	Record Group 342 WNRC Project: Records of the Department of the Air Force SEE ATTACHED SCHEDULE. cc: Agency NWML NWML

This schedule provides one-time disposition authority for specified Air Force records stored at the Washington National Records Center (WNRC) under RG 342. It cannot be used to provide continuing disposition authority for Air Force records that may be located elsewhere.

GENERAL NOTE: This schedule covers 2284 cu. ft. of unscheduled Air Force records at WNRC. The records under item 1 are coded RDS/32/18/5 (formerly 4-20/89/1/5), and those under item 2 are coded RDS/32/15/3 (formerly 4-20/88/1/3).

1. U.S. Air Force Base Commands
Offices of Engineering
Construction Project Control Files

Administrative records for all types of construction, maintenance, and repair projects on military bases. The files consist of contracts, correspondence, and design plans for work scheduled on the base. Types of work and construction that are contracted for include the following: Cleaning of facilities, painting, wiring, roofing, fencing, paving (walks, streets, and runways), installation of water and sewerage systems, swimming pools, housing, day care centers, bowling alleys, guard stations and towers, lighting, air plane hangers, storage sheds, recreation centers, communication facilities, satellite features, and testing facilities.

Disposition: Temporary. Destroy records when 50 years old. See the attached list of accessions. [Disposition amended by R. Wire per C. Gumaer, 7/10/2001]

Justification: This series documents base maintenance/repair and construction. The records lack archival value and have limited value for agency operational needs. After projects are canceled or completed and contract obligations have been satisfied, the only remaining value of these records concerns their possible use in documenting environmental hazards. The drawings are disposable when no longer needed for administrative purposes under GRS 17, item 5.

2. U.S. Air Force Base Commands

1. U.S. Air Force Base Commands
Offices of Engineering
Construction Project Control Files

Administrative records for all types of construction, maintenance, and repair projects on military bases. The files consist of contracts, correspondence, and design plans for work scheduled on the base. Types of work and construction that are contracted for include the following: Cleaning of facilities, painting, wiring, roofing, fencing, paving (walks, streets, and runways), installation of water and sewerage systems, swimming pools, housing, day care centers, bowling alleys, guard stations and towers, lighting, air plane hangers, storage sheds, recreation centers, communication facilities, satellite features, and testing facilities.

Disposition: Temporary. Destroy when records are 12 years old. See the attached list of accessions.

Justification: This series documents base maintenance/repair and construction. The information is of low value for research purposes and of dubious value for agency needs. After projects are canceled or completed and contract obligations have been satisfied, there is no need to maintain these records. The drawings are disposable when no longer needed for administrative purposes under GRS 17, item 5.
