53. Textile Import Program Files. Subject correspondence and related records of Seth Bodner, of the Office of Imports, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Resources, concerning his responsibilities for administering the textile import program of the Department. These subject files include correspondence with various countries, particularly in the far east; records on Department participation in the International Cotton Advisory Committee, the Interagency Textile Administrative Committee and other pertinent committees; records documenting the textile import agreements with various countries; and records on GATT relationships concerning importing of textiles. This official of the Office of the Secretary maintained the record copy on such textile activities during the time period of 1963-1970. Arranged alphabetically primarily by country or committee.

Also included are the subject files James S. Love, Deputy to the Secretary for Textile Programs, 1962-63. This official in this capacity served as the predecessor to the textile program of the Office of Imports, the files of which have been described above and Mr. Love's files are similar in content to those of the Office of Imports. Permanent - Offer for transfer to the National Archives in 1991.
