Background Information

The Administration for Children and Families (ACF) public website is intended to inform the general public, employees and ACF grantees about ACF and its services. It is a collection of agency linked electronic web pages, which cover strategic plans, policies, programs, publications, press releases, statistical reports, fact sheets, data research, grant opportunities, ACF job & contract opportunities, budget information, and other general resources for the public. The site is managed by the Office of Communications (formerly Office of Public Affairs). This office is responsible for managing the content, governance, design, and maintenance of the website. The Office of Information Systems manages the hosting and servers of the website. Each ACF program office (i.e., Office of Head Start) manages, reviews, and updates their own web pages and content linked to the main webpage. The website pages contain duplicate information and reference material maintained in other ACF record keeping systems. Primary customers of the website are the general public searching for information about grant-related announcements, memos, and instructions. Internal customers consist of 19 offices including the Office of Regional Operations, which represents 10 regional offices around the country.
