	Material Requirements AR 71-9 Background CAMS is a database driven knowledge management system that organizes and coordinates Joint Capabilities Integration and Development System (JCIDS) documents for the Army and other service documents. It is a web-based platform for subject matter experts to provide and return comments for documents staffed to their organization. CAMS aids in JCIDS document creation, submission, and commenting processes for validation by Army Requirements Oversight Council (AROC). CAMS tracks the progress of JCIDS documents and allows users to view document information and monitor documents and allows user to view document information progress until submission to the Joint Staff and back again for approval. To accomplish this level of effort, CAMS successfully coordinate JCIDS documents and comments with numerous users and organizations across the Army Staff. CAMS user base include approximately 306 accounts. The existence of CAMS affords the customer a method of having up to date status information reflected in an automated document register, precluding the need for the maintenance of manual resources and hardcopy input and providing insight into crucial project management tasks. Through this collaborative effort CAMS increases collaboration of capabilities documents, reducing the duplication of effort involved in analysis and fielding of system programs. The presciring directive for CAMS is AR 71-9, Material Requirements. Governing publications include Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Manual (CJCSM) 3170 01C, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Instruction (CJCSI) 3170 01D. The proponent is G3/5/7.
