2.	1511-13, Family Housing Maintenance, Repair, Incidental Improvement, and Minor Construction Project Files. Documents accumulated in the review and approval of projects for maintenance, repair, incidental improvement, and minor construction of family housing. Included are requests for approval, technical reviews, approvals, specifications, plans, estimates, cost analyses, economic analyses, environmental impact statements, cost control records and related documents. Disposition - Office performing Army-wide responsibility: Destroy 3 years after completion of project. MACOM's: Destroy 1 year after completion of project. Other offices: Destroy 3 years after completion of projects. Background - Office of the Chief of Engineers is the office performing Army-wide responsibility and establishes overall program policy and general procedures. Major Army Commands establish and manage the program for their command. Project documentation is forwarded to Major Commands by subordinate installations. The installations establish a priority order for the projects at that installation. Major Commands then place the projects from all their subordinate installations in a command priority order. Those projects that require higher authority are then forwarded for approval action.
3.	1511-14, Family Housing New Construction and Line Item Improvement Files. Documents accumulated in planning, development, design, and construction of new family housing projects and remodeling, conversion or addition to existing structures. Included are land use studies, economic analyses, environmental impact statements, plans and specifications, and related documents. Disposition - Offices performing Army-wide responsibility: Destroy 3 years after completion of project. Other offices: Destroy 2 years after completion of project. Background - Office of the Chief of Engineers is the office performing Army-wide responsibility and establishes overall program policy and general procedures. Priority projects are collected from subordinate installations by Major Commands. The Major Commands arrange the projects in priority order and forward them to HQDA for development of Army programs. Programs are established and functional reviews are accomplished.
