1.	Office of Technical Services Reference Files of E. E. Lewis - reports, studies and agency histories collected or created by Mrs. Lewis while she was an employee of the Office of Technical Services (OTS). Several of the documents were either produced by, or describe the program activities of, organizational units of the Foreign Economic Administration (FEA) and the War Production Board (WPB). OTS assumed some of the functions of these World War II agencies after their dissolution in 1945. Among the documents included here are: " Guide to the Industrialization of China, " issued by the Engineering Service, Bureau of Supplies, Foreign Economic Administration; " Administrative and Contractual Experience with Wartime and Post War Applied Research and Development, " issued by OTS; and, related papers describing the activities of the Office of Production Research and Development under the WPB and the Industrial Research and Development Division under OTS. The files are generally arranged by subject matter. Total volume equals three cubic feet, and the records are unclassified and unrestricted. When they were originally transferred to storage, the files were restricted for use by OTS personnel only. However, no formal statutory or regulatory restrictions appear to bear on their use. Inclusive dates range from 1945 through 1948.	10 ACTION TAKEN (INARS USE ONLY)
