Schedule Number: N1-AFU-90-003

Some items in this schedule are either obsolete or have been superseded by new NARA approved records schedules. This information is accurate as of: UPDATED 04/17/2025

ACTIVE ITEMS

These items, unless subsequently superseded, may be used by the agency to disposition records. It is the responsibility of the user to verify the items are still active.

N1-AFU-90-003 only superseded temporary authorities, so any permanent authorities on this schedule are not valid.

This schedule includes a number of filing instructions that are also not disposition authorities.

All items not listed as inactive are presumed active.

SUPERSEDED AND OBSOLETE ITEMS

The remaining items on this schedule may no longer be used to disposition records. They are superseded, obsolete, filing instructions, non-records, or were lined off and not approved at the time of scheduling. References to more recent schedules are provided below as a courtesy. Some items listed here may have been previously annotated on the schedule itself.

N1-AFU-90-003 contained AFR 12-50, Volume II, Disposition of Air Force Records, dated 1987. The agency updated items between 1987 and submission of N1-AFU-90-003, hence some items in that schedule appear to have been already superseded at the time of submission. So, some inactive items will be appear to be superseded by schedules that predate N1-AFU-90-0003.

Request evaluation of the regulation in order to provide us with a NARA Job Number for this issuance. This will greatly simplify the Air Force implementation of Bulletin 87-7. Any changes made after this issuance will have the appropriate NARA Job Number entered in column D of the rule. We have over 5,400 rules in AFR 12-50. We are building a better data base for the regulation. Instead of having to input over 5,400 NARA job numbers in the rules in the computer, it will be possible to make a global entry in the regulation. We have a telephonic concurrence from Mr. Anderson, NC, that we may use one number for our schedule. We do have approval from NC to postpone our implementation of the Bulletin until March 1990.

1 How To Use the Decision Logic
Table

- ① The first number in the table number is based on the series number in AFR 5-4, Numbering Publications, which prescribes the creation or maintenance of the records listed in the table. The second number is assigned for control purposes only, to indicate the number of the table within a series, and does not correspond or relate to the same sequential numbered Air Force publication. For example, in table 10-1, 10 refers to the 10 series publication and 1 is the first table in the 10 series decision logic tables. The tables are arranged in numerical sequence by these numbers.
- ② The table title identifies the subject matter included in the table.
- ③ The column headings are assigned alpha designators so that each column may be quickly and accurately referenced in either written or oral communications.
- ④ Column A provides a general description of the records covered. Read down column A until you come to the category of records required.
- ⑤ Column B is a further general description of the records identified in column A. These descriptions also cover general categories of forms and reports. Determine what portion of the description applies to your particular situation. Use AFRs 0-9 and 0-12, and command 0-9s, to determine the prescribing directive for specific forms. A review of the DLTs in the same subject series should provide a general description of the forms, reports, or other records of the series.
- ⑥ Column C may indicate an organization or level of command where the records are filed; if not, the rule applies to any level accumulating the records described, and column C is left blank. (NOTE: As used in this regulation, major subordinate command refers to headquarters of an activity between a major command and subordinate elements to which authority has been delegated to initiate and promulgate policies and procedures or to exercise managerial control for a major segment of an Air Force- or command-wide function. This includes headquarters of numbered Air Forces, areas, regions, and comparable levels, and level code 3 in AFM 20-3.)
- ⑦ Column C may indicate a specific copy. If not, the rule applies to all copies, regardless of their location, except copies required by other directives to be given to individuals concerned or filed in personnel records.

- ⑧ Column D provides appropriate disposition instructions, based on conditions in columns A, B, and C.
- ⑨ Column D may refer to another table or rule for disposition. If so, cite the referenced table and rule on AF Forms 80 and 82.
- ⑩ An asterisk with the rule number indicates a new rule or a change in disposition authority (column D), or any major change in columns A, B or C.

(NOTE: References in column D of DLTs to "NPRC (MPR)," "NPRC (CPR)," and "WNRC" refer to records centers indicated in volume I, attachment 1, paragraphs 1, 2, and 6, respectively. Use full name and geographical address, as indicated in volume I, attachment 2, when shipping records or corresponding with those centers.)

•NOTES. Explanatory notes or lengthy exceptions may be added to the end of a table as notes. When notes are referenced in a table title or rule, they are a part of the title or rule, and must be considered in applying the disposition standard(s).

•Records Common to All or Several Functional Areas. General correspondence files are covered by table 10-1, whether permanent or temporary, and pertain to all functional areas. Other records common to all or several functional areas, or for which there is no specific prescribing directive, are in the 10- or 11-series DLTs.

•Citing DLT References. On AF Forms 80 and 82, cite the exact table and rule number which provides for the disposition of each series of records listed. Abbreviate by indicating "T" for table, and "R" for rule (for example, T10-1, R4). In correspondence, or other oral or written communications, cite specific table and rule number (for example, table 10-1, rule 4) and, if necessary, specific column (for example, 4A, 4D).

•Cutoff Dates. Cutoff dates, indicated in volume I, chart 4-1 are used unless otherwise indicated in the DLTs.

NOTES

- 1 HQ USAF OPRs file and retain a duplicate copy of AF Form 673, Request for Issuances of Publication, with related record set and background material. SAF/AADPD retires the original AF Form 673. Below HQ USAF level, the original AF Form 673 is filed and retained with the record set of publications.
- 2 Retain as current records until the publication is rescinded, superseded, or obsolete. (Superseded means that the publication has been replaced by one bearing either the same or a different number and subject. Reprints, including those incorporating changes since issuance of the basic, are not considered superseding publications.) Then remove from the active file, place in an inactive file which will be cutoff 31 December each year, and retire or dispose of as indicated. Background material is retained by HQ USAF OPRs until the related publication is rescinded, superseded, or obsolete, and then retired with the record set to WNRC 2 years after annual cutoff. Field OPRs retain background material for standard publications dated before 1 Jan 68, and retire it when the related publication is rescinded, superseded, or obsolete. Field OPRs send background material for standard publications dated on and after 1 Jan 68 to the publications management office for retention and retirement, except for digest, bulletins, and operating instructions (other than HOIs).
- 3 AF Department publications prepared by a MAJCOM/SOA are retired as HQ USAF record sets. Responsibility for maintaining the record sets, including all essential background material, is as agreed upon between the HQ USAF OPR and the preparing command. When retiring the record set, the HQ USAF OPR is shown in Item 5 (FROM block) of the SF 135, and "341" is shown as the Record Group in Item 6a. An accession number is obtained from the HQ USAF OPR Staff Records Manager and entered in Item 6c of the SF 135, per HQ USAF HOI 12-1. Show the preparing activity (MAJCOM/SOA and office) in Item 6f of the SF 135.
- 4 Report material of historical or other significant value considered worthy of permanent preservation to SAF/AADAQD.
- 5 Air Force activities designated as Executive Agent for DOD publications will be responsible for creation, maintenance, and retirement of the publication and all records pertaining to it.
- 6 If the record set of a publication is in microform, then the microfilm of the record set must meet all archival standards and specifications outlined in AFR 12-40. Otherwise, a durable paper copy must be created to satisfy the permanent retention requirements. Viewer/printer copies are not authorized for this purpose. Approval to use archival microform must be granted by SAF/AADAQD.
- 7 Air Force Departmental publications prepared by the Air Force Standard Information Systems Center are retired as HQ USAF record sets. Responsibility for maintaining the record sets, including background material, is assigned to the Center OPR responsible for the particular automated data system which the directive records. When retiring the record set to WNRC, the HQ USAF OPR is shown in item 6f (SERIES DESCRIPTION block) of the SF 135. "341" is shown as the Record Group in Item 6a and accession number is shown in Item 6c.

NOTES.

- 1 The Personnel Data System (PDS) is comprised of two basic parts. PDS-Military and PDS-Civilian. Various mechanized reports management products and card decks are produced, either on a one-time or recurring basis, as system output. The Base Level Personnel System (BLPS) is based on a central computer file of personnel data at base level, using standard programs to process data, produce output products, and suspense personnel actions. BLPS supports current PDS-Military and PDS-Civilian at MAJCOM and HQ USAF. Products from PDS of such significance as to require specific retention periods are identified in this table and table 40-9. Products relative to auxiliary systems which either support or are supported by the PDS, such as project transition, leave, and others having unique disposition criteria are identified in appropriate subject matter tables in the 35- and 40-series.

NOTES:

1 Packing and identification instructions. Do not bend, roll or fold film. Type, print or stamp the individual's SSN and name, in that order, on the front of each container used for enclosing film. X-rays for examinees not yet assigned a SSN are retained until the SSN is available for entry on the film preserver. (Protect the disclosure of OSI agent's grade as provided in AFR 168-42) Requisition film preservers through medical supply channels under NSNs 7530-00-612-3950 and 7530-00-612-4000. Show the complete return address on all packages of X-ray film.

a. Use negative preservers measuring 4 3/8- x 10 3/8-inches for all 4- x 10-inch and smaller size films. Do not use larger preservers for these films. Place individual identifying data parallel with and no lower than 1 1/4-inches below the front open end of these preservers, instead of in the space provided.

b. Enclose all film larger than 4- x 10-inches in negative preservers of the 14 1/2- x 17 1/2-inch size. However, if they are not available, use envelopes of the same size. Place individual's SSN, name and other identifying information in the space provided on the upper left corner of the 14 1/2- x 17 1/2-inch preserver. If envelopes are used, fold flaps so that the glued surface does not come in contact with the film. Place individual's identifying data in the upper left corner parallel with the front top edge of the envelope.

c. X-rays need not be forwarded in alphabetical or numeric sequence.

d. See AFR 12-50, volume I, chapter 7 for further packing and shipping instructions. There is no need to prepare SF 135s or to obtain advance approval for shipments to NPRC.

2 In overseas medical facilities where adequate storage space is not available and in areas where climatic conditions cause X-ray film to deteriorate before expiration of the 5-year retention period, earlier disposition will be authorized. In such cases, specific disposition instructions should be requested from SAF/AADAQ.

NOTES:

1 Records dated before 1982, which were retired to NPRC (MPR or CPR), are in alphabetical sequence. Records for 1982 and later, retired to NPRC (MPR or CPR), are in numerical, terminal digit order, accompanied by the patient record retirement cards in alphabetical order in the first box of each accession. Dental health records for military personnel are destroyed 50 years after date of latest record. Dental health records for nonmilitary persons are destroyed 15 years after date of latest record.

2 Receipts for dental records hand-carried to other medical facilities during the preceding calendar year will be arranged in alphabetical sequence and retired in the last box of the dental records being retired for that year.

3 Nonmilitary records pertaining to deaths, divorced spouses, and children who are no longer eligible for care may be retired at the end of the year when change of status occurs.

4 If sponsor is still assigned to the installation, records of eligible family should be retained if the family are still in the area and expect to receive care at the facility, even though they did not receive care during the year. Likewise, records for retired military personnel and their eligible family members, or eligible family members of active duty personnel who do not accompany the sponsor, should be retained when it is known that they still reside in the area and expect to receive care at the facility.

5 Before delivery of records to foreign nationals, screen records in detail and remove all security information, regardless of specific classification. Forward classified records to AFIS/INFOD for review and further transmission, if warranted, to the government concerned. Forward records of deceased personnel directly to AFMSC/SGSB for transmittal to parent country. If, for some reason, delivery of records to foreign nationals is not possible, forward them to HQ AFMSC/SGSB.

6 A fire at NPRC (MPR) on 12 July 1973 destroyed approximately one million Master Personnel Records of AF personnel whose surnames begin with the letters "Hu" through "Z" and who were discharged between 25 September 1947 and 31 December 1963. An additional 432,000 records were salvaged. (No fire damage occurred to records of AF veterans whose surnames begin with the letters "A" to "Hu".<sup>56-</sup> The destroyed records contain all induction and enlistment records, assignment and promotion orders, outpatient/health and dental records, and separation records. If identifying information can be provided (such as veteran's dates of service, unit or assignment), NPRC can verify most of the facts about the member's military service. However, specific outpatient medical/dental data cannot normally be provided.

*7 NPRC may destroy clinic index cards when encountered.

NOTES

1 Clinical records of patients whose cases are completed by return to duty, death, separation or retirement from the service, absence without leave or desertion, or discharge from the medical treatment facility (in cases of nonmilitary personnel) are placed in an inactive file after entries have been verified

- a In hospitals without clinical records libraries, arrange the inactive files alphabetically by patients' last names and group as follows
- (1) US military, including retired and AF Academy cadets
  - (2) All others Cutoff inactive file annually and establish a new file as of 1 January
- b In hospitals with clinical record libraries, maintain clinical records in register-number sequence
- c Clinical records pertaining to military personnel are destroyed 50 years after date of latest record, clinical records pertaining to nonmilitary patients are destroyed 25 years after date of latest record Clinical records for active duty personnel treated at Public Health Service medical facilities are retired to and destroyed by GSA Regional Federal Records Centers (see attachment 2) 50 years after date of last treatment, however, address requests for medical records to the facility where treatment was received
- 2 This applies to clinical record library hospitals only Retire clinical records in register-number sequence in the two categories prescribed in note 1 (see also rules 2 and 4). Each category of clinical records is accompanied by an alphabetical listing or 3 x 5 cards, in alphabetical sequence, which contain the patient's name (last, first, middle initial), register number, and SSN (or service number) as a minimum where applicable (see rule 17) Since clinical records are retired in register-number sequence, it is essential that the related nominal index file be retired for reference purposes in the first box of each accession at the records centers

Outpatient records for 1970 and later, retired to NPRC (MPR or CPR) per rules 2, 3, 5, 9, are in numerical, terminal digit order. Effective 1 January 1972, shipments to NPRC (MPR or CPR) are accompanied by a file of clinic index cards in alphabetical order in the first box of each accession. These cards are an index to all outpatient records transferred and retired during each calendar year (see AFR 168-4, chapter 1256).

3 Receipts for outpatient/dental records hand-carried to other medical facilities during the preceding calendar year will be arranged in alphabetical sequence and retired in the last box of the outpatient records being retired for that year.

*4 RESERVED

5 Records of personnel assigned to the installation and eligible family members still in the area should be retained if they expect to receive care at the facility, even though they did not receive care during the year. Likewise, records for retired military personnel and their eligible family members, or eligible family members of active duty personnel who do not accompany the sponsor should be retained when it is known that they still reside in the area and expect to receive care at the facility.

*6. Before delivery of records to NATO and foreign national personnel, screen records in detail and remove all security information, regardless of specific classification. Forward classified records to HQ AFIS/INFOD for review and further transmission, if warranted, to the government concerned. Forward records of deceased personnel direct to HQ AFOMS/SGSB for transmittal to parent country. If, for some reason, delivery of records is not possible, forward them to the parent country through the appropriate US Defense Attache Office listed in AFR 10-4, chapter 15, for unclassified material.

7. A fire at NPRC (MPR) on 12 July 1973 destroyed approximately one million Master Personnel Records of AF personnel whose surnames begin with the letters "Hu" through "Z" and who were discharged between 25 September 1947 and 31 December 1963. An additional 432,000 records were salvaged. (No fire damage occurred to records of AF veterans whose surnames begin with the letters "A" to "Hu") The destroyed records contained induction and enlistment records, assignment and promotion orders, outpatient/health and dental records, and separation records. If identifying information can be provided (such as veteran's dates of service, unit of assignment), NPRC can verify most of the facts about the member's military service. However, specific outpatient medical/dental data cannot normally be provided.

8. The 2-year period may be determined by cutting off at the end of the 2-year calendar cycle and holding for one year, or by monthly increments, dependent upon local policy. For example, records for the calendar year 1979 would be destroyed in January 1982, or, if records are retained on a monthly basis, January 1979 records would be destroyed in January 1981. If files are maintained on a daily basis, records may be destroyed at the end of the 2-year cycle for that day.

*9. Nonmilitary personnel include such groups as nonmilitary foreign nationals and dependents, dependents of foreign national military personnel, except NATO, and dependents (prior 1986) of NATO military personnel.

NOTES:

1 Rules 5 and 6 refer to parameter cards associated with the execution of various options of operational programs. These include data cards, periodic (monthly or quarterly) options executed only occasionally, and queries to information retrieval systems. They do not include card decks for generalized interpreter systems used with computer simulation software packages such as SIMSCRIPT, GPSS, DYNAMO, and similar systems. These decks have the status of program source decks. Similarly, all except report generation decks in file management system are considered to be source program decks and should be retained or destroyed in accordance with the criteria of rules 5, 6, 7 of table 300-4.

2. Punched cards are sometimes used as records, such as checks, savings bonds, and requisition forms. In such cases, the functional retention period developed in other tables will apply.

NOTES:

1. The term "dispose" in column D is synonymous with the terms "scratch", "erase", and "blank." "Cumulative data," in rule 16, implies no earlier data is deleted in the present pass
2. This type of data is differentiated from simple debugging test data in that the data set is used to exercise all possible data system options within the complete set of programs. System debugging test data means data used to debug individual programs or groups of programs prior to final acceptance testing. It must be retained until the related program is discontinued.
3. Acceptance test data may also be contractually defined specification or item in software systems being procured and it or a listing of it may have to be kept with the contract file. Disposition applicable to the contract file would apply to this acceptance test data.
4. In other cases, particularly in systems where accounting for funds is involved, it may be required that the files be kept until a particular version of a system has been audited and approved by the GAO. Retention periods in this case will be in accordance with the specific functional file. This means that specific acceptance test data sets might have to be kept for the life of the particular version of a software system or until all records produced under that system have been disposed of
5. Just as the acceptance test data may need to be kept beyond its useful life for auditing purposes, programs which processed that data may also be kept for audit purposes beyond the operational life of the particular system. Disk packs are relatively expensive for long-term storage and there is usually a backup copy of the system on magnetic tape. In these cases, the tape copy of the program together with all relevant documentation may be used in lieu of the disk pack version. Either source or object versions of the system may be used for this purpose.
6. Machine listings may be retained for as long as 1 year when they provide audit trails of the last recording made on a specific reel and may be useful in retrieving a lost file or in determining how a file may have been inadvertently scratched.
7. Erasable media consist of magnetic tape (analog, digital), drums disk, disk packs, data cells and other devices that store data in an erasable mode.

SUMMARY OF CHANGES

This regulation applies to all Air Force Activities, including the Air National Guard, Reserve Forces, and contractors who create, accumulate or manage Air Force records. The decision logic tables (DLTs) are updated to show the latest terminology, correct addresses, office symbols of referenced activities, and retention periods for Air Force records. Editorial changes to the DLTs clarify the description of records and standardize wording and format. Rules are revised, deleted, and added in the appropriate tables. New tables are added.
