1 Emerging Markets Program (EMP)
Disposition Authority Number DAA-0166-2017-0040-0001

The EMP is a market development program administered by FAS's Office of Trade Programs (OTP) that provides funding for technical assistance activities intended to promote exports of U.S. agricultural commodities and products to emerging markets in all geographic regions, consistent with U.S. foreign policy. The EMP is authorized by the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990, as amended. Every year FAS announces in the Federal Register that it is accepting EMP applications for the next fiscal year. Any U. S. agricultural or agribusiness organization, university, state department of agriculture, or USDA agency (or other federal agency involved in agricultural issues) is eligible to participate in the EMP.

3 Technical Assistance for Specialty Crops (TASC)

Disposition Authority Number DAA-0166-2017-0040-0003

The TASC program is designed to assist U.S. organizations by providing funding for projects that address sanitary, phytosanitary and related technical barriers that prohibit or threaten the export of U.S. specialty crops. For purposes of the TASC program, "specialty crops" are defined as all cultivated plants and the products thereof produced in the United States except wheat, feed grains, oilseeds, cotton, rice, peanuts, sugar, and tobacco. U.S. public or private organizations, including, but not limited to, U.S. government agencies, State government agencies, non-profit trade associations, universities, agricultural cooperatives, and for-profit companies may apply for TASC funding. The Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002 created TASC, which is administered by FAS.
