1.	CONTRACT CLAUSE DEVIATION FILES. (File No. 1402-01)            Documents used in authorizing deviations from contract clauses. Included are deviation requests, approvals, and disapprovals, and similar documents. DISPOSITION: Destroy in current files area after 10 years. Do not retire. BACKGROUND: This record series was submitted for evaluation under the recent permanent files review (Job Number NC1-AU-78-66, under the title of "CONTRACT STATUTORY RESTRICTION CLAUSES"). Investigation into the status of this record series reveals that development of the clauses themselves results in the issuance of an instruction; the clause development files themselves are identified with the instruction and filed accordingly. However, deviations from contract clauses are granted in specific instances. We agree that such deviations do not warrant permanent retention, and have therefore developed the above proposed disposition standard in cooperation with the proponent of the function.		Records already in centers under FN 1402-01 may be a mix of records that how are disposable under FN 1402-01 &amp; records that should be treated as Unscheduled under FN 1401-01A.            1 item
