Background Information                      The Forest Service aims to maintain wild free-roaming horse and burro populations in a thriving ecological balance in the areas they inhabit on National Forests. The Wild Horses and Burros Protection Act of 1971, as amended by the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 and the Public Rangelands Improvement Act of 1978, establishes wild free-roaming horses and burros as a part of the natural system where they occur on National Forest System lands. The acts require management, protection, and control of these horses and burros. Four acts important in protection and control of wild free-roaming horses, and burros are the Multiple Use-Sustained Yield Act of 1960, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and the Resource Planning Act as amended by the National Forest Management Act. Legal citations for these acts are in FSM 2201.
