Background Information Per the Nuclear/Radiological Incident Annex to the Federal Inter agency Operational Plans, RadResponder is the National Standard and Whole Community solution for the management of radiological data. It is a tool funded by FEMA for use by all Federal, State, Local, Tribal, and Territorial (FSLTT) emergency response organizations to collect, manage, and share their radiological data. FEMA does NOT own any data in RadResponder, other than data collected and uploaded by FEMA personnel during training. FSLTT organizations primarily use the mobile application to collect radiological data and upload it to the RadResponder web portal, where it may be viewed, managed, and shared with other organizations.
