Archives in 2001.

Justification: These records document nutritional studies conducted during demobilization of WWII. These records have been scheduled as permanent because of their significant historic and archival value.

2. Student Nurse Individual Academic Records, 1919-1937.
WNRC 112-52A-0325
13 cubic feet
Arranged alphabetically by last name.

Individual student nurses summary record cards of courses taken and grades received and high school transcripts. Monthly record cards showing academic nursing subjects taken and ratings received for each year of study. Nursing curriculum entailed three years of study at different Army hospitals throughout CONUS. Also individual applications to the Army School of Nursing and assignments during courses of training.

Disposition: Permanent. Transfer to National Archives legal custody as Auxiliary Records for National Personnel Records Center (NPRC).

Justification: NPRC has been retaining all military academic records (Army 1912-1960; Air Force 1947-1963) for use in reconstructing military service records lost in the 1973 fire. These records have been scheduled as permanent because of their significant historic and archival value.
