1	STUDIES AND REPORTS (Table 178-1, Applicable Air Force-wide) The purpose of this submission is to have table 178-1, rule 1, covering studies, analyses, and summaries appraised for permanent retention. The Air Force Historian desires to have these retained as permanent documents. Rule 1 pertains to studies, analyses and summaries, showing methods of analyzing management in terms of principal missions or organizational objectives, developing standards to evaluate performance, providing planning factors, isolating problem areas to help with decision making to insure economical use of Air Force resources. The studies also serve as an index to economical use of resources and furnish data in the preparation and support of plans, budgets and programs. They support the normal operating and contingency environments in all subject areas to include cost analysis, economic analysis, program evaluation, management information, and independent analysis of management problems. Special studies, surveys of operation management programs/systems show their conception, scope, procedures, results and changes. Historically these documents can show the planning, initiation, management and effectiveness of Air Force programs and changes required. They are used for	WN-170-33	1 item
