	Radio Recording Files (FN 1107-25, AR 340-18-11). Original and duplicate tapes of radio recordings produced and maintained by Army radio recording facilities. Disposition: Original tapes: dispose of in accordance with AR 108-2. * Duplicate tapes: Destroy when no longer needed. Request authority to establish disposition instructions as described above for radio recording files. These files are the original and duplicate copies of radio recordings produced by authorized Army production agencies throughout the Army and are stored in designated audio-visual repositories. AR 108-2 is the governing directive which authorizes the production of these recordings and also directs the disposition of original recordings. Applicable portions of AR 108-2 governing disposition of audio-visual products are attached. *Tapes defined as record audiovisual material are PERMANENT. Tapes defined as nonrecord audiovisual material in AR 108-2 will be destroyed when 2 years old, unless earlier disposal is authorized by the activity commander in possession of materiel. Record audiovisual material will be offered to NARS when 10 years old 115-107 or when no longer active, whichever is later.
