1	ADMINISTRATIVE ORDERS (Table 10-3) (Applicable Air Force-wide) The purpose of this submission is to change column B of rule 2 of the permanent orders to originals or record copies of the G-series special orders and the MO or movement orders. The G-series orders cover organization and installation actions, appointment of commanders, assumption of command, awards and decorations, memorialization program and dedication ceremonies. Our previous request to have rule 2 evaluated as permanent records was returned by NARS letter dated 30 June 1982. In your letter you stated, "Our appraisal has determined that only the G-series orders (regardless of date) are permanent." We believe that the MO or movement orders which direct the movement of units or detachments should also be considered as permanent. The movement orders are summaries of the more lengthy program directives (table 27-2, rules 13, 14 and 15) that direct movement of units or detachments. (See chapter 5 of AFR 10-7 attached.) The volume of movement orders is small. The permanent orders were consolidated in 1977 so that we would have sufficient volume to retire the orders (1 cubic foot). To the best of our knowledge there are over 3,000 cubic feet of these records at WNRC. Some earlier orders are at NPRC, we do not have the volume on these and there is a sprinkling of orders in the regional centers. The annual accumulation of the past permanent orders was about 250 cubic feet per year. We cannot accurately estimate the volume of G-series orders, but the volume would be small.	NCI-AFU-82-14

2	We, therefore, propose that the "permanent" orders in revised rule 2 be offered to National Archives in 10 year blocks when the latest document is 25 years old. (See chapter 2 of the attached AFR 10-7 for information on special orders.) Rule 2.1 is a new rule which will cover the originals or record copies of the A-series, aeronautical and reserve orders which were formerly in rule 2 with a retention period as permanent. We propose that these records be retained for 56 years. The rationale is that if an order is cut when the member is 19 years old then in 56 years the member should be 75 and administrative use of the record would have been ended. The A-series covers a variety of actions such as promotions, demotions, release from active duty, certain types of reenlistment, etc. The aeronautical orders are used to validate individual qualifications and aviation service; authorize and direct individual performance of duty that involves frequent individual participation and aerial flight; and to establish or terminate individual entitlement to aviation career incentive pay or hazardous duty incentive pay. (See chapter 4 of attached AFR 10-7 for details.) We have added Note 4 to rule 2.1. It provides that the aeronautical, reserve and A-series orders dated prior to 1964 may be retained at NPRC for reconstruction of military personnel records destroyed by the 1973 fire until no longer needed. When no longer needed, the approved retention period will be applied. Reserve orders are published for a variety of actions on Air Force Reserve personnel. (See chapter 3 of the attached AFR 10-7 for details.)
3	Rule 3 Column B is changed to include the PB-series orders. These orders were formerly included in rule 2. The PA and PB-series of orders are group personnel actions and include the same information as would be required AF Forms 2095 and 2098 (see AFR 12-50, Vol II, table 35-4, rules 3 and 4.) One copy of the PB orders goes in the member's file. The AF Form 2095 and 2098 retention is destroy after 1 year, therefore, the PB orders may have this same retention period. See AFMPC letter of 12 Oct 1984 which explains the filing of the PB orders and AF Forms 2096 and 2098.
