Market Research and Development Division

The Market Research and Development Division conducts a broad-based program designed to facilitate and improve the economic and physical efficiency of agricultural marketing.

The Federal-State Marketing Improvement Program Staff provides leadership, coordination, and consulting services to States in the development and execution of marketing service projects; reviews and recommends for approval or rejection projects proposed by States under matching fund provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, and assists States in reviewing progress, assuring maintenance of administrative and legal requirements, and evaluating benefits attributable to the projects. The Staff also administers, in cooperation with the Science and Education Administration-Extension, a program to improve the direct marketing of agricultural products under the Direct Marketing Act of 1976.

	The Marketing Research Branch conducts a national program of research designed to develop ways to increase marketing efficiency, minimize costs of handling and distributing food and other farm products, develop new market outlets, and aid agricultural industries in meeting regulatory requirements. The Statistics Branch provides consulting services and conducts applied research in all areas of statistical and mathematical applications relating to sampling, inspection and grading procedures, experimental design and analysis, regulatory activities, and laboratory services. These projects are conducted in conjunction with the action and research programs of Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS), Federal Grain Inspection Service (FGIS), Office of Transportation (OT), and Agricultural Cooperative Service (ACS). The Regulation Review Staff administers and coordinates AMS's actions in compliance with executive orders and departmental directives pertaining to the Agency's regulations by: evaluating impact statements, reviewing current regulations, expanding public (including consumer) participation in regulatory hearings and reviews, and improving the readability of current and proposed regulations. The Wholesale Market Development Program functions and activities, previously conducted by the Wholesale Market Development Program of the Science and Education Administration (SEA), were transferred to the Agricultural Marketing Service by Secretary's Memorandum No. 1973 of February 16, 1979, entitled: Transfer of Wholesale Market Development Program to Agricultural Marketing Service. Restructuring of the Market Research and Development Division to include the Federal-State Marketing Improvement Programs and the Statistics Branch of the Technical Services Division was announced in AMS/FGIS Notice 80-1 of October 2, 1979. The Division is responsible for administering AMS's compliance with Executive Order 12044, Improving Government Regulations; Executive Order 12291; the Secretary's Memorandum No. 1955, Improving USDA Decisions and Regulations; and Executive Order 12160, Providing for Enhancement and Coordination of Consumer Programs.
