Bureau of Economic Analysis

Bureau of Economic Analysis Estimation Information Technology System (BEA-EITS)

BEA-EITS consists of a portfolio of highly integrated and interdependent statistical and economic lines of business. This system encompasses BEA's economic processing system and is the primary tool used in the production and maintenance of the Bureau's economic accounts. The system supports the production of economic statistical reports frequently released to the public. The BEA-EITS supports four lines of business: National Economic Accounts, Regional Economic Accounts, Industry Economic Accounts, and International Economic Accounts.

~~Item 1 Inputs~~

~~BEA receives data in electronic formats from a variety of sources. They include file transfer protocol (FTP), electronic mail, and compact disc (CD). Most of the data originates from over 400 surveys and data collections from other Federal agencies, the two largest being the Bureau of the Census and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. BEA only receives partial data sets from these Federal agencies and only that information that is relevant to the needs of their mission.~~

~~Disposition: TEMPORARY. Delete or destroy after information is successfully entered and verified in BEA-EITS.~~

~~Item 2 Master Data Files~~

~~These records include information gathered from surveys and other Federal agencies which BEA compiles into monthly, quarterly, and annual statistical reports. For instance, a quantitative view of US domestic production, consumption, investment, exports, imports, and national and domestic income and saving is maintained in the National Economic Accounts business line. Detailed data on economic activity by region, state, metropolitan areas, and county are maintained in the Regional Economic Accounts business line. Information used for the agency's industry economic program is maintained in the Industry Economic Accounts business line and information consisting of balance of payment accounts, monthly services estimates, economic transactions between the US and foreign countries, and income flows from those investments are maintained in the International Economic Accounts business line.~~

~~Disposition: TEMPORARY. Delete or destroy when superseded or no longer needed for business purposes.~~

*Governed by GRS 20,
Item 4*

~~Item 3a Outputs~~

~~National Economic Accounts reports are regularly updated. These include monthly updated releases of Gross Domestic Production (GDP) for the previous quarter and new estimates of personal income and outlays for the previous month. Estimates of US stock of fixed assets and consumer durable goods are prepared annually. Regional Economic Accounts reports include personal income estimates by county and metropolitan areas and are prepared annually. Within the Industry Economic Accounts business line, BEA produces the input-output tables which show how industries interact to provide input to~~ and take output from each other. These input-output tables are prepared every 5 years and are updated in less detail annually. Annual gross product by industry data is also produced yearly. Quarterly balance of payments accounts and monthly services estimates, which provide detailed views of economic transactions between the US and other nations are prepared in the International Economic Accounts business line. Other reports maintained in this business line include direct investment estimates based on annual and quarterly surveys of US investment abroad, foreign direct investment in the US, income flows associated with those investments, and economic activities of multinational enterprises.

Articles present the latest national, international, regional, and industry estimates, describes the methodologies used to prepare the estimates, provides information about major revisions, discusses on-going innovations, and generally keeps users up to date on relevant BEA issues and initiatives. These publications are available as PDF's on the agency's web site.

Disposition: PERMANENT. Cut off at the end of the calendar year or final monthly publication and then transfer to NARA when 3 years old.
