

INACTIVE - ALL ITEMS SUPERSEDED OR OBSOLETE

Schedule Number: NC1-AFU-82-066

All items in this schedule are inactive. Items are either obsolete or have been superseded by newer NARA approved records schedules.

Description:

Item 91/12/1 was superseded by N1-AFU-88-024 / 91/12/1.

In 1989, Air Force submitted N1-AFU-90-003 to cover all of their temporary items in AFR 12-50, Volume II, Disposition of Air Force Records (dated 1987) under a single job number. The items on this schedule are temporary. It is assumed that the remaining items on this schedule were therefore superseded by N1-AFU-90-003.

1	PEST CONTROL MANAGEMENT SERVICES (Table 91-12) (Applicable Air Force-wide) The purpose of this submission is to request disposition authorities for rules 1 and 11. These rules were recommended for permanent retention in NARS Job Number NCI-AFU-82-9. However, the recommended retention period was not approved. We recommend the new disposition for both rules to be "destroy after 50 years." Studies which evaluate health problems due to environmental contaminations are of increasing interest. A case in point is chlorodane exposure of dependent family members residing in military housing. GAO has recommended EPA conduct an epidemiology study of families who occupied housing units treated with chlorodane. As research is made, we are learning that what we think today may be a safe chemical, may turn out, in the long run, to have harmful health effects - DDT is a good example of this. It is known that the effects of exposure to chemicals may not appear for years and those effects sometimes appear only in later generations. Therefore, records must be preserved and made available	NCI-AFU-82-9

We need to maintain our records on plans, programs and pesticides used, to counter with factual data derived from the Air Force records and sound epidemiology studies. The retention period requested will allow us to protect the rights of individuals and the interest of the Air Force i.e., our records will show what pesticides individuals may have been exposed to on Air Force bases. The 50-year retention in this regard also ties in with the recommended 50-year retention period of health records. Public Law 96-510 sets the retention period of records incident to release of hazardous waste/pollutants as 50 years from the date of the bill, 11 Dec 80 or 50 years after the establishment of the record, whichever is later. Residues or stocks of pesticides no longer considered safe are considered as hazardous materials when disposal of the chemical is made. Section 103 (e) of the PL 96-510 does not apply to the residues or stocks of pesticides declared as unsafe. Additionally, the records on the pest management plans, program documents, reports (rule 1) and the pest control summary reports of Air Force bases (rule 11) also have historical significance as the interest in environmental and related health problems increase and should be retained for long term reference purposes. The note is added to comply with PL 96-510, Sec 103(d)(4). The records may be retained longer if the Administrator of Environmental Protection Agency determines it necessary to protect the public health or welfare.		3 7
