Background Information The Software Development, Verification and Validation (SDV&V) Laboratories operates in support of the Lower Tier Project Office (LTPO). The Lower Tier Support Mission at the Software Engineering Directorate (SED) encompasses a wide range of unique capabilities to support the national defense.

As part of this effort, the SED and SDV&V network provides software life cycle support, independent software verification and validation, formal software qualification testing support, and functional support to the LTPO. The SDV&V network allows the seamless flow of data across multiple labs that support the LTPO and provides maximum utilization of SED test assets.
