	Joint Staff Electronic Information System (See attached - Information Strategy Portal (IS Portal))

System Name: Information Strategy Portal (IS Portal)

NOTE: This system is no longer used by the Joint Staff and has been non-operational since July 2009. This schedule is for the purposes of disposition only.

System Description:

The IS Portal was a web-based system for Information Operations content. It was a central node for planning and analysis information in areas such as foreign media; influential speakers from countries adversarial to the United States; World calendar events relevant to the Global War on Terror; and other materials supporting the Joint Staff, DOD, and Combatant Commands (COCOM).

Content Managers received contributions from the Joint Staff, DOD agencies, COCOMs, and the State Dept. in the form of Word and PDF files, PowerPoint Slides, Contact Lists, and photos that were uploaded manually. Information on the IS Portal was essentially a re-posting of information that is readily available from other organizations such as the Joint Information Warfare Command. There was little to no original content of current or historical value.

The IS Portal used Windows NT and Oracle Software and resided on HP Servers that were backed up on a weekly basis. The office of responsibility is the Joint Staff, J-39, Deputy Directorate for Global Operations, which has maintained the portal since 2003. Information maintained in the IS Portal was classified up to SECRET.
