Background Information

The Western Area Power Administration (WAPA) is one of four power marketing administrations within the U.S. Department of Energy. The power marketing administrations market and transmit wholesale electricity from multi-use water projects. The WAPA service area encompasses a 15-state region of the central and western U.S. where more than 17,000 circuit mile transmission system carries electricity from 57 hydropower plants operated by the Bureau of Reclamation, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and the International Boundary and Water Commission. WAPA sells its power to preference customers such as Federal and state agencies, cities and towns, rural electric cooperatives, public utility districts, irrigation districts, and Native American tribes. These customers then provide retail electric service to millions of consumers in the West.

The following items are arranged in an aggregate, media neutral schedule. All records series/systems for each retention bucket relate to the same general function or subject matter, and assigned the same disposition. Included is a crosswalk that maps each of WAPA's current series and electronic systems to the appropriate bucket item. This schedule establishes disposition authority for all WAPA records in the specific program area described and it supersedes all previous WAPA retention schedules (unless otherwise noted) and it should be applied retroactively (with some exceptions) to all extant records. There are numerous records covered under the below items, and compiling an exhaustive list would not be possible; it should not be considered a complete and exclusive listing of all pertinent documents. Headquarters, regional, field offices and other business operations are responsible for creating detailed file plans to note all records they create and maintain as well as specific cutoff and other implementing instructions unique to each record.

The WAPA maintenance program encompasses several areas and generates a variety of records. In addition to direction and policy for power systems maintenance, the program includes a mission-related Electric Power Training Center and Craft training program to train electric power workers in related crafts. The main focus is to maintain WAPA transmission lines, manager rights-of-way on WAPA land, maintain substations, switching stations, meters and relays, the power system control, other related facilities, and customer equipment located within the Division's geographic responsibility.
