DRAFT SCHEDULE

Name of System:

International Agreements Database (IADB)

Description of System:

The International Agreements Database (IADB) is a web-based system, implemented in November 2003, that supports USCENTCOM missions pertaining to international cooperation and agreements. The database provides a single repository for agreements with Area of Responsibility (AOR) countries. The IADB also provides support to other services and organizations within and outside of the Department of Defense (DoD).

Much of the information contained within the IADB is classified SECRET/NOFORN. Access is restricted to need to know. Personnel who require access need to submit a request to the database administrator. The Chief of International Law attorney has the final say on access approval.

1. Inputs: Data is entered into the IADB by the Database Administrator. Word Documents are then scanned or downloaded into the system for viewing.

A USCENTCOM International Agreements with AOR countries

Disposition PERMANENT See Series 0802-01 and 0802-02 - CJCSM 5760 01 Vol II

B International Agreements from organizations other than USCENTCOM

Disposition TEMPORARY Destroy reference material when no longer needed for business use

2. Data File: The Data File consists of reference copies of official record material kept on file at CENTCOM CCJA. Information includes, but is not limited to items such as USCENTCOM International Agreements with AOR countries and reference agreements from other government agencies. Some agreements may be found through other organizations outside of USCENTCOM, however the majority of the documents comes from within USCENTCOM.

Disposition TEMPORARY Delete/Destroy content when superseded/obsolete or when no longer needed for business purposes and analysis, whichever is sooner

System Documentation: Help button within the IADB gives information on how to search the database

Disposition TEMPORARY See 1020-04, System Documentation, listed in CJCSM 5760 01 Vol II
