1	Land Mobile Radio (LMR) Voice Transmission Recordings Recordings of routine protective radio transmissions over multiple frequencies between the Command Post and agents and support services such as local police during Presidential and Vice-Presidential trips. Media used to record these transmissions may be optical disk hard drives or equivalent hard drive technology, standard cassette tapes, magnetic tapes, compact disc (CDs), digital video disks (DVD) or other disposable electronic media. The office of Protective Research, Information Resources Management Division (IRM), is responsible for the receipt of radio transmissions data via the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) and/or the Communications Management Control Activity (CMCA) under provisions of Public Law 94-524. The initial recording of radio transmissions by IRM is considered the official record copy. Note: If a request is made for a copy of the digital file within the 30-day cycle, the following process will take place. If legally acceptable, an IRM technician will run a digital signature hashing program against each requested file. The copied file and documentation concerning the hash comparison will be stored in IRM in compliance with legal and MNO policies. This procedure safeguards against tampering with these recordings. Disposition: Temporary - IRM will retain original transmission (official record copy) data recordings for 30 days; destroy by burning or by overwriting the storage media on the 31st day after the date of the recording. However, when a recording is affected by a particular case, significant event, pending or current litigation, or special requests, the recording should be disposed of in accordance with appropriate authorization.	N1-87-99-1
