1.	Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Class 205 The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) became effective on January 26, 1992. The ADA gives civil rights protections to individuals with disabilities that are like those provided to individuals on the basis of race, sex, national origin, and religion. It guarantees equal opportunity for individuals with disabilities in employment, public accommodations, transportation, state and local government services, and telecommunications. Class 205, Discrimination in hiring or promotion Employment provisions of Title I of the ADA are similar to the provisions of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 in that they prohibit discrimination in hiring or promotion against an individual with a disability if the person is otherwise qualified for the job. The Attorney General has been given the responsibility for the initiation of enforcement actions which allege employment discrimination under this Title with respect to any state or local government employer.
