Background: The United States Army Band (TUSAB), known as "Pershing's Own" occupies a unique position among Army bands because of its role in hundreds of state arrivals and departures annually. Protocol considerations and requirements for specific details require accurate and complete information which can only be found in these utilization files. The impact of performing a State Arrival or Departure with flaws would not be in the best interest of the United States.

The United States Army Band Utilization Files provide immediate access to information requested by Ceremonies and Special Events, Military District of Washington, Department of the Army, Department of Defense, State Department and the White House on a weekly basis.
