MEDICAL EDUCATION AND RESEARCH (Table 169-1)
(Applicable Air Force-wide)

Continuing Health Education (CHE) programs are short term courses or education programs which maintain professional and technical knowledge or teach additional skills within the scope of the various professions and specialties utilized by the USAF Medical Service. These programs are intended to refresh officers in various aspects of their professional discipline and to inform them of new developments and techniques within their field.

Rule 4. Added to cover the CHE program records for planning and documenting CHE activities certified as Category I by the American Medical Association. The maintenance of these records is a requirement of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME). ACCME requires adequate records documenting the planning, development, and evaluation of Category I Continuing Medical Education (CME) activities, and that these records be kept for at least six years.
