appointments, tasks, and chat.

Each agency is responsible for determining the scope of implementation when using Capstone, including, 1) The range of implementation in an organization (agency-wide, specific office, etc.); and 2) The range of implementation regarding email technology and system platforms. Brief information on the scope of an agency's Capstone implementation is also required on NA-1005.

Agencies are also responsible for defining (and documenting through policy) the official recordkeeping version of email to be managed under a Capstone approach, especially when email is captured or retained in multiple locations (e.g., an email archive vs. the live system). All other versions of email can be considered nonrecord, the retention of which should be addressed in agency email policy.

Agencies are expected to apply documented selection criteria to cull the email of Capstone officials (permanent accounts) to the greatest extent possible before transfer to NARA. Culling refers to the removal – or otherwise excluding from capture – of nonrecord, personal, or transitory messages and attachments. Culling typically includes the removal of spam, email blasts received (such as agency-wide communications), and personal materials (such as emails to family members not related to agency business). Culling may be manual, automated, or a hybrid of both. Agencies may develop their own policies and procedures for the culling of temporary accounts.

Applying this GRS

When applying this GRS in part, agencies must ensure that all other email records are covered by another NARA-approved disposition authority. Agencies NOT managing any of their email under the Capstone approach are still responsible for managing their email by applying NARA-approved records schedules.

If an agency is implementing a Capstone disposition approach different from what is provided in this GRS, the agency must submit a records schedule. For example, an agency may want to narrow the list of required positions in item 010, use shorter retention lengths for temporary records, or extend the time frame for transfer of permanent records.

Agencies have discretion to designate individual email messages, with their attachments as permanent, or as longer-term temporary records that should be crossfiled elsewhere pursuant to agency policies and business needs.

Agencies must transfer to NARA the emails of Capstone officials captured during their tenure as a Capstone official. Therefore, email of Capstone officials created prior to their designation as a Capstone official (e.g., prior to their promotion/rotation into a Capstone position) should be treated as temporary and not transferred to NARA. For guidance on transferring email as a permanent record, see NARA Bulletin 2014-04, Revised Format Guidance for the Transfer of Permanent Electronic Records and the relevant sections of 36 CFR Part 1235.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 6.1, Email Managed under a Capstone Approach

Updated July 2016

These FAQs provide additional information for agencies implementing GRS 6.1 (Capstone GRS). Agencies adopting a Capstone approach should also consult other resources available from NARA related to email management, and specifically the Capstone approach. These resources are available on NARA's Email Management page, and include:

- Links to related, over-arching email and transfer related guidance;
- Recorded training sessions related to Capstone implementation best practices, determining Capstone officials, and incorporating a Capstone approach within agency policies and training programs;
- Recorded briefings on the basics of Capstone, geared towards specific audiences (managers, General Counsel, etc.);
- Checklists and recorded training sessions on the basics of Capstone; and
- Information on NARA's own implementation of a Capstone approach.

Agencies should not implement GRS 6.1 of the Capstone approach in isolation. Agencies should also supplement with agency-wide policies and training, and incorporate the schedule and its requirements into agency records management implementation tools (such as manuals and file plans (see FAQ 29)).

GENERAL

1. What is the purpose of GRS 6.1?

This schedule:

- Provides disposition authority for agencies who implement a Capstone approach as outlined in NARA Bulletin 2013-02: Guidance on a New Approach to Managing Email Records [Capstone]; and
- Assists agencies to meet Goal 1.2 of the Managing Government Records Directive \(M-12-18\), which requires agencies to manage both permanent and temporary email records in an accessible electronic format by December 31, 2016.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

3. How does an agency document that it is using the Capstone GRS?

To ensure proper oversight and accountability, no agency may implement this GRS until the agency submits a list of Capstone officials to NARA and we approve that list. This restriction applies when using item 010, and acts as an exception list when using only items 011 and 012. To submit your agency's list of Capstone officials, fill out NARA form 1005 (NA-1005), Verification for Implementing GRS 6.1, and email it to GRS\_Team@nara.gov. The form includes detailed instructions.

Additionally, NARA's existing regulations and guidance contain several requirements for agencies to properly document their use of the Capstone GRS and the Capstone approach in general. These requirements include, but are not limited to:

- Updating the agency's records management directive and submitting it to NARA (36 CFR 1220.34\(c\));
- Posting the agency's records management directive on the agency's website (FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(1)(D), and the Office of Management and Budget's Open Government Directive (December 8, 2009)); and
- Responding to any questions in NARA-issued requests for information, including those specific to Capstone use and implementation (44 U.S.C. Chapter 29).

4. Do all agencies have to follow this GRS?

If an agency chooses to use one or more items in this GRS, it may not deviate from this schedule's parameters and must submit form NA-1005 as described in Question 3. But an agency may request authority to implement a Capstone approach that differs from this GRS by submitting an agency-specific records schedule to NARA. Reasons agencies may wish to submit an agency-specific schedule can include, but are not limited to:

- The agency believes, and can justify, that it is appropriate to exclude one or more of the officials required for inclusion in item 010, Email of Capstone Officials;
- The agency needs a transfer date shorter than the minimum or longer than the maximum in item 010; or
- The agency wants the authority to dispose of temporary email earlier than permitted by the retention periods in items 011 and 012.

We encourage agencies to discuss scheduling options with their NARA Appraisal Archivist.

5. What does this GRS mean when using the term "official"?

In context of this GRS, an official includes all Federal agency employees, regardless of their appointment type (i.e., part-time employees, student employees, term employees, temporary employees, volunteers, interns, and members of the military), who create Federal records.

Officials under this GRS also include contractors that create Federal records in the course of performing their contract. Agencies determine whether contractor-created and -received records meet the definition of a Federal record defined in the Federal Records Act. Agencies must capture and manage contractor-created or -received Federal records appropriately, as with other Federal records. In situations where contractor employees are embedded in the agency and assigned agency email accounts (in contrast to situations where contractors fulfill the terms of a contract by providing a service from outside of the agency), the agency should manage those accounts in accordance with the GRS. Agencies should include records management requirements and provisions on retaining Federal records in contract agreements (36 CFR 1222.32).

6. Who are the Capstone officials this GRS covers?

Your agency must document its Capstone officials and submit that information to NARA on form NA-1005. This form includes detailed instructions to help you identify your agency's officials.

Capstone (permanent) officials are senior officials (e.g., those high on the organization chart) generally responsible for agency and program policy- and mission-related actions. Capstone officials vary by agency depending on an agency's organization and how it carries out agency roles. Some agencies will have more Capstone officials than others.

Federal agencies utilize a variety of titles for senior officials. Agencies using item 010 of this schedule must identify their equivalents for those positions described within each category provided in the item's description (when applicable).

Cabinet-level agencies implementing a Capstone approach that includes their components or operatives must apply the definition of official to each component separately. For this purpose, the agency should treat each component or operative as though it were a separate agency.

A general rule of thumb for identifying officials is that every record group (RG) the agency includes in the Capstone implementation should have its own group of Capstone officials.

If you need additional help to identify your agency's Capstone officials, please contact your NARA Appraisal Archivist.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO PERMANENT EMAIL RECORDS

7. What is meant by "Cut off in accordance with agency's business needs" within the disposition instructions for item 010?

Agencies have varying business needs and Capstone implementation plans (including system considerations) that affect when they cutoff email (consider it inactive). The 'business needs' language allows agencies flexibility to develop their own cutoff instructions based on those needs. Agencies must include their cutoff instructions in the "scope" section of form NA-1005, so NARA can document agency plans and anticipate future email transfers.

This flexibility also allows agencies to block (or batch) email to reduce the number of transfers to NARA. Agencies that do not wish to transfer annually may find blocking beneficial. For example, they could transfer email in five-year blocks instead. If the first five-year block spans from 2015 through 2020, the agency would transfer the email in 2035 (15 years after the cutoff date of the most recent records). They would next transfer email in 2040, which would cover email from 2021 through 2025. And so on.

Acceptable cutoff instructions for an agency include, but are not limited to:

- 1) Cut off at the end of the calendar year;
- 2) Cut off at the end of tenure;
- 3) Cut off at the end of each presidential administration; or
- 4) Cut off in five-year blocks at the end of the calendar year of the most recent email (for example, email from 2015 through 2020 would be cutoff in 2020 and transferred in 2035; email from 2021 through 2025 would be cutoff in 2025 and transferred in 2040).

As a reminder, all Federal agencies must manage permanent and temporary email records in an electronic format with the capability to identify, retrieve, and use the records for as long as their disposition requires.

8. What is meant by "Transfer to NARA 15-25 years after cutoff, or after declassification review (when applicable), whichever is later" within the disposition instructions for item 010?

Agencies have varying business needs and missions that affect when they should transfer permanent email to the legal custody of NARA. This language allows agencies flexibility to determine the appropriate transfer time, within the range of 15 to 25 years, after cutoff or after declassification review (if applicable). As with the cutoff instructions (see FAQ 7), agencies must include their transfer time in the "scope" section of form NA-1005, so NARA can document agency plans and anticipate future email transfers.

Agencies should carefully consider their transfer date. Agencies with a high level of deliberative or sensitive email may consider a later transfer date (for example, 25 years), while others without these concerns should consider an earlier transfer date (for example, 15 years). As a reminder, all Federal agencies must manage permanent and temporary email records in an electronic format with the capability to identify, retrieve, and use the records for as long as their disposition requires. The later the transfer date, the longer the agency maintains this responsibility.

The transfer date should be determined in conjunction with the cutoff instructions (see FAQ 7), as the two complete the full transfer instructions. Examples of full instructions include, but are not limited to:

Cut off...	Transfer...	In this example...
At the end of the calendar year	To NARA 15 years after cutoff	Email from calendar year 2015 would be transferred in 2030
At the end of tenure	To NARA 25 years after cutoff	Email from individuals whose tenure ended in 2015 would be transferred in 2040
At the end of each Presidential administration	To NARA 20 years after cutoff	Email from the 2017 to 2020 administration would be transferred in 2040
At the end of calendar year	To NARA in 15 years in 5 year blocks	Email from 2015 through 2020 would be transferred in 2035; email from 2021 through 2025 would be transferred in 2040
At end of tenure	To NARA in 5 year blocks 15 years after cutoff	Email from individuals whose tenure ended in 2015 through 2020 would be transferred in 2035; email from individuals whose tenure ended in 2021 through 2025 would be transferred in 2040

Agencies with classified email have less flexibility with transfer time frames. As with any classified permanent records, email must be reviewed prior to transfer to NARA. Classified email is typically reviewed at 25 years based on standing Executive Orders.

9. What specific positions are included in category 7, Principal Regional Officials, under item 010?

This category may not apply to all agencies, even if they have offices outside of their headquarters. This category is reserved for those positions that have complete oversight and responsibility spanning a larger region (e.g., multiple states or specific geographic area) in carrying out mission-critical activities. For example, an agency may have 10 regions, each with a Regional Administrator that is responsible for mission-critical activities within that region's jurisdictions; these 10 Regional Administrators would fall into this category. Heads (regardless of title) of offices outside of headquarters, but not under a regionalized structure, are not included in this category. For example, it does not pertain to the heads of individual offices in the field, such as, but not limited to, customer service centers, processing centers, or administrative offices that conduct routine activities (e.g., passport offices, or Social Security claims processing offices, IRS service centers, commissaries).

Agencies may discuss the scope of this category with their NARA Appraisal Archivist during review of their form NA-1005.

10. Under category ten of item 010, how do agencies determine what additional roles and positions they should include as Capstone officials?

Category ten, “Additional roles and positions that predominately create permanent records related to mission-critical functions or policy decisions and/or are of historical significance,” is a catch-all category for those roles and positions whose email is appropriate for permanent retention, but not represented in the other nine categories. This could include email of staff in lower level (non-senior) positions, email related to functions in lower-level offices, or email in “service” accounts that agencies use to disseminate policy. For example, an agency with mission-centric task forces should include the head of each task force within this category if not captured in other categories. As with the other categories, the agency must include these roles and positions on its form NA-1005 if it has them. It is possible that an agency will have no roles and positions for this category.

11. Does the GRS apply if Capstone officials have more than one email account or if their email is managed by other staff (such as special assistants, confidential assistants, military assistants, or administrative assistants)?

Yes. Senior officials often have multiple email accounts, either based on their titles (e.g., ArchivistOfTheUnitedStates@nara.gov), or managed by other staff members on their behalf. Agencies must designate all accounts affiliated with a Capstone official role or position as permanent. See category four within item 010.

You can find additional information on designating Capstone officials and email accounts in NARA Bulletin 2013-03, Guidance for agency employees on the management of Federal records, including email accounts, and the protection of Federal records from unauthorized removal.

12. Must agencies maintain a list of Capstone officials and their associated email addresses?

Yes. Agencies should maintain an extended version of form NA-1005 that includes this additional information. Doing so will support the requirements in 36 CFR 1235.48, which requires agencies to include proper documentation when transferring permanent electronic records to NARA. The NA-1005 list will help agencies implement Capstone and export and transfer permanent email. Agencies should consider managing and keeping up-to-date a list of Capstone officials and their associated email addresses as part of agency policy (one of NARA’s recommended best practices). See also FAQ 36.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO TEMPORARY EMAIL RECORDS

13. What is the difference between items 011 and 012?

Item 011 covers all roles that do not fit into the descriptions of either 010 or 012. This item is therefore appropriate for non-senior officials who have roles such as: overseeing and instructing workers on the job; reviewing work in progress; observing and securing worker compliance with procedures and methods; planning, revising, and coordinating programs; planning general work flow and methods; budgeting and financial oversight; and completing other mission-related tasks. See also FAQs 14 and 15. The majority of temporary email accounts should fall into this item.

Item 012 covers routine and/or administrative roles within an agency. Depending on an agency's unique organization, functions, and/or business needs, this item may be appropriate for only a limited number of roles. Agencies having difficulty determining whether item 012 is appropriate should use item 011.

Your agency should conduct a risk analysis to determine which roles and positions, if any, it should include in item 012, and should be able to produce this analysis if needed.

14. Why are supervisory positions excluded from item 012?

Supervisory positions are those that plan, assign, and review work, and evaluate performance. Because these positions tend to be involved in business and personnel decisions, we include them in item 011, which specifies a minimum retention period of seven years. See also FAQs 13 and 15.

15. How does an agency determine if it should keep temporary email covered by items 011 and 012 longer than the prescribed minimum retention period?

An agency should involve multiple stakeholders, such as its senior agency official for records management, general counsel, chief information officer, records officer, inspector general, etc., to determine the appropriate retention period for the agency's email. This should include determining if the agency is subject to inspection, audit, legal, and other regulatory requirements that require a longer agency email retention period to meet certain obligations. Ultimately, the agency will document and disseminate the retention period via agency policy and implementation tools. See FAQ 29.

Items 011 and 012 each prescribe a minimum retention period, and both authorize agencies to dispose of covered records any time after the minimum retention period has ended. This allows an agency to make internal decisions on whether or not it should keep temporary accounts contents longer based on business and legal needs.

Agencies may determine that using only item 011 as one agency-wide retention period for all temporary email may better meet its business and legal needs and may be easier to implement. For example, an agency may decide that it should maintain all temporary accounts for seven years, regardless of the role or position of the person whose account they're in. Agencies choosing to use only item 011 for all temporary email may also maintain accounts longer for business needs (e.g., 15 years) without requesting additional authority from NARA. See also FAQs 11, 14, and 29.

16. Why is the minimum retention period for item 011 seven years?

NARA believes that seven years is a reasonable and appropriate baseline retention period for temporary email records, not only to meet agency business needs, but also to ensure we adequately and properly document the policies and transactions of the Federal Government. Preserving these records for this period should also generally allow the Government to adequately defend itself in litigation or vindicate a plaintiff's rights in the event the Government has infringed on them. This retention period is also consistent with most statutes of limitations on pursuing matters against the United States (usually six years or less), with recordkeeping requirements set by Congress (such as the seven-year retention period for audit-related records established in the financial reforms of Sarbanes-Oxley), and with the IRS's seven-year retention period for personal tax records (tied to the six-year statute of limitations for criminal violations of the tax code). These, and similar examples, led NARA to conclude that seven years is an appropriate baseline retention period for temporary email records. See FAQ 15 on when a longer-than-seven-year retention period might be appropriate for certain agencies. Agencies that wish to seek a shorter retention period must submit an agency-specific schedule.

This Capstone GRS allows agencies to elect a shorter retention period using item 012 (three years) for a limited group of specific roles and positions. Please refer to FAQ 13 for additional information.

QUESTIONS ABOUT IMPLEMENTATION

17. May an agency implement portions of this GRS?

Yes, an agency may use any or all of the items on this GRS. If applying this GRS in part (for example, only using item 011), agencies must ensure that all other email records are covered by another NARA-approved disposition authority. Agencies that are using only item 011 or 012 may not dispose of the email of any official listed in item 010, Email of Capstone Officials, without authority from NARA in the form of another GRS or an agency-specific schedule. An agency must still submit form NA-1005 for approval in order to use either only the permanent item or only the temporary items of this GRS.

This flexibility supports those agencies that may want to implement Capstone in phases. Some agencies may find it practical to initially limit their overall Capstone approach to permanent email (item 010) and add management of temporary email within their overall Capstone approach later.

As indicated in the "GRS Scope" section of the Capstone GRS introduction, an agency may choose to exclude several categories of email from its Capstone program. The agency must ensure that it covers any email it excludes from the Capstone program under another NARA-approved schedule or authority before it may dispose of the email. See also FAQ 29.

18. Does this GRS apply to classified email accounts?

Yes. This GRS applies to all email, regardless of classification level. Agencies must include accounts on classified networks or systems within the relevant item on the GRS. For example, a Capstone official (permanent) with both classified and unclassified accounts would have both included under item 010 of this GRS.

The transfer instructions within item 010 allow agencies to transfer permanent classified email in alignment with declassification review. Agencies often don't review classified records until just prior to the automatic declassification date, which occurs when they are 25 years old. If an agency completes its review earlier than 25 years, but after 15 years, the agency should consult with NARA about when to transfer the records.

19. How is legacy email defined for GRS 6.1?

Legacy email is email that still exists in an electronic format, whether part of a temporary or a permanent account, at the time of Capstone implementation. It may be stored in an email archiving application, a document management system, in individual files (such as *.PST files) on local computers or drives, within current live email applications/systems, and/or stored in other ways.

20. Does the Capstone GRS apply to both retroactive (legacy/existing) and day-forward email?

We expect an agency using this GRS to apply the items the agency uses to all legacy (existing) email. Agencies should summarize the extent of their legacy email on form NA-1005. For example, an agency might state that no legacy email exists for the agency, as the agency used traditional records management with a print-and-file policy prior to adopting Capstone, or that the agency has legacy email back to a certain date. NARA acknowledges that legacy email may be incomplete, or that position titles may have changed over time. In cases of title changes, the agency may apply GRS items to equivalent positions.

21. Does legacy email include backup or recovery tapes with email stored on them?

No. These tapes were not created for records management purposes, and are outside the scope of GRS 6.1. Backup/recovery tapes are covered under GRS 3.2, item 050, "Backup files identical to permanent records scheduled for transfer to the National Archives," or GRS 3.2, item 051, "Backup files identical to temporary records authorized for destruction by a NARA-approved records schedule."

22. Can other disposition authorities be used to dispose of email prior to using the authorities within GRS 6.1?

Yes, with exceptions depending on the status of the email as described below, and for readable email only (see FAQ 23). Generally speaking, for legacy email most agencies will find applying items from GRS 6.1 to entire bodies of email as less burdensome than applying other valid authorities on an email-by-email basis. Agencies should address this in agency records management policy. See FAQs 3 and 29.

A. For all items on GRS 6.1, day-forward (start of Capstone implementation):

Yes. Agencies may apply other approved disposition authorities to temporary and permanent email prior to applying the disposition authorities within GRS 6.1 for day-forward email (start of Capstone implementation, generally the date approved on the agency's first form NA-1005). This could either be part of culling strategies used within an agency, and/or implementation of a Capstone approach that still utilizes some level of traditional records management. For example, an agency may apply:

- GRS 4.3, item 040, which authorizes deletion of electronic records once filed in an official recordkeeping system (such as with a related case file, or within another records management application) prior to use of the appropriate item from GRS 6.1;
- GRS 23, item 7, which authorizes the deletion of transitory records; and/or
- Other NARA approved agency specific schedules. See other FAQ questions under 'Culling' section.

B. For temporary legacy email, items 011 and 012:

Yes. Agencies may apply other approved disposition authorities to legacy email (similar to section A above) prior to applying the disposition authorities within GRS 6.1.

Agencies not able to do this, or unable to ascertain if other approved disposition authorities were adequately applied to legacy email, must apply the authority from the appropriate item on GRS 6.1 at the account level for the minimum retention defined by either item 011 or item 012.

C. For permanent legacy email, item 010:

Yes, with limitations. Agencies may cull personal email (email not affiliated with official government business), clearly transitory email records (GRS 23, item 7), and nonrecord material. Excluded is the use of GRS 4.3, item 040, which authorizes deletion of electronic records once filed in an official recordkeeping system (such as with a related case file, or within another records management application). NARA acknowledges that this may result in duplicate permanent records being transferred. Since print-and-file and cross-filing policies were not consistently followed, or compliance with these policies is often difficult to validate, this ensures that permanently valuable emails are transferred to the National Archives.

23. What do we mean by ‘readable email’?

Readable email is email that is retrievable and usable for as long as needed to conduct agency business and to transfer permanent email records into the National Archives (i.e., for their NARA-approved retention period). This aligns with the requirements of 36 CFR 1236.12(b), related to records management and preservation considerations that must be incorporated into the design, development, and implementation of electronic information systems, as well as the Criteria for Managing Email Records in Compliance with the Managing Government Records Directive (M-12-18). Email that is not retrievable and usable is, therefore, not readable.

24. What do I do if I have legacy email that is not readable?

Currently NARA is requiring agencies to submit a schedule for legacy email that is not readable. Please contact the GRS Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov to discuss your situation further.

25. What if the status of legacy email is unknown?

Agencies may still submit, and receive approval of, the form NA-1005. NARA understands that agencies may not be able to fully articulate their legacy email scope, and how legacy email will be addressed, at the time of form submission. This may be due to the complex nature of older technology, access issues, or an agency needing time to inventory legacy email.

In these cases, agencies should notate as much information as possible on the form NA-1005. Examples of responses may be “Agency is still determining the full scope of our legacy email. We believe it dates back to approximately 2003. We will report our full finding to NARA within 6 months.” or “We have determined the scope of our email, which extends back to 2000, but we are still determining our access issues and will report our full findings to NARA in 6 months”.

26. Does use of Capstone and this GRS negate DOD 5015.2?

If your agency is part of the Department of Defense, and thus governed by DOD Directive 5015.2 and the accompanying DOD 5015.2 Standard for Records Management Applications, you should work within DOD to determine how Capstone may be implemented. Non DOD agencies are not governed by the 5015.2 directive or standard, and NARA does not require any agency to have 5015.2 compliant applications.

27. Does this GRS include calendars, appointments, tasks, chat transcripts, and other communications?

Although we designed the Capstone approach for managing email records, some agencies may not be able to separate email records from other affiliated records, such as calendars, appointments, tasks, and chats. In these cases, the agency can include the other records under the Capstone GRS. However, when the agency manages these other records separately from email, the agency must have NARA-approved disposal authority.

28. How does this GRS affect NARA or agency requirements to file email records with other related Federal records?

Capstone can reduce the burden on individual end-users by encouraging greater use of automated methods for managing email accounts. Agencies must manage their records in accordance with NARA regulations and fulfill the requirements of the Managing Government Records Directive. When using the Capstone approach for capturing and managing email, agencies must:

Consider whether email records and attachments can or should be associated with related records under agency guidance. As a supplement to the Capstone approach, an agency may want or need to associate certain email records that relate to other records, such as case files or project files, with the related records. This consideration depends on an agency's needs and how it chooses to implement its Capstone approach. This may be accomplished by (1) using electronic pointers (such as metadata tags) to establish linkages, or (2) in select cases, filing with associated paper or electronic case or project files. (NARA Bulletin 2013-02, Guidance on a New Approach to Managing Email Records, item 5d.)

29. How can an agency incorporate this GRS into its implementation tools and policies?

Best practices include the use of internal implementation tools, such as manuals, handbooks, and/or file plans, for records management execution. As with any GRS, the items should be incorporated into these tools and expanded to include agency-specific information and policies. Agencies should also implement policy around their Capstone approach, to incorporate additional agency specific email guidance that does not require NARA approval. For example, this could include:

- Clearly defining the retention period for temporary email in policy and agency manuals, since the GRS authorizes banding;
- Developing and implementing policy related to cross-filing requirements; for example, a policy that may require that certain email be cross-filed within permanent case files;
- Developing and implementing policy related to instances where temporary email may need to be retained for a longer period than prescribed by the GRS and supporting agency policy;
- Developing and Implementing policy on the use of Government accounts for personal purposes;
- Defining the Capstone (permanent) accounts/addresses for the agency with more specificity than included in item 010, Email of Capstone Officials, (for example, those positions and officials specific to your agency). NA-1005 is a tool for this;
- Providing additional policy on how to handle email of officials in an acting position;
- Providing policy on managing nonrecord email;
- Developing policy on when other disposition authorities related to email are appropriate for use, such as the GRS item for transitory records;
- Developing policy related to culling and other opportunities to apply records management to email (See section 861.5 of NARA's sample Directive posted on our Email Management webpage);
- Implementing procedures for initiating record freezes and litigation holds; and
- Implementing procedures for conducting document searches for purposes of FOIA, Congressional, and other access requests.

QUESTIONS ABOUT CULLING

30. What is culling?

Culling, in the context of Capstone implementation, is the act of removing or deleting material prior to disposition. This may include deleting non-record email (e.g., email blasts (such as agency-wide communications), spam, and personal email (records belonging to an individual and not related to agency business)), and transitory email records (records of short-term interest or that have minimal documentary or evidentiary value). Please refer to GRS 23, item 7, for additional information on what constitutes a transitory record.

31. Do you expect agencies and users to cull Capstone email accounts?

Yes, especially for permanent accounts, in order to minimize the amount of non-record and personal emails agencies transfer to the National Archives. Since agencies are most familiar with the content of their email records, we expect agencies to cull permanent accounts to the greatest extent possible. Culling may be manual, automated, or a hybrid of both. We do not expect agencies to cull temporary accounts, but you may do so in accordance with your agency's policy as appropriate. For temporary email, agencies may choose the amount of culling it will allow, based on agency business needs and concerns (such as size of the email repository, cost of maintenance, and risk associated with the possible destruction of records that may be needed for agency business, including litigation).

32. What if an agency can't cull email?

An agency should review its policies and technology to determine and verify its culling capabilities. Some technologies may not allow culling as described above. Agencies may still implement Capstone for permanent accounts without culling, but this will result in the agency transferring to NARA emails that do not meet the definition of a Federal record, which NARA might then permanently preserve. NARA screens and, when warranted, withholds access to accessioned records in accordance with the general restrictions set out in 36 CFR 1256.40-1256.62. NARA decides on the access permitted to accessioned records containing personal privacy information as outlined in 36 CFR 1256.56 without consulting the originating agency. As part of our mission to provide public access to Federal Government records, we disclose records whenever legally permissible. As a result, we could release personal information in non-records that an agency or user did not cull prior to transfer.

33. Will NARA cull Capstone email after it's legally transferred?

Since agencies are most familiar with the content of their email records, we expect them to cull non-record material to the extent possible before transferring. In accordance with 44 U.S.C. § 2108, the Archivist of the United States assumes custody of these records when they are transferred. NARA administers accessioned records in accordance with 44 U.S.C. Chapter 21, 36 CFR Part 1256, and other rules we promulgate to dispose of non-record materials we find in any transfer. However, we cannot guarantee that we will find or cull non-records.

QUESTIONS ABOUT TRANSFER

34. How should agencies transfer email to NARA?

You should transfer email, like any other electronic records, in accordance with current NARA transfer guidelines. You can find up-to-date guidelines on NARA's accessioning website at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/accessioning/electronic.html>.

35. Will NARA accept encrypted email?

No. As outlined in NARA Bulletin 2014-04, Revised Format Guidance for the Transfer of Permanent Electronic Records, an agency must not transfer to NARA any encrypted permanent electronic records. The Bulletin requires the transferring agency to "[d]eactivate passwords or other forms of file level encryption including digital rights management (DRM) technologies commonly used with audio, video, and some publications that impede access to record data." Likewise, agencies must decrypt any encrypted email attachments prior to transfer.

36. What documentation must an agency submit when it transfers Capstone email?

See NARA Bulletin 2014-04, Revised Format Guidance for the Transfer of Permanent Electronic Records, for our requirements for transferring permanent electronic records. In addition, 36 CFR 1235.48 sets out the documentation agencies must provide to transfer permanent electronic records. This documentation should be an extension of the agency's approved form NA-1005, which documents approved permanent Capstone roles and positions. See FAQ 12.

Agencies must transfer to NARA the email of Capstone officials captured during their tenure as Capstone officials. Therefore, agencies should treat email of a Capstone official created prior to when the agency designated that person as a Capstone official (e.g., prior to their promotion/rotation into a Capstone position) as temporary and should not transfer that previous email to NARA. The following is an example of documentation, in the form of a list, of an agency's Capstone officials and the time period for capture of their email as permanent:

Position title	Email Account/Address	Begin Date of Capture	End Date of Capture
Secretary of [Department]	Senior.Official@agency.gov	January 22, 2013
Secretary of [Department]	Secretary@agency.gov	January 22, 2013
Chief Operating Officer	John.Doe@agency.gov	January 22, 2013	June 1, 2013
Chief Operating Officer	Jane.Public@agency.gov	June 2, 2013

Documentation for legacy email should reflect the position title as it existed at the time the records were created. In instances where the position title may not clearly correlate to those on the form NA-1005 (due to title changes, or positions being eliminated), you should include information on the current position title, or the category from item 010 to which it correlates, in the documentation.

For example, the current "Director of Congressional Affairs" (listed on form NA-1005 under category 6) may have previously been the "Legislative Affairs Officer." In this case, the documentation should link to the approved NA-1005 form either by providing the current title or listing the proper category under item 010 to which the position fits.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 6.2: Federal Advisory Committee Records

This schedule covers Federal records created or received by Federal advisory committees and their subgroups pursuant to the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) of 1972 (5 U.S.C., Appendix, as amended) and records related to the management of these committees by their sponsoring agencies or departments.

If a committee is a Presidential advisory committee, check with the agency's General Counsel before applying this schedule. If records are determined to fall under the Presidential Records Act, this schedule does not apply.

For convenience, the term "committee" is used in this schedule to mean "advisory committee" pursuant to FACA.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 6.2, Federal Advisory Committee Records

1. What is the purpose of GRS 6.2?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records that Federal advisory committees and their subgroups, established under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) as amended (5 U.S.C. Appendix 2), create or receive. It also covers records agency designated Federal officers and committee management officers and their staffs create or maintain.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Agency staff implementing this GRS should first contact their agency records officer with any questions. Records officers and agency staff may also contact their assigned NARA appraiser or the GRS Team (GRS_Team@nara.gov) with questions about this schedule or its implementation.

We recommend that agencies consult with their NARA appraiser or the GRS Team when originating a new committee to address implementing this schedule. For existing committees, we recommend you consult with us prior to terminating the committee to ensure proper schedule implementation.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 6.2 differ from the old GRS 26?

GRS 6.2 covers only records FACA committees (or committees grandfathered in under the FACA) create or receive. GRS 26, by contrast, included items 1a and 1b relating to internal agency committees that are not FACA committees. GRS 6.2 also better reflects the types of records FACA committees create or receive and updates transfer instructions to meet current NARA practices. We have also appraised the records from a certain type of committee—grant peer review committees—as wholly temporary.

4. Why are GRS 26, items 1a and 1b, not in this schedule?

To help clarify the coverage of new GRS 6.2, we limited its scope to FACA committees only. GRS 26, items 1a and 1b, cover non-FACA, internal agency committees and working groups; we will cover those groups in a separate GRS. In the meantime, GRS 26, items 1a and 1b are still available for agency use.

5. Why are you rescinding some old GRS items?

We are rescinding two items from GRS 26. GRS 26, item 2c2 was for records related to the design, management, and technical operation of committee websites. Such records are now covered by GRS 3.1, items 011 and 020, so there is no longer a need for such an item in GRS 6.2. We are also rescinding GRS 26, item 3, because it covers nonrecord reference copies not under the purview of either a FACA or its sponsoring agency; agencies may dispose of nonrecords at any time and these therefore do not require a disposition authority.

TERMS USED IN THIS SCHEDULE

6. What is the Federal Advisory Committee Act?

The Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) as amended (5 U.S.C. Appendix 2) is the law that provides the framework for how agencies create and manage Federal advisory committees. Congress enacted the law in 1972 to ensure that agencies receive objective advice from the various advisory committees formed over the years, and that the public can access it. The Act formalized a process for establishing, operating, and terminating these advisory bodies and created the Committee Management Secretariat to oversee compliance with the Act.

7. What is a Federal advisory committee?

In general terms, a Federal advisory committee is a committee established by statute or reorganization that provides advice or recommendations to the President, any agency, or Federal Government officers, and isn't made up solely of Government employees. The official legal definition contains more specific details and an exception for two organizations, so you should consult the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. Appendix 2) or your agency's FACA counsel for more details.

8. What is a Presidential advisory committee?

A Presidential advisory committee is a Federal advisory committee authorized by Congress or directed by the President to advise the President. Presidential advisory committees may or may not be subject to the Federal Records Act, which governs the records covered by the General Records Schedules. An agency should check with its general counsel before applying GRS 6.2 to Presidential advisory committee records. In some cases, these records may be Presidential records subject to the Presidential Records Act rather than to the Federal Records Act. For additional information concerning records of Presidential advisory committees, see question 13 below.

9. What is a sponsoring agency or department for a committee?

A sponsoring agency or department provides the staff and administrative and monetary support for a Federal advisory committee.

10. What is a committee management officer (CMO)?

Sponsoring agency heads designate a committee management officer (CMO) to oversee FACA administration at that agency. FACA administration includes establishing committees, setting procedures, determining goals and monitoring committee accomplishments ; assembling and maintaining committee reports, records, and other papers; and carrying out, on behalf of that agency FACA's requirements with respect to those records (5 USC Appendix 2 - Sec. 8(b)).

In addition to implementing the provisions of section 8(b) of the Act, the CMO carries out any other responsibilities the agency head delegates. The CMO also ensures that the agency implements sections 10(b), 12(a), and 13 of the Act for appropriate recordkeeping.

11. What is a designated Federal officer (DFO)?

The agency head designates a DFO for each advisory committee. The DFO implements advisory committee procedures under the supervision of the CMO, including sections 10(e) and (f) of the Act. (41 CFR 102-3.25) Consistent with 41 CFR 102-3.120, a DFO:

- approves or calls the meeting of the advisory committee or subcommittee;
- approves the agenda, except that this requirement does not apply to a Presidential advisory committee;
- attends the meetings;
- adjourns any meeting when he or she determines it to be in the public interest; and
- chairs the meeting when so directed by the agency head.

12. What are "substantive" records?

Substantive records document decisions, discussions, or actions a committee takes. They are covered by items 010 and 020.

GENERAL

13. How can I tell if a committee is a FACA committee?

You should check with your agency's FACA counsel to confirm if a specific group falls under FACA or not. In order to fall under FACA, the group must be established as a Federal advisory committee according to the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) as amended (5 U.S.C. Appendix 2). In general, the authority to create FACA committees derives from statute, the President, or agency authority, and each Federal advisory committee must have a current, filed charter in order to meet or take any action. Some FACA committees predate the FACA and were grandfathered under it.

14. Are records of Presidential advisory committees covered by the GRS?

Records of Presidential advisory committees are covered by this GRS under most circumstances. You should check with your agency's FACA counsel to determine if a Presidential advisory committee's records fall under the Presidential Records Act (PRA) or the Federal Records Act (FRA). If the latter, you may apply this GRS. If the records fall under the Presidential Records Act (PRA), you should request information on appropriate disposition from NARA's Presidential Materials Division at 202-357-5200 or presidential.materials@nara.gov.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT

15. What records must committee management officers (CMOs) create or maintain?

According to 41 CFR 102-3.115, the CMO must keep records that include, but are not limited to:

- Charter and membership documentation. A set of filed charters for each advisory committee and membership lists for each advisory committee and subcommittee;
- Annual comprehensive review. Copies of the information provided as the agency's portion of the annual comprehensive review of Federal advisory committees, prepared according to 41 CFR 102-3.175(b);
- Agency guidelines. Agency guidelines maintained and updated on committee management operations and procedures; and
- Closed meeting determinations. Agency determinations to close or partially close advisory committee meetings required by 41 CFR 102-3.105.

16. What records are designated Federal officers (DFOs) or similar agency officers maintaining committee records supposed to maintain?

DFOs or similar agency officers should maintain the official records an advisory committee creates or receives as long as the committee exists (41 CFR 102-3.175). This includes records such as correspondence between committee members and others that relate to the committee's decisions or actions.

17. Why must an agency capture and maintain as a permanent record in item 010 the correspondence, including email, documenting discussions, decisions, or actions related to the work of the committee?

Exchanges of substantive information between members regarding the work of the committee or subcommittee are records that reflect the work of the committee and document its thought processes, and, if enough members are involved in the communication (even if by email), the exchange could be considered a FACA meeting. The schedule is clear that the exchanges should be substantive, i.e., they involve the work of the committee, rather than something like a scheduling email.

18. How does 44 USC 2911, which relates to the use of unofficial email accounts to conduct agency business, apply to members of a committee who are not Federal employees?

Committee members who do not have an agency email account should copy the DFO on email correspondence related to the committee's work so that a Federal official appropriately manages the records.

19. Why are some committee records transferred to NARA and others destroyed?

NARA does not preserve all Federal records. We accept for transfer to NARA only records designated as having historical value warranting continued preservation. These include records that document significant decisions and actions of FACA committees. Other records, such as administrative or logistical records, have short-term business use but do not warrant permanent preservation and agencies can therefore destroy them as directed in an approved records schedule such as GRS 6.2.

20. May committee records be withheld under FOIA?

Advisory committee records are generally not restricted under FOIA. Section 10(b) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), as amended (Public Law 92-463, 5 U.S.C. Appendix 2), provides that: "Subject to section 552 of title 5, United States Code, the records, reports, transcripts, minutes, appendixes, working papers, drafts, studies, agenda, or other documents which were made available to or prepared for or by each advisory committee shall be available for public inspection and copying at a single location in the offices of the advisory committee or the agency to which the advisory committee reports until the advisory committee ceases to exist."

Advisory committee records may be withheld under FOIA if there is a reasonable expectation that the records sought fall within the exemptions contained in section 552(b) of FOIA. However, agencies may not require members of the public or other interested parties to file requests for non-exempt advisory committee records under the request and review process established by section 552(a)(3) of FOIA (41 CFR 102-3.170). Agencies must make those records available as stated in the paragraph above.

21. My committee maintains copies of its records on the committee's web page. How should these records be managed?

How an agency manages records on a web page depends on whether the records are considered the recordkeeping copy (or the only copy) or not. If a committee maintains multiple copies of the same records, especially when those copies are also on committee web pages, it should determine which copy will be the recordkeeping copy. You transfer that copy, whether electronic or hardcopy, to NARA if the records are permanent. If the committee designates the copy on the web page as the recordkeeping copy, you apply the appropriate item from GRS 6.2. If the copy on the web page is not the recordkeeping copy, you may destroy it at any time as long as your agency maintains the recordkeeping copy (see GRS 4.3, item 040).

SCHEDULE IMPLEMENTATION

22. My agency has long-standing FACA committees that predate creation of the GRS for FACA committee records, so we have agency-specific schedules for FACA committee records. Should my agency use the GRS or our agency-specific schedules?

GRS 6.2 applies to records of all FACA committees and supersedes all existing schedules related to FACA committees, including agency-specific ones. If you would like to continue to use your agency schedule, you must notify NARA of your intent according to 36 CFR 1227.12(a)(3). You may notify NARA by sending an email to GRS\_Team@nara.gov stating your agency's name, the FACA committee name, and the agency-specific disposition authorities you intend to use.

23. What should I do with extra copies of committee records?

Whether you may dispose of extra copies depends on the copy. If the copies of records from committee members have substantive notes or comments, they have unique content and you should be transfer them to NARA under GRS 6.2, item 010 (unless they are related to a grant review committee). Extra copies that are only for reference use are non-record materials and you may destroy them at any time.

24. There is no longer a specific item for committee websites on the schedule. How should committee websites be disposed?

See the answer to question 21.

25. My committee has both paper and electronic copies of our records. Which version should be kept?

The sponsoring agency determines which records -- paper or electronic -- it will maintain as the recordkeeping copy. Agencies should transfer only the recordkeeping copy of permanent records to NARA. Permanent electronic records must meet NARA's transfer guidelines for electronic formats. Agencies may have to keep some records in paper format. You should consult with your agency general counsel to determine whether there is a legal reason to maintain recordkeeping copies in a particular format.

26. My committee has both paper and electronic copies of records with original signatures. Do the paper records have to be kept?

Your agency must keep the paper records only if there is a legal reason to do so. Consult with your agency general counsel to determine if you must keep the paper records containing original signatures.

27. My committee is shutting down but has administrative records covered by General Records Schedules other than GRS 6.2 that cannot be destroyed yet. What should I do with these records?

You should contact the records officer for your committee's sponsoring agency to arrange to store and manage the records after the committee shuts down.

TRANSFERRING PERMANENT RECORDS

28. How are permanent FACA committee records transferred to NARA?

You should transfer permanent FACA committee records to NARA using an SF-258. Agencies cannot currently use ERA to transfer permanent records covered by the GRS. Submit with the SF-258 a copy of the committee charter that applies to the time period in which the records were created. Also fill out and submit the GRS 6.2 "Checklist for Preparing Permanent Records for Transfer to NARA." You should also include box and folder lists in the transfer. Committee staff should consult with their agency records officer for more specific procedures. For additional information on transferring permanent records to the NARA facilities in the Washington, DC, area please see the Guidance and Policy for Accessioning Records to the National Archives in the Washington, DC Area.

29. What if my agency wants to transfer permanent records earlier than 15 years?

Except in the case of substantive audiovisual records covered under Item 020 (which requires transfer to NARA within three years), agencies wishing to transfer permanent FACA committee records for ongoing committees earlier than the 15 years stated in the GRS must submit a schedule to NARA requesting a deviation from the GRS that includes a justification for transferring records sooner. An agency must also submit a schedule if it wishes to pre-accession electronic FACA committee records (transfer physical custody, but not legal custody). Submit schedules to your agency's NARA appraisal archivist. Transfer to NARA records for committees that are terminating upon termination.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 010

30. Why has the transfer period for substantive committee records increased from 3 years to 15 years?

The 15-year transfer period for ongoing committees reflects the need for NARA to ensure that records transferred into our custody are fully accessible and that any sensitive information that may be in the records is sufficiently old to diminish the risk resulting from public disclosure. The transfer instructions are based on recommendations from NARA's archival units.

31. Item 010 includes records related to committee hearings. What if my committee does not conduct hearings?

Because it is uncommon for FACA committees to have the authority to hold hearings, most committees can be expected not to have hearing-related records. Hearing records are included in the schedule to make it clear for those committees that do hold hearings that their records related to hearings are permanent.

32. Are comments made by committee members on social media considered permanent?

If the comments reflect deliberations between committee members then they are a permanent record under GRS 6.2, item 010. The comments need not be captured in social-media format as long as they are captured in some other way.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 010 AND 020

33. Why do substantive audiovisual records have only a 3-year transfer period when other substantive committee records have a 15-year retention period?

FACA committees retain audiovisual records for a shorter period of time prior to transfer to NARA because the records are more fragile and susceptible to damage or loss of accessibility over time. This shorter time is acceptable for access reasons because special media records tend to not contain personally identifiable information (PII) or other restricted information, so the risk of release explained in Question 29 isn't an issue.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030

34. Why are grant review FACA committee records temporary?

During appraisal we found that FACA committees whose sole purpose was grant review tended to create voluminous amounts of records (due to the number of meetings) that captured very little information due to the proprietary nature of information contained in many grant applications and the need to protect the identity of those that reviewed each grant. Therefore, we determined that the records of these committees do not warrant permanent retention.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 040

35. Why is there a separate item for committee accountability records?

Committee accountability records are non-substantive records. They are separate from other non-substantive committee records because agencies must keep them for six years for accountability purposes (these records are related to financial and ethics records, which also have six-year retention periods in GRS 1.1 and GRS 2.8 for accountability purposes). By separating these records from other non-substantive records, this item gives agencies the flexibility to dispose of the other records sooner. If agencies want a simpler schedule, they may combine items 040 and 050 into a single item for non-substantive committee records and maintain everything for six years (the longest retention period of the two items).

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 050

36. This item says that records may be destroyed “when superseded, obsolete, no longer needed, or upon termination of the committee, whichever is sooner.” My agency has always liked keeping these records for 3 years. Do I have to destroy the records sooner now?

No. If an agency finds that its business needs are best met by a three-year retention period, it may still keep administrative records for three years. The new GRS disposition instruction leaves it up to agencies to determine when these temporary records can be destroyed: either when they are superseded, obsolete, no longer needed, or upon termination of the committee. The only stipulation is that records should be destroyed upon termination of the committee at the latest. If an agency wants to require committee staff to maintain these records for three years or until the committee is terminated, whichever is shorter, it should indicate this retention period in the agency records disposition manual or instructions.

37. Can agencies dispose of certain committee administrative records in accordance with other appropriate General Records Schedules?

Advisory committees should dispose of certain administrative records it creates or receives – records relating to budget, personnel, procurement, information technology management or similar housekeeping or facilitation functions –in accordance with another GRS because they are not substantive records and they do not pertain to the subject matter advice that the advisory committee provides to the Government. Upon termination of the committee, committees should transfer to the sponsoring agency any administrative records that another GRS authorizes for disposal that have retention periods outlasting the life of the committee (such as payroll, personnel and fiscal records) .

38. Can Federal Register notices announcing a meeting be destroyed once the meeting is over?

Yes. GRS 6.2, item 050, includes drafts and copies of Federal Register notices. The Federal Register itself is the recordkeeping copy; therefore there is no need for agencies to keep copies or drafts of notices beyond their business use. In the case of copies of the notices, that would most likely be at the conclusion of the meeting.

Checklist for Preparing Records for Transfer to NARA under GRS 6.2, Federal Advisory Committee Records

We provide this checklist as a tool to help you prepare permanent FACA committee records for transfer to NARA. It helps agencies identify the final disposition of FACA committee records scheduled by GRS 6.2, whether you will transfer the records to the National Archives or destroy them after a certain period of time. You should review the checklist for records you are preparing for transfer and check off those that you have. Include in the transfer to NARA only those records identified as permanent. This checklist is not an exhaustive list of committee records. If you have records not on this list and are unsure about their disposition, please contact the GRS Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov.

You must transfer permanent committee records to NARA either when a committee terminates or when the records are 15 years old, whichever is sooner. You should transfer this checklist with the permanent records to NARA. This list does not serve as a replacement for the box or folder list that you should also transfer to NARA with the records.

Sponsoring agencies must designate which copy of a record is the recordkeeping copy of permanent committee records. Only one copy of the records should be the official recordkeeping copy that is transferred to the National Archives. Arrange committee records by committee, not by the type of record (e.g. we should not receive a collection of charters for multiple committees; you should transfer original charters with the other permanent records related to the committee, regardless of where you maintain them).

If your agency general counsel designates Presidential advisory committee's records as Federal records, you should send a memo with the transfer of permanent records that establishes that the records are Federal and not Presidential. If the records are designated as Presidential records, you cannot apply this GRS and your agency should contact the Presidential Library Division of the National Archives.

Note: Records establishing a committee whose only purpose is peer review of grant proposals, or records documenting the committee's membership, activities and decisions, are temporary (DAA-GRS-2015-0001-0003). Do not transfer them to the National Archives.

INTRODUCTION TO THE GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULES

General Records Schedules (GRS) are issued by the Archivist of the United States to provide disposition authorization for records common to several or all agencies of the Federal Government. They include records relating to civilian personnel, fiscal accounting, procurement, communications, printing, and other common functions, and certain nontextual records. They also include records relating to temporary commissions, boards, councils and committees. These records comprise an estimated one-third of the total volume of records created by Federal agencies.

In 1978, use of the GRS was made legally mandatory. The disposal authorizations must be used by a Federal agency to the greatest extent possible. Because these schedules are designed to cover records common to several agencies, many of the records descriptions are general. Agency records officers may either use the schedules as an appendix to an agency printed schedule or tailor the general schedules to the agency's own particular needs and incorporate them into agency schedules.

The GRS covers only records that are common among several agencies. For complete coverage of the disposition of all its records, each agency must independently develop schedules for the remaining records. Agencies should exercise particular care in applying items in GRS 1-16 and 18 to subject or correspondence files that may include a mix of administrative and program records. Usually, administrative subject files have short retention periods, less than 3 years. Program subject files may be needed by the agency for 10 years or more and may have archival value as well. Except when the volume of administrative records is negligible, agencies should maintain administrative records separately from program records in their agency recordkeeping systems. If administrative records are mixed with program records in the recordkeeping system and cannot be economically segregated, the entire file must be kept for the period of time approved for the program records. Similarly, if documents described in the GRS are part of a subject or case file that documents activities different from those covered by the schedules, they should be treated in the same manner as the files of which they are a part.

For more information on scheduling records not covered by the GRS, including potentially permanent records, see the Disposition of Federal Records Handbook. Also, the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has prepared a series of instructional guides that provide information on scheduling nontextual records that are not covered by the GRS. The handbook and separate guides on electronic records, audiovisual records, and cartographic and architectural records are available from the National Archives and Records Administration (NWCP), Room G-9, Washington, DC 20408.

GRS items cover only record copies. In some instances, more than one copy of a document or file would be considered a record if different offices use it to perform different functions. When it is difficult to decide whether files are record or nonrecord materials, the records officer should treat them as records. Records officers may consult with the NARA Life Cycle Management Division (NWML) to determine the record or nonrecord status of particular files.

The disposition instructions in the GRS are to be implemented without further approval from NARA, with the exception that most records created before January 1, 1921, must first be offered to NARA for appraisal. If NARA rejects these records they may be destroyed immediately. GRS 3, 11, 16, and 21 have other delimiting dates. Agencies that convert records covered by the GRS to microform should apply the GRS disposition standards to the microform copies and destroy the paper copies after verification of the film unless legal considerations require longer retention of the paper (36 CFR 1230.10(b)). No further authorization from NARA is required to implement these provisions. If an agency wishes to apply a different retention period for any series of records included in the GRS, the records officer must submit a Standard Form (SF) 115 providing justification for the deviation.

The GRS includes an index of commonly used Standard and Optional Forms. The forms index includes only the forms most frequently used by the various Government agencies.

Items at the end of GRS 1-16, 18, 23, 24, 25 and 26 provide disposition instructions for electronic mail and word processing copies, maintained apart from the recordkeeping copy, of the records described in the other items in those schedules. The other items authorize the disposition of the recordkeeping copy. The electronic mail and word processing records covered in each of those schedules are those that remain in personal and shared directories after the recordkeeping copy has been produced, and electronic copies used for dissemination, revision, or updating that are maintained in addition to the recordkeeping copy.

Questions of applicability of any GRS item to agency records or differences of interpretation between the records officer and other agency personnel that cannot be reconciled within the agency may be referred to the Director, Life Cycle Management Division (NWML), NARA, from offices in the Washington, DC area, or the NARA regional records services facility from offices outside the Washington, DC area.

Some records series covered by the GRS are eligible for retirement to the Washington National Records Center or to records center storage in a NARA regional records services facility. Records should be retired from agency space to such storage only if transfer costs do not exceed the expense of retaining them in agency space. Records sent to records center storage in a NARA facility should have a remaining retention of at least 1 year. If special circumstances, such as lack of filing equipment or space, make it imperative that records be retired, exceptions can be made to this policy. These decisions are made on an individual basis by the appropriate NARA facility director. Procedures for transfer of records to records center storage in a NARA facility are found in NARA regulations (36 CFR 1228.152).

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 1

Civilian Personnel Records

Agency civilian personnel records relate to the supervision over and management of Federal civilian employees. This schedule covers the disposition of Official Personnel Folders of civilian employees and other records relating to civilian personnel, wherever located in the agency. Specifically excluded are program records of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), the Bureau of Medical Services (PHS/HHS), the Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (DOL), and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for appraisal before these disposition instructions may be applied.

The most important types of records, the Official Personnel Folders, the Service Record Cards, and the Employee Medical Folders, are maintained according to The Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping, an OPM manual that prescribes a system of recordkeeping for Federal personnel.

[NOTES: (1) OPFs covering periods of employment terminated prior to January 1, 1921, are not covered by this item. If an agency has such files, it should contact NARA to request appraisal of the files. If NARA rejects the records, the disposition for GRS 1, item 1b applies. (2) Certain agencies have been exempted by OPM from retiring their OPFs to NPRC. These agencies retain OPFs for the period specified in item 1b of this schedule and effect destruction after that period has elapsed.]

24. Reasonable Accommodation Request Records

Information created and maintained while receiving, coordinating, reviewing, processing, approving, and reporting requests for reasonable accommodation from federal employees and applicants under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Executive Order 13164. A reasonable accommodation is a change in the work environment or in the way things are customarily done that would enable an individual with a disability to enjoy equal employment opportunities. The three categories of reasonable accommodation are:

- Modification or adjustments to a job application process to permit an individual with a disability to be considered for a job, such as providing application forms in large print or Braille;
- Modifications or adjustments necessary to enable a qualified individual with a disability to perform essential functions of the job, such as providing sign language interpreters; and
- Modifications or adjustments that enable employees with disabilities to enjoy equal benefits and privileges of employment, such as removing physical barriers in an office or cafeteria.

This schedule includes all requests for reasonable accommodation and/or assistive technology devices and services offered through the agency or the Computer/Electronic Accommodation Program (CAP) that are made by or on behalf of applicants, current or former employees. Also included are medical records, supporting notes and documentation, as well as procedures and records related to processing, deciding, implementing, and tracking requests for reasonable accommodation(s).

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2*Payrolling and Pay Administration Records

Payrolling and pay administration records pertain to disbursements to civilian employees of the Government for personal services. This schedule applies to the pay records that are common to all agencies, but it excludes (a) retirement records (Standard Form (SF) 2806 or equivalent) that are maintained during employee duty and then transferred to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM); (b) files maintained in agency space for audit by the General Accounting Office (GAO) under 31 U.S.C. 3529(c); (c) records relating to tax withholding, savings bonds, fidelity bonds, or other records held by the appropriate units of the Treasury Department responsible for the related Government-wide programs; and (d) Office of Management and Budget files reflecting agency personnel needs and problems. The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) must be consulted for any records created prior to January 1, 1921 before applying these disposition instructions.

Documents required by the Comptroller General to be maintained for site audit are segments of accountable officer's accounts. In no event may disposal be made of records pertaining to accounts, claims, or demands involving the Government of the United States which have not been settled or adjusted by the GAO unless the agency concerned has written approval of the Comptroller General, as required by 44 U.S.C. 3309. Most Federal civilian pay accounts are prepared and maintained in accordance with Title 6 - Pay, Leave, and Allowances and incorporated in the GAO Policy and Procedures Manual for Guidance of Federal Agencies.

In the payrolling process different types of records are accumulated. Under Title 6 of the GAO Manual these records are normally site-audited on a sample basis by GAO representatives who examine primarily the earnings record card, payroll change slips that are prepared to document changes in normal pay, certification sheets containing the signatures of the certifying officer, checklists prepared in lieu of the more formal payrolls by Department of the Treasury or local disbursing personnel, source personnel documents such as basic time and attendance reports, and copies of personnel action forms documenting changes in pay. In addition, pay registers and other accounting devices are maintained to check and balance the accounts.

All payroll systems require the maintenance of a leave record used to submit data to the payroll system. Information is posted to this record from more detailed records kept by time and attendance clerks located throughout an agency. Depending on the type of system in operation, this leave record may be a hard-copy input form or it may be a wholly electronic input.

Other records incidental to the payrolling process are employee requests for tax withholding; employee requests for Thrift Savings Plan deductions; savings bond records; and other records not pertaining to individuals, but rather to the general administration of the payrolling office and the payrolling function.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 3*Procurement, Supply, and Grant Records

Agency procurement and supply records document the acquisition of goods and non-personal services, controlling the volume of stock on hand, reporting procurement needs, and related supply matters which are part of daily procurement operations. The basic procurement files reflect a considerable range of procedure, from simple, small purchases to complicated prime contractor and subcontractor operations.

Any records created prior to 1895 must first be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for appraisal before applying the disposal instructions. Frequently copies of procurement papers become integral parts of the other files in the agency, such as project files of various types or general subject files pertaining to program operations; such copies are not covered by this schedule because they cannot be considered and evaluated separately from the files of which they are a part.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) no longer requires agencies to maintain a separate file of contracts for site audit. The agency contract files maintained in the contracting officer's office are accessible to GAO auditors and have generally been used by them in the past.

When a claim is filed by or against the Government, records relating to the claim should be retained without regard to the otherwise applicable records retention schedules which would have authorized destruction of the records prior to the time when the claim is finally resolved unless the agency has received written approval from the GAO (44 U.S.C. Section 3309 and 62 Comp. Gen. 42 (1982)). A claim is finally resolved: (1) when it is disallowed and the time for appealing the denial or instituting suit on the claim has expired; or (2) when it is allowed and paid or the amount offered in compromise is accepted and paid; or (3) when the amount found due and owing proves uncollectible because time limits for collecting the indebtedness through legal proceedings or by way of setoff have expired.

Records documenting procurement and supply in the agencies are largely standardized by various regulations of the Comptroller General and the Administrator of General Services. The physical arrangement of the transaction files themselves differs in the various agencies, however. In all agencies the official contract files, for example, contain a minimum core of specified documents, but there are also other documents that vary in accordance with what the individual agency deems to be best for its own operating purposes.

The key procurement file is the transaction case file containing the formal contract or informal purchase order or lease instruments and all related papers. The documents flowing into the transaction file differ in detail, but they include, in addition to the purchase document, specifications, bids, schedules of delivery, the initiating requisition, invoices, and correspondence. Other copies of these documents, made for expediting and other administrative purposes, are scattered throughout the inspection, shipping, expediting, and other units of the agency procurement organization.

Other files related to the procurement and supply function include reports used for supply management purposes by the agency creating the records as well as the staff agency involved with Government-wide programs. They also include local requisition and stock inventory files and other minor supply papers.

Of a specialized character in the procurement field are the title papers documenting the acquisition of real property (by purchase, condemnation, donation, exchange, or otherwise). These papers are required by the Government as long as the property remains in Government hands or if it has been sold or released -- conditionally or with recapture clauses. When properties are disposed of by quitclaim deeds, this fact should be confirmed prior to the disposal of title papers, since the title evidence might be needed by the Government to defend the title in the event the properties were disposed of by deeds containing general or special warranties.

It should also be ascertained that the title evidence relates only to the properties which were sold by the Government. In many instances, lands acquired by the Government are disposed of in different size parcels, and if the Government retains the title to any portion the title evidence should be retained.

This schedule does not apply to Interior Department records relating to the public domain or to the title opinion files of the Department of Justice.

This schedule includes some of the common agency records relating to grant programs. Since many Federal agencies conduct grant programs which document projects contracted between the agency and an outside party, these records are included as an adjunct to the procurement and supply records.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 4

Property Disposal Records

These records pertain to the sales by agencies of real and personal property surplus to the needs of the Government. The act creating the General Services Administration (GSA) transferred to the new agency the functions of the former War Assets Administration relating to property disposition. This schedule is not applicable to transaction or policy files created by the GSA and predecessor agencies, to records in the Department of the Interior relating to the public domain, and to records relating to overseas property under Department of State control. Any surplus property transaction files dated prior to the establishment of the former Procurement Division of the Department of Treasury in 1933 must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for appraisal before applying these disposition instructions.

In no event may disposal be made of records pertaining to accounts, claims, or demands involving the Government of the United States which have not been settled or adjusted by the General Accounting Office without written approval of the Comptroller General, as required by 44 U.S.C. 3309.

Three forms are prescribed for use by an agency selling surplus personal property under GSA regulations:

a. Standard Form (SF) 114, Sale of Government Property, Invitation, Bid, and Acceptance. Related papers that are maintained by the agencies, usually in case fashion, consist of correspondence, bids, other notices of sale, invoices, and sales slips.

b. SF 120, Report of Excess Personal Property, and SF 121, Quarterly Report of Utilization and Disposal of Excess and Surplus Personal Property. Agencies use SF 120 to report excess personal property to the regional GSA offices, which initiate screening action. The quarterly reports are submitted to the Office of Property Management, Office of Federal Supply and Services, GSA, which consolidates the data.

1. Property Disposal Correspondence Files.

Correspondence files maintained by units responsible for property disposal, pertaining to their operation and administration, and not otherwise provided for.

- b. ~~Transactions of $25,000 or less. Superseded by GRS 1.1, item 010 (DAA-GRS-2013-0003-0001)~~

4. Real Property Files. [See note after this item.]

Records necessary or convenient for the use of real property sold, donated, or traded to non-Federal ownership, including, if pertinent as determined by the releasing agency, site maps and surveys, plot plans, architect's sketches, working diagrams, preliminary drawings, blueprints, master tracings, utility outlet plans, equipment location plans, specifications, construction progress photographs, inspection reports, building and equipment management and maintenance records, allowance lists, and duplicate copies of title papers, provided (a) that the records can be segregated without harm to other documents of enduring value, (b) that no responsibility attaches to the Government because of disagreement between the transferred documents and the physical condition of the property at the time of conveyance, and (c) that if the property is released for historical use or purpose, the user agrees to retain them and return them to the Federal Government immediately upon the discontinuance of its use for historical purposes.

Transfer to new custodian upon completion of sale, trade, or donation proceedings, or acceptance of purchase money mortgage.

[NOTE: Case files on the disposal of surplus real and related personal property and excess real property reports are not covered by the GRS because some of these files may have long-term legal value. Agencies must schedule these series by submitting an SF 115 to NARA.]

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 5*Budget Preparation, Presentation, and Apportionment Records

Budget and apportionment records include the various files accumulated in an agency in the course of formulating its budget for submission to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and to the Congress; in defending its requests for funds before both bodies; and after enactment of an appropriation bill, in ensuring that the funds are used in such a way as to suffice for the appropriate period of time. The funds are made available to the agency by OMB, usually in quarterly portions, and the agencies must indicate and justify regularly to OMB their proposed rate of expenditure. After the funds have been made available to the agency, its own controls over the funds are in its expenditure accounting records (Schedule 7), and detailed information relative to expenditures is contained in the accountable officers' accounts (Schedule 6).

This schedule applies to certain records of budget preparation and apportionment in all agencies, but does not apply to records of OMB and the Department of Treasury reflecting the Government-wide budget responsibilities of those agencies. Records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying the disposition instructions.

Agency budget records are normally created at all levels of agency organization. They show proposals from all operating levels as well as the bureau-wide and agency-wide coordinating work done by formally organized budget offices. Therefore the records consist of detailed work papers and budgetary statements developed by single operating units, the more significant budget statements and related papers representing consolidated submissions prepared at the bureau or equivalent level and forwarded to the agency budget officer, and the records at the highest level pertaining to the budget submission for the entire agency.

The nature of the budget presentation itself is standardized by OMB which prescribes format and procedures for all Federal agencies. However, the internal reports and papers which support the budget and are used in its preparation vary from agency to agency. The budget submission, a record copy of which is usually designated by the agency, is a duplicate of the set of papers submitted to OMB. These include summary statements of appropriations and expenditures, statements of contract authorizations, and statements of receipts as well as narrative summary statements which highlight the principal features of the agency requests and immediately related supporting documents. The narrative presents the policies and the programs of the agency which the budgetary requests are to support. In addition to the summaries, the submission includes schedules of obligations and statements pertaining to each type of appropriation and fund under which the individual agency operates. Finally, OMB requires additional supporting data pertaining to objects of expenditure, particular agency programs, and figures based on the cost of various type of service operations, such as personnel and payrolling activities.

[NOTE: The following budget files are not covered by the GRS:

- * Budget office correspondence or subject files documenting budget policy and procedures and reflecting policy decisions affecting expenditures for agency programs.
- * Budget estimates and justifications of formally organized budget offices at the bureau (or equivalent) or higher organizational level. Depending on agency recordkeeping practices and patterns of documentation, these records may have archival value and must be scheduled by submitting a Standard Form 115 to NARA. (GRS 5, 1952, items 1 and 2)]

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 6*Accountable Officers' Accounts Records

This general schedule covers accountable officers' returns and related records, including records under the cognizance of the General Accounting Office (GAO). This schedule does not apply to the copies of schedules and related papers held by the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

Accountable officers' accounts include record copies of all records concerned with the accounting for, availability, and status of public funds. There are several types of "accountable officers," such as: (a) the collecting officer, who receives monies owed to the Federal Government and ensures that it is credited to the proper account; (b) the disbursing officer who is responsible for providing documentation to GAO, since he/she accomplishes the actual payment of public monies to proper Federal creditors; and (c) the certifying officer, whose signature on a summary attests to the authenticity of vouchers listed on the schedule.

Disbursements for most civilian Government agencies are made by the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury, who heads the Division of Disbursement of the Bureau of Government Financial Operations within the Department of Treasury. Since July 1949, disbursements have been made for most agencies on the basis of certified schedules, with the detailed vouchers transferred to GAO from the agency or held in agency space if a site audit was involved. This procedure was extended and confirmed by GAO General Regulation No. 115, issued January 29, 1952, which promulgated a standard form voucher and schedule of payments (Standard Form (SF) 1166 and SF 1167) for use by all agencies, effective July 1, 1952, and formally eliminated the transfer of vouchers of the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury.

This schedule includes records held for onsite audit by GAO, as described in item 1a below. Under onsite audit, vouchers, contracts, schedules, statements of transactions and accountability, and other related supporting documents are retained in agency space for GAO auditors. Section 5 of the Post Office Department Financial Control Act of 1950 and Section 117(b) of the Budget and Accounting Procedures Act of 1950 (whenever the Comptroller General determines that an audit shall be conducted at the site) require agencies to retain these records, which are under GAO cognizance. GAO has given general authority to the agencies, if the records are no longer required for administrative purposes, to transfer all audited records and any unaudited records more than 1 full fiscal year old to Federal records centers. However, to transfer unaudited accountable officers' accounts less than one year old, permission must be obtained from the Director, Records Management, GAO. Because the records previously transferred to GAO are retained in the agency, some agencies have eliminated the creation of memorandum copies as described in item 1b of this schedule.

Records relating to the availability, collection, and custody of funds include (1) the appropriation warrants, (2) other documents that deposit funds into the Treasury, and (3) documents that provide accountable officers with status reports on funds in their custody, such as the proofs of depository account and statements of funds to their credit. Agency copies of these deposit and status documents are so intimately related to the accounts of these officers that they are included in this schedule. The copies received by the Fiscal Service of the Department of Treasury are not covered by this schedule and are provided for in separate schedules.

If an agency is operating under an integrated accounting system approved by GAO, certain required documents supporting vouchers and/or schedules are included in the site audit records. These records document only the basic financial transaction, money received and money paid out or deposited in the course of operating the agency. All copies except the certified payment or collection copy, usually the original or ribbon copy, and all additional or supporting documentation not involved in an integrated system are covered by succeeding items in this schedule.~~

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 7*Expenditure Accounting Records

Expenditure accounting records are the ledgers and related documents maintained by all Federal agencies to show in summary fashion how their funds, appropriated and nonappropriated, are spent after allotment by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and the sources and nature of any receipts. The key records are the general ledger accounts, which constitute, as a unit, the heart of the agency accounting system. These ledgers summarize the financial status and financial transactions of the agency, showing the current status of funds available for expenditure, the amounts due and collected for the account of the Government, accumulated expenditures and liabilities, and the values of stock, equipment, and other property in agency custody. They are controls that serve not only as central fiscal records, but also as a primary source of data for top management concerned with agency solvency, expenditures, and program costs.

The general ledgers are subdivided into arbitrarily created account titles, which are based on programs, projects, costs, and funds. Supporting them are a group of subsidiary ledgers and documents further detailing the information in the general ledgers or serving as posting media to the ledgers themselves. To the extent that they reflect appropriation expenditures, the general ledgers are supported by allotment ledgers, which at all times show the current unobligated balance of funds allotted for specific agency purposes and thereby provide a safeguard against overexpenditure by operating officials. The allotment ledgers are general controls over expenditures, and they, in turn, summarize and are supported by more detailed controls that normally take the form of project or job orders that authorize exact and specific expenditures.

The sources of data that are posted to the ledger files are somewhat diverse, but they fall into two general groups:

- a. Copies of various obligation or expenditure documents, such as vouchers and schedules, that flow through the ledger unit for posting.
- b. Journal vouchers and similar internal control documents created to authorize and convey entries to the general ledger.

As the centralized fiscal record, the general ledgers ultimately summarize stores, plant, and cost accounting data, which are treated in a separate schedule, but these are only several aspects of the total ledger accounts. Consequently, the ledgers are the source of the data included in the basic apportionment reports to the OMB and the Department of Treasury, and overall reports of agency fiscal condition which may be required by the General Accounting Office (GAO) (Schedules 6 and 8). The adequacy for audit purposes of the general ledger accounts is normally considered by GAO auditors to be indicative of the agency's entire accounting system and the reliability of its financial data.

This schedule does not apply to such records maintained on a Government-wide basis by the Department of Treasury and the OMB, or to those formerly maintained by the GAO. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

When a claim is filed by or against the Government, records relating to the claim should be retained without regard to the otherwise applicable records retention schedules that would have authorized destruction of the records prior to the time when the claim is finally resolved, unless the agency has received written approval from the GAO (44 U.S.C. Section 3309 and 62 Comp. Gen. 42 (1982)). A claim is finally resolved: (1) when it is disallowed and the time for appealing the denial or instituting suit on the claim has expired; or (2) when it is allowed and paid or the amount offered in compromise is accepted and paid; or (3) when the amount found due and owing proves uncollectible because time limits for collecting the indebtedness through legal proceedings or by way of setoff have expired.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 8*Stores, Plant, and Cost Accounting Records

Specialized stores, plant, and cost accounting records are maintained by most agencies, particularly those with extensive plant and stock inventories. These records, which reflect the net monetary worth of an agency and its assets, are periodically reconciled with the supply data found in stock inventory records, but they do not include procurement papers. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

a. Stores Accounting. These records are maintained to provide personal accountability for the receipt and custody of materials and to document the monetary worth of such materials. Completed copies of material movement documents show custody, and stores accounting data are normally reviewed and consolidated by means of records and returns submitted to agency headquarters. There the information is used for procurement planning, budget, and other management purposes. These records do not include records reflecting the physical movements of material to and from storage points, although they may be involved in posting. Summary data on plant value are also available in pertinent ledger accounts.

b. Plant Accounting. These records document principal characteristics of each item of physical plant and equipment, including real property. They constitute primarily a type of inventory control, but in addition are a principal source of data on the capital investment in physical plant (as distinguished from maintenance or operating costs) and other items not normally represented in a store or stock inventory system. Summary data on plant value are also maintained.

c. Cost Accounting. These records are designed to show accumulated data on the costs of agency operation, the direct and indirect costs of production, administration, and performance of program functions of the agency. The data, which are normally accumulated by means of cost reports and statistics accumulated by operating personnel, are ultimately integrated into the accounts concerned with operating and program costs. Material cost information is collected by posting requisitions for material or procurement documents to intermediate records, and labor cost information is obtained by charging time expended on individual jobs and projects assigned control numbers for cost control purposes. Cost data are used in evaluating economy of agency operation and in preparing budget estimates.

Housing Records

The housing records covered by this schedule include files and data accumulated in the maintenance and management of Federally owned and operated housing facilities within the continental United States for civilian employees of the Federal Government, military personnel, and others eligible by law to reside in the projects. These facilities may consist of low cost quarters located either within or adjacent to the confines of Federal installations or in a critical defense or other area. This schedule includes housing records maintained by housing managers and housing or quarters offices, but does not cover the headquarters or staff office files of the supervising agency, or the files of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Health and Human Services, or the Department of Veterans Affairs pertaining to program operations in planning and financing housing facilities.

Maintenance records reflect repair and general upkeep of the housing project or units. Management involves the assignment and rental of units, rent collection and other fiscal operations, and overall supervision. However, rental charges for military personnel are normally represented by checkages made against pay accounts.

Certain housing records are subject to the provisions of other General Records Schedules. Supply and fiscal files are covered by General Records Schedules 3 and 6. Schedules 1, 2, 8, and 10 may also be involved. Many records of agent cashiers serving as housing rental managers are similar to those of other Federal accountable officers and are disposable under General Records Schedule 6.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 16

Administrative Management Records

This schedule provides for the disposal of certain records relating to administrative management activities in Federal agencies, excluding records of operating personnel, budget, accounting, and printing functions, which are covered by other General Records Schedules. Included within the scope of the schedule are disposable records created in the course of organizational planning, development, and simplification of procedures; records management activities; and administration of management improvement programs. General Records Schedule 1 (Items 12 and 13) provide for the disposition of case files on individuals involved in incentive award and similar types of management improvement programs. Any records created prior to January 1, 1939, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

The organizational locations and titles of administrative management units vary from agency to agency. They may be scattered at numerous levels or locations, or may be centralized. For the purposes of this schedule, the nomenclature standards set forth by the Senate Committee on Government Operations in Senate Report No. 245, 80th Congress, 1st session, are followed: the first organizational level within an agency is the bureau level; subordinate components are, successively, division, branch, section, and unit.

This schedule is based on the presumption that management activities are carried on by a specialized person or unit with, at least, division-wide and usually bureau-wide or agency-wide responsibilities or by a group of such persons or units in an agency, although its provisions are applicable to exactly comparable records of agencies without such formal assignments of responsibility. Many similar or comparable records created at lower organizational levels or in field offices vary so greatly in content, value, and arrangement that they are not covered by this schedule.

Because of the nature of the activities documented by administrative management records, a relatively large proportion of them is of continuing value. Files with potential archival value are not covered by the General Records Schedules. They must be scheduled individually by submission of a Standard Form (SF) 115 to NARA. These records include organizational charts and reorganization studies, functional statements, delegations of authority, and agency histories. However, related temporary or ephemeral materials include working papers that do not have a direct bearing on the transaction, intermediate drafts of documents and worksheets that do not represent significant basic steps in the preparation of final drafts, letters or memoranda of transmittal and acknowledgment, routing slips, and extra copies of documents.

- a. Notices and other types of issuances related to routine administrative functions (e.g., payroll, procurement, personnel).

Destroy when superseded or obsolete. (NC1-GRS-81-5 item 3c)

- b. Case files related to (a) above that document aspects of the development of the issuance.

Destroy when issuance is destroyed. (NC1-GRS-81-5 item 3d)

[NOTE: Record sets of formal directives, procedural and operating manuals, publications, and management improvement reports submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and the case files documenting their development are potentially permanent records and must be scheduled by submission of an SF 115 to NARA. (NC1-64-77-8 items 1a & 2a)]

2. ~~Records Disposition Files.~~

~~Descriptive inventories, disposal authorizations, schedules, and reports.~~

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 17

Cartographic, Aerial Photographic, Architectural, and Engineering Records

Federal agencies create or receive cartographic, aerial photographic, architectural, and engineering design records in connection with their official activities. Many of these records have continuing historical value after they are no longer being used by the agency. Descriptions of both historically valuable and temporary records were formerly included in General Records Schedule 17, Cartographic, Remote Sensing Imagery, and Related Records, and in General Records Schedule 22, Design and Construction Drawings and Related Records. The General Records Schedules have been revised to cover only temporary records, and this schedule covers temporary records formerly included in those two schedules. Guidelines for identifying and scheduling the records of continuing value are now provided in "Managing Cartographic and Architectural Records: An Instructional Guide." The Guide must be used in conjunction with the General Records Schedule to ensure proper disposition of all cartographic, aerial photographic, architectural, and engineering design records held by an agency.

This schedule relates to cartographic records prepared during intermediate stages of publication, unannotated aerial photographic negatives and prints, and architectural and engineering drawings. Cartographic and aerial photographic records created before January 1, 1950, and architectural or engineering drawings created before January 1, 1921, must be brought to the attention of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying the disposition instructions in this schedule.

1. Cartographic Records Prepared During Intermediate Stages of Publication.

Scribed plastic sheets, color separation sheets, composites prepared as a step in the making of color separation sheets, photographic negatives, glass plate negatives, enlargements or reductions, color pulls, proof copies subject to final revision, "correction file" maps annotated to show corrections to be incorporated into the next edition of the published map, and similar items whose informational content is duplicated by the final published map.

[NOTE: Paint plans and samples for the interior and exterior walls of buildings significant for historical, architectural, or technological reasons are not disposable under this item and must be scheduled by submitting a Standard Form (SF) 115 to NARA. (N1-GRS-88-5 item 10 Note)]

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 18

Security and Protective Services Records

Security and protective services records include the various files created by agencies to control and protect classified information; to protect Government facilities from unauthorized entry, sabotage, or loss; to ensure the adequacy of protective measures at privately owned plants given security cognizance by the Government; to determine loyalty and fitness of individuals employed by, or seeking employment from the Government; and to develop and implement plans for the protection of life and property under emergency conditions. Included are selected files of offices having Government-wide or agencywide responsibility for security and protective services programs. Also included are files of security units, guard forces, and other organizational elements documenting the control of classified information, access to facilities, and like matters.

This schedule authorizes for disposal records documenting administrative actions relating to the above functions. Records documenting Government-wide or agencywide security and protective services planning and programming, reflecting basic overall policies and determinations are not authorized for disposal by this schedule. Variations among agencies in methods of implementing statutory requirements for security and protective services result in dissimilarities in program documentation. The application of standard techniques of filing and disposition to such records through the medium of a General Records Schedule is therefore impractical. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 20*Electronic Records

This schedule provides disposal authorization for certain electronic records and for specified paper, microform, or other hard copy records that are integrally related to the electronic records.

This schedule applies to electronic records created or received by Federal agencies including those managed for agencies by contractors. It covers records created by computer operators, programmers, analysts, systems administrators, and all personnel with access to a computer. Disposition authority is provided for certain master files, including some tables that are components of data base management systems, and certain files created from master files for specific purposes. In addition, this schedule covers certain electronic records produced by end users in office automation applications. These disposition authorities apply to the categories of electronic records described in GRS 20, regardless of the type of computer used to create or store these records.

GRS 20 does not cover all electronic records. Disposition may not be carried out for electronic records not covered by GRS 20 unless authorized by a Standard Form (SF) 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, that has been approved by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). The records covered by several items in this schedule are authorized for erasure or deletion when the agency determines that they are no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes. NARA cannot establish a more specific retention that would be appropriate in all applications. Each agency should, when appropriate, determine a more specific disposition instruction, such as "Delete after X update cycles" or "Delete when X years old," for inclusion in its records disposition directives or manual. NARA approval is not needed to set retention periods for records in the GRS that are authorized for destruction when no longer needed.

Items 1a (in part), 2a, and 16 of this schedule apply to hard copy records used in conjunction with electronic files. Item 1 also covers printouts produced to test, use, and maintain master files. Items 10 and 11 of this schedule should be applied to special purpose programs and documentation for the referenced electronic records whatever the medium in which such programs and documentation exist.

This schedule has been revised to expand the authority agencies have to apply previously approved schedules to electronic records; grant broader authority to agencies to dispose of hard copy records that have been converted to an electronic format; and provide disposition instructions for ad hoc printouts and for documentation associated with permanent electronic records. Additionally, because copies of system security records are now covered by GRS 24, item 5, a cross-reference has been provided for item 11b to that effect. The items affected by the revisions to this GRS 20 schedule are 2, 3, 3.1, 11, and 16.

Electronic versions of most records authorized for disposal elsewhere in the GRS may be deleted under the provisions of item 3 of GRS 20. See also 36 CFR Part 1234 for NARA regulations on electronic records management.

1. Files/Records Relating to the Creation, Use, and Maintenance of Computer Systems, Applications, or Electronic Records.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 21

Audiovisual Records

This schedule covers audiovisual and related records created by or for agencies of the Federal Government as well as those acquired in the course of business. For audiovisual records that are not described in this schedule, agencies must request disposition authority by submitting a Standard Form (SF) 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) Life Cycle Management Division (NWML).

Audiovisual records include still and motion picture photography, graphic materials, and sound and video recordings. Related documentation includes (1) production files or other files documenting the creation, justification, ownership, and rights to the records and (2) finding aids used to identify or access the records.

This schedule does not cover: (1) cartographic records, (2) remote sensing imagery recorded on film or magnetic tape, or (3) microform copies of textual records. Disposable cartographic records and remote sensing imagery recorded on film are covered by GRS 17; temporary computerized data are covered by GRS 20 and GRS 23; and microform copies of textual records that have been authorized by NARA for destruction need not be separately scheduled, in accordance with 36 CFR 1230.10(b).

This schedule does not include descriptions of permanent or potentially permanent records. Guidance about the identification, maintenance, use, and disposition of potentially permanent audiovisual records is provided in the NARA publication, "Managing Audiovisual Records: An Instructional Guide" and NARA records management regulations at 36 CFR 1228.184, Audiovisual Records.

The word "destroy" is used to authorize the destruction of data or information. Erasable media such as audio tape should be reused whenever practical. Silver-bearing photographic film must be destroyed in accordance with 41 CFR 101-45.10, "Recovery of Precious Metals."

This General Records Schedule authorizes the disposal of certain records without further concurrence from NARA. Agencies are encouraged to include specific series descriptions for such records in their comprehensive schedules while citing the applicable disposition instruction from this General Records Schedule as the authority for destroying the records.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 23

Records Common to Most Offices within Agencies

This schedule provides for the disposal of certain records common to most offices in Federal agencies. It covers administrative subject files; facilitative records such as suspense files, tracking and control records, calendars, and indexes; and transitory documents. This schedule does not apply to any materials that the agency has determined to be nonrecord or to materials, such as calendars or work schedules, claimed as personal.

Office Administrative Files described under item 1 are records retained by an originating office as its record of initiation of an action, request, or response to requests for information. This item may be applied only to separate administrative files containing such records as copies of documents submitted to other offices for action including budget feeder documents, purchase orders, and training requests. Item 1 may not be applied to files that also contain program records, and it may not be applied by an office that receives and takes action on documents submitted by other offices.

1. Office Administrative Files. [See note after this item.]

Records accumulated by individual offices that relate to the internal administration or housekeeping activities of the office rather than the functions for which the office exists. In general, these records relate to the office organization, staffing, procedures, and communications, including facsimile machine logs; the expenditure of funds, including budget records; day-to-day administration of office personnel including training and travel; supplies and office services and equipment requests and receipts; and the use of office space and utilities. They may also include copies of internal activity and workload reports (including work progress, statistical, and narrative reports prepared in the office and forwarded to higher levels) and other materials that do not serve as unique documentation of the programs of the office.

Destroy when 2 years old. (N1-GRS-98-2 item 43)

[NOTE: This schedule is not applicable to the record copies of organizational charts, functional statements, and related records that document the essential organization, staffing, and procedures of the office, which must be scheduled prior to disposition by submitting a Standard Form (SF) 115 to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). ## GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 24

Information Technology Operations and Management Records

This schedule provides disposal authorization for certain files created and maintained in the operation and management of information technology (IT) and related services. As defined in the Information Technology Management Reform Act of 1996 (now the Clinger-Cohen Act), "information technology" includes computers, ancillary equipment, software, firmware and similar procedures, services (including support services), and related resources.

This GRS does not cover all records relating to information technology operations and management. Offices with responsibility for IT operations also maintain administrative records covered by other GRS and records not in the GRS that must be scheduled by the agency. In addition, this GRS does not apply to system data or information content, which must be scheduled separately by submitting an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to NARA.

The disposition instructions apply to records regardless of physical form or characteristics. Records may be maintained on paper, in microform, or electronically. Dispositions apply, however, only to records that are maintained as described in each item or subitem. If documents are part of a larger case file or recordkeeping system that contains records not covered in this GRS, agencies must separately schedule that file or system by submitting an SF 115 to NARA. If records covered by more than one item in this schedule are maintained together in one file or recordkeeping system, agencies must retain the records for the longest retention period authorized for those items.

~~Note that GRS 20, Electronic Records, remains in effect. GRS 20 covers certain temporary files associated with data base management. This new schedule supplements GRS 20 by providing disposal authority for temporary records relating to overall IT management, as opposed to the operation and use of specific systems. NARA is reviewing alternatives to GRS 20 and will develop revised requirements as it explores new approaches to managing electronic records. GRS 20 superseded by GRS Transmittal 24.~~

Ethics Program Records

Title IV of the Ethics in Government Act of 1978 as amended, 5 U.S.C. appendix, title IV, authorizes the development of an executive branch-wide ethics program to ensure that decisions made by employees are neither tainted by, nor appear to be tainted by, any question of conflicts of interest. Under the relevant sections of title IV and Office of Government Ethics (OGE) executive branch-wide regulation at 5 C.F.R. part 2638, each agency is required to establish an ethics program. Records pertaining to legislative branch and judicial ethics programs, the Hatch Act, the Whistleblower Protection Act, procurement integrity and other areas often associated with, but not expressly under the authority of executive branch ethics programs, are not covered by this schedule.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 27

Records of the Chief Information Officer

This schedule provides disposal authorization for certain records created and maintained by Federal Chief Information Officers (CIO) and their program offices. This schedule applies to the records of CIOs at agency or departmental headquarters as well as those of deputy and subordinate CIOs at the bureau or field office level. This schedule does not apply to officials with Government-wide responsibilities for information resources management (IRM) and information technology (IT) governance.

In accordance with the Clinger-Cohen Act (originally the Information Technology Management Reform Act), CIOs of 24 major departments and agencies have IRM as their primary duty. They are responsible for advising and assisting the agency's executive with IT acquisition and management; developing and maintaining the agency's IT architecture; promoting the efficient design and operation of the agency's major information resources management processes; monitoring the performance of IT programs of the agency; and developing the knowledge and skill of IT staff. CIOs may also lead, coordinate, or participate in programs to support the mandates of the Paperwork Reduction Act, Government Paperwork Elimination Act, Federal Records Act, E-Government Act of 2002, Privacy Act, Government Performance and Results Act, and other Federal laws and regulations relating to IRM.

This schedule does not cover all records relating to the work of CIOs. CIOs are often responsible for programs and activities whose records are already covered by an approved GRS. Records not described in this or any other GRS must be scheduled by submission to NARA of an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority. If records are part of a larger case file or recordkeeping system that contains records not covered in this schedule, agencies must separately schedule those records or systems by submitting an SF 115 to NARA. If records covered by more than one item in this schedule are maintained together in one file or recordkeeping system, agencies must retain the records for the longest retention period authorized for those items.

The disposition instructions apply to records regardless of physical form or characteristics. Records may be maintained in any format on any medium.

~~Note that GRS 20, Electronic Records, remains in effect. GRS 20 covers certain temporary files associated with database management.~~ This schedule supplements GRS 20 by providing disposal authority for records relating to the administration of a CIO's office, as opposed to the operation and use of specific systems. This schedule does not apply to the data or information content of IT systems. Records relating to specific systems that support or document the agency's mission must be scheduled individually by submission of an SF 115 to NARA. GRS 20 entirely superseded by GRS Transmittal 24.

1. Information Technology (IT) Program Planning Records

Records relating to the development of agency IT programs. Included are records that document agency-wide IT goals; specify milestones to be achieved; identify performance measures for the agency's IT portfolio; or summarize the underlying principles and approach by which the agency will plan for and manage its IT resources. Strategic and tactical plans; reports and statistics documenting quantitative and qualitative performance measures; reports on IT portfolio management; and related clearance and review records.  [Note: This item does not apply to the data content or design of individual IT systems. Records relating to specific mission-related systems must be scheduled by submission of an SF 115 to the National Archives.]
2. Enterprise Architecture Records  Cut off when superseded by a new iteration of the enterprise architecture. Destroy/delete when 7 years old or when no longer needed, whichever is later.	Technical reference models, diagrams, graphics, models, sequencing plans, and narratives that describe the agency's baseline or target enterprise architecture (EA).  [Note: An "iteration" would typically be the version of the EA (or its component) prepared and submitted to OMB as part of the budget and capital planning cycle. Some agencies may produce and manage EA outside the budget process, which could result in other formal iterations of EA records.]  [Note: This item does not cover such records maintained by the Office of Management and Budget as part of its government-wide IRM and IT spending oversight responsibilities.
3. IT Capital Investment Records  Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 7 years old or when no longer needed, whichever is later.	Reports on IT capital investments; capital asset plans; OMB Exhibit 300 business cases for major investments, systems, acquisitions, or operational assets identified in the agency's capital investment portfolio; and related clearance and review records.  [Note: Contract support records are covered more fully by GRS 3. Offices outside the CIO are likely to maintain similar records to support individual capital investments. GRS 24/9, "Financing of IT Resources and Services," covers many such records.]

4. Legal and Regulatory Compliance Records  Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 5 years old.	Records of agency-wide compliance with Federal laws and regulations governing information resources management.
5. CIO Committee Records  Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 5 years old.	Meeting minutes, summaries, agendas, and transcripts; reports, studies, and publications; membership records; correspondence, mailing, and distribution records; and other administrative committee records.  [ Note: Records of Government-wide committees sponsored by CIOs, such as the Federal Chief Information Officers Council, are not covered by this item.]
6. CIO Subject and Office Records  Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 5 years old.	Other mission-related briefings, reports, presentations, studies, and correspondence of the CIO not directly related to the schedule items described above.  [ Note: Some records related to the compliance of individual IT systems may be maintained with and for as long as the documentation for the system itself. See, for example, GRS 24/5, "Files Related to Maintaining the Security of Systems and Data."]
7. Schedules of Daily Activities  Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when not less than 2 years but not more than 5 years old.	Official calendars, appointment books, schedules, logs, and diaries.  [ Note: This item applies only to records of the CIO, not of the office's subordinate staff. See GRS 23/5 for coverage of the latter.]

Frequently Asked Questions about General Records Schedule 27,
*Records of the Chief Information Officer

1. To whom does General Records Schedule 27 apply?

GRS 27 provides disposal authorization for certain records created and maintained by Federal Chief Information Officers (CIO). This schedule applies to the records of CIOs at agency or departmental headquarters as well as those of deputy and subordinate CIOs at the bureau or field office level.

2. Does this schedule describe all of the records of Federal CIOs?

Not necessarily. CIOs are often responsible for programs and activities whose records are covered by another General Records Schedule or approved agency records schedule.

3. How does this schedule differ from GRS 20, Electronic Records, and GRS 24, Information Technology (IT) Operations and Management Records?

GRS 20 and GRS 24 cover certain records associated with the day-to-day operation of individual information systems and related support services. GRS 27 provides disposal authority for records documenting the administration of the office of the CIO and its agency-wide information resources management.

4. How does GRS 27/4, “Legal and Regulatory Compliance Records,” differ from GRS 24/1, “Oversight and Compliance Files”?

GRS 27/4 covers CIO records that document an agency’s compliance with Federal laws and regulations governing information resources management. GRS 24/1 covers records that document an office’s or a system’s compliance with the IT policies, directives, and plans that are typically developed or issued by the agency CIO.

5. Does this schedule cover records related to IT security?

Insofar as they document agency-wide efforts to comply with the laws and regulations that govern IT security, such CIO records would be covered by 27/4, “Legal and Regulatory Compliance Records.” However, records that document the security of individual IT systems – including vulnerability assessments, audits, risk management analyses, and security plans – are covered by GRS 24/5, “Files Related to Maintaining the Security of Systems and Data.” Records related to specific security breaches or incidents are covered by GRS 24/7, “Computer Security Incident Handling, Reporting and Follow-up Records.”

6. Does this schedule cover system data?

This schedule does not apply to the data or information content of IT systems. Records relating to specific systems that support or document the agency’s mission must be scheduled individually by submission of an SF 115 to the National Archives.

7. Do records have to be arranged in these categories?

No. If records covered by more than one item in this schedule are maintained together in one file or recordkeeping system, keep the records for the longest retention period authorized for those items.

8. Is this schedule only for paper records?

No. This schedule applies to records regardless of their physical form or characteristics. Records may be maintained in any format on any medium.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about the General Records Schedules

Revised June 2016

1. What are the General Records Schedules (GRS)?

The General Records Schedules (GRS) are issued by the Archivist of the United States to provide agencies with disposition authority for records common to several or all agencies of the Federal Government. “The GRS” refers to the entire set of schedules, but “GRS” is also commonly used to refer to a single schedule within the whole. These schedules authorize, after specified periods of time, the destruction of temporary records or the transfer of permanent records to the National Archives of the United States (NARA). (36 CFR 1227.10)

2. What are the “New General Records Schedules”?

The New General Records Schedules are the product of NARA’s five-year project to update and revise the GRS. This project came out of OMB/NARA M-12-18, Managing Government Records Directive, and is being carried out by the GRS Team in the Office of the Chief Records Officer at NARA.

The new schedules will eventually completely replace the old GRS chapters with an organizational structure based on functional areas. New General Records Schedules are identifiable by their X.X number, as opposed to the old Chapter X identifier. Eventually, the entire old GRS will be replaced with new schedules.

3. What do numbers in the GRS mean?

Each GRS bears a chapter number (GRS X or GRS X.X). Each individual item in a GRS bears both an item number and citation of the legal instrument that gives the item authority—the NARA job number (starts with DAA, N1, or NC1), plus an item number within that job. “GRS 1.1 item 010” identifies where you can find the item in the GRS. “DAA-GRS-2013-0007-0001” authorizes agencies to destroy records described by that item.

The GRS chapter number is similar to an agency manual number or citation. It is the number NARA assigns to each GRS. Old GRS were assigned chapter numbers 1-27. In the new GRS, NARA assigns chapter numbers in a hierarchical structure by function. So, for example, all finance-related records are under 1.0 and have chapter (schedule) numbers such as 1.1, 1.2, and 1.3. Item numbers in the new GRS look like 010, 020, 021, 030, etc. We went with this numbering scheme to make it easier to add items in between if we ever need to. Older GRS item numbers are in alpha-numeric hierarchy: 1, 1a, 1a1, 1a1a, 1a1b, etc. The chapter number and the item number make up a complete GRS item citation, for example: “GRS 1.1, item 010.”

The NARA job number is a code assigned by NARA to each records schedule, such as DAA-GRS-2013-0003. Schedules that agencies submit via ERA begin with “DAA” (Disposition Authority Agency), followed by the record group, the fiscal year in which the schedule was created, and a sequence number. Older schedules have N1 or NC1 codes at the beginning of the job number, followed by the record group, fiscal year (abbreviated to the last two digits), and sequence number. In both cases, the job number is part of what makes up the disposition authority for a records item. The last part of disposition authority is the item number. In ERA, this is four digits (e.g., 0001). In older schedules, the item number can take a variety of forms, such as 1, 1a, 1a2b, etc. The complete disposition authority—job number and item number—is the legal citation allowing disposal of the records, for example DAA-GRS-2013-0003-0001 (ERA schedules) or N1-GRS-92-4, item 3a (older schedules). The disposition authority is required to transfer permanent records to NARA.

4. Is there a NARA glossary of terms and definitions related to the GRS?

There is no glossary of terms specifically related to the GRS. You can find terms and definitions relevant to the GRS in 36 CFR 1220.18, NARA's records management definitions regulation. The FAQs for an individual new GRS may also contain definitions specific to that schedule.

5. What are “administrative,” “program,” and “program support” records? Which are covered by the GRS?

Record type	Definition	Examples	GRS coverage
Administrative records	Records created in carrying out general, non-mission-related functions that keep an office operating.	Records tracking employee time and attendance, hiring personnel, paying bills, monitoring stocks of supplies, pursuing information technology processes, maintaining vehicles, providing security, and carrying out a myriad of housekeeping tasks.	The GRS offers nearly complete coverage. These records document functions common to the entire Federal Government (or at least wide swaths of it). GRS items can be used by any agency since they are scheduled Government-wide for retention based on their business value.
Program (mission) records	Records created in pursuing an agency's mission—the unique functions for which the agency has been established.	Records documenting collecting taxes (Internal Revenue Service), protecting the environment (Environmental Protection Agency), caring for national parkland (National Park Service), and responding to threats to public health (Centers for Disease Control).	Generally not covered in the GRS. Must be scheduled individually by the agency responsible for the mission, with the exception of committees established under the Federal Advisory Committee Act, the records of which are covered in GRS 6.2.
Program (mission) support records	Records of professional functions providing ancillary support to agency	Records created by agency functions such as legal counsel, public affairs, grant administration, and monitoring and evaluating	The GRS covers these records when their business and historical value can be established Government-wide. The GRS sometimes makes note

Record type	Definition	Examples	GRS coverage
	mission accomplishment.	how an agency carries out its mission.	where it cannot cover specific program support records and refers their scheduling for historical value to individual agencies.
Administrative or Program records, depending...	Some functions are the mission of one agency and administrative for all other agencies Government-wide.	Personnel position classification and employee recruitment are program (mission) functions of the Office of Personnel Management. They are administrative processes everywhere else.	The GRS covers these for agencies where the function is administrative. It does not cover records created by agencies for which the function is a mission.

6. When must agencies apply the GRS?

There are situations in which agencies must apply a GRS and situations in which an agency may either apply a GRS or request a deviation (36 CFR 1227.12). These situations are:

If	then
the particular GRS states that its provisions must be followed without exception	your agency must follow the disposition instructions in the GRS, regardless of whether your agency has existing schedules. Your agency may not request a deviation from a GRS that states the provisions must be followed without exception.
the particular GRS allows agencies to use existing agency schedules	your agency may follow the disposition instructions in either the GRS or the existing agency schedule, but it must follow the same disposition instructions throughout the agency and instruct its staff to do so. If an agency chooses to follow its own schedule, it must notify NARA within 120 days after NARA has issued the new or revised GRS. Notification may be submitted via e-mail to GRS_Team@nara.gov.  NARA will review your agency's notification to determine whether your agency-specific schedule is still appropriate. NARA reserves the right, in some instances, to deny the use of the agency-specific schedule if it is no longer appropriate due to the passage of time, change in value of the records, or other reasons. NARA will notify your agency's records officer of the notification's status within 90 calendar days.
your agency does not have existing schedules covering records scheduled by a GRS	your agency must follow the disposition instructions of the GRS.
your agency requires a different retention period to	your agency must submit a records schedule in accordance with 36 CFR 1225 and a justification for the deviation.

If	then meet its business needs
your agency does not create or maintain the records covered by the particular GRS	no action is required.

7. Where can I find additional information on the General Records Schedules?

Additional information about the GRS can be found on the GRS web page or in other GRS-related FAQs. Questions may also be sent to the GRS Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about the GRS Update Project

Revised June 2016

GENERAL ISSUES

1. How does OMB/NARA M-12-18, Managing Government Records Directive, affect this effort, or how does this effort fit into the Directive?

OMB/NARA M-12-18, Managing Government Records Directive, requires that NARA revise, update, and expand the GRS by December 31, 2017. The GRS Update Project is the effort to meet that mandate by revising the existing schedules and adding new content.

NARA recognizes that the Directive requires agencies to submit schedules for all unscheduled paper and other non-electronic records by December 31, 2016, and that this deadline may, at times, result in agencies scheduling records that ultimately end up covered by a new GRS as well. Unfortunately, NARA cannot condense its GRS update project timeframe to adjust for this because of the scope of the project. NARA apologizes for the inconvenience, but recommends agencies continue to follow their own scheduling timeline to meet their Directive requirements, rather than wait on a future GRS update.

2. How does the new GRS differ from the old GRS?

The new GRS incorporates these changes:

- A new structure: the GRS is completely reorganized along functional lines.
- Streamlined and big-bucket items: we aggregate previously and newly scheduled records whenever retention requirements allow.
- General updating: we revise records descriptions and retention to reflect current business practices and rescind items no longer needed.
- Flexible retention periods: new disposition instructions for temporary records establish retention parameters (usually minimum periods), allowing agencies to set longer retentions based on their own business needs without having to request approval from NARA. This aids agencies looking to include GRS items in their own big buckets—they can extend retention periods without NARA approval. This also provides more clarity as to when a retention period is fixed and cannot be deviated from without significant justification.
- Additional clarity: FAQs and other implementation aides for individual schedules help interpret and implement the GRS.
- New content is included in updated items to reflect current business practices. For instance, library records make their debut in the GRS with Transmittal 26 (GRS 4.4).

3. Does the new GRS include new record content?

The new GRS may include new record series related to the functions mapped to the current GRS. We are also planning to add some completely new functional areas to the GRS, such as Public Affairs Records and Legal Records, but inclusion of these records depends on whether series are ultimately appropriate for a GRS. Because new content takes more time to research and verify, some of the proposed new schedules may not be completed by December 31, 2017.

4. Are any legacy GRS items being retired?

Disposition items no longer needed are rescinded from the GRS as new schedules replace old ones. For instance, “telegrams filed in support of telegraph bills,” added to the GRS in 1977, make their exit with Transmittal 23. NARA makes the rescissions known by issuing transmittal memos sent out via RM Communication and posted on the GRS website.

5. Why do the new schedules no longer match up with the original GRS Restructuring Plan item list?

The GRS Team used The New GRS: A Plan for Restructuring and Updating the General Records Schedules (September 2012) as a fluid framework to map the older GRS authorities to functional lines of business (LOB) based in part on the Federal Enterprise Architecture (FEA). These functions and sub-functions were not meant to be the actual buckets under which records would be aggregated and scheduled. The functions and sub-functions only identified the general structure for the new GRS and the organizational structure of the published version of the GRS. During the schedule research and writing phases, the GRS Team found the need to make changes to the original restructuring plan.

THE GRS UPDATE PROCESS

6. Does NARA update the entire GRS at one time or in parts? When will the GRS be updated again?

The GRS has always actually been multiple schedules—1 through 27 in the old GRS. Over the years, they have been updated individually in whole or in part, but not until the Update Project has the whole compendium been updated at once. The new GRS is also comprised of multiple schedules and like its predecessor is being issued in parts. In Fiscal Year 2013, the GRS Team started a five-year process of updating the GRS. As new schedules are released they replace parts of the old GRS. Superseded items are clearly marked in each new GRS Transmittal until the entire old GRS has been replaced. Once the five-year revision project is complete, the GRS Team will continue with periodic updates and revisions of the GRS as needed.

7. How does NARA inform agencies of new GRS updates?

NARA has multiple ways to keep agencies aware of GRS updates. NARA issues new schedules through GRS Transmittals distributed via RM Communications to agency records management staff. NARA also posts updates on its GRS web page. New schedules are published online; both as individual schedules in the Records Control Schedules online repository, and as incorporated with other schedules in GRS Transmittals. The GRS Team has given, and will continue to give, regular updates on the project during NARA's Bimonthly Records and Information Discussion Group (BRIDG) meetings, to which representatives from all agencies are invited.

8. Does NARA solicit agency participation in developing new GRSs?

The GRS Team works closely with agencies to gather information about processes, their related records, and business needs for those records. We solicit agency input in a variety of ways, such as focus groups, and approach some agencies specifically based on their subject matter expertise. We are always looking for new ways to get agency input on new schedules. If you have thoughts about a particular schedule, please contact us at GRS\_Team@nara.gov.

THE NEW SCHEDULES

9. Why do the new schedules have flexible disposition instructions such as “when no longer needed” or “longer retention is authorized if required for business use”?

The flexible GRS authorities set parameters for retention periods, rather than specific lengths, so that agencies have some latitude in implementing the GRS for their programs. Agencies may establish fixed retention periods within those parameters without further NARA approval. Agencies may also create big-bucket items for records within the flexible GRS retention parameters without requesting approval by NARA.

10. How can agencies using electronic records management applications (RMAs), which require fixed cut-off statements and retention periods, implement the open-ended disposition authorities in the GRS?

The agency may continue to use fixed disposition instructions suited to RMAs as long as the instructions fit within the parameters of GRS disposition instructions and the agency cites the GRS authority. If the agency-schedule fixed disposition instructions do not fit within the parameters of the new GRS disposition instructions, the agency may use its existing schedules by notifying the GRS Team within 120 days of the new GRS issuance (if the GRS permits). If the agency finds the new GRS authority covers records not previously scheduled by the agency and its business needs require fixed disposition instructions outside the parameters of the new GRS, the agency may request a deviation from the GRS by submitting a new schedule.

11. Why does the GRS include items for copies of records? Aren't copies “non-record” material?

Some copies of records are used in the course of agency business to make decisions or take action. These, even though they are copies, are also Federal records and the new GRS schedules them. For example, a program office may initiate and track a case file and send a copy to another program office to support the second office's mandate. The agency then has two copies of the case file fulfilling different program directives, and both are Federal records. Other copies are kept only for convenience of reference. Those are non-records and for that reason are not mentioned in the GRS.

PROJECT TIMELINE

12. Why does it take five years to complete this project?

The revision project isn't a matter of updating a single schedule. While the GRS Team builds upon current schedules, each new schedule must be built fresh from the ground up. We reexamine old authorities to see if they are still relevant, investigate current business practices to identify new records series that need to be added, solicit and incorporate agency input as much as possible, and analyze all this information to create more comprehensive schedules. We are also committed to building new schedules on the bucket model wherever useful. It is not a small task. It's comparable to an agency updating and revising its entire records manual after 20 years, but even more complicated; rather than looking at records in just one agency, we seek to accommodate all agencies.

13. How long does it take for the GRS Team to finish and issue each new GRS schedule?

The GRS Team estimates it takes about 24 months to draft, review, and issue a new GRS schedule. Depending on the complexity of the schedule and review or other variables, the scheduling process for a particular schedule may be shorter or longer than that estimate.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about the Impact of the New GRS on Agencies

Revised June 2016

IMPACT ON AGENCY RECORDS SCHEDULING

1. Should an agency proceed with scheduling records that are going to be covered by a GRS?

If an agency needs disposition authorities ahead of the GRS timetable, it should go ahead and schedule the records. There is no guarantee that new record series proposed for the GRS will ultimately be included. Many factors may either delay certain series or prevent their inclusion in a GRS.

2. Will NARA stop accepting agency-submitted schedules, or processing schedules already in the queue, in anticipation of a pending new GRS?

NARA continues to accept and process agency schedules even if the records may be covered by a pending GRS. An agency may also withdraw a submitted schedule or an item on a schedule at any time. If you have questions about when a GRS is scheduled to be revised please contact the GRS Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov.

3. Do new GRS items supersede agency-specific disposition authorities?

According to 36 CFR 1227.12, agencies must use a new or revised GRS only when the GRS states that agencies must follow the provisions without exception. In all other cases, if your agency has an existing schedule and the new or revised GRS permits use of existing agency-specific schedules, you may choose to follow either your agency-specific disposition instruction or the GRS. If your agency chooses to follow its own schedule, you must notify NARA at GRS\_Team@nara.gov within 120 days of the issuance of the new or revised GRS.

4. If the new GRS does not meet an agency's disposition needs what should the agency do?

If the agency already has an approved agency schedule and the GRS permits the use of existing agency schedules, the agency may choose to use its own schedule, notifying NARA at GRS\_Team@nara.gov of its intent within 120 days of the new or revised GRS issuance. If an agency does not have an approved schedule for the records and the new or revised GRS allows for deviations, the agency may request a deviation from the GRS by submitting a schedule to NARA that explains why a deviation is necessary for the agency's records. Please keep in mind that, as long as the agency disposition instruction is within the parameters set by the GRS, a deviation request is not required.

5. Are new GRS schedules mandatory?

The GRS is mandatory, but unless an item or schedule says that agencies must follow it without exception, an agency may request a deviation from a specific GRS item by submitting a schedule to NARA with a justification for the deviation. This rule applies to permanent GRS items as well. However, please keep in mind that while an agency may request a deviation, NARA may not agree to approve it, especially for permanent records. Currently, the only GRS items that must be followed without exception are GRS 2.8, items 060, 061, 062, 063, 070, 071, 072, 080, and 081.

IMPACT ON RECORDS IN FEDERAL RECORDS CENTERS

6. Should agencies continue to use existing GRS items to transfer records to the Federal Record Centers (FRCs) or other storage facilities and the NARA custodial units even though the items are being revised?

Yes. If NARA determines existing GRS disposition or retention instructions are in significant conflict with proposed GRS revisions, it will inform agencies not to destroy the affected records until the GRS changes are approved and ready for implementation. This information will be distributed via the GRS web page and an RM Communications email to agencies.

7. Does NARA provide FRCs with the new GRS retention requirements for records in storage?

The FRC Program is an internal stakeholder in the GRS revision process and is kept well-informed about disposition changes affecting records in storage. The GRS Team provides the FRC Program with copies of the crosswalks for mapping new GRS disposition authorities to superseded ones. However, these crosswalks cover only records retired by agencies under old GRS authorities. Agencies need to notify the Federal Records Center Program (FRCP) of any agency-schedule retention requirements that are superseded by new GRS items, including revised manual citations, if applicable.

8. Does NARA charge my agency for the mass data changes that result from new GRS authorities superseding old GRS ones?

No. Your agency will not be charged because mass data changes are a baseline service provided by the FRCP to agencies, paid for in the initial processing fee for each transfer. The FRCP will automatically update records center holdings coded under superseded GRS disposal authorities to new GRS authorities in the Archives and Records Centers Information System (ARCIS). Agencies incorporating a new GRS into their comprehensive records schedules, and desiring mass data changes to ARCIS, must inform the FRC Program of revisions in the retention period or item numbering within their comprehensive agency schedule.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about General Records Schedule Deviations

Revised July 2015

1. What is a deviation from the GRS?

A deviation from the GRS occurs when an agency uses a retention period for records different from the retention period authorized by the GRS. Deviations are of two types: those that require NARA approval and those that do not.

DEVIATIONS THAT REQUIRE NARA APPROVAL

2. How does an agency request a deviation from a newly issued GRS when it already has a schedule for the records?

The agency needs to submit a GRS notification to NARA within 120 days of issuance of the new GRS. NARA reviews the notification to determine whether a deviation is justified. For further information, see the FAQs about GRS notifications.

3. Under what circumstances must an agency submit a schedule for NARA approval to request a deviation from the GRS?

The agency must submit a schedule for NARA approval when it needs to deviate from the GRS and does not have an existing NARA-approved agency schedule for the records. This process can happen at any time; it is not bound by the 120-day limit mentioned in answer 2.

4. Why would an agency submit a schedule to seek a deviation from a current GRS?

These examples of actual requests illustrate some situations in which an agency might submit a schedule to request a deviation (not exhaustive):

- a. Extending retention period for Personnel Awards (old GRS 1/item12a) from 2 years to 10 years because the agency has frequent need to refer back to these records for employee promotions
- b. Merging GRS items to create a new retention period of 4 years (thus extending the current retention periods ranging from 3 months to 3 years) for Motor Vehicle Maintenance/Operations, Costs and Reports Files (old GRS 10/items 2, 3, and 4) because the agency's business practice is to maintain these records as a single system of records
- c. Extending retention period from 3 months to 4 years for Complaint Correspondence files (old GRS 14/item 5) because this agency reviews these letters for possible patterns that may have investigatory value
- d. Reducing retention period for Badging and Access Control Data (old GRS 18/item 17b) from 2 years to 6 months because the agency determined it had no business need to retain the records for the entire GRS retention period

5. What is required when submitting a records schedule requesting deviation from the GRS?

When an agency submits a records schedule requesting a disposition other than that approved in the GRS, that schedule must cite each GRS item from which the agency wants to deviate, identify the agency schedule item proposed to supersede it, and provide a justification for the deviation. This applies whether the records are scheduled in the GRS as temporary or permanent. Some GRS items, such as accountable officer records, require additional concurrence from other oversight agencies such as GAO. Please contact the GRS Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov if you have questions about whether a request requires additional agency review as the current list of oversight agencies is in flux.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS*6. Can an agency ever diverge from the GRS without submitting a schedule?

Yes, under the following circumstances:

- a. When the GRS disposition is open-ended and the agency wishes to have a more specific retention period, as long as it falls within the parameters established by the GRS. See also question 8, below; or
- b. When an agency seeks only to temporarily extend the retention period. Per 36 CFR 1226.18a, agencies may temporarily retain records approved for destruction beyond their NARA-approved retention period if special circumstances (such as a records freeze or hold) alter the normal administrative, legal, or fiscal value of the records. How to request a records freeze is detailed in the Freeze Process Overview/FAQ on NARA's web site.

7. When is a deviation from the GRS not allowed?

Agencies must use the GRS and cannot request deviations when a GRS states that its provisions must be followed without exception. Currently, the only GRS items that must be followed without exception are GRS 2.8, items 060, 061, 062, 063, 070, 071, 072, 080, and 081.

8. A GRS disposition instruction is open-ended, stating that records must be kept for a certain period of time but may be kept even longer to meet agency business needs. My agency either already has or wants a more specific disposition instruction than allowed by the GRS. Does my agency need to notify NARA that it will use its own schedule or request a deviation via a new schedule?

Examples of an open-ended disposition include "Destroy when no longer needed" or "Destroy when no longer needed for business use, or audit requirements, or to fulfill legal requirements." Open-ended dispositions may also contain a specific time period for destruction of records (e.g., "Destroy when 6 years old") and include wording like "or when no longer needed for business use, whichever is later" or "Longer retention is authorized if required for business use.” Such disposition instructions are designed as open-ended to meet the needs of more agencies, while still establishing basic requirements for destruction of the records.

When the GRS disposition is open-ended, an agency may issue its own more specific disposition instructions, provided that these instructions meet the requirements of the GRS disposition. The agency does not need to request a deviation or otherwise notify NARA. For example, if the GRS disposition is “Destroy when no longer needed,” the agency may set a disposition of “Destroy when 3 years old.” The agency might choose such a disposition when it decides that it would not need any of the records beyond 3 years.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS Notifications

1. What is a GRS notification?

A GRS notification is a request made by an agency to use its own approved agency-specific disposition authority rather than a newly transmitted GRS.

2. What is the purpose of a GRS notification?

The purpose of a GRS notification is to inform NARA of an agency's intent to use its own disposition authority. Consistent with 36 CFR 1227.12, agencies must use a new or revised GRS only when the GRS states that agencies must follow without exception. In all other cases, if your agency has an existing schedule, you may either use the GRS or ask to use your agency-specific disposition instruction. If you seek to use your own agency-specific authority, you must notify NARA within 120 days of issuance of the transmittal of the new GRS.

The notification also allows NARA to review the request to insure that the agency authority is still appropriate. In some cases, the GRS has been updated to comply with changes in statutes or regulations. If an agency authority does not align with the GRS content, the agency authority may not comply with current statutes and regulations, therefore putting the agency at risk for improper disposal of records.

3. When do agencies need to submit GRS notifications?

My situation	and	and	Must I notify NARA?
An item in a new GRS transmittal supersedes my existing agency-specific disposition authority	my agency-specific item retention period falls outside new GRS item parameters <sup>1</sup>	my agency wishes to continue using its own authority and retention	Yes
		my agency is willing to abandon its own authority and use the GRS authority and retention instead	No
	my agency-specific item retention period is within new GRS item parameters <sup>1</sup>	my agency wishes to continue using its own authority	Yes <sup>2</sup>
		my agency is willing to abandon its own authority and cite the GRS authority instead	No
	my agency-specific item is a big bucket item covering at least one new GRS item	my agency wishes to continue using its own authority	Yes

<sup>1</sup> Many GRS items state that "longer retention is authorized if required for business use." For example, if the GRS item is 6 years but longer retention is authorized, and your agency retention is 7 years, your retention is within the parameters of the GRS item.

<sup>2</sup> We recommend that agencies cite the GRS wherever possible. The impact on agency disposition manuals of future changes to GRS items will then be more obvious.

My situation	and	and	Must I notify NARA?
A new GRS transmittal contains no items that supersede any existing agency-specific items			No

4. How are GRS notifications submitted?

If an agency wishes to follow its own schedule instead of a new or newly revised GRS, and if the new GRS does not state that agencies must follow it without exception, the agency must notify NARA within 120 days of the transmittal of the new or revised GRS. Notification should be sent to GRS\_Team@nara.gov with the subject heading "<Agency name> GRS Notification." Please use the spreadsheet located at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/grs/no-longer-in-effect.html> when submitting your request. The spreadsheet includes the following information: the agency citation (NARA disposition authority, agency manual citation, and retention) and the superseded GRS citation (new GRS number, item number, and retention).

5. When might a GRS notification be denied?

NARA reviews all GRS notifications and determines if the agency can properly use its own authority as a deviation from the GRS. NARA may deny requests if the agency retention period differs from the GRS and the agency retention period will put the records or the agency at risk. NARA may also deny requests if the value of the records has changed. For example, the records may have been scheduled years ago in the agency as permanent, but since that time NARA has determined that the records are temporary and scheduled them as such in the GRS. We review such cases closely to determine if value still exists for the records of the requesting agency.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about Flexible Disposition Instructions in the GRS

1. What are flexible disposition instructions?

Flexible disposition instructions are those that are in some way open-ended. Examples in the GRS include those that set a minimum retention period, then state “longer retention is authorized if required for business use.” Flexible disposition instructions can allow for either longer or shorter retention periods than the minimum or maximum set by the disposition instruction. For further information on flexible disposition instructions, see Section 3 (“Flexible Retention Periods”) of the FAQs about Flexible Scheduling, at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/faqs/flexible-scheduling.html>.

2. Why do so many of the new General Records Schedule items have flexible disposition instructions?

The GRS are not like agency-specific schedules. They must apply to all agencies throughout the Federal Government. But we recognize that all agencies may not have identical retention needs, even for records commonly created by multiple agencies. We have approached the GRS instructions as guidelines for agencies in retaining their records. We establish basic retention requirements—usually minimum retention periods—but otherwise, leave it to the agencies to determine their business needs for the records. In other words, with flexible disposition instructions, NARA does not need to review an agency’s disposition instructions for records covered by the GRS as long as they meet the basic retention requirements.

The benefits of this approach are:

- GRS disposition instructions make clear the basic retention requirements and when longer or shorter retention periods are permissible;
- Agencies don’t have to request deviations to the GRS as long as their retention periods fall within the parameters of the GRS instruction;
- The flexible disposition instructions allow multiple GRS items to be bucketed to the longest common retention period, as chosen by the agency; and
- We can potentially cover more temporary items in the GRS, even if agencies have different retention needs.

3. How should flexible disposition instructions be implemented in traditional, non-bucket schedules?

You should update the schedules for your agency to reflect new GRS items and, in doing so, determine the appropriate retention period for your agency’s business needs. You may:

- Use only the minimum retention period. In that case, do not include “longer retention is authorized if required for business use” in your disposition manual;
- Set a specific retention or retention band within the parameters established by the GRS. For example, if the GRS says “Destroy when 3 years old but longer retention is authorized if required for business use,” then the agency disposition manual may say “Destroy when 5 years old”; or

- Use the disposition instruction exactly as written, leaving specific retention up to offices or individual users.

In some cases, you may not have to do anything other than update the GRS disposition authority. As long as your agency’s retention period already falls into the parameters of the GRS, you can cite the GRS without making any other change to your agency’s disposition instructions.

4. How should flexible instructions be implemented in big bucket schedules?

If you wish to continue using an existing big bucket schedule when a new GRS is issued, you need to notify NARA (per 36 CFR 1227.12) of your intent to use your own agency-specific big bucket schedule rather than the GRS. See the “FAQs about GRS Notifications” above in this document. However, as long as the retention periods fall within the parameters of the GRS, there should be no problem with NARA approving use of your agency’s bucket schedule. Be aware that, when determining whether an existing bucket item’s retention period falls within the GRS retention period, you must take into consideration the individual cutoff instructions (when the retention period begins), which may affect retention periods for different items within the bucket.

Records should be bucketed to the longest retention period, but pay attention to cutoff instructions! We often see cases where an agency has incorporated a GRS item with a 3-year retention period into a bucket with 5-year retention. This seems well and good until we look at the GRS item’s cutoff instructions. “Destroy when 5 years old” means the clock starts ticking at document creation. “Destroy 3 years after superseded or obsolete” means the clock may not begin ticking until the document is already several years old. Destruction of everything in a bucket at 5 years of age could wipe out records still in active use.

So how do you resolve this issue in big bucket schedules? The most common way we have seen agencies do it while not completely dismantling buckets is to include non-specific cutoff instructions in the bucket disposition and specific cutoff instructions in an accompanying crosswalk. For example, the disposition instruction states “destroy 5 years after cutoff” and the user refers to the crosswalk to identify the cutoff instruction for the GRS items covered by the bucket. Then each GRS item can indicate unique cutoff requirements.

5. How can agencies using electronic records management applications (RMAs), which require fixed cut-off statements and retention periods, implement the open-ended GRS disposition authorities?

The agency may continue to use fixed disposition instructions suited to RMAs as long as the instructions fit within the parameters of GRS disposition instructions and the agency cites the GRS authority. If the agency schedule’s fixed disposition instructions do not fit within the parameters of the new GRS disposition instructions, the agency may ask to use its existing schedules by notifying the GRS Team within 120 days of the new GRS issuance (if the GRS permits). If the agency finds the new GRS authority covers records not previously scheduled by the agency and its business needs require fixed disposition instructions outside the parameters of the new GRS, the agency may request a deviation from the GRS by submitting a new schedule.

Checklist for Implementing the GRS

The purpose of this optional checklist is to assist agencies to implement a new General Records Schedule (GRS) when one is issued. Agencies may use this tool, in full or in part, as they need when updating agency materials on records disposition. Such materials may include comprehensive schedules, bucket schedules, or disposition manuals. Questions about GRS implementation may be addressed to the GRS Team at GRS\_Team@nara.gov.

When NARA issues a new GRS transmittal, an agency should:

- ☐ 1. Identify old GRS items in its comprehensive disposition manual that are superseded by any new GRS items. Use the new to old crosswalks for each new schedule, included in the GRS Transmittal, to aid in this process.
- ☐ 2. Identify agency-specific authorities that are covered by new GRS items.
- ☐ 3. Determine whether it is necessary to revise the agency's comprehensive disposition manual to conform to new GRS item(s).
  - If the GRS item states that it is mandatory and must be followed without exception, the agency must follow the GRS and cannot use an agency authority, even if previously approved by NARA. The agency must update its agency comprehensive disposition manual with the new GRS disposition authority.
  - If agency-specific schedule disposition instructions fall within the parameters of the new GRS disposition instructions, update the agency-specific schedule with the new GRS disposition authority.
    - The agency may define cutoff instructions and set retention periods different from the GRS ones and still cite the new GRS disposition authority—as long as the agency instructions and retention periods fall within the parameters of the new GRS flexible disposition instructions. For instance, if the GRS retention instruction is “destroy 3 years after program closure, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use,” the agency may choose to specify destruction 6 years after program closure and still cite the GRS item as the authority, if the agency has a business need for longer retention.
  - If the agency-specific schedule disposition instructions do not fall within the parameters of the GRS disposition instruction, the agency has two options:
    - If the new GRS disposition instruction is appropriate for the records, revise the agency-specific disposition instructions in accordance with the new GRS authority.
    - If the new GRS disposition instruction does not meet agency needs, the agency may use its current disposition rather than the GRS one, but must inform NARA within 120 days of its intention to do so. Send notification to GRS\_Team@nara.gov with the subject heading “<Agency name> GRS Notification.” In the body of the email, include:

- agency name;
    - name of requester and/or point of contact (POC);
    - requester/POC email address and telephone number;
    - NARA SF-115 or DAA number and item number;
    - agency manual number and item number; and
    - title of the record series or system of records or bucket schedule item
  - If the agency has unscheduled records covered by the new GRS item, the agency may choose between the following two options for the unscheduled records:
    - If the agency determines that the new GRS disposition instructions meet its business needs for the records, the agency should add the GRS item to its agency comprehensive disposition manual.
    - If the agency determines that it needs disposition instructions outside the parameters of the new GRS instructions, the agency must submit to NARA a schedule requesting a deviation from the GRS. Note that unless explicitly prohibited, an agency may request to deviate from the new GRS for permanent as well as temporary records.
- ☐ 4. Make changes to the agency's comprehensive disposition manual as needed. Keep track of changes to inform the Federal Records Center Program (FRCP) or storage service providers and agency staff.
- ☐ 5. Issue comprehensive records disposition manuals updated to conform to new GRS items through the agency's policy process.
- Consider vetting the proposed changes with concerned stakeholders such as affected program offices, General Counsel, Inspector General, and others designated as part of the agency policy approval process.
  - Submit new schedules or change transmittals through the agency directive approval process.
  - Prepare schedules and/or manual for normal agency distribution (e.g., through publication on the agency intranet or Internet).
- ☐ 6. Communicate changes in the agency schedule and/or records management manual to agency staff.
- Consider rolling out training with the issuance of new agency-specific schedules.
- ☐ 7. Identify changes in agency schedules resulting from new GRS items that affect agency records stored in FRCs or other agency records storage facilities, as appropriate.
- ☐ 8. Inform the FRC account manager and/or other storage service provider of changes to agency comprehensive records disposition manuals, as applicable.
- NARA provides the FRC program with crosswalks from old to new GRS items. Transfers using existing GRS citations are updated in ARCIS by the FRCP. The agency needs to inform the FRCP of alterations to agency-specific schedule authorities and/or comprehensive records disposition manuals affecting records stored in an FRC in order to accomplish any other required ARCIS updates.

- Contact information for agency FRCP account managers can be found at <http://www.archives.gov/frc/acct-reps.html>.
- NARA does not provide GRS crosswalks to commercial records storage facilities. If an agency stores records at such a facility, it must inform the service provider of any changes in records retention or disposition.
