However, experience of the accumulating and using office indicates that based upon the need for reference, the rapid technological changes in materials and equipment, and the fact that more complete files are maintained by the Departments of Commerce and State, a 10 year retention period is considered adequate. Our Air Force Historian agrees with this proposed retention period. A draft of our proposed rules for addition to AFM 12-50, table 400-1, is attached. |                            |                     |
