301-002: DATA FILES AND PROGRAMS MAINTAINED BY INDIVIDUAL ESTIMATORS

DESCRIPTION

This file includes source data files from federal agencies such as the Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the Census Bureau and are maintained by individual estimators to develop estimates for inclusion in the NIPA tables. The National Income and Product Accounts (NIPA) are BEA's economic accounts that display the value and composition of national output and the distribution of incomes generated in its production. NIPA tables allow customers to access detail of GDP, Personal Income and similar measures. Examples of estimates include Consumer Spending and Fixed Investment Inventory.

NARA DISPOSAL AUTHORITY

This schedule authorizes the disposition of the record copy in any media (media neutral), excluding any records already in electronic form. Records designated for permanent retention must be transferred to the National Archives in accordance with NARA standards at the time of transfer.

301-003: FIXED ASSETS ESTIMATES

DESCRIPTION

Fixed assets are produced assets that are used repeatedly, or continuously, in the processes of production for more than 1 year. BEA's fixed assets estimates consist of net stocks, depreciation, fixed investment, other changes in volume of assets and the average age of net stocks for both private and publicly owned fixed assets, and consumer durable goods. For the vast majority of assets, the perpetual inventory method is used to indirectly derive estimates of net stock and depreciation, using fixed investment estimates from the National Income and Product Accounts.

a. Secondary Source Material File The files consist of printed and processed material produced by other government organizations and the private sector. Examples of which are source data files from the Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the Census Bureau. They contain raw data (source data from the Internal Revenue) which are used to derive estimates of tangible wealth in the United States.

b. Spreadsheets File Spreadsheets with tabulations and other supporting information developed in the process of estimating fixed tangible wealth in the United States.
