	RESERVE FORCES TRAINING RECORDS (45-2) (Applicable at HQ US AIR FORCE, HQ AIR UNIVERSITY, AND HQ AF RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS (AFROTC)) The attached changes to AFM 12-50, table 45-2, for documentation on the establishment of senior and junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) de- tachments are recommended for the following reasons:
1	Rule 1, table 45-2, proposes to authorize disposal of subject documentation at HQ US Air Force and HQ Air University, 2 years after inactivation of an ROTC detachment instead of retaining permanently. Files at those activities are mostly duplicate of those maintained at HQ ROTC. Because of ROTC's relationship with the schools and their position in the entire program they accumulate documents that are not part of the HQ US Air Force or HQ Air University records and therefore should be retained in order to have a more complete record of the AFROTC program. Files at the higher levels are used mostly for administrative control and monitoring the ROTC program and will have served the needs of the Air Force 2 years after a detachment is inactivated. 2	Rule 2, table 45-2, proposes to provide for the permanent retention of files accumulated by the HQ ROTC. As explained above, files at the ROTC are more complete than those at the higher levels; and because of the position of Air University in the ROTC program these records should be retained to justify the establishment of units and to document agreements between the Air Force and educational institutions. Also, because of the political and public controversy of ROTC programs during times of international conflict (such as the Korean and Vietnam Conflicts) when detachments are discontinued at various colleges and universities, and often re-activated in times of tranquility, retention of the documentation is necessary for deriving guidelines and criterion for establishment of ROTC detachments and to control agreements, and for establishing a historical perspective of the AFROTC program.	NN-170-33 (45-2/2)
