The staff controls the certification process and makes reports on the trade adjustment activity to appropriate units within ITA and the Department. The file has long-term value to the staff as it provides an institutional memory useful in responding to adjustment assistance questions from both the public and private sectors.

- o Develop accurate information on the nature and identity of firms applying for certification or assistance, and for program planning and evaluation purposes; and
- o Allow TAA to be more responsive to inquiries from applicants, other Federal agencies, Congress or the private sector about the TAA program.
