Background Information

By statute, the Attorney General is charged with approving or denying requests from foreign prisoners to serve their prison sentences in their home countries. This responsibility has been delegated to the Office of Enforcement Operations (OEO), International Prisoner Transfer Unit (IPTU). The Office approves or disapproves requests for the transfer of American prisoners from foreign countries to the United States for service of their sentences as well as requests for the transfer of foreign prisoners from American prisons to their own countries. This activity is mandated by treaties and authorized pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 4100-4115.

Approval is required by the prisoner and both the convicting and home countries for each transfer. OEO's Prisoner Transfer Unit works closely with the FBI and DEA agents who were involved in the investigations that led to the conviction of a prisoner requesting transfer in order to determine whether or not that prisoner is a suitable candidate for transfer. Approval is granted based on several factors including the seriousness of the offense; any ties to either the home or convicting country, including family ties; likelihood of return to the convicting country; criminal history; and occasionally humanitarian concerns. Once the transfer has taken place, enforcement of the sentence is the responsibility of the receiving country.
